Shattering the Glass Ceiling: Susan Collins speaks about running for governor.

Susan Collins spoke on behalf of Women Across Campus Tuesday February 1, in Kominsky Auditorium. Collins gave an informative speech entitled "Shattering the Glass Ceiling: Opportunities for Women in Business and Government." The speech was based on her own personal experiences as Maine's first woman candidate for governor.

Susan Collins was the first woman nominated for governor in the states history.

Collins attributes a lot of her drive and determination to a strong family background. Both her mother and her father were Mayor of Caribou. As a young child, while seeing her mothers involvement in public service, strengthened her as a person and instilled in her the belief that women can accomplish anything as long as they work hard.

Collins, the first women nominated for governor in the states history, feels that "running for office was the most exciting and fascinating experience of my life." She added that despite the outcome and the many obstacles that faced her, she was happy that she had taken the risk of running. An example of one of the obstacles she had to overcome,(that her other male candidates didn't have to), was her stand on abortion. All four of the candidates shared the same pro-choice position, but only Collins had her headquarters picketed. The picketers felt that as a woman Collins shouldn't be making that stand.

A law suit was brought against Collins during her candidacy for governor by a gentleman questioning Collins Maine residency. Collins, a homeowner in the state of Maine for 12 years, feels that her Maine residency would not have been challenged had she been a male candidate.

The "glass ceiling" is a phrase used to describe the invisible barrier that prevents women from advancing to upper level management positions. In a recent study of women executives, they felt that women got promoted on performance, while men got promoted on potential. When up against a glass ceiling Collins suggests finding a mentor that will work with you and help you learn. "I was very fortunate to have Bill Cohen as a mentor who gave me opportunities and responsibilities that enabled me to grow professionally," Collins said.

Collins left her audience with some positive notes. By the year 2000 it is expected that nearly 50% of businesses will be owned by females. With this in mind it is easy to see that "...the glass ceiling will inevitably shatter."

Governor King Speaks at Annual Business Breakfast

Newly elected Governor Angus King spoke at the Dickerman Dining Commons Thursday morning at the monthly business breakfast. The breakfast was sold out to nearly 300 people. The governor spoke on various topics ranging from his first month as Governor to changing the attitude of people in Augusta.

Governor King said that if he doesn't do anything in the next four years he wants to, at the least, import to state government a business mentality with its emphasis on creative thinking. King also thinks that a major problem is that government has never had to measure results. The same accountability used in the manufacturing sector, must be incorporated into state government. "For too long we've spent money and thought that would bring results," he said.

King said how he had been spending a lot of time outside the State House, and he was horrified to find out this was unusual for Maine's Chief Executive. He met a woman who had worked in government for 17 years but has never seen a governor in person.

King also said another state government attitude he plans to change is the idea that nothing can get done unless "a new program and a new law and a new name and a new price tag" are created. "The problem with government is that it grows and grows. It never shrinks," he said. King reaffirmed his commitment to shrink the size of state government and warned critics not to stand in his way.

King also said that along with those who work in Augusta, the attitude and mind-set of the state's citizens must also be changed. There is an idea in America, King said, that the government can solve anything.

Despite all the attitude adjusting that needs to be done in Augusta, King said, there is a lot to be positive about. Maine's economy is improving, businesses are investing in the state and the state is well positioned to take advantage of the global marketplace.

Husson Sports

Husson Men Top Thomas College

The Husson men played Thomas College here at Newman Gymnasium last Monday night. There was a great three point shooting contest but it was between the Husson players. Husson had a total of 16 three pointers, and 13 of these came during the first half.

Husson started out strong with a quick 15-2 run. They continued to carry the ball down the court and light up three pointers. They made it look as easy as a lay-up. After 10 minutes Husson led 37-16. They continued to dazzle the crowd with numerous impressive plays. One of these plays included a steal by Rick Sinclair that he turned into a dunk. At halftime, Husson was leading 62-39.

The second half went the same way with numerous fast breaks. With only 5:30 gone in the second half the Thomas coach received a technical foul while arguing a call. Husson came out on top with an impressive 116-78 win.

