HUSSON LEDGER

MARCH, 1955 | HUSSON COLLEGE, BANGOR, MAINE | VOLUME 29, NO. 3

A HAPPY EASTER

President's Column

The Easter vacation appears increasingly attractive and its rapid approach delights us all. Even the instructors enjoy the rest! It's a long seige from Christmas to Easter without benefit of a surcease from classes, assignments, and other duties. So we welcome the holidays as a breathing period in which to catch up our energies and build up courage and strength for the difficult last term and final examinations. Sorry even to mention this last item at this time.

Easter and spring walk hand in hand. In addition to the great religious significance of Easter day, and all that it means to a peace-loving world, Mother Nature keeps us in tune with her warm breath and the budding beauty of living things. Welcome, Mr. and Mrs. Robin, and may your family be a big one. Welcome, too, green grass, flowers, and blue waters. Away with cold and snow and ice and hard winter. It's good to be alive to enjoy each minute to the full. I'm planning to enjoy the days and nights of warm sunshine and blue skies in great measure. These gifts from above are meant to be good for the mind and body. I'm amazed at the many blessings provided by divine hands. At Easter time it is good to count them and to return thanks.

If you can't afford a new Easter bonnet this year or a new suit, don't let it keep you from church. Those of us in the free world should gather and rejoice together in our respective places of worship and voice our thanks for the Lord's interest and concern for us. Let us give this Easter a real meaning. Maybe some of our spirit will rub off onto those who need it. Our example should intrigue the Communists who have no God. I wonder what they think about us. They know that we are not fools, nor that we are simple folk. They do know that under God we are the greatest nation on the earth. May we remember that ourselves. In that statement is a great moral lesson for the world to grasp. We reach great heights with God's help and by his method—and I mean nations as well as people. Keep our light shining so that all may see and wonder. Our churches must show their strength as they point skyward, and that means that you and I must attend its services and be a part of a growing spiritual awakening which could well cleanse the world of much of its evil.

A Happy Easter to you and your families.

Somewhere else in the Ledger appears a letter from President Scott of the Farmington State Teachers College. With a full heart I say to Coach Merrill and his team, "My compliments to each and everyone of you. More important than winning games is playing the role of gentlemen, and gentlemen you are. You are a credit to your college, and it is indebted to you in full measure by the recognition you have

We here at Husson are proud of our girls and their standing this season. It looked like an undefeated season but Westbrook Junior College tripped the Husson lassies on their Portland trip. Playing a 14-game schedule, the girls won all but the one. So the girls deserve a big hand for a job well done.

Starting the year as a new team wearing the green and gold, the girls developed into a well-passing and well-shooting team. The bench has been warmed by an extra fine group of girls. This is a most difficult job—warming the bench. The regular practices have been enjoyable games in themselves and close contests. In fact, this group is an outstanding one and joins the ranks of "good" teams.

The highlights of the season were the two-day trip to Sanford, Portland, and Boston. The girls were royally entertained by Nasson College. The girls there are excellent sports. The Boston trip climaxed the season. The Follies and all the devilment were the high spots.

Scoring a total of 573 points against the opponents' 403, Barbara DeBeck had 116 points in 10 games, "Mac" McCafferty a total of 106 in 10 games and Sue Kimball a total of 119 in 11 games. Diana Wyman, play-maker in the offense, scored a total of 70 points. The "bench" scoring is evenly divided: LePage 22, Goulette 37, Oxley 38 and Moody 34.

The defense played strong ball all season. Losing Harvey via the foul route at Portland didn't help us at Westbrook. "Harv" has played exceptionally well this year and will graduate in June. There will be a big hole to fill—in more ways than one!

Harriet Eaton and Diana Wyman are Co-Captains of the squad. Rose Pray, Donna Thibeau and Nancy Smith are the managers and have looked after the girls very well.

All in all it has been a fine year. The only exception to this is that the girls didn't quite get Swan to the showers in her clothes after the last game.

Letters and certificates will be presented to the following girls by the Student Council:

Forwards — Captain, Diana Wyman, Winn; Barbara DeBeck, Clifton; Sue Kimball, Hampden; Myrna McCafferty, Mattawamkeag; Patricia Newcomb, Hampden; Janice Moody, Union; Irene Goulette, Dexter; Jeannette LePage, Bangor; Gail Oxley, Hampden; Nancy Getchell, Bangor.

Guards—Co-Captain, Harriet Eaton, McKinley; Geraldine Harvey, East Corinth; Thelma Sennett, Pittsfield; Constance Richard, Mattawamkeag; Natalie Genthner, Damariscotta; Isadora Quimby, Dark Harbor; Judith Smith, Fort Fairfield; Natalie Bryant, Belfast, Janice Gray, Lincolnville.

