HUSSON LEDGER

NOVEMBER, 1965 | HUSSON COLLEGE, BANGOR, MAINE | VOLUME 41, NO. 1

THE FRESHMEN MOVE IN

This fall Husson College welcomed a record freshman class of over 500 students. From the northeast corner of the United States, from Canada, from Panama, from Thailand, they came to Bangor to begin their college careers. But, the neophytes of the campus community soon discovered that the first few weeks of college life meant . . .

Reception Lines . . .

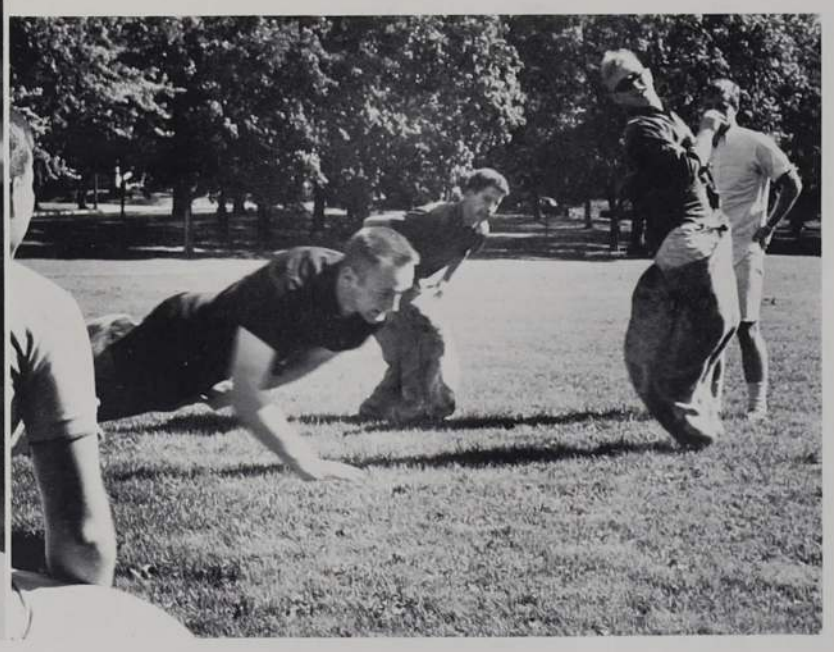

And Refreshment Lines.

And Books . . .

And Beanies . . .

And Burlap Bags.

President's Column

Welcome aboard!

We are off to a record-breaking year. On February 1 we will have 1100 young men and women preparing for their future via the Husson method. To date it has been a good one.

Of some concern to me (and all educators) is the college dropout. This act is the beginning of tragedy, of long duration. I quote an article in Changing Times Magazine — "When they leave school, they are usually eager to find a job and ready to be motivated toward hard work. But all too often what they wind up in because of lack of training, is a job below their ability and without a future." The lack of earning power will result in frugal living, the bare necessities, when by exerting a little more effort to get an education one could enjoy the fuller life. I want all of you to be happy and have many of the good things of life. If you work for them they will come to you.

The new campus funds are increasing daily. Those involved are working diligently and report progress in all areas. The drawings are magnificent. Our need for new facilities has been a tremendous problem which can only be solved by moving to new quarters designed for our particular use. We are stifled by lack of housing. We can't take a deep breath. If all goes well, and I'm confident that it will, we will shake our fetters and pursue our way of life in comfortable and adequate surroundings.

We have earned this new campus. For 68 years, with difficulties and handicaps too many to mention, we have been training young men and women for careers in business, government and education. Many have risen to prominence in their fields and the total record is a proud one. It gives us courage for the giant undertaking that we have planned for so long and which is now close upon us.

I will keep you posted on developments. In the meantime study hard and faithfully. Make the most of your opportunity which later brings such satisfying rewards. It's a good life. It's a worker's world. It's as it should be.

Whenever I can serve you personally, just knock on my door. Your career is important to me. My good wishes attend your every effort.

Cordially,
Chief

As soon as the tyros adjusted to their new environment, they found . . .

Time to talk . . .

And time to waltz.

