Mary McDonald To Receive Service Award

Mary McDonald, a friend of all who have attended Husson College, will be receiving the first award given by the General Alumni Association for a member of the Husson Community who has given many years of dedicated and devoted service to the College.

Mary will be celebrating her fortieth wedding anniversary in October with her husband Rex and her two children and three grandchildren. She came to Husson in 1956 as a friend of the President of Husson to operate the bookstore on a part-time basis. Prior to that, there was no bookstore at Husson. In 1959 the job became full time, and Mary has been at it ever since. She retires next year.

Mrs. McDonald has many fond memories of the many faculty and hundreds of students she has dealt with at Husson. In fact, she has said that she has yet to meet one she hasn't liked and looks forward to seeing many of them at the Alumni Banquet on Saturday, September 27.

Outstanding Alumnus Award To Be Shared

Clara L. Swan '33 and Karl B. McGaw '63 will be dual recipients of the Outstanding Husson Alumnus Award at the Annual Banquet during Homecoming '75 on September 27.

Miss Swan has long been associated with Husson. After receiving her Teacher-Training Diploma from Husson, she went on to American International College for her Bachelor's Degree and to the University of Maine for her Master's in Education. In 1971 she received an Honorary Ph.D. from Fort Lauderdale University and a Distinguished Service Award from the University of Maine.

After teaching at Mexico High School and Foxcroft Academy, Miss Swan came to Husson in 1939 and stayed until 1973 in posts ranging from faculty member to Academic Dean to Vice President and Assistant to the President. She is currently Executive Vice President at Casco Bay College in Portland, Maine.

Mr. Karl McGaw will also be receiving the Outstanding Husson Alumnus Award. After attending Beal Business College for one year, he was a secretary in the Engineering Department of the Great Northern Paper Company in Millinocket. While attending Husson, he worked in the office of the Superintendent of the Bangor School System. Upon graduation he was employed at Bangor High School as a business teacher. After four and one-half years at Bangor High, he joined the Husson Faculty in September, 1967. In 1972 McGaw received his Master's Degree in Education from the University of Maine.

President of the Alumni Association for two years and completing his third year as the Executive Director and Secretary, Karl will become a student again this year at the University of Maine in a Certificate of Advanced Studies program, an opportunity made possible by the Title III, Developing Institutions grant.

From The Alumni President

I hope everyone will make an effort to attend HOMECOMING '75 on September 26 and 27. In addition to recognizing our outstanding alumnus, a distinguished service award will be made to Mary McDonald. Mary has been a loyal employee since 1956 and a friend to everyone with whom she has come in contact. She is certainly deserving of this first annual Distinguished Service Award.

For the first time, we will recognize two Outstanding Alumni - - Karl McGaw, '63 and Clara Swan, '33. Mary, Karl, and Clara will be our special guests at the Awards Banquet on September 27.

A list of nominees for 1975-76 officers and directors is included in this newsletter. Peggy (Brewer) Youngblood, '64, and her nominating committee deserve a vote of thanks for their tireless effort in selecting such a fine slate of officers and directors. You can help elect this group or make nominations from the floor by attending the annual business meeting on September 27. The Alumni Association Board of Directors represents all alumni - - so plan to participate in its selection.

A reminder that your Alumni Board meets on the first Tuesday of each month and all alumni are invited to attend. Even though you may be unable to attend monthly meetings, we do hope you will plan to attend this year's Homecoming. A lot of thought and effort has gone into making this an outstanding weekend. Come and enjoy it with us.

Eugene Smith, Director of Admissions

The Admissions Office has been reorganized and streamlined in an effort to reduce costs. With fewer staff people to help, we are going to be even more dependant upon alumni support in referring interested students to us.

At Homecoming, 1974, we distributed a questionnaire seeking indications of alumni willing to assist in recruiting new students. Over seventy-five alumni volunteered their assistance and are now listed in the Husson College Catalogues as references. Some alumni will, on occasion, attend college nights in their home areas to answer questions about the college.

We need additional alumni volunteers from the following geographic areas: Northern Maine, Southern New Hampshire, Upstate New York, Long Island, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and states outside of New England.

Alumni who are interested in helping the Admissions Office may call toll free 1-800-341-7390 if they live outside of Maine, or 1-800-432-7388 in Maine. Admissions Secretary, Mrs. Loraine Green, will be happy to forward questionnaires to any interested alumni.

