HISTORY

Founded in 1898 as Shaw Business College and School of Penmanship, Husson now has a School of Pharmacy and the New England School of Communications as well as a College of Health and Education, a College of Science and Humanities, and a College of Business.

Boasting over 1,450 students, the College of Business remains the heart of Husson University. Degrees include accounting, business administration, integrated technology, criminal justice, forensic science, hospitality and tourism management, legal studies, and sport management, with graduate degrees in business administration and criminal justice administration.

Also, founded in Bangor in 1892 as the Bangor General Hospital School of Nursing, the College of Health and Education - and its strong base of alumni and traditions - became part of Husson in 1983 as the School of Health. Since then, the College has expanded to offer a bachelor's and master's of nursing, and master's and doctoral programs in occupational and physical therapy, respectively. Husson has built its School of Education presence with undergraduate degrees in elementary and secondary education, alternative certification in teacher education, and graduate degrees in clinical mental health counseling, and school counseling.

Founded in 2007, the School of Pharmacy educates students in pharmacy practice and pedagogy. The graduates will receive their Doctor of Pharmacy degrees, enabling them to sit for the national boards and become licensed pharmacists in Maine and throughout the country.

Within the College of Science and Humanities, behavioral science courses have evolved into academic degrees in biology, data analytics, English, exercise science, health science, healthcare administration and public health, and psychology. The College also provides academic support to all other majors and degrees at Husson University, and serves as the liberal arts foundation of the University.

In 2014, the New England School of Communications became a self-standing school within Husson University offering degrees in communications technology, entertainment production, and mass communications.

DEGREE-GRANTING AUTHORITY

Husson University is incorporated as a nonprofit, independent institution of higher education by the State of Maine. The Maine Legislature first enacted degree-granting authority for Husson in specific Bachelor of Science programs in 1953 followed by other specific degrees and the unrestricted authority to award the Associate of Science (1992), Bachelor of Science (1992), Master of Science (1993), and Honorary Doctorate (1969) degrees. In 2004, the Maine State Board of Education granted Husson the authority to award the Doctor of Physical Therapy. In 2007, the Maine State Board of Education granted Husson the authority to award the Doctor of Pharmacy.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTIONS

Based on a 4.0 grading scale, Husson University recognizes the following associate and baccalaureate academic distinctions at graduation:

Cum Laude	3.40 - 3.59
Magna Cum Laude	3.60 - 3.79
Summa Cum Laude	3.80 - 4.00

The Valedictorian is the baccalaureate graduate with the highest grade point average. The Salutatorian is the baccalaureate graduate with the second highest grade point average. The eligibility requirements for Valedictorian or Salutatorian include completing 90 credit hours at Husson University, enrolling as a full-time student, completing the degree in five years and other eligibility clarifications as set forth in the University Catalog.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The tradition of academic regalia dates to the formation of the first European universities in the ninth century. At that time, scholarship was conducted at religious centers, and the dress of the scholar was also that of a religious cleric. Long gowns and hoods had the functional purpose of providing warmth in unheated libraries and cells. The use of the raiment continued unofficially until Oxford and Cambridge Universities permanently adopted the clerical vestments as ceremonial academic costume. This tradition spread to American colleges and universities in the late nineteenth century, when a code was set that defined the cut and style of American gowns and prescribed colors to represent the various divisions of learning. For example, golden-yellow, symbolizing the wealth of knowledge gained from scientific research, was assigned to the sciences. In accordance with tradition, Husson regalia includes a long black gown and a mortarboard with a golden-yellow tassel. Husson Master's and Doctoral graduates wear hoods referring to their division of learning: drab representing business, peacock blue for criminal justice, gold for clinical mental health counseling and human relations, apricot for nursing and nursing education, ink for occupational therapy, olive for pharmacy, teal for physical therapy, and light blue representing school counseling. A golden-yellow cord draped across the shoulders of associate and baccalaureate-level students represents their academic honors.

HONORARY DEGREES

One Hundred and Twentieth Commencement

Honorary degrees have been granted by colleges and universities since colonial times. These degrees are not awarded for academic achievements but rather they are awarded to honor or recognize the achievements of outstanding citizens.