All of the team did a tremendous job and they performed well as a unit. Rick Sinclair led the scoring with 22 points, Tony Tobin and Xavier Joyner each had 14, Jeremy Durost had 11, and Obadiah Johnson held on with 10. Sinclair also led the three pointers scoring an amazing six while Tobin and Joyner tied with four. Obadiah Johnson contributed 10 rebounds.

Husson Women Down Thomas College

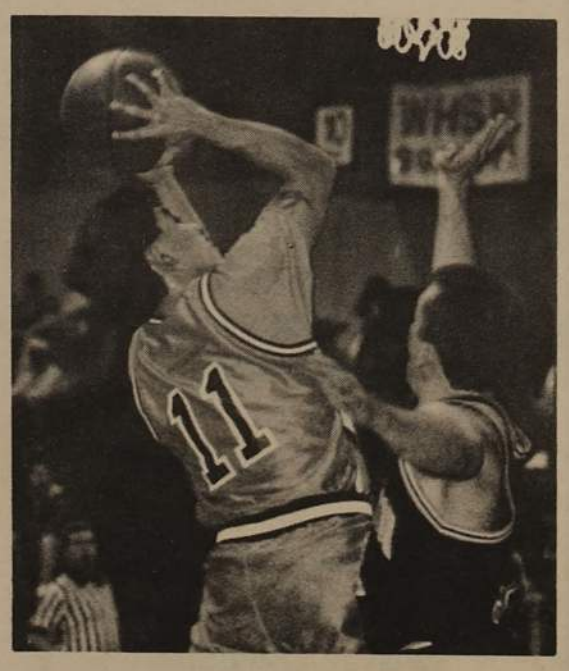

The Husson Women played Thomas College of Waterville at Newman Gymnasium last Monday in a close match up. The game was a nail-biter from the very beginning that went all the way to the end.

The game started off even all the way through the first half. The lead kept switching back and forth from team to team. At halftime Husson led only 34-33. The second half started off real slow. After a couple of minutes the score was tied at 38. For seven straight minutes neither team scored a bucket. Finally Thomas pulled out and stayed 4 or 5 points over Husson until the last minute. That's when Husson really pulled together and went on a good offensive run and stood strong on defense. They were able to maintain and come out with a 65-59 victory.

The women struggled somewhat in this game but they still stayed together like a real team. Tara Leavitt and Steph Shaw each had 10 buckets while Becky Moholland had 9 rebounds.

Sue Ann Allen goes up for two against her opponent from UMaine Farmington.

Tony Tobin goes up strong against a defending Farmington player in previous season action.

Husson Men Defeat UMM

The Husson Men added another victory Thursday night against the University of Maine at Machias to improve their record to 19-7. They all played a great game and got a well deserved victory. They only led the game 36-30 at halftime but they finished with an amazing 101-73 victory.

Rick Sinclair led with 26 points and 10 rebounds. Tony Tobin had 16 points and 11 assists. Xavier Joyner added 10 points for the Braves.

The Men and Women Baketball Teams will both be playing very important games this Wednesday, February 15. The games will be starting at 5:30 and they will both be playing St. Joes College. Please come and support your teams and their efforts. After the game there will be music provided by ADDiSON in the back of the gym. There will be pizza and soda available.

Husson Women Top UMM

The Husson Women also added another victory to their record by defeating the University of Maine at Machias on Thursday night. They won the game 78-61. Becky Moholland led with 20 points and Stacy Hafford had 18.

Student Goverment- big plans for the rest of the semester

Student Goverment would like to take a few seconds to inform you of the semesters activities. We have started the semester off with a bang. We have already had three very successful events. The band Hot Cherry Pie performed January 20. The event was well attended, and the band was excellent. On February 9, we had the first bowling night of the semester. Last Saturday was our drive-in movie night. The movie was True Lies. The rest of the semester is also packed with fun-filled activities. Already planned is more bowling nights, a pool night at Miami North, and Winter Carnival. On the 23rd we will be going to Hermon Mountain for skiing. Skiing is free, and rentals will only cost $5. If you need to rent skis please stop by the Student Goverment Office to pick up a rental agreement.

We encourage students to get involved in February's theme month. Our first week was Hee Haw Week, and this week is Toga Week. On the 15th we will be having dress up day. Dress in your best Toga and compete for cash prizes. Check the posters for the themes of the following two weeks.