OFFICERS OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION NOMINATED

The Nominating Committee of the Alumni Association, chaired by Peggy Brewer Youngblood, presented the following slate of officers to the Alumni Board of Directors at its June 6 meeting.

OFFICERS: 1975-76

President	Nancy (Wells) McKenny '59
1st V-P	Richard Inman '72

3 years	Barry Hobert '70
	Dean Neal '62
	Hildred Phillips '55

Nomination of additional names and selection of the officers of the Husson Alumni Association will take place at Homecoming.

Former Dean Of Columbia Graduate School To Address Alumni

George F. James, former Senior Vice President of the Mobil Oil Corporation and Dean of the Graduate School of Business at Columbia University will be the guest speaker for the Alumni Homecoming Brunch at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, September 27, in the Dickerman Dining Commons. Mr. James, a resident of Cos Cob, Connecticut, and Christmas Cove, Maine, is a member of Husson College's Board of Trustees.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Chicago, James received his J. D. degree from the University of Chicago Law School where he edited the Chicago Law Review, and his LL.M. from the Columbia University Law School. In addition to practicing law in Chicago, he was a member of the faculties of the Ohio Law School and the Chicago Law School.

During World War II James joined the Chicago Ordnance District of the U.S. War Department, handling contract renegotiations as Chief of the Price Adjustment Section. After the war he joined the Standard Vacuum Oil Company as Counsel advancing to the positions of Treasurer, then Director. He also served at that time as a Director of the National Foreign Trade Council and as Chairman of the Council's Tax Committee.

In 1948 James joined the Mobil Oil Corporation, becoming Senior Vice President (Finance) in 1959 and a Director and member of the Executive Committee. In 1969 he became Dean of the Graduate School of Business at Columbia University, a post he held until 1971.

In addition to his corporate and educational positions, James has been a member of several advisory or policy bodies. He served as a member of the Fowler Task Force appointed by President Kennedy (Task Force on Promoting Increased Foreign Investment in United States Corporate Securities and Increased Foreign Financing for United States Corporations Operating Abroad). In 1965 and 1966 he was the principal Technical Advisor to the Advisory Committee on Balance of Payments for the U.S. Department of Commerce.

A former member of the Committee for Economic Development and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, James is currently active on several boards of major corporations.

Alumni are encouraged to attend the brunch.

Husson Receives $100,000 Grant

Husson College has received a federal grant of $100,000 to strengthen its curriculum, student services, and administration. Awarded the monies under the Developing Institutions program in the U.S. Office of Education, Husson is one of fewer than twenty institutions to be newly funded out of a pool of several hundred applicants. The University of Maine at Orono will be assisting Husson in the design and implementation of the program.

Nearly half of the grant funds have been designated to establish a counseling program to identify students who may have academic weaknesses before those students get into difficulty and to assist students in developing their basic skills.

Administrative Support

As a result of the grant, Husson will develop a new curriculum in Distributive Education Teacher Training and strengthen its program in Accounting and Court and Conference Reporting. In addition, two faculty members, Dolores Renaud from the Business Education Department and Karl McGaw of the Secretarial Science Department, have been awarded advanced study fellowships to pursue graduate work.

The remaining funds will be used to provide administrative support at Husson to coordinate projects under the grant and in order to develop additional projects.

Under the Developing Institutions program, a college is awarded funds with the understanding that another institution or agency will provide resources, consultants, or other services. The University of Maine at Orono, which aided Husson in preparing the proposal for the grant, has offered its expertise in pertinent areas.

Husson was awarded the federal grant on the merits of a proposal submitted in October 1974 and as a result of its own efforts to strengthen college programs and administration. The award of regional accreditation in May 1974 and the improved financial posture of the college are demonstrations of the college's advances in the past two years.

From The President

Franklin A. Peters

In the February issue of the Alumni Newsletter I wrote briefly about the condition and prospects of the College. In essence, our task was to make both ends meet. You may now ask, "Have we?".

All in all the year has been a good one. A few disappointments, to be sure, but mostly the news is favorable and we enter the new year in a spirit of optimism.

For the fiscal year ended June 30th, total expenditures were within 1.4% of budgeted amounts despite inflationary and recessionary pressures. This accomplishment reflects stern measures and sacrifices on the part of many of our faculty and administration.

