A graduate of Old Town High School, Steve has been active in numerous activities while at Husson. An officer in the Student Senate, a member of the Circle K Club, Steve has also found time to appear in the Husson Players' dramatic presentation. Last year, Steve attended the 7th Inter-Varsity Convention at the University of Illinois. This summer, he will travel to the University of Colorado for the 11th Annual Workshop on American Indian Affairs.

With the enthusiasm that Steve shows for all his undertakings, he will no doubt be successful as editor of the Ledger.

Husson Ledger published four times a year by Husson College, 157 Park St., Bangor, Maine 04401. Published in December, February, April and May.

President's Column

This is the last issue of the Ledger for the current school year. I have found all issues informative and interesting and I compliment the staff on its success as a publisher and on its hard work to please us.

As of this moment, my heart and mind are wrapped up in the activities incidental to the building of the new campus. The date for ground-breaking is June 12 and the Governor and Secretary of State will join us for that event. It is exciting. Everything that is speeding the new construction; the meetings, conferences, travel, human interest, and the rest keep me on my toes.

I am happy and pleased with the friends of the college who are taking an active part in raising the funds needed. Some of our finest citizens in the area are busy working for us. Their names, most of them, appear elsewhere in this issue. Our debt to them is great, as it is to those who are making gifts to help us on our way. Our community is proud of the college and its plans for the future. I salute the City of Bangor as my "home town".

Every student has a stake in the new campus. Some of you will be here to enjoy it. Those who graduate in '66 and '67 will have greater cause to point with pride to the fact that they are alumni of a college that had the vision and courage to prepare itself for the mounting challenges of the future. It is dedicated to the increase, the enlargement of its contribution to education and its service to youth. There is no nobler purpose.

Our nation's greatest natural resource is brain power. Did you think it was land? Water-power? Minerals? Oil? Timberlands? The dedicated intelligence of the country's citizenry is its prime asset. Thus we find Husson College engaged in the most important business of our time, that of developing and training the mental processes, of building brain-power; and shaping it as well. It is our cause for being.

I know that each of you would like to help the college with pledges of gifts. I also know that the average college student has little to spare after meeting expenses. If, however, as Mr. Hopkins suggested at the Easter assembly, you would each pledge one week's salary for the next three years, it would be a tremendous boost to the project nearest our hearts. Do what you can. The Lord loveth a cheerful giver.

To the June graduates, I extend my warmest wishes for exciting careers in your fields. To the underclassmen, a happy summer, good health, and a return in the fall. To all—I'm glad we met.

Cordially,

Chief

Placement Office

The Placement Office has sponsored two Career Days this spring. On April 13, business administration and accounting sophomores and Juniors attended a career day in Commerce Hall. The keynote speaker was Mr. James White, Director of Personnel, Jordan Marsh Company of Boston.

At 11:00 o'clock the students met in small groups led by the following local merchants: Mr. Edward Beausang, F. W. Woolworth Company; Mr. R. F. Fitch, F. W. Woolworth Company, Boston; Mr. James White, Red & Miller division of Emery-Waterhouse; Mr. David Donahue, Kresge's; Mr. Fred Bush, W. T. Grant Co., Shopping Center; Mr. Gordan Chase, Sears, Roebuck Co.; Mr. Robert Fletcher, Mammoth Mart Company; Mr. John Freese, Freese's Dept. Store; Mr. Mitch Sleeper, Sleeper's Dept. Store, and Mr. Albert Smaha, Columbia Super Markets.

At noon the visiting business men met for a luncheon at Husson Hall with faculty members of the Business Administration and Accounting Departments. The day's events were coordinated through Placement by Mr. Mueller.

On April 28, the annual career day for secretaries was held.

At 11:00 o'clock 55 senior secretarial women and the secretarial science instructors enjoyed a mock interview sponsored by the Bangor-Brewer Management Club; Mr. Gerald Robertson of Eastern Corporation; Mr. David Ferres of Bangor Hydro Electric Company and Mr. Edward Lumbert of Bangor and Aroostook Railroad took part. They were ably assisted by Miss Edna Dale of the Department of Education. Mr. Albert Weymouth of the General Education Department narrated and directed the skits which were followed by a lively discussion period.

At noon the students joined the Secretarial Department faculty members and program guests for a luncheon at Husson Hall.

Student committees were: Program: Dianne Wood, Donna Wood, Micheline LeBlanc, Hilda Hartford, Christine Artus; and Tickets: Betty Littlefield, Donna Clark, Brenda Libby, and Roberta Dyer.

Placements to this date have been fantastic. The following placements have been reported:

Accounting:

Thomas Bouchard—Wadleigh's of Auburn.
Danny Bryant—International Paper Company.
Gerard Cote—Peat, Marwick & Mitchell.
Blaine Goding—International Paper Company.
Gary Hibbard—Peat, Marwick & Mitchell.
George Lambert—Peat, Marwick & Mitchell.
Robert Levesque—Graduate School.
Santo Luiso—General Accounting Office.
Wayne Mallar—Price Waterhouse.
Dennis McLellan—Frank Rosse & Sons.
Stanley Morin—Prentiss & Carlisle.
Michael Nangle—VISTA.
Gerald Flaherty—Defense Contract Audit Agency.
Paul Peters—New York State Department of Audit and Control.
Douglas Pyatt—Defense Contract Audit Agency.

Business Administration:

Thomas Barrows—Shell Oil.
William Downs—International Harvester Company.
Walter Hunt—Dead River Company.
Hayden Schultz—F. W. Woolworth.
Kenneth Spooner—Paul Revere Life Insurance Company.

Most of the Business Administration majors are waiting replies. Many have two or three offers from which to decide.

Quite a few of the men are headed for service with Uncle Sam.

The Business Education majors are beginning to apply for the many positions available. Out of state salaries are luring some away from Maine again this year.

