Angus S. King, Jr.-
Governor and Family Man

By Josh Scroggins

Recently I was able to speak with Governor King to reflect with him his first full year in office as well as discuss with him his personal life.

Governor King was sworn in January, 1995, after winning a four way race, which included Joe Brennan, John Carter, and Susan Collins. Governor King ran under the platform that he was not a professional politician, and had no plans of ever becoming one. He feels political office should be something that you do for a limited number of years as a service, and then step down when your term is up. With this in mind, Governor King has no plans on running for any other political office.

Governor King also ran promoting the downsizing of government in The State of Maine. Since taking office Governor King has eliminated over 1,100 state positions which were found to be nonessential. He feels that while cutting job positions is not something that anyone likes to do, it is a very essential step for Maine to take. When asked what he thought of his first year in office, Governor King replied that he felt that it was very productive and that more was accomplished than he thought could have been done.

As a family man Governor King feels that while the job of governor is challenging and fun, it can also be very demanding and put time restraints on his personal life. Speaking engagements and conventions take time away from his wife and children. However, through proper use of time management he feels this problem can be solved. Governor King and his wife have five children, all boys.

As a college man at Dartmouth College, Governor King found himself involved in several student organizations. Among these organizations were the Student Government, Delta Upsilon (a local Fraternity), and a broadcaster for the college radio station. Governor King shared with me the feelings of shock and horror he had when he interrupted regularly scheduled programming to announce that the President of the United States of America, John Fitzgerald Kennedy had been shot.

Many people view Governor King as an "everyday" kind of person. He feels that this is only natural as he strives to be normal. The Governor drives a Harley Davidson, attends baseball games quite regularly, and is seen on the weekends in t-shirts and jeans.

The Governor is also quite an avid fan of sporting events and along with several analysis shares the opinion that the Chicago Bulls will break the 70 win game mark. When watching football, he admits that he roots for any team except the Dallas Cowboys.

Susan Collins Announces Plans to Run for Senate

On Wednesday, February 7, 1996, Susan Collins held a press conference in the Campus Center of Peabody Hall and announced her plans to run for the Senate seat vacated by Senator William Cohen.

In 1994 Collins became the Republican nominee for governor after winning an eight-way primary race. This accomplishment made Collins the first woman in Maine's history ever to be nominated for governor.

Susan Collins - Senatorial Candidate

In December of 1994 Collins joined the staff of Husson College as the Executive Director of the Center for Family Business as well as the Director of International and External Programs.

Prior to coming to Husson College, Collins served as the New England Administrator for the U.S. Small Business Administration as Maine's Commissioner of Professional and Financial Regulation.

She also worked as Senator Bill Cohen's primary advisor on business issues for twelve years. In working with Cohen, Collins advised Cohen on legislation, she did research, and wrote correspondence for the Senator. Collins also served as the staff director of the Senate Subcommittee on Oversight of Government Management.

Collins also worked as the Deputy Treasurer for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. This job included managing communications and legislative operations for all the Treasury divisions. She served as the chief spokesperson for State Treasurer Joseph Malone. She also directed special projects which aided Malone.

Collins served as the Regional Administrator to the United States Small Business Administration In this position Collins directed, coordinated and served as spokesperson and advocate for the Small Business Administration in New England.

Ms. Collins is also active in community, educational and civic organizations. She is a trustee of Eastern Maine Medical Center as well as Bridgton Academy. She is a member of the Bangor Rotary Club and the Board of Visitors of the Muskie Institute for Public Policy at the University of Southern Maine. Collins also serves as the director of the Maine Tree Foundation.

Collins is a director of her family's business, S.W. Collins Company Inc., a retail lumber and building materials business located in Caribou.

Collins, who graduated from Caribou High School and St. Lawrence University in Canton, New York has had many educational achievements. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and graduated magna cum laude. She received the Carl Chilson Award for the outstanding senior government major. Collins was named as a St. Lawrence University Presidential Scholar and as a William Randolph Hearst Foundation Scholar. She was honored as St. Lawrence's Outstanding Alumni in 1992.