Although we had to enforce strict budgetary controls, we did maintain and even improve upon our educational and administrative standards. Of 35 full-time faculty members, 14 now hold doctorates. Federal assistance will not only promote individual improvement but will also provide additional personnel where needed. The introduction of new courses and the Distributive Education and Cooperative Education programs will help meet today's educational needs in the field of business.

Both the appointments of a full-time Dean of Student Life and a Director of Career Planning and Placement are adding to the services we render our student body. At the same time we have succeeded in making life on campus that much more enjoyable by improved life style in the dormitories, better maintenance of buildings and grounds and the beginnings of a well-rounded activity calendar. Student morale will continue to be a major concern of ours. On the academic side we will have next year a federally funded program providing academic assistance to students needing help in basic skills.

However, the task of making both ends meet is a never ending one. It requires the cooperation of all of us. That cooperation at Husson College, I feel, is an enduring one; and I am very proud of the efforts of the Husson people: students, faculty, administrators, staff, trustees and many of the alumni.

For this coming year's budget, we plan to have a net contribution of $50,000, after including the interest and principal amortization on private debt service but not including the federal debts on which we have presently a moratorium.

Arriving at this positive figure will require, among other things, a successful year in both admissions and fund raising. In both these areas, the alumni can be of vital help to us. Our Admissions Office has already contacted you for help and many of you have responded. In fund raising, we plan to establish an annual fund in which alumni will be asked to participate. Our alumni goal for 1975/76 is $15,000, so you will be hearing more from us.

Good luck and smooth sailing for Husson College!

HUSSON INSTALLS COMPUTER

Husson College has recently installed a computer system for the campus in response to rising needs for more extensive data and faster information retrieval. Received on July 1, the computer, a PDP 11 / 40 system, is manufactured by the Digital Equipment Corporation in Maynard, Massachusetts, a leader in the mini-computer market.

A committee comprised of Board of Trustee members Frank Carter, partner in the accounting firm of Brooks and Carter, and

New People At Husson

A number of new people have joined the Husson community as a result of hiring made possible by the receipt of federal funds.

Recipients of National Teaching Fellowship funds under Title III are two faculty from North Carolina and Massachusetts. One of these faculty will also be involved in the planning and development of a new major at Husson in Distributive Education.

Ms. Bonnie Mae Bunch, a new member of the secretarial science department, taught stenography and secretarial science at Western Piedmont Community College and Montgomery Technical Institute.

Mrs. Diana B. Beaudoin comes to Husson from the Alumni Office at Amherst College. She holds an M.Ed. degree from the University of Massachusetts with a concentration in Distributive Education. She has also done post graduate work.

Mrs. Beaudoin has taught at various institutions ranging from middle school to college in both Vermont and New Hampshire, as well as having been associated with several diverse community and governmental groups.

An addition to the administration is William B. Eisenhardt in the position of Director of Student Life. Mr. Eisenhardt attended the Naval Academy and Duke University, where he is currently a Ph.D. candidate with his coursework completed.

Eisenhardt has taught and coached as well as held several administrative positions at Duke. He was also president of Alpha Tau Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary education society.

Working closely with Eisenhardt is Ms. Nancy Hall, Director of Remedial Counseling. After graduating from North Carolina State at Raleigh she earned an M.Ed. from Duke University and is certified by North Carolina in English and in Guidance and Counseling.

Ms. Hall's most recent position was as a counselor for the Special Services Project for Wilson County Technical Institute in North Carolina. She is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

Joining Mr. Eisenhardt and Ms. Hall in the Office of Student Services as an executive secretary is Regina Erickson. Prior to accepting the position at Husson, Mrs. Erickson was the assistant credit manager and executive secretary of R. B. Dunning and Co., a local wholesale concern.

Filling the newly created post of Cooperative Education Coordinator is Dr. Herbert Sonthoff of Belfast. A native of Berlin, Germany, Dr. Sonthoff received an M.A. from the University of Georgia, a Ph.D. from the University of Berlin, and an M.A. from Harvard.

Subsequently, he taught at Mount Holyoke College and part-time in Smith and Amherst Colleges as well as at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania. He was also a visiting professor at Boston University and at Northeastern University.

Following his teaching duties, Dr. Sonthoff worked for the federal government and for the past twenty years has been a management consultant.