We hope everyone has had a great first half of the semester.

DELTA SIGMA DELTA

Recently we have been very busy visiting the residents at Ross Manor, cleaning at the Ronald McDonald House and raising money for Special Olympics. We have done raffles, bottle drives and a penny drive. Thank you to those who donated.

We will be busy babysitting in the Arrowhead for the children of Husson students during school vacation. We will also be doing face painting at the Bangor Auditorium Spring Fair.

But, although we've been busy we've still been studying hard.

We wish everyone a Happy Valentine's Day.

The Sisters of DELTA SIGMA DELTA

KAPPA LAMBDA

The Sisters of Kappa Lambda have been busy lately. Currently we are doing a 50/50 raffle. Tickets are just .50 cents or 3 for $1. The drawing will be held on March 3rd. See any Sister to purchase a ticket or for any questions. Good luck!!

We are still collecting teddy bears for the Teddy Bear Drive to donate to the Maine State Troopers. All the teddy bears will go to a good cause so your donations mean a lot. Drop any donations off on the Kappa floor or contact any Sister. Thanks.

We would like to wish a very Happy Valentine's Day to everyone. We would also like to say good luck to our pledges--keep up the good work. You're all doing great, just think only four days left!!

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, THIS GUY IS IN CLASS.

Excitement and adventure is the course description, and Army ROTC is the name. It's the one college elective that builds your self-confidence, develops your leadership potential and helps you take on the challenges of command.

There's no obligation until your junior year, and that means there's no reason not to try it out right now.

Representative Richard Stone Appointed to Utilities and Energy Committee

House Republican Leader Walter E. Whitcomb and Assistant Republican Leader Joe Carleton Jr. have announced that Representative Richard Stone, R-Bangor, has been appointed to the Joint Standing Committee on Utilities and Energy.

Stone stated that, "As a member of the Utilities and Energy Committee, I will work for legislation that considers the long term impact of state decisions and the costs that government policies impose on our economy."

Whitcomb stated, "I am pleased to appoint Richard to the Utilities and Energy Committee. Because of his business experience, he understands the burden high electricity and energy costs place on the Maine economy," said Whitcomb.

The Utilities and Energy Committee was newly created under the Joint Rules of the 117th Legislature. Its jurisdiction includes the Public Utilities Commission; Public Advocate; regulated public utilities (electric, gas, water and telephone); telecommunications; cable TV; water, sewer and utility district charters; non-utility power generation (power purchase contracts); energy efficiency and conservation; alternate energy sources; nuclear power; energy policy; energy production and transmission.

Rep. Stone is serving his first term in the House. He represents District 117 in Bangor.

Husson Thefts!!

There have been rumors that lately a rash of thefts are occurring here at Husson College. Some of the alleged crimes are peoples cars being broken into, money and other personal property being taken out of individuals rooms, furniture being stolen from Hart Hall, people have found ways to do laundry without paying, and people have even had their parking stickers stolen off their cars.

The first rumor was that individuals cars were being broken into in the student parking lot. Todd Nadeau, the Husson Director of Security, was able to shed a little light on this subject. "Five vehicles were reported to us as being broken into. However, only one of these vehicles was burglarized, the other four were rummaged through." The car that was burglarized did show signs of forced entry by a damaged lock. The other four cars were said to have been left unlocked. "There is only so much the security office can do. We can't be everywhere at once, but we try our hardest. Students must make an active stand and please lock your vehicle doors." There was only one incident of a parking sticker being stolen reported.

Nothing has been reported to the security office about any thefts occurring in the residence halls. On this subject Todd had only this to say, "If your room is burglarized or anything else is stolen, the students must report these to us and fill out a quick report that will take no more than a few minutes." The security office can't take action if they don't know what's going on.

The majority of the student body know about the trick of doing your laundry without paying any money. This is in all ways a form of theft, and if it continues a number of things could happen. The most likely one of these is that a monitor will be put in the laundry room for certain hours and when a monitor is not there the door will be locked. A lot of students only have a chance to do their laundry in the evening or late at night, so this new action would mean they would have to do it earlier in the day causing a lot of overcrowding.