Managers: Nancy Smith, Mapleton, and Rose Pray of Bradford.

won for yourselves in good sportsmanship and gentlemanly behavior."

I know of nothing that has pleased me so much in a long time. This very thing for which we strive so hard to create and maintain, this ideal, this goal of true manhood and respect, this our basketball team has been living all year, and it was honored by a college president who was host to our men on a recent visit to his institution.

Thank you, men. I'm warmed by this wonderful experience. I have been given new courage to face the future with an unchanged philosophy, the one that demands of all education that it be forever concerned with the character development of each and every student. Such has been our philosophy here at Husson from the first day. It is good to see it bear such fine fruit. May you men feel a great personal pride in bringing into being this recognition from outside our walls and my personal thanks from within.

Our girls' team is one of which we can well be proud. They make a splendid appearance wherever they go, and at home, too, of course. No one can complain of their behavior, for although they are the winningest gals year after year, their sportsmanship and ladylike conduct wins respect continuously. Thank you, Coach Swan and ladies, for your total contribution to the life we lead here at Husson. I'm proud to call you my own.

I'm a bit worried about ping-pong. Briefly, I sound the warning that cutting a class to take part in a match, or to make up a game, is putting too high a price on entertainment and relaxation. Just don't be carried away by the excitement of the game at the expense of a class. If you should—I'll probably go further into the matter. Spare me, please.

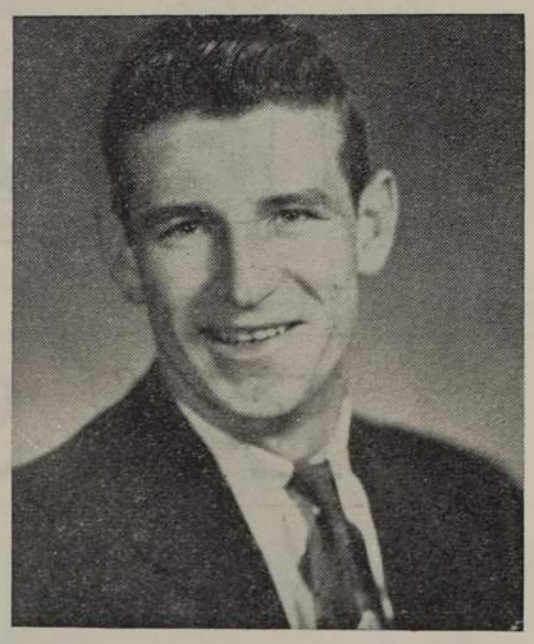

Our venture into a nation-wide market for our Accounting and Business Administration majors is meeting with unusual success. We have heard from many of the big companies like Dupont, Westinghouse, General Electric, and many others, all of whom are interested in meeting our graduates when recruiting for new help each year. This should be an incentive for all students working for degrees at Husson to do their very best to earn the most attractive transcripts. These will bear heavily on the choices made by these firms. Do your best, there is no better rule.

We are quite proud of the faculty and staff to have a new course approved by the State Department of Education, and the authority from that source to begin the program immediately. It is the Accounting Course with a minor in Education. Now those who are interested in teaching accounting and business administration, and who do not wish to teach the secretarial subjects, have a program especially designed to meet their need. I urge the men in the Accounting and Business Administration Departments to consider well the career of instructor in these two areas of interest. The education subjects may be elected in preference to others, and the world becomes a better place because of the additional teachers that may emanate from this source. More and more young men and women should interest themselves in teaching careers else our schools find themselves unable to cope with the scarcity that is already a problem of serious magnitude. Look into it, my friends. And come in and talk it over with me. I'd like nothing better than to make a teacher of you!

So long for now. I guess I'll start practicing a bit of penmanship so that my signature will look attractive on your diplomas.

Cordially,
"Chief"

MU SIGMA CHI

GEORGE MORSE

Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity of Husson College held a meeting January 11, 1955, in which the following officers were elected for the year 1955:

President: George Morse, who is in his third year at Husson and is working for his Degree in Business Administration. He is married, has a daughter and lives in Brewer.

Vice-President: Donald Preble, who is enrolled in the Degree in Accounting Course. Don lives here in Brewer.

Secretary: Sheldon Scribner, who hails from Dover-Foxcroft, is working for his Degree in the Department of Accounting.

Treasurer: Benjamin Blodget, who is a commuter from the fair town of Bucksport is enrolled in the Business Administration Degree Course.

Parliamentarian: James Quinn, who at present is student teaching at Brewer High School will receive his Degree in Business Education this June. He also hails from the city of Bangor.

Sergeant-at-Arms: Karl Diedrichsen from Ashland, where it gets real cold during the winter months, is enrolled in the Business Education Program here.