Timothy M. Garvey has been promoted from admissions representative to development assistant, coordinator of Title III. In his new post, Mr. Garvey will coordinate the funds from the current Title III grant as well as assist in writing the 1976 application.

Mr. Garvey holds a B.A. from Curry College in Massachusetts and attended graduate courses at Anna Maria College.

Joining Mr. Garvey in the Development Office is Ms. Barbara Manuel Beers, as an executive secretary. Ms. Beers received a B.A. in Journalism from the University of Maine at Orono in 1974.

Also joining the Husson staff is Loraine Green, an administrative secretary for the Admissions Office. Prior to accepting the position, Mrs. Green worked for Jones College in Florida.

John Mann, a 1975 graduate from Husson, has been appointed as Veterans Affairs Coordinator at Husson. He will be reporting to the Director of the External Degree Program, William Lindsay.

EXTERNAL PROGRAMS CONTINUE TO EXPAND

With the opening of a new Saturday College at Rumford this fall, enrollment for the External Degree Programs of Husson College is expected to exceed 350 for the 1975-76 academic year. Under the leadership of Dean William A. Lindsay, Director of External Programs, the Saturday College concept has grown from an enrollment of 40 at the original Portland site.

With the addition of the Rum-

HELGESON MEMORIAL FUND

Dennis C. Helgeson

A memorial fund in the name of Dr. Dennis C. Helgeson, former chairman of the Natural Science Division at Husson, will be established at Husson at the request of his wife, Julia Hokenstadt Helgeson.

Dr. Helgeson died of a cerebral hemorrage in Montreal, Quebec, on August 11 while en route to Bangor after visiting his parents in North Dakota. He was 35 years old.

An associate professor at Husson since 1970, Dr. Helgeson came to Bangor from Parkersburg, West Virginia, where he was a research chemist with E. I. DuPont Company. He graduated from Minot Model High School and received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Minot State College in North Dakota. He was awarded a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Chemistry by North Dakota State University in 1966.

While a member of the Husson faculty, Dr. Helgeson revised the science curriculum of the College. He was a member of the Arts Committee, the advisor of the Outing Club, and served on the Curriculum Committee.

With his family, Dr. Helgeson was an active member of the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Bangor. He served as President of the Congregation and as a member of the Church Council.

Dr. Helgeson is survived by his wife, a son, Scott, and a daughter, Anne. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald I. Helgeson of Minot, North Dakota.

Funeral services were held at the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Bangor on August 15. Plans are being made for a memorial service and burial in Minot, North Dakota.

Louise B. Miller Receives Doctorate

Louise B. Miller

Louise B. Miller of 89 Cumberland Street, Bangor, was awarded a Doctor of Humane Letters from Husson College at commencement ceremonies on May 18. Dr. Miller was a member of the faculty at Husson College from 1944 to 1968. Before retiring from Husson she was responsible for the renewal of certification of Husson's teacher training program which resulted through her efforts at the State Department of Education. Long an advocate of the Liberal Arts as an essential part of the curriculum of undergraduate work, Dr. Miller represented Husson College before the State Legislature, Committee on Education, when the College sought the degree granting privilege. In 1954 Husson College was able to award the Bachelor's degree to its graduates.

In 1974, Husson College was accredited by the prestigious New England Association of Schools and Colleges. Behind that great hour lay years of planning, organizing, and evaluating. It was under the leadership of Louise Miller that in 1967 Husson College was officially recognized as a suitable candidate for the great distinction of full accreditation.

As a classroom teacher Dr. Miller was highly acclaimed for her high academic standards and for genuine concern for the individual good of her students.

While at Husson College, Dr. Miller served as Husson's first Dean of Women. She also held the position of Chairman of the Department of Business Education.

Dr. Miller is presently working on a study of leadership for the Department of Behavioral Science at the University of Chicago and is a consultant for the Bureau of Public Administration at the University of Maine at Orono.

ALUMNI FUND COMMITTEE

An Alumni Fund Committee will be established to determine guidelines for an annual alumni fund appeal and for special projects. The seven member committee will be composed of three Husson alumni, the executive secretary of the Alumni Association, a Husson faculty member, a representative of the College Board of Trustees, and the Husson Director of Development.

