Radhika Leaves

-by Robby Olmstead

Radhika Shenoy, Director of Institutional Research will be leaving us on February 29th.

"Director of Institutional Research" is a fairly new position at Husson. A year ago, Radhika took the job, knowing full-well that she'd be starting from scratch. Radhika has enjoyed the challenge of developing this department. And she especially liked the freedom to use her initiative. Then why is she leaving?

Radhika's husband has a job in New York. At first she wasn't too crazy about the idea of moving to N.Y. But she will be living close enough to Long Island to enjoy the cultural events. And N.Y. offers a wide variety of opportunities for her. She's looking forward to conducting research in an industrial setting.

Before she starts looking for a new job, she plans to take a month off to get herself and her little boy settled into their new environment.

She has enjoyed her work here at Husson and made many friends; but looks forward to new challenges in New York. Good luck, Radhika, we'll miss our warm smile!

ALCOHOL: A Problem Here At Husson?

- by Jack Slomback

I don't know the answer. Alcohol is becoming recognized as a major social problem, or the cause of many social problems. Is it possible that it is a problem here, too? Only those who drink, or those around them, can decide for sure if there is a problem with alcohol here.

Recent studies have shown that the abuse of alcohol and other substances is the reason why 80% of inmates are in our prisons. Alcohol is involved in 90% of all traffic deaths. Alcohol is a major reason for spouse and child abuse, and the reason why many marriages fail. Recent estimates suggest that up to $100 billion is lost to American business each year as a result of Alcohol.

Permanent brain damage begins with the very first drink consumed in life. The alcohol consumed, the more brain cells forever lost, and brain cells do not replace themselves beyond the teenage years. Since Husson College exists to enhance brain power, not destroy it, perhaps we should start to address the issue.

Are you an alcoholic? Here is a quick test that any person may take to find out. Answer each question YES or NO.

1. Do you lose time from work due to drinking?
2. Is drinking making your home life unhappy?
3. Do tou drink because you are shy with other people?
4. Is drinking affecting your reputation?
5. Have you ever felt remorse after drinking?
6. Have you gotten into financial difficulties as a result of drinking?
7. Do you turn to lower companions and an inferior environment as a result of drinking?
8. Does your drinking make you careless of your families welfare?
9. Has your ambition decreased since drinking?
10. Do you crave a drink at a definate time daily?
11. Do you want a drink the next morning?
12. Does drinking cause you to have difficulty in sleeping?
13. Has your efficiency decreased since drinking?
14. Is drinking jeopardizing your job?
15. Do you drink to escape from worries or troubles?
16. Do you drink alone?

Rep. Diamond Speaks at Student Govt. State Conference

- by Bill Holsonback

Representative John Diamond of Bangor, the Assistant House Majority Leader, spoke at the Student Government State Conference held at Husson on February 18,1984. He thanked Kevin Pelletier and Scott Spooner, our Student Government President and Vice-President, for involving him, and says he feels more comfortable speaking before students than older adults (because students are closer to his age).

In his speech, Diamond emphasized that students could do wonders if only they would "get involved". He also stated, his opinion, that the Maine House of Representative is the most people-related in the country. There have been times when he has voted a particular way, just because people have gotten involved.

When asked about the new alcohol law in Maine, he explained...the rational behind it is that it was against the law for people under 20 to purchase alcohol; therefore, it should also be against the law for them to consume it and drive afterwards.

According to Diamond, an exception for college students would be "next to impossible". Diamond feels that the drinking age is too high and should be lowered to 18. He also opposes Gov. Brennan's proposal to raise the drinking age to 21.

Frats Banned At Husson!

-by Mike Gagnon

Could you imagine the reaction to the headline above? Do you know what such a change would mean? Well it's not true. The frats have not been banned at Husson. But that doesn't mean they won't be.

Last month, Colby College in Waterville banned all fraternities and sororities from campus. Two weeks ago, the Bangor school department announced that it did not recognize the fraternities and sororities at the High School.

O.K., so now you have the message. Well, what if the same thing happened to Husson?