Our secretarial class is quite small in number this year. At this writing, the Placement Office has thirty-five secretarial jobs listed. At the present time, most of our young ladies have definite job commitments. Four of them are being considered for positions in the office of Senator Margaret Chase Smith.

Why Some Don't Get To Meetings

There's nothing much the matter with me
I'm just as healthy as I can be—
I have Arthritis in both my knees
And when I walk, I talk with a wheeze
My pulse is weak and my blood is thin,
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

My teeth will eventually have to come out
And my diet—I hate to think about.
I'm over weight and I can't get thin,
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

Arch supports I have for my feet,
Or I wouldn't be able to go on the street.
Sleep is denied me night after night
And every morning I am quite a sight.
My memory is failing, my head's in a spin,
I'm practically living on aspirin
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

The moral is—as this tale I unfold,
That you and me, who are growing old,
It's better to say I'm fine with a grin,
Than let it be known the shape we're in
How do I know my youth has been spent?
Cause my get-up and go has got-up and went.
But in spite of all that I'm able to grin,
When I think of where my get-up has been.
Old age is golden I have heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder as I get out of bed,
My hair's in the drawer, my teeth in the cup,
One eye is on the table until I get up,
As sleep dims the other I say to myself
Is there anything else I can lay on the shelf?
My friends are the same as in days gone by,
They're ready and willing to go down the road,
So I quietly let them carry the load.
I get up each morning, dust off my wits
Pick up the paper and read the Obits.
If my name is missing I know I'm not dead,
So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

— Anon.

To The Editor

Dear Mr. Lambert:

It is my feeling that many students should have more interest in the new campus. Those who are enthusiastic should work harder to spark the unenthusiastic.

Husson College is growing fast. The new campus will enlarge the enrollment as well as assure the academic recognition of our fine school. Unenthusiastic students somehow haven't associated themselves with the excitement of this reality.

It seems to me that each extra curricular organization on campus should be planning a Special. . . a special something to raise funds, to promote interest, to influence the public at large.

There was plenty of imagination displayed during Chief-for-a-Day campaigns. I would like to feel the same excitement for the new campus. Unlike Chief-for-a-Day, Husson is forever.

Sincerely yours,

David Mann

As Graduation Draws Near . . .

By GEORGE LAMBERT

As graduation draws near, I do not intend to become emotional and to express my great sorrow in having to depart the warmth and protection of the ivy-covered halls of my alma mater for the cold, cruel world of business and industry. Such sentimental stirrings would be antithetical to my nature. Nevertheless, in the nostalgia of tomorrow, I shall cherish many fond memories of Husson.

In the winter of my years as I sit in a comfortable rocking chair, puffing a corncob pipe, I shall remember my undergraduate days at Husson—the investment classes spent dozing behind the impressive cover of The Wall Street Journal; the endless hours devoted to the study of marketing, statistics, and data processing; the registration days at the end of an interminable queue, waiting to get a schedule changed by the academic dean; the numerous social events; the thronging crowds at the sports contests; the overwhelming school spirit displayed by the students; the excellent campus facilities; the Exchange Street bums. And then, I shall be sad and perhaps a tear shall glisten on my hollow cheek. But not now!

Goodbye, Husson. Look out world, here I come.

"A Point To Ponder"

Within the past weeks, five members of our Student Body have been dismissed from college for serious violations of regulations. The violations involved drinking and possession of beer in the Men's Dormitory. Another offense was brought before the Administration by a resident of the City and involved drinking and misuse of apartments.

The Administration and faculty wish you would think about this matter and how it might affect your future.

Firstly, your reputation is involved. Secondly, action taken by the Discipline Committee is recorded on your own permanent record. Thirdly, recruiting personnel read these reports and ask questions! Last but not least, if you are drafted and would like a career as an officer, any misdemeanor involving drinking and suspension will bar you from any consideration by the committee selecting officer candidates.

Another thought—if dropped permanently, this offense will jeopardize your future college career at any other institution.

IS IT WORTH THE CHANCE?

Dear Mr. Lambert:

As a Husson freshman, I am interested in the college's progress, and feel most strongly that the student body, as a whole, is too apathetic concerning college sponsored activities.

I was amazed at the first assembly I attended to see the small percentage of students in attendance. Turnout at the games is sketchy, too, and why didn't the Husson Players have a full house for their last series of one-act plays?

Many times I hear students complaining that Husson doesn't offer enough activities. It is quite obvious to me that there would be more extra curricular affairs if the students wanted them. Chronic complainers don't organize anything, and, sadly enough, it seems that they do not support anything, either!

Sincerely yours,

Pamela Kennedy

Ed.—Bravo, Pam. I could not agree with you more wholeheartedly (see "Know Thyself" editorial in Ledger Dec. 1964).

Dear George:

The students of Husson College are patiently (?) enduring Bangor's unfair zoning regulations. We are the helpless victims of the Bangor Police Department, whose motto must be "When funds get low, to Husson go."

I must admit my prejudice is 100% financial. Last month I paid $5.00 worth of parking tickets and I am sure that many students have had to pay more. I must park my car a five-minute walk from my classes in order not to receive one of these colorful "invitations". I am in good company. Ask any student who must use his car to travel some distance to school. He will support my complaint with receipts equal to mine.

The meters in front of the main building are acceptable. What causes the problem are the two-hour parking zones completely surrounding every other building in which we must attend class. Why can't these zones be removed? Why the two-hour limit?

Since student parking is a college problem, and the Ledger is the student mouthpiece, I thought I would use it to present this problem not only to the students, but also to the faculty and the administration.

Sincerely,

Dave Staples

Dear Mr. Lambert:

The students at Husson College seem to show little or no interest in debating issues of national concern. Last November Mr. Weymouth and a few students organized a Pro and Con Society with no prerequisites required for membership. Sufficient publicity was displayed but the turnout was disappointing. Only six students expressed interest!

