HUSSON LEDGER

NOVEMBER, 1960 | HUSSON COLLEGE, BANGOR, MAINE | VOLUME 36, NO. 1

WELCOME, CLASS OF 1964

President's Column

Now that we have settled into the Husson way of life let's look about us to see what has taken place since opening day. A record breaking freshman class of 312 members appeared on the scene, and more "beanies" were seen in the Bangor area than ever before. A total of 588 students are now in classes, and the Husson "family" has grown, or jumped, to fill the house. We are happy to have you all, if only to prove that your selection of Husson College was a good one, one which we hope will challenge your love and respect.

I urge each one of you to join a student group. For those who feel they have no special talents such as dramatics or basketball, there are a number of organizations which welcome those who would like to work or play for the joy (and benefits) of such experience. I have a warm spot in my heart for the Glee Club and hope that it may number a hundred voices. Please join some group—you will be glad you did!

It is with pleasure and humility that I spend three hours each day at my desk. Soon it will be more. In the meantime I know that each of you will do his and her best to ease the burdens of the staff, many of whom are heavy laden with extra duties. Just give your best, and the best will come back to you.

In our struggle for survival against Communism every American student must develop his greatest potential. He must train as devotedly as his fanatical counterpart in the Soviet. Happily, in the U. S., he is able to choose his course and college. Then the obligation falls upon him to do his best work, no matter what his area of interest may be.

The scientist must be clothed, fed, housed, entertained, supplied with tools and ingredients, and paid. He is important, and so are those who touch him in his and their orbits. That means you, since science is not your career. Never belittle your place in society. It is begging for minds and hands trained in the pursuits you are now entering, it needs you at your peak performance. I know that you will try.

I enjoy student visits. Please drop in to my office for a chat, or to announce a problem, or share an idea. Come in to say hellor. I want to know each one of you better, and this is a good way to do it. Until the next issue of the Ledger I rest my pen. If I might express a wish it is that I see all the names on the Dean's List of those who have the potential to make it. To Mr. Average Student (is there such a person?) I hope there will be no failures. For yourselves, for your college, for your parents, for your country you have work to do. My good wishes attend you.

These letters are already beginning to sell the books.

On October 6 and 7, the organization financed a trip to Boston for its officers and Charles Bears, Past President. They attended the annual meeting of New England Teacher Preparation Association. It was a very interesting and profitable trip and also a lot of fun. Mrs. Miller and Miss Watson accompanied the group.

The S. E. A. is once again editing the yearbook. Mr. Parker is advising the yearbook this year. The members will meet with him once a month regularly for yearbook work and once a month with Mrs. Miller for organizational work. We plan to have a busy year and produce an excellent yearbook.

The following is a list of the paid members thus far:

Diane Allen, Sharon Annis, Patricia Bailey, Charles Bears, Laurine Blodgett, Priscilla Boucher, Patricia Buck, Phyllis Chase, Helen Colby, Marjorie Cummings, Christine Demko, Betty Earley, Jacqueline Emerson, Elaine Goodwin, Robert Graves, Rosalie Green, Carole Hamilton, Gail Henderson, Vicki Hurd, Jane Lanpher, Scot LaPlante, Peter Lucas, Jane Mahan, Richard Martin, Karl McGaw, Neila McIntyre, Raymond Morris, Marlene Parent, Greta Peterson, Patricia Randall, Dolores Renaud, Alan Robinson, Sally Sandstrom, and Janis Sprague.

On September 22, the brothers of Lambda chapter held their first meeting of the season at the home of the faculty advisor, Mr. James Wright. A routine business meeting was held at which time was devoted to discussing the pledging of new brothers, a supper meeting, and a County Fair. The County Fair is going to be the big thing at Husson this year and we invite all of the students to join us in the fun and frolic that has been scheduled for November 4 and 5. There will be games to tempt one and prizes that will delight the eye, so come one and all to the County Fair on November 4 and 5. The faculty is cordially invited. The tickets that are being sold for the "Bundle of Bedding," which includes six blankets, six sheets, twelve pillow cases, and two spreads, are a part of County Fair. The winning ticket will be picked on the night of November 5. Here is a wonderful opportunity for you fellows living in apartments or you young ladies with a hope chest to acquire a good set of bedding. The County Fair is all for you so let's make it big.

The Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity is sorry to announce that we are losing the services of our able and well liked faculty advisor, Mr. Husson. Mr. Husson has been with the fraternity for the years 1959 and 1960, and will remain as a adjunct advisor along with Mr. Cohen, our new advisor, for the remaining part of this year. The fraternity wishes to extend their heartiest welcome to Mr. Cohen.

A social get-together for prospective candidates was held in Commerce Hall, Wednesday evening, October 12. These candidates were given an opportunity to see and meet the members and for the members to see the candidates. Dear Mr. Husson:

This is to inform you that I have received the $100 award and your letter. I sincerely appreciate this award and hope to use it for further education.

I regret I was unable to attend the last assembly and have an opportunity to thank you personally for the award. Working conditions were such at the time it was impossible for me to get away.

I shall always feel that it was through Mr. Donahue's inspirational guidance that I chose public accounting and the study necessary for my success in the examination. Husson College has an exceptional instructor and student advisor in Mr. Donahue.

Again I wish to thank you for the award and your compliments. I shall stop by for a visit when I'm in Bangor sometime in the near future.

Sincerely yours,
Robert T. Lawrence, Jr.

Approximately 900 Maine veterans are expected to be in training this fall under the Korean GI Bill, a 35 percent drop under last fall's 1400, the Veterans Administration predicted today. Country-wide 250,000 trainees are anticipated.

At the same time, enrollments of disabled Korean veterans under VA's vocational rehabilitation training program probably will drop to 30 this fall from last fall's figure of 45.

However, a smaller, newer program administered by VA, War Orphans Education, is expected to increase its enrollments from last fall's 45 to around 60 this fall. This program is for the sons and daughters of veterans who died of service-connected conditions.

Approximately 60 percent of the 900 Korean GI Bill trainees will be in Maine's colleges and universities, the VA said. The rest will be in schools below the college level, correspondence courses, and in on-the-job training.

The Veterans Administration expects GI enrollments to continue to decline until 1965, when the GI Bill program comes to an end. Vocational training for disabled Korean veterans is also expected to drop. But the War Orphans Education program most likely will continue to go up for several years; this program has no terminal deadline.

NEW BABY

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Husson:

Just a little note about our latest events. We are so happy with our new little "sister."

My husband likes teaching here in Old Orchard very much, and I find the people are so friendly.

Last Saturday we bought land on which to build in a few years.

Our daughter started school this fall and the three boys are growing up fast.

It seems like these are the good years after the struggle at Bangor for Leo's education, but it was all well worth it. We have a lot of thanks for Husson College and you.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. LaChance

"Dad, why did you sign my report card with an X instead of your name?"

Dear Miss Swan:

Just a few lines to let you know that I got the job at the University of New Hampshire. I know that the recommendation you gave me played an important part in my being offered the position, and I'm sincerely grateful to you. I've been here about four weeks and things are pretty hectic, what with a new job and the end of our fiscal year coming up on June 30th. But so far I've really enjoyed it here. It's a far cry from living near Washington and I'm enjoying every minute of it.

We have rented a house in Lee, N. H. and hope to move in around the first of July. For the present we're boarding in two rooms in a private home in Durham and it's not too bad either.

How are you and all my other friends at Husson? I hope to be able to visit at school more often now. It seems that you're always on vacation or away when I get there, but perhaps I'll be able to get up during the school year now and see everybody. It's really great to be close enough to visit friends and relatives when ever you want to.

It doesn't seem like four years since I left Husson. Time sure does fly by. One of these days I'd like to find out where all my classmates have disappeared to. I saw Cliff Kuchinski last week for the first time since graduating and he's trying to get transferred back to Boston. Guess Larry and Harriet Eaton are still in Caribou, Huh?

Guess I'd better get to work or I'll be looking for a new job. Thanks again for the swell recommendation and I'll be looking forward to seeing you in the near future.

Sincerely,
Larry Stanchfield

Dear Miss Swan:

Don't you think it is about time you heard from me? I certainly haven't forgotten you.

School is just about under way. Tuesday we had teachers' meetings and classes started Wednesday. I've got classes in Shorthand I and II, Bookkeeping I and II, and Typing I and II. There are only six students in Bookkeeping II but they were excellent students in last year's class. Bookkeeping I has 23 students—about seven too many to work comfortably at the tables they have.