Marshal: Frank Leathers of Corinna is working for his B. S. Degree in Accounting.

Chaplain: George Fenno from Jonesboro is in his third year enrolled in the Business Administration Degree Course.

Public Relations: This is a new office as of this year. Lawrence Eaton of Ellsworth and Bangor was elected to fill the first term. Larry is married and is in his third year of the Degree in Accounting Course.

Plans have been made and are now being carried out for the initiation of new members into the organization. The following men became members during the latter part of February, Millage Small, Howard Hawes, Edward Tate, Lawrence Stanchfield, Everett Johnston, Francis Larkins, Harold McKinney, Clarence Dubois, Robert O'Berg.

Everyone is looking to the first of April and the Annual Fraternity Frolics. Let's all attend this entertaining event. Sponsor your Sweetheart or Mu Sigma Chi. Remember the acts of the latter year and remember that we'll have even greater ones in store for you this year.

Till next time, so long and take care of yourself.

Mr. Curran went to his refrigerator and found a rabbit inside.

Mr. Curran: What are you doing in there?

Rabbit: This is a Westinghouse isn't it?

Mr. Curran: Yes.

Rabbit: Well, I'm just westing!

ALUMNI NEWS

It's a real pleasure to read of so many Husson graduates advancing into more responsible and lucrative positions. The papers recently have been full of them, and some of them appear in this paper. It indicates very strongly that the prizes are won by men who trained for their work. And that is as it should be.

Insurance

Cleo F. King, formerly of Brewer, a graduate of Husson in 1938, is awarded his doctorate in Insurance. He has received the professional designation of C.L.U. (Chartered Life Underwriter). To enlighten you farther.

"The American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters is a national body of Life Insurance men and women whose membership is limited to those in the life underwriting field who have passed all the examinations of the American College of Life Underwriters and have met the other rigid professional requirements necessary for qualification in the United States as Chartered Life Underwriter. Such underwriters are distinguished by, and are privileged to use after their names, the professional designation Chartered Life Underwriter (C.L.U)."

John "Ike" Corey of Bangor and Husson College (1952) has been transferred from the Bangor office of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to the New York office. "Ike" has been outstanding in his selling, and recently assigned a position as Instructor in the Field Training Division. He will work in the New England States. He is married to the former Inez Gory, a Husson graduate. Their daughter, Barbara, is a graduate of Husson in the class of 1954.

Margaret L. Whelpley, Husson graduate in 1935, has her own Insurance office in Portland. She is with Connecticut Mutual and has an outstanding business. It proves that women can sell insurance, too. Margaret is also an outstanding basketball official in the Portland area. She was graduated in the Secretarial Department.

Banking

Merrill Trust & Banking Co. of Bangor has recently promoted Thomas Flanagan, Husson 1949. Tommie is an up-and-coming lad and doing very well. Tommy is married to the former Ann Pettingill, Husson 1947.

Erwin Soule of Husson, 1947, has been named manager of the Old Town branch of The Merrill Trust Co. He has been in their employ for several years and richly deserves the promotion.

Newspaper Business

Robert Kiah, Husson graduate in 1932, recently was elected as treasurer of THE NEWS. He went to the Bangor Daily News in February, 1932, immediately following graduation. He was promoted to circulation manager in 1938 and in 1947 was made business manager.

Bob is married to the former Josephine Burrill of Brewer and they have four children, Sue, Robert, Jr., Dennis and Barbara.

Arthur McKenzie of Bangor, Husson College, 1948, recently has been elected assistant treasurer of THE NEWS. Mr. McKenzie went to THE NEWS in 1951 as bookkeeper and was made office manager and chief accountant in December, 1952.

Arthur is married to the former Avis G. Brann and have one son, Stanley McKenzie.

Great Northern Paper Company

H. Dean Carroll of Millinocket, Husson College, 1950, has been placed as Secretary to Mr. McLeod, Director of Personnel at the plant in Millinocket.

Teaching

Mrs. Barbara Briggs Higgins, class of 1954, wife of student, Donald Higgins, has recently gone to Higgins Classical Institute in Charleston.

Meet Priscilla and Jeffrey

Mrs. Priscilla Woodward Ingraham of Rumford is enrolled in her Junior year at Husson. She is in the Business Education Department.

Priscilla is currently living with her sister. She boards her young son, Jeff, out during school hours. She entertains him afternoons and studies evenings. Her husband is overseas.

Being the daughter of a school principal, she seems to be on the same track—a teaching career. She always makes the dean's list. She is very popular with the students and class members; she is also active in the Student Council.

Jeff is a splittin' image of his Ma. His big brown eyes just shine. He has already made friends at Husson. He attended the fall F.T.A. outing at Husson's Hovel at Green Lake. Jeff is one year old.