Susan will continue her work here at Husson as she campaigns for the Senatorial seat vacated by Senator William Cohen. We wish her the best of luck in her quest to become Senator.

Gamma Sigma Sigma

Hi there,

I'd like to tell you about a unique organization on campus. It's called Gamma Sigma Sigma, we're a national service sorority based on the ideals of service, friendship and equality. Although we are a sorority and we wear Greek letters we are not a Greek sorority.

Since coming on campus in the spring of 1992 we've participated in a variety of volunteer service projects both on and off campus. Some of those projects include: sponsoring D.A.R.E. dances for Bangor and Brewer jr. high and middle school students, working with the American Red Cross, the Bangor Humane Society, and the Bangor Homeless Shelter. We've participated in the Multiple Sclerosis Society Walk-a-thon, cooked dinner for residents at the Ronald McDonald House, and done various projects for the Downeast Elementary School in Bangor. Last semester, along with the Accounting Society and the help of the Husson community, we helped the Eastern Maine AIDS Network stock up their food cupboards for the holiday season. In addition to service we do a lot of social things too, like secret sisters, holiday parties and sisterhood banquets.

What makes us unique is that anyone can join as long as you have a GPA of 2.0 or better. Requirements for membership are simple:

1. Plan and organize a service project.
2. Plan and organize a fund-raiser.
3. Perform 10 service hours.
4. Learn about our history.
5. Attend meetings and pay dues.

The above requirements are done with the help of the sisterhood and the other people who want to become members, and during that time you form friendships, learn about teamwork, and have fun!!!! If Gamma Sig sounds like something you'd be interested in, you can call Lucy Jordan or Carolyn Carter through the Husson switchboard. Hope to hear from you!!!

Campus Beautification: What is it? Who started it? Do we need it? Finally, what can we do to help?

Campus Beautification was committee was founded by the faculty and some students joined. Bob Botembe was one of the students that joined the committee. Botembe having a background in interior design Bob drew a layout of the campus. Using this they could figure out where trees, flowers and bushes are needed.

The things they are focusing on the most are behind the dorms and the Bell Tower. Behind the dorms there are only a few trees. This makes things look rather dull. The committee would like to spruce up the face of the dorms. They want to make them look more attractive for when family and friends come to visit. They also would like to fix up the Bell Tower for graduation, so when parents walk by it will look beautiful. They have already started getting to work with the Greek Governing Board on help and fundraising. They can't do it alone, they need help. Plans to go full steam ahead will begin in the spring. Also, fundraising will begin soon with a bottle drive. They will be leaving boxes in the dorms for you to put your returnables in. Please help out as much as you can. They will also need volunteers to help with planting in the spring.

Husson isn't just a place where we go to school. Many students live here and would like it to be a place that we love to look at and a place where we like to spend time. With school support we can make it that place.

Artie Shaw Tribute at UMaine Feb. 20

Orono, Maine -- Artie Shaw has been described as "a searcher, a man looking for something new, something different, something with which he could identify and which he could identify as his own."

"The Big Band Salute to Artie Shaw" -- featuring vocalist Julius La Rosa, Johnny Smith's Ink Spots and clarinet virtuoso Abe Most -- will visit the University of Maine to pay tribute to that sensibility in a 7 p.m. performance Tuesday, February 20, at the Maine Center for the Arts. The concert is being sponsored by MBNA.

Known for such hits as "Begin the Beguine," "Stardust" and "Indian Love Call," Shaw was a bandleader who respected great talent. Among those who sang with the Artie Shaw Orchestra was the legendary Billie Holiday.

Those honoring Shaw in his tribute are up to the task. La Rosa has been compared to such notables as Frank Sinatra, Mel Torme and Tony Bennett. Smith is one of the original Ink Spots, which paved the way for doo-wop to emerge in the 1950's. Abe Most has performed in the Henry Mancini Orchestra and with such vocalists as Sinatra, Julie Andrews and Carole King.