The Pro and Con Society is an organization which provides each an opportunity to speak his mind. Some students feel they have all the answers to the "Draft" and "Viet Nam" issues; evidently they don't care to uphold their convictions in formal debate.

Next fall the Pro and Con Society will meet twice a week, regularly as any two-hour course but without credit. Consistent practice will sharpen our skills and eventually enable us to hold our own with the debating teams of Colby, Bowdoin, Maine and Bates.

Students who debate in the gym over their coffee might find within the Society an appropriate place to be heard and challenged.

Let's show the liberal arts colleges that future business leaders are thinking people, too! Fill the Society's roster next fall and be on the panel in October when a provocative issue is debated by the sharpest team in Maine—Ours!

Sincerely yours,

Roy Ferland

SPORTS

BASEBALL 1966

The 1966 Husson College baseball team has started off in fine fashion by winning four of their first five games. Husson opened the season at Eastern Nazarene on their annual southern trip and lost a 4-2 decision despite a fine pitching job by senior lefthander Wayne Hartford. Hartford pitched a seven hitter and cut down twelve batters on strikes, but shoddy infield play let in three unearned runs.

The next day Husson won their first game of the season at New Bedford Tech by a score of 11-6. Freshman Wayne LeBlanc relieved starter Burleigh Tibbetts in the second inning after Tech had scored three runs, gave up a bases loaded triple and then shut out New Bedford the rest of the way. Red St. Louis, Harry Greenfield and Lou Bonomo then led the hitters as Husson overcame the 6-1 deficit to win.

After a second game with New Bedford was rained out Husson won the final game of the trip by beating Curry College 6-3. Senior righthander Cal Heffington scattered twelve hits and struck out nine as Husson scored three times in the top of the ninth to break a three to three tie.

On April 28th Husson turned back the Colby Freshmen at Waterville 8-2 for their third straight win. Harry Greenfield and Lou Bonomo got three hits apiece to pace the Husson offense. Lefty Wayne Hartford started and pitched the first four innings allowing only one hit and then retired with a stiff arm. Another promising freshman, Lynn Wadleigh came on to go the rest of the way and pick up the victory.

Husson played their first home game of the season on Saturday, April 30th, and came away with their fourth straight win, an 11-3 decision over the University of Maine in Portland. Wayne LeBlanc started and went the first five innings giving up all the UMP runs. Cal Heffington came on in the sixth and mowed UMP down without a hit over the last four to save the win. Lynn Bailey and Lou Bonomo each had two hits to lead the Husson attack.

Coach Del Merrill's Indians are off to a fine year. With a good solid pitching staff headed by seniors Wayne Hartford and Cal Heffington, and some real fine hitters led by Lou Bonomo, Lynn Bailey, Red St. Louis, Rich Morano and the incomparable Harry Greenfield this is certainly an exciting team to watch.

Generally speaking the attendance at all Husson functions including athletics is very poor for a school of this size. This is really a fine team and they certainly deserve more support from the student body than they are getting. With the conference games coming up, let's all get out there and back the team up.

RIFLE CLUB

This, the first year of the Husson College Rifle Club was spent in organizing the members into teams. The club did, nevertheless, have one competitive meet against the freshman team of the University of Maine and another meet is scheduled for later in the semester.

The Rifle Club was officially recognized by the N. R. A. (National Rifle Association) and the D. C. M. (Director of Civilian Marksmanship) as a college rifle team. This recognition will enable the Club to draw rifles, ammunition, targets and awards from both the N. R. A. and the D. C. M.

The activities of the Husson College Rifle Club will draw to a close with the first annual awards banquet to be held at the Oronoka in May. At this banquet, the members who have met the requirements will receive N. R. A. certificates of attendance. The Club Champion will also be named at this time. The recipient of this award will get a medal from the N.R.A. and a plaque. The Club Champion is determined by shooting ability and by general conduct.

With new supplies available through the N. R. A. and the D. C. M., the Rifle Club hopes to have an even larger membership next year.

DANDY DUO

By BOB O'KEEFE

In June, Husson College will lose through graduation two of the finest baseball players in the history of the school. Pitcher Wayne Hartford and outfielder Harry Greenfield will finish their college baseball careers this spring. Let me tell you a little bit about these two fine athletes.

Wayne Hartford, who hails from Presque Isle, Maine, is undoubtedly the finest pitcher ever to throw a baseball for Husson College. The big lefty can either strike them out with his blazing fast ball or with his big curve. He usually does it both ways when he goes to the mound. He has won more games—14—and struck out more batters—182—than any other pitcher ever to play baseball at Husson. Wayne is a true competitor at all times when he is on the hill. In the past three seasons at Husson, Wayne has won 14 games while losing only 6. In 150 2/3 innings he has allowed but 82 hits and only 36 earned runs. Add 182 strikeouts against 45 walks, along with an earned run average of only 2.14 and you have an outstanding pitcher.

Outfielder Harry Greenfield from New Rochelle, New York, has made his mark in another way. Harry is a truly great hitter as witnessed by his batting feats over the past three years. He not only is an outstanding hitter, but he also is the possessor of a great throwing arm that has cut down many an opposing runner trying to take an extra base. He is a sure-handed outfielder, and I feel certain that every pitcher who he has played behind breathes just a little bit easier when they see a fly ball head out toward Harry in center field. In the past three baseball seasons, Harry has been at at bat 175 times, scored 49 runs and had 76 base hits for a batting average of .434. He has among his hits collected 15 doubles, 9 triples, 9 home runs and driven in 48 runs. I don't think any more has to be said —big Harry is a terrific ballpayer.

If you haven't seen either of them perform, I strongly suggest that you attend a home baseball game this spring. In closing I say, "Hats off to a couple of really fine baseball players."

Wayne Hartford and Harry Greenfield

Organizations

CIRCLE K

The Circle K Club played host for the 1965-66 New England District Circle K Convention which was held on April 16th, 17th at the Bangor House.