If these incidents don't stop, a lot of changes could be made that nobody will like. Students have got to realize that when they're committing these thefts that in the long run they're hurting themselves and every student attending this college, and even students who will be attending here in the future.

Writing Center a Great Asset

Have you ever gotten stuck when writing a paper or even had a hard time getting the paper started? What did you do? Next time stop by the Writing Center at 130 Peabody Hall. The Writing Center is there to help students with these things and basically to help you develop your writing skills. The Writing Center can help you with a number of different things. No appointment is necessary and there is no fee. The Writing Center is for students and faculty who have specific writing concerns.

The Writing Center is run by members of the English faculty and by trained peer tutors. One of these will be present, any time it is open, to help you with whatever is boggling you. Peer tutors are Husson College students who have successfully completed the tutor training program. If you have any questions about the Writing Center call Dr. Linda L. Labin, Coordinator for the English Department, at 941-7031. Her office is located at 302 Peabody Hall.

Here are a number of things that the Writing Center can do for you:

-Choosing a topic for your writing assignment
-Organizing your paper
-Developing research skills
-Correcting specific writing problems
-Defining the purpose of writing assignments
-Analyzing the audience for writing assignments
-Choosing a rhetorical strategy, such as comparison\contrast
-Developing one's writing style
-Revising papers
-Developing critical reading skills to improve your writing
-Adapting your style to suit a particular discipline

Dr. Labin stressed that the Writing Center is there for faculty\staff to utilize just as much as students. She also stated that they are looking for more peer tutors for anyone interested. They are also hoping in the future when their funds look better to get some computers for the Writing Center.

Phi Beta Lambda holds Ton of Love Food Drive

Phi Beta Lambda is a professional business organization which is open to all business related majors. PBL meetings are now held every Wednesday at 3:30 pm in room 305.

We have several exciting activities planned for this semester. There will be more speakers, tours and social activities, as well as public service projects. One public service project is the annual "Ton of Love" food drive. This food drive has been very successful in the past and we are looking forward to another successful year.

PBL welcomes any new members or new ideas. Anyone interested in joining the organization or learning more about us is welcome to attend our next meeting.

Accounting Society

The Accounting Society met on Monday, January 30th. Possible projects for the spring semester were discussed. President Tom Bland reminded those attending that membership for the year is $5 and the Accounting Society sweatshirts can still be ordered at the cost of $18. Suggestions that were made are: movie night, end of the year dinner, bowling, senior party, visiting schools, and speakers. If you have any more ideas please see Tom Bland or leave your thoughts in the Accounting Society box in room 315.

Scholarship News

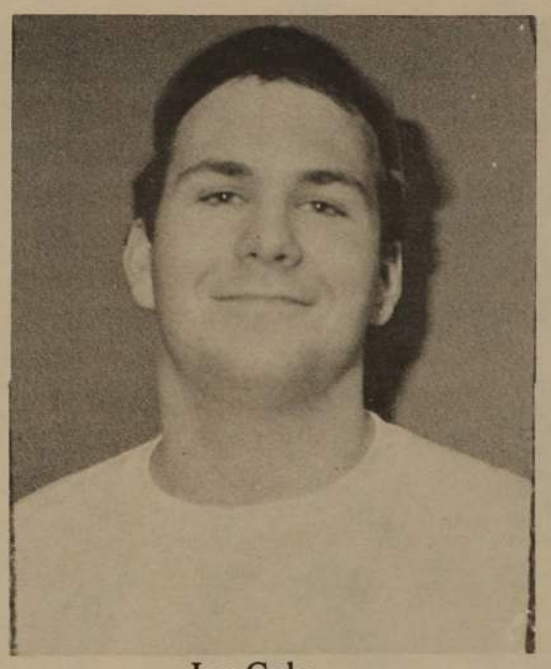

The Legal Secretaries and Associates of Androscoggin County are offering a $200 scholarship to a student who is enrolled in the legal secretarial field. Candidates are requested to write a short letter stating why you chose the legal profession, your goals for the future in this career, how you will use the scholarship, and any other information you feel will be beneficial in determining why you should be chose the recipient of this award. The application deadline is March 8, 1995. If you have any questions, please stop by the Financial Aid Office.