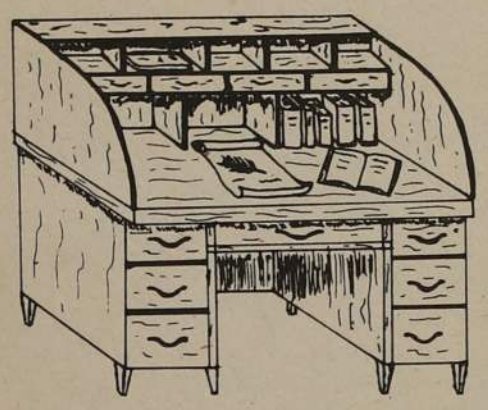

First of all, what would happen to the various local charities which are helped by the fund-raising activities of the "Greeks"? It is these very activities which help to make Husson College stand out as an excellent college, dedicated to the local area and its people.

Secondly, what about the secret message hidden behind these bannings? When a school bans any group, it tells me that the school fears that group. And that rather than deal with the problems, the school decides to pull rank! That hardly seems fair.

I hope that all the "Greeks" at Colby transfer to Husson College. It would be the most effective way for the "Greeks" to flex their muscles and be heard. Perhaps if the "Greeks" at Colby can win this one, a very dangerous and communistic trend can be put to death.

As for Husson College, the administration has a reputation of handling these problems with responsibility and maturity. According to Steve Ferris of MEX, the college and the "Greeks" are working toward a better understanding of each other and hopefully a confrontation can be avoided.

In my opinion, the bigger universities should stand back and observe how Husson is handling the problem. They just might learn something!

FROM THE EDITOR

At the beginning of the Spring '84 semester the latest in a long line of staffs formed at the Spectator. I know I speak for all the staff when I say that we would like to develop the paper into a stable and profitable business operated by students and paying student wages. To make this possible the Spectator has decided that weekly publication is not only desirable to uphold our standards of presenting timely and informative news, it is absolutely necessary if the paper is to grow. I urge all students with interest in developing their writing or management skills to become actively involved in this goal.

Beyond weekly publication you'll notice another obvious change with this edition, the incorporation of the Pow Wow publication as a regular feature of the Spectator. This decision should give the Spectator the informative edge it needs to keep our readers up-to-date with the many activities planned for Husson in the coming weeks.

As for the news itself, our intention is to publish unbiased, carefully thought reports covering relevant and interesting news of the Husson Community as well as discussion of important or controversial themes such as the MIA/POW topic of issue #1 and the Husson Media Complex update of issue #2.

The key theme of this issue is the topic of alcoholism (see issue #2, page 3). I thank Mr. Jack Slomback for his insightful article to further develop this topic. Everyone should examine this carefully to protect themselves and those they care about from this damaging disease.

I hope you find the new Spectator informative and enlightening. If you wish to submit an article or comment on any aspect of the Spectator operation please do not hesitate to see me at the Spectator office. Your feedback will play an important role in the further development of the Spectator.

Where's The Chapel?

-by Mike Gagnon

This is a question often asked by arriving freshmen at Husson College.

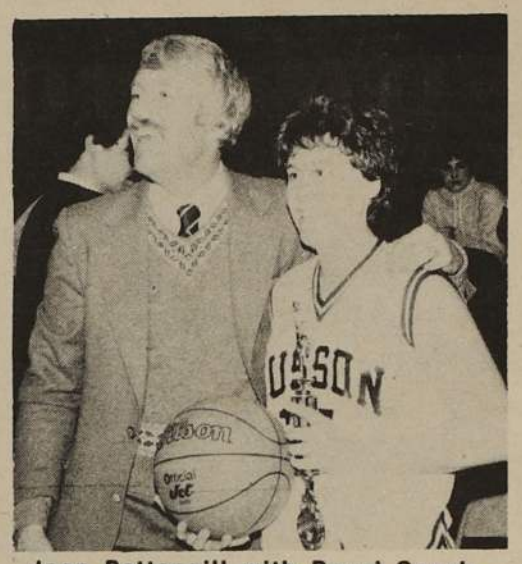

There was a time when Husson had a minister who developed the Shalom House, a type of retreat for students. The facility has since been closed.

At one time, Sunday services were observed in Kominsky auditorium, however these have also been stopped.

It is true that there are churches in the area, but in order to go to these services, a student must choose between eating breakfast or attending church. It seems Sunday breakfast at the DDC is from 10am to 11:30am and most services are held between the hours of 9am and noon. A Husson student must decide between physical well being or moral well being. Also transportation to these services can sometimes be a problem.

Most colleges have a chapel on campus, some more elaborate than others. Many colleges realize the need for spiritual well being and thus their chapels become an important part of their campus.

