2-Year Retail Management Program Starts This Fall

Husson College has announced plans for a new two year program in Retail Management slated to begin with the fall 1984 semester. According to Dr. Philip Grant, Acting Academic Dean, the course of study will lead to an Associate in Science degree in Retail Management and will be offered through the College's business administration department.

Grant expects the program to be of interest to both men and women. "Discussions with local retaileing career opportunities available locally.

Grant noted that many local retailers contributed to the design of the program. "this program is ideally suited to this area because Bangor is a retailing center," he said.

The program will include a Retail Seminar featuring practicing retailers as guest lecturers. Field work, visits to local businesses and so on will be incorporated into the curriculum.

Grant declared that cooperative education will be an important component of the new program. "Theing career opportunities available locally.

"Cooperative education is an excellent experience for both the student and the employer," he stated. "The student can earn income while learning and can explore his or her interest in retailing early in the college career. Many co-op placements lead to job offers," he pointed out.

"Further, the employer has the opportunity to test a potential employee," he said.

Interested persons may obtain further information on the Retail Management program by contacting the Husson College Admissions Office.

UNIQUE AWARDS PROGRAM

The National Endowment for the Humanities has announced a unique grants program for individuals under 21 to spend a summer carrying out their own non-credit humanities research projects. The Younger Scholars program will award up to 100 grants nationally for outstanding research and writing projects in such fields as history, philosophy and the study of literature. These projects will be carried out during the summer of 1985. The application deadline is September 15, 1984.

Award recipients will be expected to work full-time for nine weeks during the summer, researching and writing a humanities paper under close supervision of a humanities scholar. Please note that this is not a financial aid program, that no academic credit should be sought for the projects, and the competition for these grants is rigorous.

CAMPUS HO HUM

-by Richie Moeller and
Robby Olmstead

Your Spectator Photographer and Assistant Editor have attended several Cultural Committee events this year and discovered two things to be true:

1) The events were well worth attending.

2) Very few people showed up.

We had to ask "why"...why is attendance so consistently low?

In talking with students we discovered there are several "reasons" why:

1) "I always have classes during that time."

2) "I don't like that kind of stuff, it's too boring."

3) "I don't have time for 'that' stuff."

We explored these reasons and found that they were "in fact" excuses.

The Cultural Committee has gone out of their way to hold events at different times to conform to students' requests. But none of these has made a difference in attendance.

It seems that those who say the events are boring, either:

1) haven't attended this year's events or

2) are not aware of their student power to change the events.

Those who "can't find time" to go to the Marionette Theater, have time to go to the Drama Club skits three nights in a row!

So what is the real reason??? Our research finds that the word "culture" makes people bristle! It has a negative connotation! People conjure up horrible images of being forced to sit up straight in a metal folding chair, for three solid hours, listening to opera.

The Cultural Committee can be what you make it. One student on the Cultural Committee who cares, feels student participation, now and in the past has been minimal and disappointing, "People seem to think that culture is for the stiff upper crust."

Bangor-Husson Chess Club

-by Robby Olmstead

Yes, there is a chess club on campus! We meet on Monday nights, in room 318 in Peabody Hall at 7:15pm. And all who are interested in joining us are certainly welcome.

This chess club serves both the Bangor and Husson communities. We encourage National Rating games for the serious players and Ladder games for those who just come for the fun of it. We hope to encourage enough membership to support two teams (Bangor and Husson). This way, we could compete in local and state-wide tournaments.

At this time, we have 15 members (the youngest being 8 years old). Needless to say, we invite beginners to join us and learn.

A small fee of 25 cents per game is required ($2.00 for Rated games). If you have a chess set and/or chess clock, please bring them. If you don't, someone at the club may let you borrow theirs.

The game of chess provides a creative outlet, recreation and mental stimulation. As Dr. Diebold puts it, "...a game that requires skill, knowledge and imagination."

If you would like more information, please feel free to contact Dr. Diebold or me, Robby Olmstead (Husson Representative). By the way, ladies, this is a great way to meet some intelligent guys!

Governor To Speak At Husson

Maine Governor Joseph E. Brennan will return to Husson College on Thursday, April 19, 1984, for the Fourth Annual Governor's Business Breakfast. This will be Brennan's fifth appearance as a guest speaker at the well-known Husson breakfast.

The April breakfast, scheduled for 8 a.m. in the Dickerman Dining Commons will be the last of the spring 1984 series.