Before her marriage, Priscilla worked five years as a Medical Secretary at Togus and one year at the New England Medical Center in Boston.

Priscilla, we here at Husson are pleased to have you in our family. We wish you much happiness and success. To Jeff, we wish all the things little boys want. You probably hear about those every day.

GLEE CLUB

On February 15, 1955, the Husson Glee Club made its public appearance of the year as the main entertainment at the Y.W.C.A. for the Home Culture Club of which Mrs. C. H. Husson is Director.

Under the direction of Mr. William Cupp, the Glee Club sang the following selections from their repertoire: In a Monastery Garden, Tribute to Romberg, Coming Through the Rye (arrangement by Fred Waring), In the Gardens of Luxembourg. The featured soloists of the program were M[illegible] Myrna Denbow, and Mr. Raynald Marti[illegible]

Mr. Cupp and the members of the Glee Club wish to invite all new students to "let their worries flutter by" and come to join the fun every Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 P. M. in Room II.

Father: "Did you use the car last night?"

Bill Quinn: "Yes, Dad, I took some of the boys down to school."

Father: "Well, tell the boys I found one of their lace hankies."

Robert Sirois, graduate of Husson in 1953 writes:

"Here in Toledo I am working as busily as ever for the Toledo Scale Company. About two months ago I received a promotion which moved me from cost accounting to budget analyzing. Working on budgets should give me plenty of good experience as I work closely with the top accounting "Brass" of the Company. There are only two of us working on budgets for manufacturing, engineering, administrative, and sales so I'm really getting to know what's what about the Company. The comptroller of our Company told me that I can learn more about cost accounting working on budgets than I could actually working in the cost accounting department.

Since I began to work for the Scale Company 20 months ago, I've had three raises in pay which hasn't been too difficult to take. Most companies (at least the larger ones) give salary increases to their salaried help every 6 or 8 months for the first couple of years.

I imagine you have heard that I got married last spring to a girl out here to whom I was corresponding while I was at Husson. Jan and I are both very happy."

"To Mrs. Kingsbury from Gini Blood, graduate student at American International College."

"Outside of Spanish I, the course that has helped me most this year is that blasted old Report Writing course that I had from you the first semester last year. I detested the course because I don't like business reports, but it has repaid me many times this year. Graduate school is reports, reports, and more reports. It helps so much to know how to set up reports, do footnotes, tables of contents, introductions, bibliographies and general construction. I have saved, or gained so much more rank this year because I didn't get worked down on form. The other kids are really struggling! Just pass the word along that the course should be a must for every teacher-training student. Ollie has found the same thing. He said that he was glad he had it. See how much you are helping us this year. Thanks loads."

Here's Gini's schedule for Semester II:

Spanish II

Late 19th Century Literature

History of Education in the United States.

Methods of Teaching Social Business Subjects.

Statistics II (4-6:30)

Seminar in Education (4-6:30)

Philosophy of Education (Sat. 9:30-12)

Miss Constance Bickford, who left us in January, is now enjoying the warm climate (80°) of Hollywood, Florida.

Miss Patricia Sheehan, who studied here at Husson last semester, is now on her way home, California via Miami, Florida.

Rowena "Pinkie" Trenholm is in Florida this winter. Lucky Gal!

Janet Kinney, Barbara Gerrish, Esther Gould O'Brien, Charlene Brown, Irene Hardy, Priscilla Clark, Thelma Hale, Mary Lawrence, Betty Chandler played for the Alumnae this year.

Bob Hopkins has had a big promotion—thanks to shorthand. Bob writes: When I came in, and during basic training last summer, I was certain any knowledge I had gained at Husson was going to be completely forgotten. But quite the contrary, shorthand has helped me get a much better deal, if any job in the army can be classified as "good." I am working in Battalion Headquarters as Court Martial clerk, attending the trials to take down the testimony and then prepare the forms. Consequently I used my shorthand a great deal and it seems to have become my chief asset. Now there is a possibility of being transferred to Post Headquarters to work for the Commanding General or the Post G-4 section, shorthand being one of the necessary prerequisites. So while the transfer is pending I figure it wouldn't be a bad idea to brush up a bit, and being just lazy enough so I won't do it unless I have something to push me I have brought my shorthand book from home and if you would be kind enough to send me this workbook I think perhaps I can speed up a bit. I hated the thing while I was there, but it did make me work and I'm hoping it will have the same effect now.

All you people who know Bill and Gracie Stewart might drop Bill a card—122 Court Street. He's not feeling too well these days. It would cheer him up.

Barbara Greely, former Husson student, married Mr. Robert Goode, Saturday, February 19, 1955. Good luck to you, Barbara.

February 9, 1955 was the date of arrival for Bryce Jennings to Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Sproul. Mrs. Sproul was the former Dot Estabrook, a Husson graduate.