Tickets are available at the MCA box office. Reservations can be made in person at the box office between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays, by calling 207/581-1755 or 1-800-MCA-TIXX, or by writing Box Office, 5746 Maine Center for the Arts, Orono ME 04469-5746. The Chaplain's Corner

by Rev. Robert T. Carlson

How about "opportunity" for this issue's issue? Life presents us with countless opportunities. They appear daily, weekly, monthly and yearly. They are small and seemingly insignificant or large and life changing.

Some would talk about opportunity as luck. What do you think? Are you just plain lucky when you are in the right place at the right time? Is it luck when a deal to good to pass up knocks at your door?

I would suggest that opportunities occur for all of us. The major difference or deciding factor is whether we choose to respond to the opportunity presenting itself. It is in the responding that we open new doors. It is in the responding that we broaden our horizons.

I want to tell you about a new opportunity being offered through our Campus Ministries Program. Starting this week we will have a PRAYER & PRAISE SERVICE in the Chapel from 6:30 to 7:30 P.M. on Friday evenings. This is a Christian service with music, readings from Scripture and a meditation being offered. We hope to have Christian men and women from our wider community come and share testimony about their faith journey as part of the service as well.

Hope to see you on Friday evening in the Chapel at 6:30 P.M.

Presidential Guides

Applications for students who would like to become presidential guides may be picked up in the Admissions Office. There are several openings in the organization to be filled -- many of our guides are graduating in May.

Some of the duties of the Presidential Guides are to give tours to visitors and prospective students; answer questions related to college life, academics, etc.; express your positive experience while you have been at Husson College; and attend Admissions functions for recruiting students.

There are several advantages to being a Presidential Guide. It looks good on your resume and it gives you experience in meeting and working with the public. We have a fall and spring function where we go out for dinner.

If you are interested in becoming a guide, stop by the Admissions Office and pick up an application and to meet the Admissions Staff.

The Sisters of Kappa Lambda would like to thank everyone who purchased oil raffle tickets. Unfortunately we have had to change the drawing date to February 16. Good luck to all ticket holders.

Currently we have been active in some Philanthropy events such as the Brewer Rec Father Daughter dance that was held on February 9, 1996.

We also have some big news. Together with our brothers we have set up a formal open to all students to be held on March 22 from 8-12. This is Kappa's First Annual Spring Formal. The cost is $10 per person. Transportation and refreshments will be provided. We are hoping for a great turnout so get your tickets early and bring a date. See any sister or brother for tickets. If you have any questions call 941-7871 or 941-7702.

In an end note we want to say good luck to all of the 1996 pledges, including our girls - Cheryl, Heather, Leigh-Anna and Karen. GOOD LUCK!!!

TKE has been very busy planning out our 21st Anniversary Red Carnation Banquet. It is a time for brothers, old and new, to get together to reminisce about our time at Husson College. It will be April 27, 1996 at the Black Bear Inn at Orono.

TKE has been holding it's annual Valentine's day raffle. We will be selling tickets for a chance to win a gift certificate to Oriental Jade, two movie passes and a rose. The drawing will be held on February 12.

Our biannual Barrel Roll will be held this year. We roll a barrel from Waterville to Bangor which is about 70 miles. We raise money for Maine Special Olympics. Last time we did it we donated $1000. We will also be cooking dinner for the people of the Ronald McDonald House. It's a great time for the brothers to get away and do a good deed for society.

TKE would like to wish all the Greek organizations pledges good luck during the next two weeks. Times may get hard, but when you're done, it's the best feeling in the world. TKE would also like to wish everyone a happy valentine's day, especially to Dawn Libby, our TKE Sweetheart.

Updates in the Physical Therapy Program

by Lisa Augello

Physical Therapy, Husson's newest major has undergone many changes and advances. A clinical Coordinator and Administrative Assistant have been added to the staff of the program. They are also in the process of hiring more personnel. Renovations are taking place now on the first and second levels of Bell Hall where the teaching labs will be located. The renovations should be completed by the summer. They are also in the process of developing the professional part of the curriculum which begins at the end of the third year. The first two tears consist of the educational part of the program.