Now gone are the reception lines, the refreshment lines, and the beanies and the burlap bags. There is only time for books, time to talk, and occasionally some time to waltz.

The Ideal College Paper

by Diane Cuozzo

Probably all colleges have teams which represent them in various kinds of athletic games. As a general rule, the student is interested in all these branches of athletics. This increases his interest in the whole college, or, in other words, it produces a loyal school spirit.

Yet, it is a rather sad fact that there are but few students who have an equal interest in their school paper. For the most part, students do not regard their publication as an important part of college life. What are the requisites of such a paper?

In the first place, support from the student body is needed. There are plenty of opportunities offered the student to show his backing. He can contribute personal jokes, a local item, information about an alumnus. It is certainly true that wholehearted interest and encouragement from the students is a great help to the editors.

Next, an energetic and loyal editorial board is essential. Being the heart of the publication, this group must comprise members, who with unselfish purpose co-operate with one another in the task of making their college known by broadcasting the standard of its paper.

For the third requisite one might mention interesting contents which should be divided into well edited departments.

Therefore, a school paper to be ideal, should have interesting contents, an attractive form, a loyal and earnest editorial board, and support from the students. This will result in forming an ideal paper which furnishes interest, enjoyment, and benefit to the entire college, consisting of instructors and students, and to the public, consisting of alumni and casual readers.

Points to Ponder

Although you Freshmen are pretty well oriented by now, perhaps you would like to take this list of rules for classroom manners. These have been handed down from class to class:

1. Always bring plenty of books to the classroom. Even if they aren't the right books, it's impressive.
2. When the instructor looks up from his notes and smiles, twitches and pauses, be sure to laugh. He has told a joke.
3. Write vigorously all the time he is talking and nod your head in agreement. Even if you are only scribbling and don't agree, he will appreciate it and remember you.
4. Every once in a while, bring some little bit of information to class. Even if you think it is not relevant to the subject, the instructor will.
5. If you have fallen asleep, when you wake up avoid asking questions to show that you are alert. Chances are, he has just covered the material.
6. When the instructor asks you the time (very few of them have watches) always tell him you have plenty of time even if you don't. Then, when the bell rings, act real surprised with a hint of unhappiness. (Be sure not to run into him on the way out. He might think you are in a hurry to get away.) NEVER shake your own watch in class and then stare at it curiously!

Now then, if you take the above suggestions for what they are worth, you'll be around to read the next edition!

THANKSGIVING

by George Lambert

The United States, though a young nation, is nevertheless steeped in historic tradition. Its brave men and courageous women are clothed in pseudo-immortality through annual celebrations and festivities. The glorious and memorable events of its brief history are commemmorated by national holidays. Thanksgiving is one of these holidays. But, unlike most feast days, Thanksgiving does not recall the heroic deeds of soldiers, nor does it recall the noble exploits of statesmen. It recalls rather an act of sincere gratitude by the pioneer Pilgrims for their new-found freedom and the bountiful plenty of their adopted country.

Traditionally, Thanksgiving was a day set aside to praise the Almighty for the gifts bestowed upon mankind. Throughout the demanding colonial era, during the trying reconstruction days of the nineteenth century, even in the abysmal darkness of the war years, people found reasons to be thankful. Meagre as their favors were, still they gave thanks.

America now enjoys a prosperity not found in any modern nation. Americans still celebrate Thanksgiving, but much of the traditional spirit has disappeared. For too many Thanksgiving is but an adventure in gastronomy, a day of turkey and pumpkin pie.

This Thanksgiving, Americans should remember the proverbial words: "I wept because I had no shoes, until I met a man who had no feet."

The Poets' Corner

The Ravin' Students

by Edgar Allen Phoney

Once upon a midday class
Of typing students with speeds to pass
There came the cry from up in front
To open up their books and hunt
For page forty-one or so,
And try for a fifty and "o."
Soon the students, nearly napping,
Begin their loud and ghostly tapping,
As of someone slowly rapping,
Rapping out a thirty-four;
Only this and nothing more.

Ah, distinctly they remember
How they flunked this last December,
And each separate falling error
Fills their heart with horrid terror.
Eagerly they wish to pass—
Vainly typing not too fast
From their timing books of sorrow
Which they'll probably sell tomorrow;
Thus a senior and sophomore
Fail again as do some more
Nameless here for evermore.