Husson Opinions

Crystal Burgess

"Yes. There should always be security people out. Security is too busy eating donuts in the D.D.C."

Jon Cole

"Frankly I don't care due to the fact that I don't have anything worth stealing."

Shelly Nagle

"Yes, if security was making rounds inside as well as outside then we would not have so much theft and illegal activity."

Jessica Smith

"No, because I don't live on campus and don't know much about the matter."

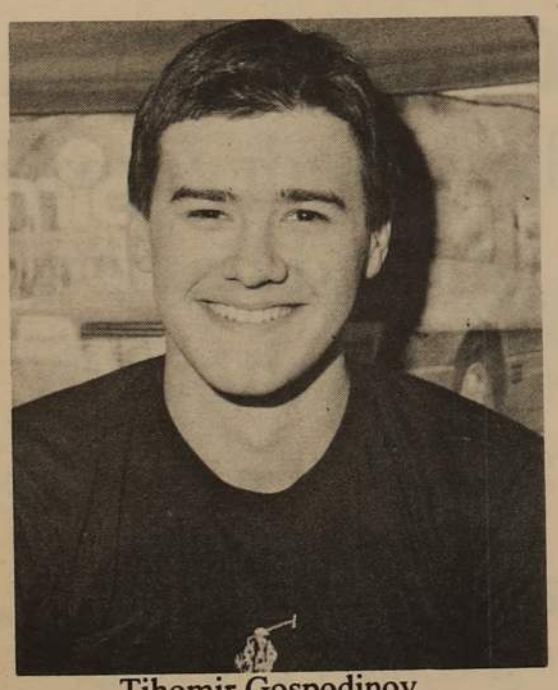

POLL QUESTION:

In light of the recent thefts on campus: breaking and entering into individuals cars, stolen furniture in Hart Hall, and stolen merchandise from individuals rooms, do you think that Husson has a security problem? By: Brandy Allen

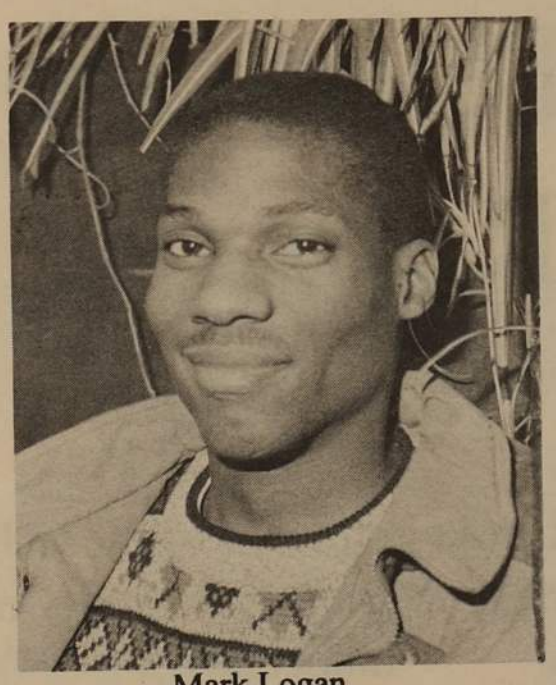

John Zappala

"Yes, we should have some improvements like monitors in the laundry room and we need to hire more people. Students should start to be more honest too."

Tihomir Gospodinov

"Yes, definitely. As far as I have seen security does nothing. Nothing has changed all year. Security should open their eyes, get to work."

Mark Logan

"It's pretty good and reliable to a certain point as far as little things like parking tickets are concerned. We might need more man power."

Shannon Pike

"I think they should spend more time protecting the cars rather than sticking parking tickets on them."

Student Life

PREREQUISITE: ADRENALINE

Drive. Intensity. Those aren't words you're likely to see in many course requirements. Then again, Army ROTC is unlike any other elective. It's hands-on excitement. ROTC will challenge you mentally and physically through intense leadership training. Training that builds character, self-confidence and decision-making skills. Again, words other courses seldom use. But they're the credits you need to succeed in life. ROTC is open to freshmen and sophomores without obligation and requires about 4 hours per week. Register this term for Army ROTC.