The students in the program will go out on full-time clinical's which will occur mostly during the forth and fifth years. These clinical's will be located everywhere. Most will be located in Maine, but some will go across the United States and include parts of Canada. The students will be allowed to list two or three of their personal preferences then the coordinators will try to match up their needs with the Physical Therapy training that they may need.

About forty people are accepted into the program each year. When looking for students to be accepted into the program, they look first at each person's academic standing. After they have chosen which ones qualify on that basis they look at SAT's. Then they look at things such as activities and your prior experience in the area of Physical Therapy. It is highly unlikely that anyone would be accepted into the program with no prior experience. Each student needs to maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better in order to continue with their professional studies. If any people drop out of the program they will be able to accept transfers who have obtained undergraduate degrees and who are interested in the professional part of the program. After completing five year's of Husson's program students will receive their master's degree in Physical Therapy.

Husson Sports

Husson Softball Faces New Changes

The Husson College softball program has undergone a major change since last year's season. Bob Ackley has been added to the Husson coaching staff as the new head softball coach. Ackley previously coached softball at Old Town High School for 18 years. When asked why he decided to coach softball at Husson, Ackley replied, "I've wanted to move to the next level of softball for 10 years but have only been actively pursuing it for 3 years. I finally got the opportunity and took advantage of it."

There are many key returnees for Husson this season. Leading the Braves will be Seniors Sandy Jack at first base and Michelle Cogan playing in the outfield. Junior pitcher Amanda Pomerleau and Sophomore catcher Amy Coppola will also be playing key roles for Husson. Pomerleau was selected the Maine Athletic Conference Player of the Year last season and is looking to continue her success. Sophomore Cara Mercer will be sharing play time with Pomerleau on the mound and Sophomore Jen Russ will be playing outfield for the Braves.

Key newcomers for the Braves include Freshmen Tracy Lamontagne playing third base, Lisa Keene at shortstop, and Steph Freeman who will share time catching and playing in the infield. Other newcomers added to the team include Freshman Kelly Taylor and Sophomores Crystal Burgess and Sherri Sanna. The main goals for the Husson team are to make it to districts and surpass last years success. The Braves ended last years season with an impressive record of 30-12. In March the Braves will be traveling to Fort Pierce, Florida for Spring Training. This trip is very important for the team who would most likely play its first game without the chance to practice outside. The softball team is in the process of raising money for this trip. With the selling of ads and production of fundraisers, the Braves hope to soon reach their goal. The Husson team will be in Florida for approximately one week and will play ten games. Coach Ackley looks for the Florida trip to be fun and a great chance to prepare for the challenging season ahead.

Congratulations

Congratulations goes out to Rick Sinclair from the Husson College Men's Basketball Team. Sinclair made his 1,000 point against the University of New England on January 20, 1996. Sinclair will be graduating in May with a BS in Business Administration- Sports Management Concentration.

Sue Ann Allen - A True Team Leader

The point guard on a basketball team needs to have a tremendous amount of leadership and Junior Sue Ann Allen is the perfect person to fill this role. Sue Ann has played basketball for Husson for three years but this year she found herself playing a different role than in her previous years. Allen has had to step up and become more of a team leader. As a point guard she has learned to take charge more on the court. Allen has played a big part in the success of the Husson team. The Braves have only lost one conference game and if they beat St. Joe's on Wednesday they will go into the MAC Tournament seeded first. When asked why she feels the team is so successful this year, Allen replied, "The team chemistry has made a big difference. We work really well together on the court. We've all stepped up at different times and not just one person has led the team."

Sue Ann has made many accomplishments while playing for Husson, including the All Tourney Teams for Presque Isle, The Maine Event, and the Paul Bunyan Tournament. She also was named Player of the Week in January. With Allen leading the team, the Husson women look to be real strong in tournament play.