I don't know what to do with the second year shorthand students. They told me right off they'd forgotten everything they learned last year. I gave them review drills for the past two days and they don't remember any of the brief forms.

Are you already for the race next week? Junior said he saw in the paper where over 310 freshmen had registered. Is it true that there will be classes at John Bapst again this year? You'll have to hang them up on nails. Just think of all the problems you're going to have. I wish I were there. I miss it already.

I have a nice apartment down here. Another school teacher has the rest of the house. She taught here when Mr. Tyler did. He may remember her. Her name is Mollie Beam.

How is Mr. Husson progressing? He's probably anxious for school to start.

I heard Mrs. Sawyer is gettting married. It must be nice to have Gail back.

If I ever get up to civilization again I'm going to visit you. They told us at the teacher's meeting the other day that there is going to be just the convention in Portland this year.

Guess I'd better get some supper before I starve to death. I know you don't have much time but if you ever get a minute drop me a line. I'll try to do a little better about answering.

Janice

Dear Miss Swan:

We are now located in New Hampshire and like it very much. I have a job at Sprague Electric Co. in Concord. I am a production supervisor trainee in the department that assembles capocitors (condensers). The assembly line is all girls and most of them are easy to get along with. The pay is about $75 a week with advancements after you have proved yourself. I like it very much. We are living in a cottage next to my Aunt's, about 20 miles from work. We don't want to rent because it is so high, so probably will buy or build a house.

I am on the night shift at present. Finish work around one in the morning. I was very lucky to get the job. It was the first place I went for an interview. It looked so promising I couldn't pass it up. I also am broadening my knowledge in the electronic field. They have an education program free for those who want it. I may take them up on it later. They pay for your college degree if you want to take it. There is a Christmas bonus plus life insurance and medical insurance for a small fee. Tell Mr. Wright they have a good suggestion system. They give 15% of a month's saving on your idea.

I want to thank you for letting me know about the Darling Auto job. I was fishing at the time and really didn't want to settle in Bangor. We are in the place we both wanted so much so that makes it even better. We can get home week-ends if we want to.

Gary is growing like a weed and really likes it. We are so proud of him. Orene is fine.

Give our best to President and Mrs. Husson. Please tell him about my job and thank him for the help he gave me in finding a job. Also say hello to the teachers. Write if you can find time and tell us of the changes at Husson.

Thanks again for the help.

As ever,

Dear Miss Swan:

I had so hoped to see you while we were home. I would have come up to school, but there just wasn't time. We came home for Dick's tenth reunion from high school. It took us 25 hours to drive home. We drove right straight through. We have a 1960 Rambler Cross Country Wagon. It has air conditioning and we just love it.

I saw Mrs. Miller for a few minutes in front of Bryant's Jewelry Store. It was grand to see her again.

Last May we were in an accident. Four 17-year-old boys in a Buick hit us broad side and caused $516 damage to our car. As a result we had to buy a new car.

I suppose school is in full swing once again. I wish I were a student all over again. I enjoyed my four years at the "Friendly School on the Hill." I certainly hope that "Chief" is all well again. Tell him that I said "hello."

I see by the Bangor paper that Madalyn is teaching at Husson this year. I wish her a year of success. What do you hear from Dorothea and Janice? I haven't heard from either for quite some time. Is Dorothea back in the states yet?

I have been working part time this summer for a Psychiatrist. It has been so darn hot that it made me ill, so I went to work in an air-conditioned office. At least that was one way to get out of the heat.

Dick is going to Atlanta Wednesday and I'm thinking of going with him. He has to go up to Dobbins Air Force Base every other week. He has been so busy lately that I'm lucky if I see him. General Electric keeps him on the go.

I have been doing a great deal of sewing. I really have gotten to be quite domestic. I enjoy sewing and I can make my clothes much cheaper than I can buy them. All tall-girl clothes are quite expensive and who can afford paying anywhere from $2 to $5 extra on a garment just to get it long enough. I can remember when I was a little girl my mother would buy me a dress and then ask me what color ruffle I wanted on it in order to make it long enough.

Did you spend summer at camp? I love that camp. It holds many memories for us, as you know.

I guess I'll close. Please give my regards to Miss Bradford, Mrs. Miller and all the rest. I'm enclosing a $1 for my subscription to the "Ledger." Do write me sometime and fill me in on all the latest news.

With warmest personal regards.