Deep into their keyboards a-peering;
Long they type there—wondering, fearing
As they type somewhat slower
Timings no mortal ever dared to type before;
And their rate is spurted and broken
And the errors are provoking;
And so the only words they type
Show no signs of being right.
And then the teacher does explore,
"May I see your typing score?"
Errors there and nothing more.

So the students never quitting
Still are sitting and a-hitting;
Growing more and more too tired,
Becoming less and less inspired,
And their eyes are all a-streamin'
From the tears and the screamin';
And the strains upon their skill
Have weakened the soul of their will.
The teacher shouts from the floor,
"Another take, I'll time one more."
Quoth the students, "Nevermore!"

Penitence

by Wilyum Fakespeare

Oh, were it plausible to meditate
Without worry of thy fate;
To remain in thy abode of bliss
And fear not time's deadly kiss.
But time, while seeping unceasingly by,
Shall take no pity on thy plaintive cry,
And life shall pass thee cruelly on
Where forever they shall mourn.
Deserving of it? yes—sin's been done,
So face thy fate—thy cannot run;
But once thee sinks into oblivion
Filled with life's wretched sin,
Remorse shall penetrate thy soul
For thy never fulfilled His goal.
Clutching now to the edge of life—
Clinging now—and in thy strife
Realizing thy wrongs—Ah, but too late?
Soon, only time in thy abode shall meditate!

Poem

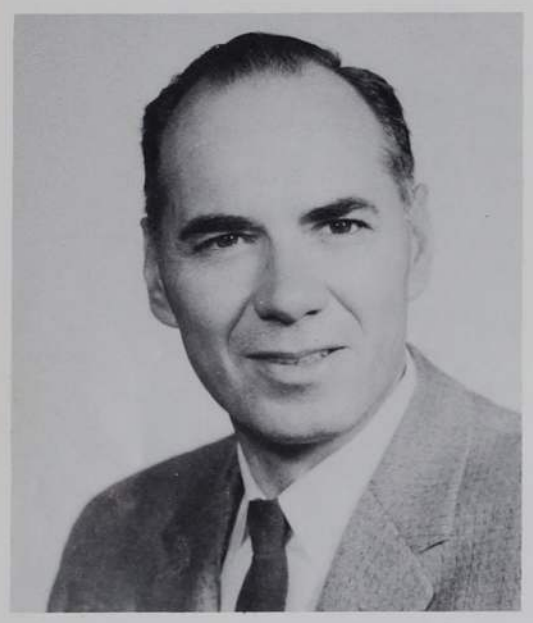

Life will be lovely
This season, I guess
Provided the team has Sufficient success.

Coaches work six days a week
Striving for precision,
Official quickly gums things
Up with single bum decision.

Halfbacks are agile and fragile
Fullbacks are brawny and stout,
Linemen galore are wide as a door
With holes where their teeth were knocked out.

Soccer

The soccer team had a 4-4 season this past fall. Practice opened in September with 19 candidates for the team. The candidates that had experience were Bill Robichaud, John Boucher, Bob Cox, Bob Fraser, Buster Pupkis, John Scotti, Junior Faaelepo and Pete Thande. With 10 days of practice, the Indians met Farmington State at Farmington and took the measure of the teachers 5-4. The Indians did it the hard way. They had a 2-0 lead then dropped behind 4-2. The Indians, however, came back and scored 3 goals in the last half. The last one in the last minute of the game to start the season on the right foot.

The following Saturday the Indians opened at home to Lyndon State and dropped a close game 2-1. Both goals scored by Lyndon were scored in the last period and the winning goal was scored with 3 seconds left. The Indians had many opportunities to score but failed to do so.

A very fast Ft. Kent team scored the only shutout against the Indians 3-0. However, the game was much closer than the score indicates. The Indians missed two penalty kicks and the Ft. Kent goalie made several fantastic saves. The game could have gone either way with a few breaks.

The Ricker game at Ricker was a rough game in that Bob Fraser had his bottom lip split in contact with the Ricker Center forward. However, the Indians overcame Ricker's home advantage and won 3-2.