Husson Braves Over-power UMM Clippers

In a pre-game presentation Braves Head Coach, Warren Caruso, honored the three seniors on the Husson Men's Basketball team. Bryan Jefferson, Fran McAneany, and Rick Sinclair are getting closer to closing what has been excellent careers here at Husson.

On Thursday night Bryan Jefferson led the Braves to a well deserved victory over the UMM Clippers. The Braves have always been a fast break team but this wasn't evident until the second half of the February 8th match up. The Braves came out flat in the beginning minutes of the first half but gradually the team came together to end the first half down 38-37. Going into the locker room Husson realized that they needed to step it up a level.

The men came out in the second half with a totally different attitude. Husson opened with a 11-6 run to take their first lead of the game. The Braves shot 73% from the floor in the second half. Freshman guard Mike McCaffrey scored his third three-pointer of the game and then got a steal and hit a jumper to add to his 19 points for the game. Senior Rick Sinclair and Junior Brian Alley both stepped up for Husson to take the lead and never look back. Senior Bryan Jefferson finished with 25 points while Sinclair added 19 and 5 blocked shots. Also scoring for the Braves was Freshman Chris Funk with 14 points. Husson made the game out of reach when Brian Alley made a strong dunk off a fast break. Everyone contributed to the Braves 107-81 win. Husson plays long time rival St. Joseph's College on Valentine's Day at 7:30 p.m. in Newman Gymnasium.

Husson Sports By Steph Freeman

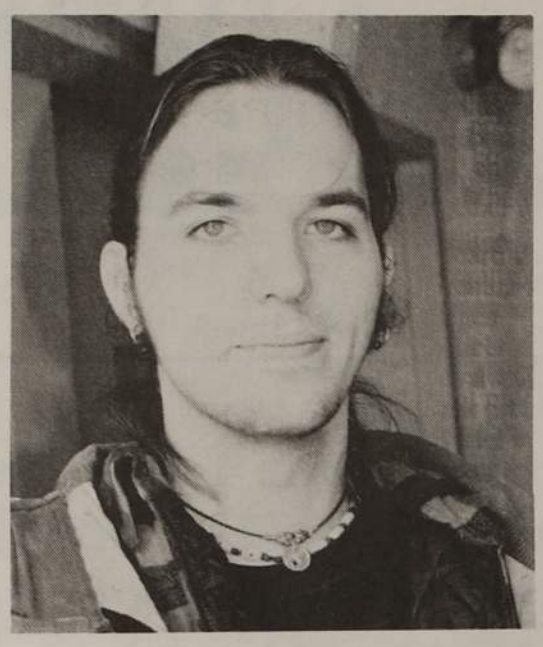

Moholland and Miller Lead Husson Past UMM

Senior Becky Moholland and Junior Beth Miller led the Braves past the Clippers Thursday night at Newman Gymnasium. The team came onto the court in the first half struggling but regrouped during halftime when they trailed by four. The Clippers were shooting 42% from the foul line while the Braves were only shooting 24%. The Braves combined a zone and man to man defense with Miller on UMM's "go to" player Becky Tower. This forced UMM to shoot from the outside of the key. What improved Husson's chances to win the game was their improvement on shooting. With about 15 minutes left in the game Moholland started a fast break by stealing the ball and passing it off to Allen for an easy lay up. This was the turning point for the Braves. Two minutes later Moholland and Allen went back down the court and scored another two baskets. By the end of the rally Husson was ahead 42-37. Beth Miller stepped up on defense and limited UMM forward Becky Tower's shot attempts. Husson had two of their four big players out with injury which made Walker, Miller, and Moholland all step up. Moholland, who is getting closer to her last game here at Husson College, ended the game with seven steals, 13 rebounds, and twenty points. Emily Walker added 14 while Guard Amanda Pomerleau netted 13 for the Braves 69-57 win over Machias. The last game of the regular season for the Husson Women will be on Valentine's day against St. Joseph's College at 5:30 p.m. That night will also be Senior Night for the Braves. Seniors Becky Moholland, Angeline Grant, and Tara Leavitt will be honored before the game.