Sincerely,
Farolyn Wilson Hanson

Clara Swan, Executive Director
Husson College

Dear Miss Swan:

I have just spoken to the Director of Graduate Admissions at Michigan State University. They are wondering if you would be interested in having Husson College listed on the permanent mailing rolls of Michigan State for their graduate and undergraduate catalogs. If so, this would qualify you to receive in addition, for your library, a fine publication from this university, the quarterly "Business Topics", for free.

In addition, the conversation led to the question, "Why is it that we only get applications for graduate work from the Accounting Department of Husson College?" They would be very much interested in receiving applications for majors in the many areas of their Business and Public Administration program. The current goal at Michigan State is to increase the enrollment and specialize in graduate studies.

You may be interested in the fact that I completed and met the requirements of five courses at the University of Minnesota for the Master's Degree this past summer. But, since the Accounting Department of Michigan State University offered me financial aid for the year 1960-61, I had no alternative but to accept and transfer.

Presently, there are three of us from Husson doing graduate work at Michigan State: Bill Gilbert, Bob Chandler, and I. Bill Gilbert is due to graduate this term.

You may be interested to know, further, that during the summer travels, Chandler and I spoke to an interviewer of Kimberly Clark Company. We told him about Husson College. He took the address down and said that he would make a stop when he goes to the University of Maine from which they interview their engineers. Perhaps this would interest Mr. Wright.

In closing, please let me know of your interest in becoming permanently listed on the mailing rolls of Michigan State, and if the mailing should be addressed to the librarian.

Very truly yours,
Reginald Cote

Dear Miss Swan:

Here I am—thanks to you! I like Malone very much. My principal, Mr. Smith, is wonderful; the school is not new, but well kept for being about 30 years old; and the other teachers that I have met so far are pleasant.

I drove up from home Sunday. I left rather reluctantly; but once I arrived, I was glad to be here and am as happy as a "Maine" clam!

Tuesday was a day of meetings. In the morning all 130 public school teachers in Malone met with Mr. Schnitzlein, our superintendent. He introduced each new teacher and told a little about his education and experience.

DEGREES—1960

MEET FRED COLBY STUDENT AND FATHER

My family? There's lots of it—seven children, but just one wife.

It all began with a proposal about 12½ years ago. I was encouraged to pop the question while sitting in a hammock at the edge of a cemetery (that is where her home was). But I didn't need any encouragement. Several months later we were married. (I don't believe in long engagements.)

The next April, the 24th to be exact, Janice was born in Abington, Pa., followed not long after by her brother George in April, the 13th to be exact—and this while Janice was whistling. She learned to whistle before she was a year old.

The next year we had to wait until July 22nd for Karen. But there is a reason. She was born in New Haven, Conn. You see, her father had graduated from the Seminary and was doing some practice preaching.

Then the wife had a vacation until 1954 when Deborah was born—exactly on the fifth birthday of her oldest sister. Deborah means active, you know. That is why the name was picked for her even before she was born, and she has not failed to live up to it all her little life.

Then came little David August 5th the next year, and what playmates these two make. They even began school together because a Junior Primary was newly instituted in our town. Debbie was entered in the first grade.

After two years of silence came little lady, Claudia Colby—October 14th, to commemorate President Eisenhower's birthday. She has the urge to give orders at three, and you know, sometimes she gets away with it.

The baby came a year ago June 11th. The house is his castle to explore and manipulate.

There they are, but really, it seems that each one is a little smarter, and the youngest is apt to be spoiled, but we don't want that. Where do we stop.

One verse in the Scriptures says "Children are an heritage of the Lord. Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them," and one minister commenting on this passage says an English quiver holds seven arrows. How can we improve perfection.

Then, too, I have this to think about. One man who had a large family told the minister that God told man to replenish the earth. The minister replied, "Yes, but he didn't say one man had to do it all." I think I have done my share.

There I go saying I. My wife did have something to do with it all. Dr. Littlefield, our family doctor, the one that was murdered, said, "If the wife had the first child and the husband the second, there never would be any more."

I wish you could meet my wife. She's not a giant, just five feet tall and weighing a little more than 100 pounds. But she gets more things done than ten other women. She keeps the children fed, in clean clothes, and I mean she sews them as well as washes them. She has household chores organized for all to take part. She takes a fair share in church activities, and besides that manages to be an Avon representative about ten hours per week.