Gorham State beat the Indians 2-1. The final and winning goal was made in the last 23 seconds. The Indians once again missed many scoring opportunities and scored their only goal on a penalty kick.

Ricker visited the Indians at home and once again the Indians prevailed in a closely played game 2-1.

The Indians then traveled to Aroostook State. The Indians' defense fell apart and the boys from Presque Isle scored with ease recording a 6-1 victory. Although the beating was bad, the Indians came back the following Saturday and beat this same club 2-0. This showed that the Indians had the courage to come back and beat a club that beat them badly. This final game was the best played game of the year. The team played together and had numerous opportunities to score only to have the shots go wild.

This past season the seasoned veterans helped the inexperienced freshmen out tremendously. The seniors that will be leaving will be sorely missed. Co-captain Bill Robichaud, who was leading scorer and spark plug, will be hard to replace. John Boucher who played left wing, and whose tremendous passes kept our offense going, will be missed. Bob Fraser, who took over the goal tending duties, did a fine job. With each game Bob improved tremendously and his final game with Husson will long be remembered. This was, perhaps, the finest afternoon he had as he stopped one penalty kick and made approximately 25 saves.

The prospects for next year look good. Returning will be Co-captain Bob Cox who played great ball all year long and helped our offense with his long booming kicks. Also returning will be veterans Buster Pupkis, Pete Thande, Junior Faaelepo, John Scotti and the freshmen Dave Tide, Doug Owens, Tom Garvey, Bill Arthur, Terry Nash, Al Hedstrom, Pete Ziegler, Mike Abbot, Daryl Bragdon, John Pulas and Earl Goodyear. With a couple of breaks and a matter of seconds, the Indians could have ended with a better record.

Women's Intramurals

The Husson women's intramural program consists of swimming, bowling, and volleyball. We are aiming to learn to win and to lose gracefully and to help one another in perfecting skills.

In bowling, we are running a doubles tournament and at the end of the session the high scorer will receive a trophy.

In swimming, we are striving to accomplish two objectives: learning new strokes and improving old ones.

Volleyball is in the tournament stage and we play other women's teams within the city recreation league.

We welcome any other girls to join us in learning and playing.

JUDO

The Judo Club started on September 29 with thirty-three members. At the first class, Mr. Labbe presented movies on Judo. Then there was a short Randori (free exercise) for the benefit of the new members.

The second meeting consisted of showing the new members the basic techniques of Judo: offbalancing, falling ways, and body movements, while the third meeting was devoted to the practice of the major hip throw.

This year we have planned a number of contests with Dow AFB, U. of Maine, and Ricker College. Mr. Merrill also hopes to bring some members of the judo team for half-time entertainment at the basketball games.

The Judo Club meets every Wednesday from 6:30-8:30 p.m. and all Husson students and faculty are welcome to come and watch the Gentle Art of Self-Defense in action.

Cross Country

The cross country team finished the season with a disappointing 0 and 8 record. Overlooking the record, and taking a look at the runners, we find some very determined men. This season these boys were faced with many obstacles, and even though the records do not show them, the Husson Cross Team ran many fine races.

Against Gorham State Teachers College they were defeated 27 to 29, where one position could have made the difference; against Ricker they had successive defeats of 26 to 30 and 26 to 29, again one or two positions could have changed the complexion of the meet. Plagued by injuries, the Dalers lost to the University of Maine (Portland).

Runners like Gary Ress, Mike Colerick, Eddie Boss, Al Dixon, and Harry Greenfield have greatly improved our cross country team and, with runners like these, we can expect to have many victorious seasons in the years to come.

Organizations

MEX

The brothers of Mu Sigma Chi are now engaged in a building project to better the fraternity house. Shown in the picture are Jerry Cote, Steve Flanagan, and Jerry Bourgoin making tables, coat racks, and bunks for the house. Group participation like this is prevalent in the fraternity.

During the first semester, Mu Sigma Chi has been entertaining faculty guests. Every Thursday evening two faculty members have been invited to dine with the brothers and the house mother. Through the course of this program, all of the members of the faculty will be invited to have dinner with us.