Chosen as Co-Chairmen were former District Lt. Gov. Dave Foulds and Bill Magliozzi, former co-editor of the "Yank", a New England District publication.

On Saturday, April 16, registrations were taken in the forenoon followed by the House of Delegate Meeting where a welcoming address was given by our District Chairman, Dr. Albert Willis and Charles Salerno, the International Secretary. Following took place a series of workshops—namely: Duties of Club Officers, Fund Raising, Service Projects, Inter-Club, Public Relations, Kiwanian-Club Advisors. At 5:30 p. m., the Bangor House Ballroom was the scene for the Governors Farewell Banquet. The "Call to Order" was given by Dave Foulds and the Invocation by Rev. Father Gorham. Following the dinner was the introduction of the head table by Dr. Willis and greetings from Convention Co-Chairman Bill Magliozzi, International Charles Salerno, and International Kiwanis Trustee Claude Ryder. Following the Banquet, the candidates press conference was held. This is the time where all candidates for District Office must face their fellow members. The press conference was followed by dancing to the music of the Continentals until midnight and the excitement of caucuses until dawn.

On Sunday, the second House of Delegates meeting saw the election of officers, and an address by International Kiwanis President Ed Keefe from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma introduced by Kiwanis Governor Blake King. Lunch Sunday afternoon was highlighted by the announcement of the election winners, presentation of trophies and an address by International Kiwanis Advisor to Circle K, Bill Jepson.

Receiving the "Single Service Achievement Award" was the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. The award is given to the club which does the most as an entire club to help an individual, school, or the nation in a single project. The highest award, "The Individual Club Achievement Award" was given to the first three clubs for their service and social activities of their respective clubs. Receiving the first place title was Husson College, second place Lowell Institute of Technology, third place, University of Maine at Portland.

Elected as officers were: Governor: Kenneth Vizino, University of Hartford, and Special Ambassador to Rhode Island; Secretary: Lonnie Temple, Husson College; Treasurer: Stuart Heller, Husson College; Lt. Governors: Div. 3, James Mello, Southern Massachusetts Vocational Technical Institute (SMVTI), New Bedford, Mass.; Div. 4, Kenneth Brenner, Boston University; Div. 6, William Kaufman, University of Maine at Portland; Div. 7, Barry Hochberg, Husson College.

Elected as editor of the "Yank" was Lowell Institute of Technology. The clubs attending were: Babson Institute, Wellesley, Mass., Central Maine Vocational Technical Institute (CMVTI), Lewiston, Lowell Institute of Technology, Quincy Junior College, Southern Massachusetts Vocational Technical Institute (SMVTI) New Bedford, Mass., Thomas College, Waterville, University of Hartford, University of Maine at Orono, University of Maine at Portland, Ward School of Electronics, Hartford, Aroostook State Teachers College, Washington State Teachers College, and Husson College.

STUDENT SENATE

With the end of the academic year almost in view, the students, like any electing group, ask what the Student Senate has done. And the senators, like any elected officials, are quick to admit that though their undertakings have been considerable, they have not had the opportunity to do all that was planned. The electors are a bit accusing and menacing; the elected appear to be excusing and rationalizing. But, if one forgets momentarily his role in the Senate, be he representative or represented, and examines the activities of the Student Senate from an objective viewpoint, he will discover that the Senate has had notable achievements.

This year, the Senate has organized the publication of a daily bulletin, designed to keep the students informed of the activities of the faculty and of current campus events. Faculty members have expressed appreciation of this bulletin which allows them to maintain a closer communication with the student body.

Recently, the Student Senate sponsored the annual "Chief-For-A-Day" week (see p. 6). The Senate establishes the requirements for candidate eligibility, enacts the governing rules and regulations, tabulates the results of the election, and sees to the general orderliness of the campaigns. Due to the ever-increasing enrollment, some senators feel that the rules will have to be more stringent than in the past to curb any excesses that might arise.

Though these are the two undertakings which the students tend to notice, the Senate has functioned effectively in other areas: the planning of student assemblies, the granting of financial assistance to needy students, the presenting of student opinions to the administration, to mention but a few of the Senate's lesser known achievements.

Looking in retrospect at the Senate activities throughout the year, no one can deny that this student organization has strived to benefit the students. Realizing that stagnation is diametrically opposed to progress, the Student Senate hopes for even greater achievements next year.

S. E. A.

At the April meeting, the Student Education Association enjoyed a talk by Mr. William McIntosh, assistant superintendent of the Bangor schools. He spoke on qualities he looks for when considering a teacher's position from the 270 applications he reecives each year. He hires about 45 new teachers every year. We were proud to hear that six out of the seven business teaching positions in the Bangor school system were held by Husson graduates.

The members of S. E. A. enjoyed a scallop and chicken banquet at the Oronoka, Tuesday, the 10th of May. This was our last meeting of the year. Have a good summer, see you next year.

KDP

Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity held its national convention in Albany, New York, this year, from April 15th through the 17th. The brothers from Lambda Chapter here at Husson who were fortunate enough to attend welcomed the opportunity to meet the brothers of the other chapters and enjoyed their trip tremendously. Though there were seminars, lectures, and conferences, there were also banquets, dances, and parties to add a gay touch to the proceedings.

At the end of May, Kappa Delta Phi will begin its annual rush program for prospective pledgees for next fall. Though many students have already taken the initiative and shown an interest in the fraternity, it is hoped that more will do so. Only if the fraternity brothers get to know a student can they decide whether or not he would be a valuable asset to the organization.

The end of May will also bring the annual outing and lobster feed at Bar Harbor. This final social event of the academic year promises to be a rousing climax to a fruitful year.

NEW OFFICERS

Bill Abbott, Dave Hart, Steve Flanagan, Gene Melville, and Bill Collins.

MEX

Formal installation of officers of Mu Sigma Chi was held at the fraternity house, on Tuesday, April 26, after the regular meeting. Past President Gerard Cote discussed our progress over the past year and President-Elect William Abbott told of plans and activities for the coming year.