There is much to be said about a campus that can find room to support a bar but provides no chapel for their students!

Pettengill Hits 1000 and Sets A College Record

-by Adam Shields

On January 29, 1984, Joan Pettengill, senior star forward for the Lady Braves scored her 1000th career point to become the leading female scorer in Husson History!

On January 20, 1980, four years earlier, Pettengill scored her 1000th point to become the leading female scorer in Meredith High School History.

Pettengill was named Most Valuable Player for the Tournament that weekend. She had scored 999 points after Saturday's game and needed just a single basket to become the all-time leading scorer. But she was forced to wait 'till Sunday's game to get her 1000th point.

Joan Pettengill is a Senior here at Husson. She has four sisters and is the second youngest. Joan comes to us from Meredith, New Hampshire, where she has been playing basketball since she was five years old.

Joan is studying Recreation Management as she likes most every sport. But she enjoys writing poetry, camping and hiking as well.

When asked what she liked most about Husson, her reply was,"I like the people because they are friendly, and I especially like my sorority." Joan is an active member of Delta Sigma Delta. When asked if she would encourage underclassmen to join fraternities and sororities, she said,"Yes, you always have someone to come back to and you make some really close friends."

Good work, Joan, and good luck!!!

To The Editor:

Vandalism in Peabody Hall

- by Charlie Duncan

During a 3 1/2 hour meeting in Kominsky Auditorium for Job Corps Students concerning recent vandalism problems in Peabody Hall nearly all J.C. staff members spoke out against the violent destruction of school property which has recently taken place and much ground was covered. However, some of the facts went unmentioned.

It is true that a sink was torn off the wall in one of the girls bathrooms, that people were drinking in the lounge (Wig Wam) and that people were misbehaving in general.

All these are facts, but it's also true that Husson security has been "Ranting and Raving to Job Corps to send their security down to check out Job Corps students" in Peabody Hall for the last "year".

It's also true that Job Corps security was aware of the problem for at least 3 weeks before the sink incident. In fact, one Job Corps security officer said, "I know we should come down here and check it out more often, but we don't".

This is not to say that the Job Corps administration is to blame and not Job Corps students, but rather that the administration lies at fault for letting the situation get out of hand. This is especially true since they were aware that there was a problem.

Dick Giroux, head of the Penobscot Job Corps, laid the blame on each and every Job Corps student. The ones that weren't actually involved were at fault, he said, because they did nothing to stop it and wouldn't tell the administration when they were aware of these things happening.

How can the fault lie entirely with the students when the same facts should, and do, apply to the Job Corps Administration? The problem would not have gotten out of hand and maybe even some of the troublemakers could have been caught if everyone had acted earlier. Students and administration both are to blame. If this responsiblity had been shared, the chances are that Peabody Hall would still be open to Job Corps students.

SMILIN' WITH SMUCKATELLI

-by Joe Smuckatelli

Dear Joe:

I have written to you before in regards to the DDC's food...or perhaps lack there of.

This time it's pretty bad. While eating my lunch, I came to desert...a cookie...and inside this cookie was a large section of eggshell. Now the last time I asked about hair in my food, you suggested I ask for a razor. Well, what do I do about this one?

Cookie

Dear Cookie:

First of all, I wouldn't eat any chicken soup for a while. That is unless you like cookies in your soup. Now back to your question...I suggest you ask them for the rest of the chicken. And tell them that the only thing you want served on a shell from now on is an oyster. Joe

Dear Joe:

While I was swimming at the Husson Pool the other day, I saw something that really upset me. As I looked around the pool I noticed several people standing near the edge (in the water) with a pleasant smile on their faces. Little bubbles were rising from their swim trunks. What do you make of this? Amused

Dear Amused:

I think that if you stayed in the pool after that little exhibition, you deserve to find out what it was they were doing. However, I can't bring myself to tell you. Therefore, the next time you catch this little performance, I suggest you ask the participants in this little sport to explain in detail. Write back to let me know what they say. Joe

Dear Joe:

I am a 5'6", blond female and my measurements are 38-22-36. This isn't my problem. The fact is...I have this great urge to expose myself. I'm proud of my body and I want to show it off. I know that it's illegal but what can I do? Sherry ear Sharing Sherry:

I loved your letter. I must say that I really feel sorry for you. As far as your fantasy being "ill eagle", remember, that's a sick bird. You, on the other hand, sound quite healthy. Therefore, being the helpful guy that I am, if you will call me at the Spectator, I will be glad to help you. We can meet in my room. Joe

Correction Corner

The recent article (Feb. 17 issue) in the Spectator concerning the position of Job Bank Coordinator stated that the school is taking applications for the position. Let us make it clear that the applications are for the 1984-1985 school year and not immediate. Our apologies to Stephanie Look, who is currently Job Bank Coordinator and will remain in that position until May.