This year the pledges of Mu Sigma Chi engaged in a slightly different activity to assist the community. Other than raking leaves, they went up to St. Joseph's Hospital and helped the Sisters move some hospital equipment.

The annual Pi Rho Zeta Scholarship Fund Drive sponsored by Mu Sigma Chi has begun and the ticket sales are doing great. This year it looks as if the drive will surpass all expectations. The prize is a 1966 T.V. set to be drawn off December 17. Get your tickets now if you don't have them yet!

This year, the brothers of MEX are pleased to welcome as honorary members Mr. Greenlaw and Mr. Mueller. They both have participated in Hell Week and are wearing their pledge pins faithfully.

Rifle Club

The Husson College Rifle Club is now being organized under the capable guidance of Mr. George Mueller. There are still many details to work out, but the new club has already captured the interest of the numerous sport shooters on campus.

If anyone wishes to join this club, he should contact Mr. Mueller, the club's advisor.

The club promises to be a worthwhile organization.

KDP

Lambda Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity is pleased to welcome twenty new men to its brotherhood. The pledges began their initiation period on October 15. After a week filled with hikes, drills, calesthenics, service projects at the Bangor Children's Home and Saint Michael's Children's Home, the pledges were officially and formally welcomed into the brotherhood at the third degree ceremonies on Sunday evening, October 25. Congratulations from the fraternity to the new brothers: Lew Babbidge, Ralph Beckwith, Dave Crowell, Lloyd Cummings, Ted Ellis, Pete Farrington, Don Favreau, Seth Gilman, Frank Henry, Jerry Hutchins, Randy Keep, John Koch, Angelo Lucca, Alan McBrierty, Bob O'Keefe, Joe Paliotta, Buster Pupkis, Joe Petrone, Chris Shields, and Skip Young.

On October 28, Kappa Delta Phi sponsored the second annual Husson Mixer featuring the Fabulous Ferraris. Thanks to the crowd-pleasing music of this group, the dance was a tremendous success.

Kappa Delta Phi is currently formulating plans to sponsor a folksinging concert. Agencies are being contacted, letters, written, dates, set: all to make this concert as successful as last year's with the Brandywine Singers. More details should be available for the next issue of the Husson Ledger.

Pi Rho Zeta Conclave - 1965

After a few slight mishaps, four carloads of delegates departed from Husson College at midnight, August 6, bound for the 1965 Pi Rho Zeta Conclave in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Those participating were Miss Swan, International President, Miss Bradford, Mrs. Saba and Jackie Emerson of Epsilon Delta Alumnae. Representing Epsilon Tau Epsilon were Diane Cuozzo, Marlene Lloyd, Sandra Frost, Rosemary Hawkes, Paulie Thompson, Mary Jane Dunphy, and Anne Lewis. Sue Veilleux of Delta Sigma Delta and Jerry Cote of Mu Sigma Chi completed the group.

The delegates arrived in Montreal at 10 a.m. the next day. Here they met the Canadian Pacific train out of Windsor Station. Everyone enjoyed the 1400 mile train trip along Lake Superior and into Western Canada. No "casualties" occurred en route except for one case of train-sickness (no names mentioned!)

The train arrived at the prairie city of Winnipeg about 10 p.m. on August 8. The Maine group was met by the host chapter and delegates from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Winchester, Virginia. The Fort Garry Hotel was the convention site and certainly proved to be an outstanding one—after some of the Maine delegates finally got settled in the right rooms!

The Conclave assembled the following evening at the annual "Get-Acquainted" party. The Maine delegation made quite a hit when they distributed Lobster Bibs to all the other delegates.

After meetings all morning on Tuesday, several very beneficial panels were conducted. These panels were composed of delegates and moderated by the International Officers. It was the general agreement of the delegates that this was a very worthwhile venture.

That night an informal dance was held in the hotel. Here the delegates learned several new dances particular to that part of the country. The "Butterfly" proved to be very strenuous while the dance "Bingo" afforded them a chance to meet everyone.