Presently, we are working together to firm up our pledge program for 1966-67. All the Brothers are enthused and this year's program should prove a great success.

When we move to our new campus in 1968, MEX has in mind plans for a modern new fraternity house. Not only will it benefit the Brothers, but it will contribute greatly to the spirit of the new school.

ETE

With the cadet teachers back and new members in the chapter, Epsilon Tau Epsilon is in full swing this last quarter.

A successful food sale was held on the weekend of April 22nd. These gals are pretty good cooks! Proceeds were given to the Husson College Building Fund.

The Senior Ball, sponsored by the Chapter, will be held on June 4th at the Hampden Academy Gym. All June 1966 and February 1967 graduates are given free bids. Underclassmen will be able to purchase bids at the Bookstore. The decorations planned for this year's Ball will be very outstanding, so circle the date on your calendar and plan to attend this gala event!

Many sisters are planning to attend the Pi Rho Zeta International Conclave in Lubbock, Texas in August. As it looks now, three modes of travel are expected. Those E.T.E. girls plan to get there and win the Travel Trophy again this year! Paulie Thompson and Rosie Hawkes are anticipating a long drive by car while Genny Bass, Liz Pullen, Angela Brasslett, Miss Swan and Miss Bradford take to the air. Speeding along via the New York Central, Santa Fe and Pan Handle Express train systems will be Diane Cuozzo and Marlene Lloyd, official delegate. Hope they all get to the right place at the right time!

Many exciting events are planned for the gals. A rodeo, a barbecue, and even a trip to New Mexico to the Carlsbad Caverns are just a few of the things that they will attend. Watch out for those Texas accents when they return!

A Secret Pal Party was held May 25. The girls had a cookout and went swimming, boating and water skiing.

We want to take this opportunity to wish the best of luck to our senior sorority sisters who will be graduating. They are: Diane Cuozzo, Mary Jane Dunphey, Carolyn Dodge, Gloria Merryman, Betsy Skilling, Paulie Thompson, Carolyn VanAken, Bobbie Willard, and Linda Wyman.

DSD

Delta Sigma Delta girls enjoyed a weekend in Boston in March. Mrs. Francoeur and Miss Babson accompanied the group. Everyone had a wonderful time, and hopefully this will become an annual event.

Other activities keeping the girls busy are raffle ticket sales, fudge sales, and planning the banquet and picnic marking the end of the year. The banquet will be held at Pilots Grill with election of officers following dinner. Miss Kinney will be the hostess at her camp for the picnic.

The officers and members of Delta Sigma Delta offer their congratulations to Sandra Libby on her engagement to Stephen Ames of Kappa Delta Phi.

Young Republican Club

The Young Republican Club is presently working for Mr. Foley's campaign for Congress. The club prepared Mr. Foley's headquarters and assisted in the grand opening of the Foley For Congress headquarters Friday, May 6.

A topic suitable for debate has been accepted by both the Young Dems and Young GOPs. The debate will be held sometime in the middle of May with Frank Fahey and Ralph Girafalco representing the YGOPs.

At the last meeting, our advisor told of the recent Republican convention held at Augusta and some of the plans he has for his future campaign. Also discussed was the upcoming Young Republican convention.

CAST MEMBERS

Front: Earl Goodyear, Marilyn Hall, Linda Whitney.

"Three Men on a Horse"

The John Cecil Holm-George Abbott 3-act comedy, "Three Men on a Horse," will be performed on the Husson stage May 25 and 26, when the Husson Players present their major show of the year at 8 p. m. in Commerce Hall.

Many new faces will be seen on the Husson stage, with three cast members coming from the Northern Conservatory of Music, whose students have been invited to join the Husson Players this year. Most of the cast and production staff is made up of experienced members of the Husson Players and the show is directed by Albert E. Weymouth, who has directed drama at Husson for the past three years.

Heading the cast, in the role of Erwin Trowbridge, is Earl Goodyear of Brick Township, New Jersey, while Marilyn Hall of Patten, a student at the Northern Conservatory of Music, will play Mabel. Linda Whitney, of Jonesboro, will make her second appearance for the Husson Players this year as Audrey Trowbridge, Erwin's wife, while veteran performer Seth Gilman, of Bangor, will play Clarence, her overly protective brother.

Other students from the Northern Conservatory who have roles in the play are Ralph Smart, of Bangor, who will play Harry the bartender, and Daryl Kelley, of South Portland, who plays Patsy, a bookie.

Ralph Beckwith of Bangor, will play Charlie, one of the gamblers, while Robert Forgues of Lewiston, will play the other gambler, Frankie. Anne Lewis of Bangor, will play a reporter named Gloria, while Tom Hindle, of Dover, New Hampshire, will be Al, the newspaper photographer. The role of Mr. Carver, Erwin's boss, will be taken by Darrell Young, of Old Town. Dan Page, of Bangor, will be the Tailor; Ken Foster, of Bucksport, will be the Delivery Boy; Dan Miller of Margretville, N. Y., is Moses; and Lorraine Webber, of Bar Harbor, will be the Maid. Cheryl Libby, Charleyne Stubbs, Lorraine Webber, and Chris Rickards are prompters as well as understudies for cast members.

"Three Men on a Horse" was first presented at the Playhouse in New York City on January 30, 1935 and turned out to be a "sleeper" which has been played with great success since that time. Several years ago, Wally Cox played Erwin in summer stock at the Camden Hills Theatre, Camden, Maine. The play concerns a rather meek writer of poetry for greeting cards who has, as a hobby, been rather successfully predicting the results of horse races. A trio of horse-betters learn of Erwin's ability and encourage him to use his talents for their mutual profit. Erwin's trusting nature, and his inability to cope with too much to drink, bring about a series of hilarious events that will have the audience in gales of laughter. The witty lines and laughable situations created by the authors, and developed by the cast, will provide an entertaining night of theatre, in the true tradition of the Husson Players.