The breakfast is open to the public. Reservations are strongly recommended. For more information, contact the Husson College Development office at 947-1121, extension 267.

Fliptops

-by Stephanie Look

If you would like to help someone in need, save the fliptops from all your soda and beer cans.

The Order of Diana is collecting the fliptops as a social service project because Coca Cola will pay for one minute of dialysis on a kidney (or similar) machine for every tab collected.

Stephanie Look, secretary for the Order of Diana, is in charge of the collection, and welcomes any donations of fliptops. She can be found in the Office for Career Counseling.

Do a good deed; it only takes a second and you'll help save lives.

Trudy O'Farrell, head of the Cultural Committee for several years, feels that students "...won't have knowledge of the finer things in life...that there is better potential for jobs if students are well-rounded."

Students need "culture" to be well-rounded individuals. Obviously, the Student Senate, also believes this or they wouldn't support it so heavily in the budget!

What will it take to get us to attend cultural events? Well, it's obvious to us, that people would rather see a play put on by their fellow students (Drama Club, Chief Week) than performing arts sponsored by the Cultural Committee. It seems they would rather go to a Jazz Band Concert by Husson students or an Art Show in the Wigwam by Husson students than attend a Cultural Committee event.

If this is true, then maybe we should direct more of our Cultural Committee efforts and budget to developing cultural activities on campus such as:

Arts and Crafts: How about oil painting or sketching, we know some of you doodle!

Camera Club: How many of you have a camera in your closet and don't know how to use it?

Glee Club: We've heard some voices ringing through the dorms, how about some contemporary songs?

Symphony Orchestra: How many of you played in a high school band? Does your saxophone have the blues from gathering dust and despair in your mother's attic?

Drama Club: This one is doing so well, but it could use a little more financial backing.

Creative Writing: How many of you have short stories or poems tucked away in your diaries? Share them with us at the Spectator!

These are just a few ideas and suggestions we have for next year, but we want some feedback from you!!! Please know that Richie and Robby would love to talk to you in person or you can leave a note in their mailboxes at the Spectator office. Talk to someone in the Cultural Committee. Talk to your Senators, Scott Spooner or Kevin Pelletier. Or if you feel particularly adventurous, you can fill out this questionaire and bring it to the Spectator. We welcome all feedback: negative, positive or ho hum!!!

Remember, there is more to be learned than textbook material when it comes to a college education. Nobody is going to spoon feed us anymore. We are adults and if we want something more out of our college education, then it's up to us to get it. For many of you, you won't be able to appreciate all that Husson has to offer you until you've been out of school for a few years. You'll kick yourself so many times for not grabbing the bull by the horns when you had the chance. Don't wait until it's too late! Take charge of your life and act now!

Jazz Trio at Kominsky

-by Jeff Jenks

A small but enthusiastic audience of about thirty people warmly listened to the Tom Hoffman Trio Wednesday, March 28, at Kominsky Auditorium. Playing mostly original music created by the group's members, this jazz trio enchanted the audience with their style, humor, skill, and artistry. Much of their music is composed by Tom Hoffman specifically for the group and was less than a few months old. Their music was so fresh it had a real sense of being new and immediate.

Also, jazz standards by Charlie Parker, Theloneous Monk, John Coltrane, Duke Ellington, and Antonio Carlos Jobim created a varied, balanced, and entertaining program.

Tom Hoffman is a composer and guitarist and is a professor of music at the University of Maine at Augusta and also teaches guitar at the University of Maine at Orono. He has made three record albums.

Dave Dempsey plays the saxaphone and flute and is an assistant professor of music at the University of Maine at Augusta. He also teaches the saxaphone at UMO. He came to Maine from New York City where he completed his M.S. in music at Julliard. He has proformed both jazz and classical music at Lincoln Center and Carnegie Hall.

John Hunter, the bassist, teaches at both the University of New Hampshire and at the University of Maine at Augusta. He has performed with Dizzie Gillespie, Clark Terry, and been a member of the Barbara London Jazz Quartet.

JAZZ: A Rose by Any Other Name

-by Jeff Jenks

Shakespeare once said "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet" to make the point that a name is only a label. If something's good, it's good regardless of what you call it. To many college students the class of music called "jazz" is synonymous with "old" but it is simply not so. Modern Jazz is constantly changing, constantly evolving just as Rock 'N' Roll does. In fact, it never fails to amaze me how the best Rock 'N' Roll music contains the elements of jazz. If we were to call much of Jazz, Rock 'N' Roll, it would be instantly well liked. So, in a sense, it is indeed unfortunate for people to pre-judge good music just because of its name.