An interesting sight-seeing tour was conducted the following day. Among the stops were the Legislative Buildings, Saint Boniface Basilica, St. Andrews-on-the-Red Anglican church and the Carling Brewery. After the tour, the delegates were taken to Old Fort Garry about twenty miles out on the prairie for a picnic.

Later that evening they went to see a professional rugby game between the Blue Bombers of Manitoba and the Stampeeders of Alberta. Many "early-morning" parties concluded the day.

The Conclave convened at noon on Thursday in time for the "Golden Boy Frolics" planned for that evening. Here the Maine delegation won their share of awards. The first trophy went to ETE for logging the most number of miles to attend the Conclave. It was then announced that Miss Swan was chosen "Advisor of the Year." Sandra Frost was elected to the office of International Recording Secretary while Rosemary Hawkes and Paulie Thompson won scholarships from a chance drawing. The final two trophies were received by Diane Cuozzo for winning the annual essay contest. In addition, she won life membership in Pi Rho Zeta. As a climax to the affair it was announced that Suzie Veilleux was voted Queen of the Conclave!

On Friday after the Annual Breakfast, the group from Maine boarded the train again for the return to Montreal. They arrived late Saturday night but were up early to return to Bangor the next day.

The general comment —

Lubbock, Texas and the 1966 Conclave can't come soon enough for us!!

ETE

Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter now has Miss Madalyn Jordan as advisor. There are twenty-eight active members at present with increased membership expected after the first semester ranking period.

On November 3, the members entertained Miss Clara Swan, International President and former advisor of ETE; Miss Sandra Frost, International Recording Secretary; Mrs. Pauline Saba; and Miss Suzanne Veilleux of Epsilon Delta Alumnae at a pizza party. The guests and members were shown slides and pictures taken in August at the Pi Rho Zeta Conclave. Mary Jane Dunphy presented the delegate's report of the convention.

The Executive Board of the Chapter has appointed Marlene Lloyd to succeed Sandra Frost as Treasurer. Sandy, who has returned as a special student, has joined the Alumnae chapter. Liz Pullen has filled in as Chaplain for Audrey Simpson who is practice teaching.

Plans are underway for Husson College's first talent show. All students were asked to try-out for the show. Judges consisted of Mr. Weymouth of the faculty; Miss Jordan, Advisor of ETE; Diane Cuozzo, President of the Chapter; and a committee representing the members. Paulie Thompson served as chairman with Linda Sereyko, Martha Cook, Judy Williams, Mary Jane Dunphy and Carolyn Dodge assisting.

Six ETE sisters have become Life Members in Pi Rho Zeta International Commerce Sorority and Fraternity. They are Diane Cuozzo, Marlene Lloyd, Mary Richard, Paulie Thompson, Anne Lewis and Geneva Bass.

L. to R: Miss Swan, Sue Veilleux, Rosemary Hawkes and Diane Cuozzo.

Student Senate

Fellow Students,

The Student Senate is the only organization on campus that represents you the students of Husson College as a unit. Each organization and each class elects a senator for a two-year term in the Student Senate. Thus, every student has a voice in the Senate through his or her elected representative.

Essentially a service organization, the Senate plans and prepares student assemblies; it promotes the "Chief-For-A-Day" activities in the spring; it offers office supplies to any club or organization that needs them; it grants educational loans to needy students; it awards scholarships to deserving individuals.

Though better known for these service projects, the Student Senate plays a more important role in the college community: it expresses student opinions and it presents student demands to the administration. By conferring with the Senate, the administration can assess and evaluate student requests and grants these requests when it deems them beneficial for the college as a progressing educational institute. The Senate is therefore, the official medium of communications between the student body and the administration.

The Student Senate is currently working to get an office. This office will be strictly for the benefit of you the student and it will enable the Senate to better serve you.

Yet for its many projects, the Student Senate is often ignored by the students. Only if you the students take an active interest in the Senate can it function effectively as your representative. Your interest and your support are needed to make the Student Senate the vital organization that it should be on the expanding Husson College campus.

We are doing our best to serve you. We urge your help and your cooperation to make the Student Senate a functional organization. The Student Senate is an organization for the students, not merely for the member senators. Help us and we shall try to help you.

Sincerely,

George Lambert,
Chairman,
Public Affairs Committee