Husson Graduate

We have written a book entitled POD RUN concerning our town, Grand Lake Stream, Maine, in its youth—a town born because of its waterways convenient to the outside world and its great wealth of hemlock in the surrounding forests—a town growing so rapidly that in 1881 (the period about which we have written), this little place in the Maine wilderness boasted the largest tannery in the world and imported hides from far away places like China, Brazil, India, and Zanzibar.

From old diaries, factual records, and stories passed along by word of mouth, we have taken choice morsels; added a youthful romance, a bit of spice and intrigue, and have come up with a yarn that is such a combination of fact and fiction that now WE wonder which is which!

In POD RUN you'll meet Sophie Yates, our heroine, and Dan Patrick, a Canadian who loves her; Aunt Feb, a doer of all good deeds, and her husband Frank, noted tall-story teller; Captain Carr, a gentleman with a bitter memory of the Civil War, and George, a colored boy who learns much of Northerners in this teeming village; Mrs. Winkler, and Josephine Lowe who loves Dan; Father Murphy, a priest. You'll walk down Tough End with Amanda Tucker, the town gossip, and smell the stench from the Tannery, and look through her eyes at this, the notorious street of the town. The Indians, too, are there; young Joe, his father, and the Old One, who hates the white man's intrusion on her people's lands.

The will to thrive among the numerous nationalities in this wilderness of virgin forest is inspiring. From our Yates Genealogy we find that our ancestors first came to Maine some 160 odd years ago and we feel privileged to weave a tale about what COULD have happened to some of them who had settled here by the late 1800's.

Hi "Chief",

I should have written sooner, but I have been quite busy.

I received your wonderful Christmas card, and the picture of the College building brought back many pleasant memories. I also received a copy of the "Ledger" today, and I have read it from start to finish. It sure seems nice to read of the happenings at school, when one is so far from the college scene. I want to thank you very much for sending it. It was certainly appreciated. It seems to me that you have the same quality of students that you always have had. And that they will live up to the fine reputation of the school.

Oh yes, "Chief," I have some good news for you. I am now in Personnel work, they needed someone with Clerical background to be Finance Clerk in our squadron. After a thorough check of the records, I was chosen. It is very interesting work, and I like it very much. I figure longevity, type, take care of the payroll, and check debits and credits on the pay records. So, my schooling has rewarded me, you might say. I guess I'll go along with the old saying, "I was in the right place at the right time." I have my own desk, and help the fellows with their allotments, personal affairs, etc. So, all in all I think I got a very nice break, and I knew you would be glad to hear about it. And if I might add, "thanks, Chief," for the wonderful opportunity you are giving the young people in Maine, to acquire an education. I certainly appreciate everything you've done for me and Gerald. In my book, College "Prexies" just don't come any better. So, thanks again.

I once remember you telling me, "Paul you'll always cherish your experiences in the service," and "Chief" I'm beginning to do just that. Japan, in my opinion is a wonderful country, oh! maybe a little strange in its customs and so forth, but it is beautiful, with Mt. Fujiyama, and its other mountain ranges. It also has many interesting sights. There are, Sumo wrestling, the Shinto and Budda Shrines, the quaint ways of farming and transportation in the rural districts, and oh yes, I can't forget the language. That is a novelty in itself.

How are all the teachers, "Chief"? I can imagine that they are doing the fine job that they always have done. By the way, tell Mr. Donahue that I am taking a Finney Accounting course through U.S.A.F.I., and I have a B average through the first five units. Which only proves that a man's capacity is only as high as his height of ambition.

Well, "Chief," it is getting quite late, and I have to write home yet tonight. So, for this time I'll, as the Japanese say, speak sayonara for now.

Thank you again, for everything.

The basketball team is ending a very successful season. The players are to be congratulated for their fine work under the coaching of Delmont Merrill. A banquet will be given for the "Indians" in the spring.

Clifton Kuchinski was chosen as captain for '55 by his fellow teammates. He has been a steady player on the court and a real spark for the ball team. Clif is entering his second year at Husson so he will be with us for another basketball season.

The League has been very successful this year. Gorham and Farmington were invited to join to make it a state-wide teacher's college league.

WHAT A CHANCE

Cheer up!
You have two chances,
One of getting the germ
And one of not.
And if you get the germ,
You still have two chances,
One of getting the disease
And one of not.
And if you get the disease,
You have two chances,
One of dying,
And one of not.
And if you die—Well
You still have two chances!

BALLET

The cheerleaders are nearly through their season of yells and calisthenics. With the end drawing near, they look back on a year of fun, hard work, and plenty of exercise to take care of that extra piece of cake or chocolate sundae. They want to say that it has been a real pleasure to back Husson's team this year. Maybe we didn't win all of the games, but we were good losers when we didn't get the winning basket.