Student Senate Highlights Feb. 16, 1984

-by Stephanie Look

Excitement filled the air as enthusiastic senators filled Kominsky Auditorium to hold their bi-weekly meeting under the direction of the newly elected Student Government Vice President, Scott R. Spooner.

First on the agenda for discussion was the President's Report. Kevin Pelletier spoke on the importance of the Leadership Seminars for future campus leaders. The seminars are held every Wednesday at 4pm; watch the Pow-Wow for a schedule of topics and meeting places. Next Kevin announced that the Maine Collegiate Student Governments Organization will be holding their state conference during the weekend of February 18 and 19. This year's conference is being hosted by the Husson College Student Government.

For old business, Kevin announced that the VCR unit, purchased by the Student Government, may no longer be signed out; it will remain in the Arrowhead Lounge for security purposes. Anyone wishing to use the VCR should contact Julie Green, Arrowhead Lounge Manager.

Scott Spooner introduced the alcohol proposal that has been submitted to the Adhoc Committee for Alcohol Policies. The proposal, consisting of four suggestions, will be reviewed by the committee and each suggestion will be explored further.

For new business, Lynn Picard reported that plans for Winter Carnival (February 24 and 25) are near completion. The theme is "Frosted Fantasy" and this year's events promise a great time for everyone involved!

Weekend Meals

-by Mike Gagnon

Jim:"Jane, how would you like to join me for breakfast on Sunday?"

Jane:"Sure Jim, what time?"

Jim:"How about midnight?"

Sound ridiculous? Well, it is! But don't you also think it's ridiculous to serve breakfast from 10am to 11:30am then lunch from 11:30am to 12:30am? Think about it for a moment. The students at Husson are being forced to cram breakfast and lunch into a two and a half hour period on weekends. I know of nobody that eats on such a crunched schedule.

Has the school decided to forget about those of us who get up early on weekends so that we can enjoy them rather than sleep them away? Perhaps it is the DDC people who are to blame? Are they trying to cut corners in their budget at the students' expense?

Well, it's 11:30am and if I hurry, I can have breakfast and lunch at the same time!

Husson Plans Senior Reception

- by Mary Arell

Husson College and the Husson College Alumni Association are sponsoring a Senior Reception on Tuesday evening, February 28, 1984, in Peabody Hall on the Husson campus in Bangor.

The reception offers seniors the opportunity to meet informally with alumni from a variety of professional fields within business, industry and education. It also provides them with the chance to become acquainted with Husson College President, Delmont N. Merrill, Alumni Board members and Husson staff members. In addition, graduating seniors will receive an early welcome into the Alumni Association.

The reception will be held in the Faculty Dining Room from 7 to 9 p.m. More information may be obtained by contacting Gertrude O'Farrell in the Husson College Alumni office.

Media Program Upgraded

-by Mike Gagnon

The Husson College Media Program received a vote of confidence last week by various members of the College Media Program Committee. This Committee consists of Dr. Philip Grant, Dr. William Cook, Dr. Robert Diebold, Paul Husson, Gregory Vermette, Jeff Jenks, Don Davenport and Mike Gagnon.

At a recent meeting, it was decided to expand the Husson College Media Program. Don Davenport, who has worked at WRKO in Boston, along with Mike Gagnon, who has worked in Maine radio since 1976, will be teaching the media courses.

The expanded program is designed to give the student a varied background in media, with on-the-job experience on WHSN, the Spectator, and local radio and TV stations.

Beginning in the fall, the media program will offer radio, print and video training. The expanded program will offer much more in the way of hands-on experience in a wide variety of media areas.

Tee Shirts

-by Mark Franchi

Intramural Tee Shirts are being sold in the Sports Department by Mark Franchi. You may ask why. Well, we think it will help make Intramural Sports better known on campus.

There are two different shirts: one is yellow with green lettering and picture; the other is green with yellow lettering and picture. There is also a white shirt with green cuffs to be given to the overall winners. If you would like to purchase a shirt, see Mark in his office at the gym.