An added feature of the evening's entertainment will be the sound of the "Big Band," a 16-piece "Stage Band" from the Northern Conservatory of Music, directed by Jerry Brown. The band will play appropriate music between acts.

A large production staff will see that the production runs smoothly. Barak Gurney, the stage manager, will be in charge of backstage work. He will be assisted by Randy Murphy, who will also handle lighting. Steve Robbins has been named Promotion Manager for the show, and will be in charge of publicity and ticket sales. Sound effects will be handled by Tom Hindle, while make-up, properties, ticket sales, and costuming, will be handled by members of the Husson Players.

Husson and Northern Conservatory of Music students will have an opportunity to obtain tickets at a reduced price prior to the dates of the performances. Tickets will be available at the Bookstore, and will be sold in pairs at $1.50 a pair. Regular tickets will sell for $1.00 each.

For the third year, the Husson Players are inviting drama clubs from area high schools to make up "theatre parties" to attend "Three Men on a Horse." The high school thespians are admitted at reduced prices and represent students who have been involved in drama in their respective schools during the past year.

By special vote of the Husson Players, a sum of money of not less than $100 will be given to the New Campus Building Fund from proceeds of the play.

Secretarial Science Career Day

She wore stretch pants, she was chewing gum, and the volume on her voice was turned to loud.

Miss Edna Dale, a junior in the Business Education Department, was not her usual self, but the gal in the skit who was about to not get a job.

The occasion for the little drama was Career Day at Husson College, attended by some 55 senior secretarial women and their secretarial science instructors.

The skit, sponsored by the Bangor-Brewer Management Club, presented Gerald Robertson of Eastern Corporation interviewing three job applicants.

Miss Dale, portraying the loud mouthed female was followed by David Ferris of the Bangor Hydro Electric Company, whose opening remark was, "What ya got for a job, man?" He had breezed in without appointment and lacking the credentials a good applicant is expected to take with him.

Carroll Brochu, also of Bangor Hydro, arrived for his interview by appointment, spoke courteously and presented his credentials. He also had an original essay on the field to which he was applying.

Albert Weymouth of Husson's General Education Department narrated and directed the skits.

The program was organized through the Husson placement office by James L. Wright and coordinated by Miss Mildred Bradford, director, and Miss Janet Kinney, assistant director, of the Secretarial Science Department.

HUSSON MAY HAVE A SUMMER TOURING COMPANY

At its April meeting the Husson Players voted to take steps toward investigating the possibility of organizing a summer stock company which would present popular Broadway shows in various Maine communities during the summer. The company would prepare one or two shows, then make them available to community service clubs that are attempting to earn funds for charitable ventures. Such a company would make available to the hundreds of Maine communities that have no theatre, an opportunity to view "live" theatre at a nominal cost. The company would be completely non-profit and turn its funds to special scholarships for participating students or to the purchase of theatre equipment for the college.

MORE THEATRE-IN-THE-ROUND FOR HUSSON NEXT YEAR

On March 11th, when the Husson Players inaugurated its workshop series, with a theatre-in-the-round presentation of three one-act plays, the reception was so favorable from both audience and performers, that another such production is to be scheduled for next season. In fact, drama director Albert Weymouth has hinted that once we are on the new campus, the major show of the year may be presented in-the-round, since no auditorium is planned for the immediate future, and theatre-in-the-round lends itself so well to any situation.

Plans for next year by the Husson Players include two workshop productions and one major play. Selection of the shows and style of presentation will be made by the members of the Husson Players at their meetings next fall.

As the steering committee members continue to work diligently, the Husson "H" continues to fill in, showing the results of the building fund drive.

CHIEF FOR A DAY

Midnight, April 17, "Chief-For-A-Day" week began. The backers of the respective candidates had spent many hours of planning the campaigns and selecting themes and now was the time to try them.

Commerce Hall was literally wall-papered with signs and posters, evoking the merits of the candidates and their secretaries.

The Bob O'Keefe camp based its campaign on the "Munsters." (The art work and make-up was indeed wonderfully hideous.) Bob O'Keefe and his running mate, Bobbi Dyer, played unique roles as Fred Munster and wife. Before the assembled student body, Mad Professor, Ed "Horrible" Hadley, assisted by two fiends of his, Buster Pupkis and Chuck Newton, brought candidate O'Keefe to life. Fred Munster proved to be too much for all of them. Everything went into chaos.

Stu "Irving" Heller portrayed "Big Fat Irving," with Diane Lavway as his girl. Irving and his gang of ruthless cowboys even captured Miss Swan for their parade on Tuesday morning. Miss Swan did not appear too disturbed, however, riding in a chauffeured Lincoln Continental. All of "Irving's" boys wore the sign Mogen David. "Irving" even proved to be quite the expert with horses, surprisingly enough. At last, in the skit, "Big fat dumb-dumb Irving gunned himself down."