Our "payoff" for this hard work; a trip to Boston!!! The girls who went were Charlotte Thomas, Jeannette Bell, Nancy Carr, and Marilyn Stairs. A gay time was had by all with such recreation as Ice Follies, Smorgasbord, plays, and of course, plenty of movies and shopping.

Practice Teaching

Brewer High School:

Lauraine Cyr of Caribou and Bill Quinn of Bangor are over to Brewer. Mr. Woodrow Bailey, Husson 1937, Bookkeeping I, Mr. Maynard Sawyer, Husson 1938, Typewriting, and Miss Olive Blodgett, Husson 1941, Shorthand, are the critic teachers.

Bangor High School:

Barbara Trafton, Patricia Newcomb, Barbara McGowan are at Bangor. Critic teachers are Mr. Ivy Mann, Bookkeeping, Miss Lillian Kelley, Typewriting, and Mr. Drossell, Geography and Law. The student dents are teaching in all departments.

Ellsworth High School:

Jeannette Grindle is at Ellsworth. She is under the supervision of Mrs. Minnie C. Libby. Mrs. Libby is an Honorary member of Pi Rho Zeta, so honored for her outstanding teaching over the years. Jeannette is in the Secretarial Department.

PI RHO ZETA

At a meeting of Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Phi Rho Zeta International held January 31 at Husson College, three offices were filled by election.

Nancy Smith of Mapleton was elected corresponding secretary; Constance Richard of Mattawamkeag was chosen to be alumnae secretary; and Rose Pray of Bradford was elected parliamentarian.

Miss Smith, a second-year student, is a member of the Executive Secretarial Department. She is active in Student Council, holding the secretary's office, and manager of the Girls' Basketball team. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Smith of Mapleton.

Miss Richard is a first-year student in the Medical Secretarial Department. She is outstanding in basketball and a member of the Women's Athletic Association. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richard of Mattawamkeag.

Miss Pray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pray of Bradford, is a first-year student in the Junior Secretarial Department. She is active in dramatics, the W. A. A. and is the manager of the girls' basketball team.

Those assisting in the Polio Drive Mothers' March were Miss Mildred Bradford and Eunice Cookson, Joyce, Lindsey, Carol Rollins, Una Stevens, Jeanette Bell, Julia Jordan, Ann Tate, and Diana Wyman.

At the last meeting of the Sorority held February 9, Miss Swan showed some slides taken at the college and at Washington, D. C., which were of great interest to all.

During the month of February the girls' main topic of conversation was the planning for the Boston trip—places to go, things to see, and tricks to play upon one another.

TO BOSTON

In the wee hours of the morning of Saturday, February 19, 42 girls were on their way to Boston. This group consisted of teachers, sorority members, and members of the girls' basketball and cheerleading squads. By the time the bus was ten minutes out of Bangor, those who had walked or driven to Union Station in their sleep were participating in "Row, Row, Row Your Boat."

After we had checked in at the Hotel Touraine, some of the girls went shopping in the afternoon, while others tried to make some phone calls. Later that afternoon the group enjoyed a smorgasbord supper together.

Sunday night we attended the Ice Follies which were very beautiful and enjoyed by one and all. One girl said that she heard that two extra subway cars were put on just to get us to and from the ice show!

By Monday the food from the smorgasbord Saturday had worn off and we were a little hungry. That also was the day that we started homeward bound. It seemed hard to believe that many of our suitcases simply refused to shut; but with the strength and weight of two or three girls, the suitcase just didn't stand a chance.

Yes, we arrived in Bangor, Maine, Monday night a trifle weary, perhaps, but in a cheery mood. As the next day was Washing's Birthday and a school holiday, we had a chance to catch up on any lost sleep!

Those who made the trip to Boston were the following: Nancy Getchell, Nancy Carr, Barbara DeBeck, Jeannette LePage, Ann Tate, Rose Pray, Jeanette Bell, Janice Moody, Lucille Kilton, Sandra Larrabee, Charlotte Thomas, Jeanne Hutchinson, Marilyn Stairs, Janice Gray, Jeanette Grindle, Patricia Newcomb, Diana Wyman, Natalie Bryant, Barbara Gerrish, Thelma Sennett, and Harriet Eaton.

Also Gail Oxley, Suzanne Kimball, Irene Goulette, Natalie Genthner, Nancy Smith, Patricia Knight, Joyce Lindsey, Elizabeth Schoppee, Isadora Quimby, Kathleen Thompson, Jeannette Muise, Una Stevens, Julia Jordan, Carol Rollins, Misses Mildred Bradford, Priscilla Clark, Thelma Watson, Shirley Walker, Cecelia Chandler, Janet Kinney, and Clara Swan.