Social Life Committee Plans For Spring

-by Robby Olmstead

It seems I've heard complaints that the quality of the bands this year is not as good as last year. Perhaps the reason for this is that the Social Life Committee budget was cut back drastically this year. Why? Because that's what we all voted on last fall!

For those who would like to see bigger and better bands next year, let your voice be heard in the Senate when we discuss budget cuts!!!

In the mean time, I think Pete Husson and his committee are doing a great job of keeping us entertained on the weekends (considering what little they have to work with). Let's see what they have planned for us this spring:

Feb 24.....Ramada Inn "Scott Folsom"
Feb 25.....Arrowhead Coffee House
Mar 2-17.....Spring Break
Mar 23.....DDC "Legend"
Mar 30.....DDC "Name That Tune"
Apr 6.....DDC "Scott Folsom"
Apr 7,8.....Chief Week
Apr 13.....DDC Coffee House Night
Apr 20.....Kominsky and Outdoor Movies
Apr 27,28.....Greek Weekend
May 10.....Ramada Inn "Sky High" Senior Banquet

Free Racquetball Courts

-by Mike Gagnon

Sighting better flexibility for students, the Husson College Student Senate has announced new times for free racquetball courts at the Holiday Health and Racquetball Center. The new times are as follows:

DAY	FREE COURTS	TIME
Tuesday	6	6am-5:30pm
Wednesday	6	6am-5:30pm
Thursday	6	6am-9:00pm
Friday	6	6am-9:00pm
Saturday	6	9am-8:00pm
Sunday	6	9am-8:00pm

According to Student Senate Vice President, Scott Spooner, new policies have also been instituted to afford better flexibility for students. Students who wish to use the free racquetball courts should contact the student government office.

Student Senate President Kevin Pelletier says that the students received $10100 worth of use from the racquetball facilities last year. Between the school and the Student Senate, it only cost us $6000 to use these facilities, saving us more than $4000 annually.

The college and the student senate should be applauded for their efforts.

17. Have you ever had a complete loss of memory as a result of drinking?
18. Has your physician ever reated you for drinking?
19. Do you drink to build up your self- confidence?
20. Have you ever been to a hospital on account of drinking?

If you answered YES to any one of these questions, there is a definite signal that you may have problems with alcohol.

If you answered YES to any two, the chances are that you have a problem.

If you answered YES to three or more, you have a definite problem with alcohol.

Another test exists to answer the same question if you are a teenager or a student. Answer each question YES or NO.

1. Do you lose time from class because of drinking?
2. Do you drink to lose shyness and build self-confidence?
3. Is drinking affecting your reputation?
4. Do you drink to escape from study or home worries?
5. Does it bother you if somebody says that maybe you drink too much?
6. Do you have to take a drink to go out on a date?
7. Do you ever fet into money troubles over buying alcohol?
8. Have you lost friends since you started drinking?
9. Do you hang out now with a crowd that can get alcohol easily?
10. Do your friends drink less than you do?
11. Do you drink until the bottle is empty?
12. Have you ever had a lose of memory from drinking?
13. Has drunk driving ever put you in the hospital or jail?
14. Do you get annoyed or uneasy with classes where alcohol is discussed?
15. Do you think you have a problem with alcohol?

If you have answered YES to one or more of these questions, alcohol has become a problem in your life.

Admitting to having a problem with alcohol is one of the most difficult decisions any person may ever have to make. Admitting a problem of alcoholism exists tends to place a person in the same category as a skid-row bum, hands wrapped around a paper bag, sleeping in the streets or nearby park. That is incorrect thinking. 95% of alcoholics are regular, everyday people. They are doctors, lawyers, professors, corporate executives and just about any other person who "appears" to the public as functioning normally. Only 5% are the skid-row type.

You don't have to be an alcoholic to be affected by alcohol. It is estimated that 4 to 6 other persons are affected by a person's drinking. For every drinker, 4 to 6 other lives are hurt by a drinker. A drinker's behavior, at times, appears insane. 4 to 6 other persons may become irrational or act in an irrational manner temporarily. Do you think you may be affected by another person's drinking?

Here are a list of questions you may ask yourself to determine if you are affected by another's drinking.

Answer these questions YES or NO.