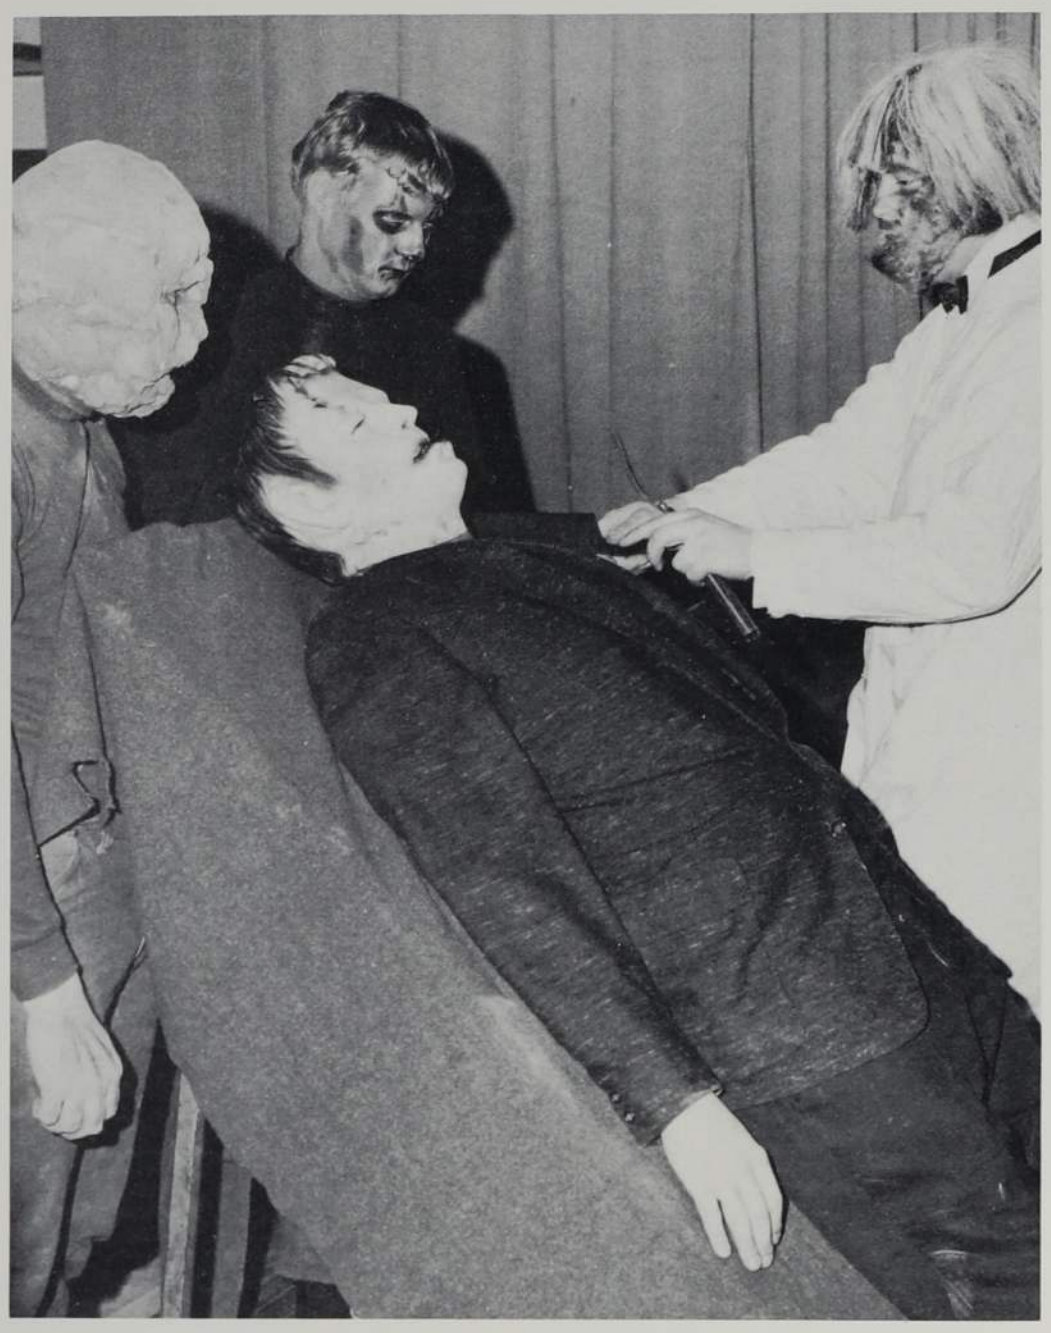

Bob Cox's theme was "Dudley-Do-Right." His running mate was Brenda Leeman. Dudley did have his troubles! Dudley's trumpeter, Steve Robbins, added humor to the week's festivities. Dudley's skit, presented on Wednesday morning, featured a group of "go-go" girls accompanied by one lucky male, Burt Phornphiboon. Dudley entertained the students and faculty with his singing. On Thursday morning, Dudley rescued "Poor Nel" from that vicious villain, Jerry Craven, by coming down from the top of the Main Building via a rope. Craven did get away, however.

The voting was held on Thursday and at the Bangor City Hall that evening, it was announced that Bob Cox and Brenda Leeman were elected as "Chief and Secretary."

Friday turned out to be a very exciting day. Chief Cox dismissed many classes and closed school at 10 a. m. After classes, a dance was held in the gym. Thus ended another enjoyable "Chief-For-A Day" week.

HISTORY

"Chief-For-A-Day" festivities are an annual event at Husson College. The signs, the posters, the skits, the parades, the general campaigning and "politikking" have become a harbinger of spring as well-recognized as the robin. During this week, the candidates vie for the honor of being elected college president or "Chief" for a day.

Though at times the merry-making and "goings-on" seem to detract from the objective of the candidates—the privilege of occupying Chief Husson's respected position of President of Husson College for a day—the candidates are no doubt the first to recognize that being Chief for a day is the highest student achievement on a non-academic basis that any student can possibly attain here at Husson.

A candidate who decides to run must receive 50 signatures and select a running mate for secretary. Upon his election as "Chief", the new chief receives the traditional war club from President Husson. The "club" symbolizes the new "Chief's" authority during his reign of one day.

It has been 16 years since the first "Chief for a Day" week was started. The college was then primarily composed of male students. The few Secretarial Science girls entered a "Dark Horse" candidate and almost won the position of "Chief for a Day." From that time on, each candidate selected a running mate to serve as his secretary.

This campaign is sponsored annually by the Student Senate.

Sorority Alumnae Banquet

April 30, 1966, at Pilots Grill

United States Senator Margaret Chase Smith was guest speaker at the 33rd Anniversary Banquet of Sorority Alumnae. Epsilon Tau Epsilon was celebrating its 33rd year. Delta Sigma Delta was celebrating its 13th year and Epsilon Delta Alumnae its 3rd year.

