SEASON PREVIEW

The Husson College baseball team will be participating in NCAA Division III exclusively. The 2004 Season was Husson's last in NAIA competition. This season will be the first season in the North Atlantic Conference for the sport of baseball.

A challenging schedule faces the Husson Baseball Team starting with a spring trip in the Clearwater Invitational. In that Husson will be playing all NCAA Division III teams, six of which are ranked in the preseason poles.

PITCHING:
Husson will have essentially a pitching staff built around last seasons starters. Mike Cowperthwaite, Travis Tripp, Aaron Brideau, Chris Sargent, Bob Webber and returning starter Barett Dionne who in 2004 became a medical red shirt. Key relievers of last season Chris McInnis and James Gray are again going to be counted on. Newcomers Sam Adolphsen, Keith Nason, Cody Thompson, Phil Cayford, and Andy Patterson all showed promise in the fall.

CATCHING:
For the catching duties we are likely going to rely on the leadership skills of veteran Bill Kane. He is likely to be backed up by Devin Potvin and Chris McHale.

INFIELD:
The infield should round into an excellent defensive unit with a stiff competition for starting spots at second, short and third among Shawn Henderson, Jason Harvey, Adam Sheehan, Danny White, and Nate Cousineau. Co Captain Kyle Mathieu figures to be the key infield leader at first. This infield is counted on to be a key to the season.

OUTFIELD AND DH:
Justin Spencer spearheads the Outfield in center field flanked by Co Captain Aaron Brideau, Sean Brawn and/or Chris McInnis depending of the use of the outfielder/pitcher on the mound. Steve Estes or an outfielder/pitcher will likely take the DH spot when that player is on the mound.

OFFENSE:
The offense will be built around key hitting veteran performers like Aaron Brideau, Kyle Mathieu, Justin Spencer, Steve Estes, Bill Kane and Adam Sheehan. We also have to additions that will help our lineup in Jason Harvey and Sean Brawn.

Our success will be centered on the experience of our returning starters and our ability to play outstanding defense and be versatile offensively.

Winkin, Dr. John

Head Coach

In Coach Winkin's first year back as a head coach, he lead Husson College to a school record of 27 wins and the Sunrise Conference Championship.

Winkin has been coaching baseball at some level since 1946, including 43 years as head coach at Colby College, University of Maine and Husson College. His college teams have won 970 games, lost 647 and tied eight. At Colby College his teams went 301-202-5, won 13 State Series titles. He was named the National Coach of the Year in 1965. At the University of Maine, his teams were 642-430-3, appeared in six College World Series, finishing third in the nation on two occasions. The Black Bears advance to the NCAA Regional 11 times and won six of them under Winkin's guidance. In his Maine tenure his teams won seven ECAC titles and three North Atlantic/America East championships.

Dr. Winkin has been elected to seven Halls of Fame, including the prestigious American Baseball Coaches Association Hall. For many years he has served as an on-site director for NCAA Division I Regional and Super-Regional tournaments. The renovated baseball facility at Husson has been named the John W. Winkin Complex. The complex includes a new field surface, additional bleachers, lights and press box facilities.

Winkin started his baseball career by coaching a legion team in New Jersey and later coached Dwight Merrill High School in Englewood to two state titles. During his time at Englewood he became a bridge partner with the late Vince Lombardi. Asked if he was a good bridge player, Winkin responded that he was. "I didn't dare make a mistake", Winkin says.

A graduate of Duke University, Dr. Winkin holds the position of Vice President of Sports Leadership at Husson College and serves on the Board of Directors of the American Baseball Coaches Association.