In closing one might say that we had a very nice time and that might sum it up in a few words. K. T. used psychology when trying to talk the other girls out of short-sheeting her bed; but you might ask T. S. or T. W. exactly what did happen! We do, however, want our instructors to know that we appreciate the patience they had with us and that we have settled down to our regular study routine once again.

Highlights of the Boston Trip

Elizabeth Schoppee purchased her wedding gown.

Watson and Clark and who else found corn flakes in their beds.

Bob Cousy is all he is cracked up to be.

The Ice Follies were stupendous.

The Pajama Kids ruled and roamed the first and second floors.

Bob Elwell and Bill Plummer called at the Tourraine.

"Liz" Kierstead and Shirley Walker celebrated their birthdays and birthday cake was enjoyed by all on the way home.

The spring weather made the snowboots and mufflers look kind of silly.

The amateur photographers were stationed in the bathrooms.

NIGHT OWL, Jeannette LePage, was silent on the way home after two sleepless nights.

Janet Kinney was separated from her party at Filene's basement and came home disillusioned and bruised.

Lucille Kilton's boy friend arrived unexpectedly from Machias—and stayed on after we left!

The Cinerama thrilled all who attended.

Quimby and Thompson really got filled up at the Smorgasbord. Three or four trips?

Nancy Smith's cousins attended the Ice Follies with her.

A number of girls attended church Sunday morning.

Those who saw Bing Crosby and Grace Kelley in "Country Girl" cried and cried and cried. I understand that is why they went.

The cigar was as big as they make them. Whose?

Who sported a new pipe on the way home?—she uses half and half.

Jeanette Bell, Thelma Sennett, Pat Knight, Miss Swan visited relatives.

George and Jean Husson and daughter, Jeannie, attended the Follies with the group.

Many girls took advantage of the bargains.

Dottie Crane spent the weekend with us. Other alumnae taking the trip were Shirley Walker, Brewer; Betty Chandler, Bucksport; and Janet Kinney, Bangor.

"Kiddie" Carr couldn't decide whether she was sick—tired—hungry—or all three.

Miss Bradford has a new song dedicated to her!

Genthner came home broke and busted!! She eats so much.

The substitute teachers at Husson, Monday, February 21, were Larry Eaton for Miss Swan; Priscilla Ingraham for Miss Bradford; Clem Poulin for Miss Clark; and Phil Gerow for Miss Watson.

All in all, this was one of the best trips.

Study Periods

(In which I try to do some studying, but my rambling thoughts interfere.)

I think I'll get some studying done,
I have a period free;
I'll get my lessons—every one
How sensible of me!

Now let me see—in Biology
I think 'twas on page eight
(It surely is a mystery
Why that girl's always late!)

(Oh well, that's no affair of mine,
Although it's sure a sin;
Oh me, it must be after nine!)
Now, where shall I begin?

Oh, here's the place—Pasteur found
A "new bug"—fancy that,
That story is known the round,
(I need an Easter hat).

(My last year's coat will have to do—
I'd like a dress of lace;
I really should have something new)
Oh heck, I've lost my place.

Oh, I don't care. This is so dry;
I'll study English, I guess.
(For school, those heels are much too high
And ain't her hair a mess!)

This exercise we have to write
And gosh, it sure is long!
(I hear the love birds had a fight
I wonder what was wrong?)

I can't do this—I have no ink
Except a bottle of red;
What shall I do? Oh well, I think
I'll study "math" instead.

Now, what's become of my "math" book?
I'm sure I left it here.
(I think this spring I'll learn to cook
In case I'm wed next year).

This period o'er? It's just begun;
They rang the bell too soon.
When will I get my lessons done,
I have no time this noon.

It isn't right! It isn't fair!
Are you prepared. I'm not;
It's not my fault and I don't care,
The periods are too short!

DRAMATICS

SHIRLEY BACHELDER

The Christmas play is over. We are working on another. "Yes Means No" is a delightful comedy, which will be presented before the student body on March 2, 1955. The cast of characters includes: Karl Deidrechsen as William Lawson, brusque, unreasonable, and a modern businessman type. Dannie Hastings as Teddy Lawson, active young man just out of college. Jane Stark as Edith Merrill, about 19 years of age, engaged to Teddy. Howard Simpson as T. J. Morgan, brusque and intolerant. A business associate of Lawson's. Shirley Bachelder as Miss Collins, the efficient secretary. Jeannette Bell is acting as prompter. The property manager is Ann Tate. The cast is working hard under the guidance of Mrs. Evelyn Plumer.

Upon resignation of the secretary, Jeanne Hutchinson, the offices of secretary and treasurer were combined. Shirley Bachelder is now executing the duties of both offices.