Seven charter members were present: Mrs. Marian Hayes Cheney, Mrs. Letitia Smith Clay, Mrs. Natalie Hansen Kelley, Mrs. Elizabeth Dickenson McConnell, Mrs. Sally Chapman Viricel, Mrs. Elaine Hanscom Anderson, and Mrs. Maxine Harris Tracey. The ladies were presented corsages.

President and Mrs. Husson held Open House at their home at 369 Ohio Street from 3:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Over one hundred women attended and renewed friendships with the Hussons. Senator Smith was in the receiving line. The Hussons were very gracious and this was one of the highlights of the reunion. Tea and coffee were served by members of Epsilon Delta.

Miss Priscilla A. Clark served as Toastmistress, and her introduction is printed herewith.

Margaret Chase Smith

"Recently I read the comment that America was built out of hard luck—that and codfish. There's a fascinating bit of Yankee humor in that remark, but it also conveys a more serious thought. Building a country as great as ours out of hard luck and codfish required valiant people and stalwart leaders—leaders willing to dedicate themselves to the well-being of this nation and its people. The need for such leaders is as great in 1966 as it was in 1776, and it is our privilege to have as our guest speaker a woman who has demonstrated by her record in Congress that she is an outstanding leader of our time.

"Her public-service career began in 1940 with her election to the United States House of Representatives, an office she held for nine years. In 1948, when she was elected to her first term in the United States Senate by the greatest total vote majority in the history of Maine, she became the first woman ever to serve in both Houses of Congress. In her bid for re-election to the Senate in 1960, she was the top vote-getter of all Republican Senatorial Candidates and became the only woman ever elected to three full terms in the Senate.

"Four years later, in 1964, she was accorded the signal honor of being the first woman ever to have been placed in nomination for President of the United States at a national convention of a major political party, and in the final ballot at that convention, she received the second highest number of votes.

"However, all of her time has not been spent in achieving "firsts" and "onlys"—her business is being a Senator. During her three terms in the Senate, she has served on several committes and at present, she is on the Appropriations Committee, the Armed Services Committee, the Space Committee, and the Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee. The all-time consecutive roll call voting record, 2,178 roll call votes without a miss, which she has established is unmatched in the entire history of the Senate. Forty-eight colleges have awarded degrees to this woman and many national honors have been bestowed upon her in recognition of her outstanding service in her chosen career.

"By a Gallup poll rating, she is one of the four most-admired women in the world—one of the four most-admired women in the world. Such acclaim does not come by accident. Maine's favorite daughter has earned this respect and admiration.

"A stalwart leader indeed.

"May I present to you now Maine's senior United States Senator, the Honorable Margaret Chase Smith."

* * * *

"Thank you, Senator Smith. Your address has been very enjoyable. By the words of your address and the example which you have set as you have blazed the trail, I assure you that you have set the wheels turning in 200 female heads tonight. I'm sure I express the thoughts of this entire group when I say that we are honored to have you with us tonight."

Clarkie was "The BEST." Miss Gail Buck of Epsilon Tau Epsilon asked the blessing.

Miss Clara Swan spoke of Epsilon Delta and the good times in Sorority. She reviewed the Fund Raising Project and threw out a $25,000 goal for Pi Rho Zeta Alumnae. If the goal is reached, the Bell Tower will be known as Pi Rho Zeta Bell Tower and will bear a plaque recognizing the donations of Sorority Alumnae. Any Sorority Alumnae making a donation will be included on the list—only one pledge is necessary—it counts in the total raised and is listed in Miss Swan's office as a Pi Rho Zeta contribution, also.

Herbert J. Kurtzheim, Executive Secretary-Treasurer of Pi Rho Zeta, flew to Bangor from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for the day. He spoke a few words. He presented his personal check to Mr. Husson for the Drive. We marked it Pi Rho Zeta!

Miss Sandra Frost spoke briefly. She is Corresponding Secretary of Pi Rho Zeta. Peggy Jo Youngblood extended the welcome to all.

New Sorority Sister

Margaret Chase Smith, Senior Senator from Maine, was presented a Life Membership in Epsilon Delta Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta. She was presented with a certificate and pin by President Peggy Jo Youngblood.

This was the largest social event of the year. Epsilon Delta members deserve much praise for the successful attainment of their goals. Over two hundred attended the event.

Scholarships Presented

Miss Gail Buck and Miss Donna Swan were awarded the Ethelyn Williams and Grace Stewart Memorial Scholarships at the Alumnae Banquet. These scholarships are $100 each. They were presentd by Miss Jordan, adviser to Epsilon Tau Epsilon.

Miss Meridel Blanchard was presented the annual Delta Sigma Delta Sorority Scholarship of $100 by Mrs. Catherine Francoeur, Adviser.

Miss Rosemary Hawkes was to be presented the Pi Rho Zeta Sweetheart of 1966 Trophy for second place at the banquet. She was ill and unable to attend. The trophy was presented by Miss Swan at a regular Sorority meeting.

Dear Mr. Wright,

Meant to drop a line soon after I arrived but time has flown and there doesn't seem to be many opportunities for letter writing.

Am working in the Bureau of Decorations and Medals in the Citation Office. This deals primarily with citations awarded in the field in Viet Nam. It's quite interesting, but strictly straight typing which can be rather boring at times. Everything I learned at Husson has really paid off. My boss is very pleased with my work (surprise!) and I'm being promoted next month to a GS-4 or a GS-5, depending on my shorthand. I may also be able to qualify for a GS-4 accounting position.

Never thought I would miss Bangor and Husson so much, but I sure do. I called the girls at the apartment last week and was ready to take the next plane home. This is the first time I have ever really been homesick and it's terrible. If it wasn't for my sister, I'd be home in a minute.

Want to thank you for all the help you gave me while I was at Husson. I did appreciate it and hope to see you again soon.

Sincerely yours,

Suzanne Thomsen

Ed.—Mr. Wright is the Placement Director.