With the approval of the Board of Directors of the Husson Alumni Association and of the Husson College Board of Trustees, the committee will establish policy and review procedures for solicitation of funds from alumni. Individuals interested in serving on the committee should forward their names to Karl McGaw, executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

ALUMNI TO BE SURVEYED

In October a survey will be conducted to gather information on alumni career patterns and other pertinent information including academic majors, prior positions and current occupations. The purpose of the survey is to help understand the effectiveness of Husson in educating its students for careers as well as to update Alumni files.

The survey, coordinated by the Office of Career Planning and Placement under the direction of Ann J. Korschgen will be sent to the graduates of the past fifteen years with a possible expansion to other classes at a later date. She will be aided by other Offices in the distribution of the survey and the tabulation of results.

Information thus gathered can be used for many purposes, while protecting confidentiality. Successful alumni can be invited to serve as resource people to relate their experiences to current students, to help advise the College in the review or development of curriculum, and to assist in providing cooperative education experiences or job placement for students. In addition, placement notices can be sent to interested alumni, to whom Husson provides lifelong placement services.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION GRANT RECEIVED

Husson College has been awarded an initial grant of $20,000 from the U.S. Office of Education (Title IV) to plan and develop a Cooperative Education Program, President Franklin A. Peters announced.

Ann J. Korschgen, Director of Career Planning at Husson, initiated the proposal selected for funding. Noting Husson's commitment to preparing students for careers in business, she said, "We feel that practical work reinforces the student's course of study and prepares that student for a realistic career choice. In addition, the student can earn money to help finance his or her education."

Under a Cooperative Education arrangement, a "work" semester is sandwiched between semesters of regular classroom learning. An attempt is made to place the student in a position relating to his or her academic interests. For example, a student whose major is accounting may work for a local clothing firm or franchise shop.

A student who gains work experience through a Cooperative Education program has an employment advantage over a student who has graduated without the practical experience. For the student with unclear occupational objectives, the experience can serve to orient him or her to the work-a-day world.

Dr. Herbert Sontaff, President of Transolve Systems, Inc., a consulting firm, and a former faculty member of Brandeis University, Northeastern University, and Swarthmore College, has been hired to coordinate the program. He and Mrs. Korschgen will be contacting potential employers to discuss their possible participation in a pilot project.

BUSINESS BREAKFASTS SCHEDULED

The Husson Business Breakfast speakers series has been scheduled for the following dates in the fall semester:

September 18
October 30
November 27

The 8:00 a.m. Thursday morning series provides a forum for individuals whose ideas or actions affect Maine. The breakfast is open to the public as well as alumni, students, and faculty.

The College will announce the identity of the speakers as soon as arrangements are complete.

● HUSSON INSTALLS

Cecil Wilson, comptroller for the Bangor Daily News; Husson President, Franklin A. Peters; Controller, Norman Lydick; and Supervisor of Data Processing, Robert Goodwin, studied the feasibility, costs, and alternative models for over a year before recommending the Digital model.

The system previously leased for administrative purposes was very limited in its uses. For instructional needs, Husson had a single terminal connection with the Dartmouth College time-sharing system in Hanover, New Hampshire. Since the new computer will expand educational usage, the Dartmouth connection has been discontinued. The computer system consists of a central processor with 96,000 characters of memory, a console terminal, three movable terminals, a card reader, a line printer, and two cartridge disk drives.

Alumni records, admissions reporting, budgeting, payroll and financial statements will be the next order of business for conversion.

Working in the computer center on either a part-time or full-time basis are the following: Robert Goodwin '62, Gloria B. Curtis '67, Marion Adams Olmstead '57, and Anne R. Lewis '67, and David Corthell, a student at Husson.

• EXTERNAL PROGRAMS

ford location, the Saturday College will be located in most of the major population areas of Maine. It affords the opportunity for persons who are employed full-time to obtain an A.B.S. or B.S. degree in Business Administration or Accounting without interrupting their employment, and without having to leave their home areas. Labeled the "backyard" concept by Al Weymouth, assistant to Dean Lindsay, the program has already produced graduates from the Caribou, East Millinocket, and Portland locations.

In addition to the Saturday College, an Evening Division, opened in January of this year, is located on the Bangor campus and serves the greater Bangor area.

Assisting in the Office of External Program is Stephanie Renfre, '74, who oversees all communications with External sites, and maintains the office records in conjunction with the Registrar and the Business Office.