We are still looking for new Dramatic Club recruits. There is a three-act play coming up in May. If you are interested come and join.

Mrs. Miller: Who can name an important thing that we enjoy now which our great-grandfathers did not have a hundred years ago?

Bill Quinn: Me!

TRUE LOVE

The night was warm; the room was dark;
Not any light, not even a spark
Shone on the two, as they sat there alone.
The little brown pup, and his chicken bone.

Miss Swan: I believe you missed my class yesterday, Audrey.

Audrey Johnson: Oh, no, not in the least.

SCHOOL DAYS

I adore school,
I'm crazy about learning,
Homework fascinates me,
For exams I'm always yearning.

I love classes,
I hate cuts,
I'm forever studying—
I must be nuts!!!

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I copied your answers,
And I flunked, too!

HE SHOULD KNOW

"Mr. Curran," said the Doctor, "the pains in your right leg are due to old age.

"Old age nothing," replied Mr. Curran, "the other leg's the same age and it's okay."

A LETTER

President
Husson College
157 Park Street
Bangor, Maine
U.S.A.

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter hoping that what I hereby appeal to you may be warmly received.

You shall be surprised to receive this letter from a complete stranger, so I will first introduce myself to you what I am. I am college student of Seoul National University in Korea. I am now 20 years old and was graduated from Kyung Bock High School on March 3rd, 1954, which is one of the best high schools in Korea. I am studying hard in narrow circumstance in economic we have desired to learn.

As you know, it is world widely recognized that Korea was calling the attention of whole world to her country on the way to the all destruction by the Red invasion, but now Korea is on the way to the all reconstruction by the greatest assistances from the people of United States, for which I thank you so much.

I am very glad and happy to hear lots about your good college from American good G.I. in Korea, and to know your college from the catalogue and I began like it. Always I dream the day to be able to attend your good college. Now I am very fretful because I am not sure that it is possible or impossible for me to request such an important thing.

I am very sorry to inform you that I must be able to have the scholarship, from 1955, of your college if you use the scholarship system for foreign students. A good scholarship would be important to me, but truly if this is impossible, the partial scholarship and the opportunity to defray the remainder of my expenses by part-time employment would be highly appreciated. I will do my best both in my studying and part-time work.

Dear Sir! Please do not forget the success of my resolution will be determined by your kind assistance. If you need my High School Transcript and other papers for my admission to your good college, I will mail them to you as soon as possible.

I am very happy to be writing to you and I shall be looking forward to receive your kind answer in the near future.

May God bless you.

Very sincerely yours,
Dai Young Chang

NATIVE SON

We are indeed fortunate to have a son of the forest and streams among us. Millard E. Foss, "Bud" to us all, is a man of the woods; a lover of the outdoors and a real fisherman and hunter.

Bud is a Washington County product. He comes rightly by his love for the fishing sport. He fishes all trout streams within miles of his home; walks all day and comes home tired but happy with trout. He fishes the Narraguagus River which is noted for its Atlantic Salmon. He catches 'em, too. Just say "fishing" to Bud and he's ready to take off—car, boat or by foot.

As a hunter he always bags his deer. He knows just where they feed and when is the best time to go after them.

As a boy, Bud was tall and gangling always carried a can of worms in his pocket.

He grew up to be a handsome Joe—now don't say how he's changed! He's still the same Bud—always willing to lend a helping hand—to do an extra bit of work—and to help a boy or girl when need be. Bud carries a terrific teaching load and is the only faculty member who can say he has all boys and girls in his Math classes.

He bowls a mean string when he gets down to the Bowling Alley. Bud is Men's A. A. adviser.

So-o-o, when Spring comes and you want a fishing partner, or you know where they bide—speak to Bud and you'll have a companion. He'd almost skip school but not quite. Imagine he used to.

Bud is a fine friend to all.

BUD, FRIEND AND TROUT

DECLINING A KISS

It's a noun; it is proper and common.
It's a pronoun; she stands for it.
It's a conjunction; it joins together.
It's a verb; it may be active.
It's a preposition; it has an object.
It's an infinitive; it expresses action.

CRAM—To sit up on the night previous to an examination and become so thoroughly well known to the subject, that it comes out on your cuffs or even on scraps of paper accidentally left in your pockets.

Nancy Smith: What did the doughnut say to the layercake?

John Rioux: I don't know. What?

Nancy: If I had as much dough as you have I wouldn't be hanging around this hole.

THRILLS

I felt his soft breath on my cheek,
And the gentle touch of his hand.
His very presence near me
Seemed a breeze on the desert sand.
He deftly sought my lips,
My head he did enfold.
Then he broke the silence with
"Shall the filling be silver or gold?"

A dame will never give you a dirty look if you use enough soft soap.