There is so much activity at our house that we had to have room—so we moved to a 105 acre farm. And we all use the space. Even our one year old screams at being placed in a 30 foot square enclosure. We like it out in "the sticks."

But when all is said and done, what greater satisfaction and thankfulness and peace of soul can a man have than a family gathered around a fireplace singing together, or reading, or popping corn, or a family working together in the garden, or a family taking a hike through God's beautiful creation?

The value of this could not be measured in millions of dollars. It is living.

LETTERS

When he got to me, he said something like this—"Before this next name I heave a big sigh of relief and pray to God that she is here." It seems that he had tried desperately to get a teacher of shorthand and had had no luck at all until he went to Maine. Later at our luncheon one of the teachers who spoke to me asked if I was the girl that Mr. S. was so glad to see.

During the afternoon, we Franklin Academy teachers met with our principal.

Yesterday was the first day for students and what you might call "hectic" for a new teacher in school. About one-third of the students' day was spent in their homerooms. They had no books, hadn't seen some of their friends since June, and were very lively.

Today things have gone along quite well. The other business teachers have been wonderful about helping me.

Of course, I am finding things quite different than they were at Dexter. The students have to buy their books from the bookstore down street which means that it may be two or three weeks before some can get their supplies. In the meantime, I teach as much as I can and catch up with the rest later.

My schedule is easier than that at Dexter, but I have more students. Periods 1 and 2 I have secretarial practice. I meet the same group both periods. I guess that the second period is meant to be for dictation and transcription. All of the students in that class have had two years of shorthand. Periods 3 and 4 is shorthand II and transcription. Period 5 is a shorthand I class. I have more girls than desks—an overflow of 7 today. Mr. Smith is at a loss as to what the solution should be. Period 6 is my lunch hour. Period 7 is my free period which is quite a treat. Period 8 is another class of shorthand I with an overflow of 11. Today we went to the 3rd floor and way across the building to a larger room—it wasn't quite large enough, however. Period 9 is homeroom. Some go to football, others to music, and the rest study. My total load excluding home room study period is approximately 136.

There are around 715 students registered this year. By the fall of 1962 they expect the F. A. enrollment to be about 900.

I have a room at the home of a social worker—right across the street from school and within walking distance of downtown. I get breakfast here and possibly may be able to arrange to get other meals at home after we get used to each other.

Can you tell me about Husson's accreditation? Its status in New York State may possibly mean the difference between whether or not I have to take a Regents Test. I have my fingers crossed that I won't—I'm guessing that a test that covers Lit., Science, History, etc. would be just what I need for an extended vacation! Also, Mr. Schnitzlein inquired again today about my transcript. He wasn't too impatient, however, as he realizes that this is a busy season for the office. Maybe he has it by now.

Must get back to my planning for tomorrow. This place may be called "The North Country," but it sure is hot—I couldn't make myself do any more after school, so must spend some time on work this evening.

Love,

Jeannette

Atten: Mr. C. Husson

Dear Chief:

I appreciate your generous letter of August 22. I now have a beautiful home which we very much enjoy and are presently redecorating. I hope that you weren't inconvenienced with any long credit reference work but thank you for your part.

Having been in N. Y. for a week and the necessary delay in producing a new color I have waited until the Husson College "Suede" colors have come through production before writing.

I am mailing you two Suede sheepskins, green and gold, compliments of the Holmquists. They make very attractive throw pieces for television sets or end tables if you don't find a better use for them. Left in the full skin it has quite distinctive character.

We make approximately 80 colors in suede but had to add the gold as we didn't have this particular shade. Now I have a new color to promote. Having recently acquired an interest in a leather hat and bag business, I will as soon as time permits have a sample made up in the Husson colors which I would like to promote through the college bookstore if possible. This could be done on a consignment basis if agreeable but will send further particulars with the sample for your ok.

Sorry to hear that you and Mrs. Husson have had a rough time with the vitamin promoters and hope all is A-1 now.

Best regards,

Wayne Holmquist

The lady had received a personal note from her physician, but his handwriting was so bad she couldn't read it. "If I were you," said her husband, "I'd take it to the druggist. He's used to reading doctors' writing."

She did, and the druggist looked at the note, went into his dispensary and returned a few moments later with a bottle of pills.

He handed them to her and said, "That'll be two dollars, please!"