1. Do you worry about how much someone else drinks?
2. Do you have monet problems because of someone else's drinking?
3. Do you tell lies to cover up for someone else's drinking?
4. Do you think drinking is more important to your loved one than you are?
5. Do you think that the drinker's behavior is caused by his or her companions.
6. Are meal times frequently delayed because of the drinker?
7. Do you make threats such as, "If you don't stop drinking, I'll leave you"?
8. When you kiss the drinker hello, do you secretly try to smell his or her breath?
9. Are you afraid to upset someone for fear it will set off a drinking bout?
10. Have you been hurt or embarrassed by a drinker's behavior?
11. Does it seem as if every holiday is spoiled because of drinking?
12. Have you ever considered calling the police because of drinking behavior?
13. Do you find yourself searching for hidden liquor?
14. Do you feel that if the drinker loved you, he or she would stop drinking to please you?
15. Have you refused social invitations out of fear or anxiety?
16. Do you sometimes feel guilty when you think if the lengths you have gone to control the drinker?
17. Do you think that if the drinker stopped drinking, your other problems would be solved?
18. Do you ever threaten to hurt yourself to scare the drinker into saying "I'm sorry"?
19. Do you ever treat others (children, parents etc.) unjustly because you are angry at someone else drinking too much?
20. Do you feel there is no one who understands your problems?

If you have answered YES to three or more of these questions, you have been bothered by another's drinking. You may have acted in an irrational manner, done something crazy, or something you felt sorry for after. You have been affected by an alcoholic. You are not an alcoholic, but may be described as a co-alcoholic.

Alcoholism is considered a disease just like cancer or diabetes by the American Medical Association. There is, however, no known cause or cure for the disease of alcoholism. It can be arrested, but not cured. One can never "recover" from alcoholism. But help is available for the drinker and help is available for those affected by someone else's drinking. Since the disease is progressive, it is important to recognize it and seek treatment as early as possible.

If anyone is interested in knowing more about alcoholism, or about what help may be available for the drinker or those affected by someone's drinking, stop by my office, give me a call or contact the Office for Student Affairs. My office is room 227, my phone extention is 241, my home phone is 884-7580. It is a local call.

Just about all other educational institutions are now dealing with the problem. Maybe there is a way we can too.

Busy Bee Day

-by Mike Gagnon

In a time when we hear so much about lack of student morale on campus, perhaps it's time to reimplement a program called "Busy Bee Day"!

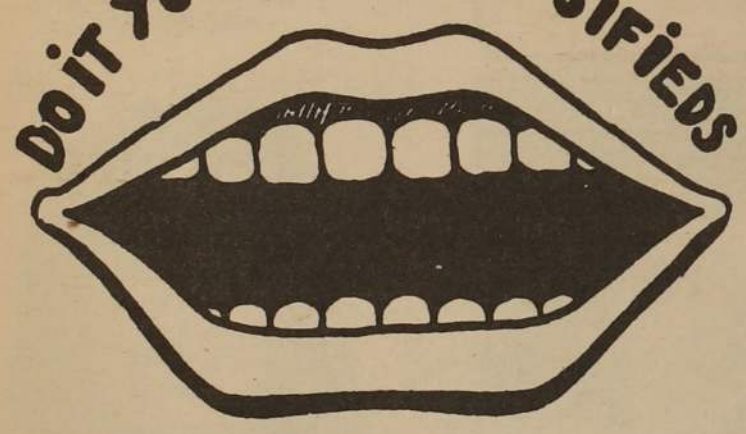

What were Busy Bee Days? Basically they were weekends when faculty and students joined forces to perform tasks around the campus that improved the overall appearance of Husson College.

Some of the tasks performed were mural painting, street sweeping, shrub and brush removal, and tree planting. On several occasions, the National Guard volunteered their time and equipment for the cause.

At the completion of the activities, the school provided a wine and cheese party for all the workers, followed by a candlelight dinner for the entire campus.

I personally feel that a project, such as Busy Bee Day, would restore the morale on campus as well as benefit the school.

Instead of talking about loss of morale and school spirit, let's do something about it!

* A GROUP FOR WOMEN ****

Are you returning to school after having been at home for many years? Are you returning to school after being away from formal education for many years? Are you trying to manage school, a family, and possibly a job? Are you older than many of your fellow students and feeling that your interests are different from theirs?

A few women-students, faculty and staff have formed a support group for women. This group meets Wednesdays at 11:50 a.m. in room 213. ALL HUSSON WOMEN are welcome. For further information, contact Terri Hutchinson in the Office for Student Affairs.