Honorary degrees highlight the accomplishments of individuals in the arts, public life, education, scholarship, business, health and the sciences. The first honorary degree was awarded at Oxford University in the 1470s. Since 1969, Husson has recognized prominent citizens for their contributions to the community, the State of Maine, the nation, and the world.

By virtue of the authority vested in its members, the Board of Trustees is pleased to confer the following honorary degrees upon the occasion of Husson University's One Hundred and Twentieth Commencement.

CAROL C. KANAR

Carol C. Kanar has dedicated her life to education. In 1967, she earned a Bachelor of Arts in English from the University of Florida. In subsequent years, she earned a Master of Education in developmental reading from Rollins College and a Master of Arts in creative writing from the University of Florida. Embracing her passion for education, Kanar became a communications instructor at Valencia Community College in 1977, a post she held for 18 years. She has also written several college textbooks in her fields. In addition to her professional accomplishments, Kanar has provided exemplary service to Husson University. She served as a member of the Husson University Board of Trustees for 12 years. For three of those years she served as the board's chair. Kanar received an honorary degree in communications from the New England School of Communications in 2014 and was inducted into the pantheon of Honorary Husson Alumni in 2016. That same year, Kanar was awarded the Husson University President's Medal of Honor for her service. In 2018, she received the Trustee Emeritus Award. Today, Kanar supports Husson University as a member of the Women's Philanthropy Council.

LARRY M. SHAW '92G

Larry M. Shaw is the President and Chief Executive Officer of MMG Insurance. MMG, headquartered in Presque Isle, Maine, is an AM Best "A" Excellent rated regional property and casualty insurance company with operations in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Pennsylvania and Virginia. With the company since 1982, Shaw was promoted to President and CEO in 1995. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from the University of Maine and a Master of Science degree from Husson University. He has also attended the Executive Education Programs at the Harvard Business School and the Wharton School of Business. Shaw is a recipient of the Maine CPCU's Lee Allen President's Award for Excellence. He was inducted into the Junior Achievement Maine Business Hall of Fame in 2015 and is a Rotary International Paul Harris Fellow. Shaw has generously supported distance education technology at Husson University's Northern Maine campus and our plans to construct a new College of Business building here in Bangor.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Every year, colleges and universities invite someone of noteworthy professional achievement to share their insights with the graduating class. These individuals come from all walks of life. Political leaders, prominent business people, humanitarians, actors, writers, comedians and others, have all shared their thoughts with young graduates ready to excel in the workforce. Many of these speakers have earned the admiration of the public. We value their thoughts on personal and professional priorities and hope that we can benefit from the experiences they are willing to share. Each speaker strives to impart words of wisdom that will be relevant to those graduating with the hope that their advice will help make the transition from graduate to professional more meaningful. This year's speaker is a national leader whose dedication to representing the State of Maine in the U.S. Senate has made her a remarkable woman of distinction.

U.S. SENATOR SUSAN M. COLLINS

Susan M. Collins, Maine's senior United States Senator, was first elected to the Senate in 1996. She ranks 12th in Senate seniority and is the most senior Republican woman. Senator Collins chairs the Senate Aging Committee and the Transportation, Housing, and Urban Development Appropriations Subcommittee. She also serves on the Intelligence Committee and the Health, Education, Labor and Pensions Committee.

Senator Collins has earned a national reputation for working across party lines. For the last six consecutive years, she has ranked as the most bipartisan member of the U.S. Senate. Known for her Maine work ethic, Senator Collins has never missed a roll call vote, casting more than 6,800.

A native of Caribou, Maine, Senator Collins graduated Phi Beta Kappa from St. Lawrence University and joined the staff of then-Congressman and later Senator William Cohen. She was appointed director of the Small Business Administration's regional office in Boston by President George H.W. Bush, and she was the founding executive director of the Richard E. Dyke Center for Family Business at Husson University in Bangor, Maine.

Senator Collins received Husson University's Honorary Doctorate of Public Service in 1997.