In fact, there is a tangent to Modern Jazz called Jazz Fusion; a electrifying fusion of rock and jazz which combines the very best of both. WHSN has featured Jazz Fusion at times but avoided telling its listenership that it was "Jazz." Not knowing that it was "Jazz" the listeners were enthusiastic about the the terrific new music. Local musicians include a personal favorite, Al Delgado, a Jazz Fusion vibraphone and percussionist heard regularly at the Belfast Cafe in Belfast and the trumpet of Don Stratton heard at one time at the Hilltop House in Ellsworth. Don't miss out; enjoy jazz for what it is, terrific music.

P.P. Syndrome Highly Contagious

In the Middle of Advanced Accounting II, it dawned on me what had been my problem for the last few weeks. I had the P.P. Syndrom. I had been floating from class to class for two weeks, never really grasping any of the concepts that the teachers were heaping on me. My homework was never quite correct and every time a teacher asked me a question, I always got it wrong just like Peppermint Patti of the "Peanuts". If you fear you might also have this disease, just take this simple yes or no test to find out (if you do have it, you'll probably get the answers wrong anyway).

1) Do you start dreading the next class on Friday when it doesn't meet until Tuesday?

2) Have you ever taken a test and gotten more points for your signature than for the questions you answered correctly?

3) Do you often have memory lapses in class (as if you hadn't been there the last week)?

4) Do people in your class start laughing BEFORE you get the answer wrong?

5) Do you have any classes where your average is lower than your age?

6) Do you spend five hours on one assignment and still not even get close to the right answer?

7) Do you have a hard time remembering the last time a teacher asked you a question, and you got it right?

8) Do you have any courses that you've been one cut away from loosing credit in since the end of January?

9) Did you ever have a teacher ask you for your yellow slip from the registrar's office, after you've been attending his class for the past five weeks?

10) Do you think accounting is cute?

If you answered yes to 1 or more of these questions you might have the P.P. Syndrom.

If you answered yes to 2 to 5 of these questions you definitely have it and need psychological help.

And, if you answered yes to more than 5 of these questions you're highly contagious and should head for the nearest package store immediately.

After taking this test myself, I found that I was highly contagious, and after checking with a number of friends, found they too had it. After a long night of drowning our sorrows we decided there was only one thing to do about it: We're going to throw a party for every student with above a 3.0 average, that way when they get get P.P. Syndrome, they'll stop ruining the curve.

International Club Night

-by Jeff Jenks

Husson College's International Club once again sponsored an evening of international foods, entertainment and exhibits. It was marvellous to see such a mix of ethnic cultures with many in traditional costumes. A surprising number of "american" students showed up to support the international community and to taste the various traditional foods from many different countries.

The author sampled virtually every dish including Kartoffelsalat Mit Schinken (german potatoe salad), Indian and Thai Beef Curry (a personal favorite), Venezuelian Bread Cake, Thai Fried Rice, Nikujaya (pork and potatoe stew from Japan), Seviche (a tomatoe, green pepper, and mushroom salad from Mexico), Pilakis (a bean and carrot salad garnished with lemon from Turkey), and Japanese Beef Curry Rice. Dessert was American brownies and blueberry coffee cake. All this for only a single dollar!

Following this delightful meal, Simeon Omogbenigun from Nigeria sang and danced a song in his native language called "Praising God for Giving Us Rain and Sunshine" and "Proverb". Dr. Lambros Karas then sang a song with his strong, clear, pleasant, voice in his native greek accompanied by his guitar about "a girl singing to someone missing at sea" and another song with words that say "I love you" in a number of different languages.

Over 100 people attended this regular event of Husson's international community.

NEED HELP WITH YOUR STUDENT LOAN?

If you've attended college on a Guaranteed Student Loan or a National Direct Student Loan made after October 1, 1975, consider spending a couple of years in the Army.

If you train for certain specialties, the government will release you from 1/3 of your indebtedness (or $1,500, whichever is greater) for each year of active duty.

Obviously, a three-year enlistment cancels 100% of your debt. But if you sign up for the Army's exclusive two-year enlistment option, we'll still cancel 2/3 of your debt.

Plus, you may be eligible for generous educational incentives.

To find out how to serve your country and get out of debt, call the number below.
