THE SENIOR CLASS

PRESENTS

THE LAMP

Dedication

As a token of appreciation, we, the Graduating Class of 1962 dedicate our yearbook to our health physician, Dr. Hadley Parrot. We thank you, Dr. Parrot, for your sincere interest, concern and understanding.

Miss I. Shannon

Director, School of Nursing

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischevious and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

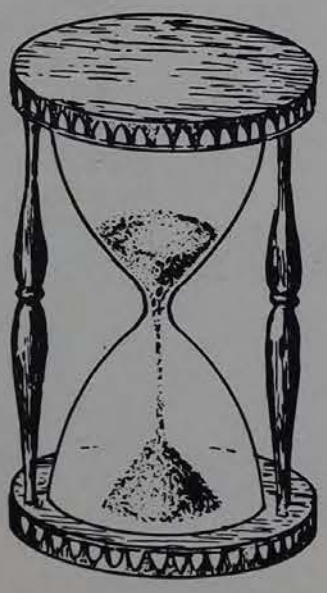

Editorial

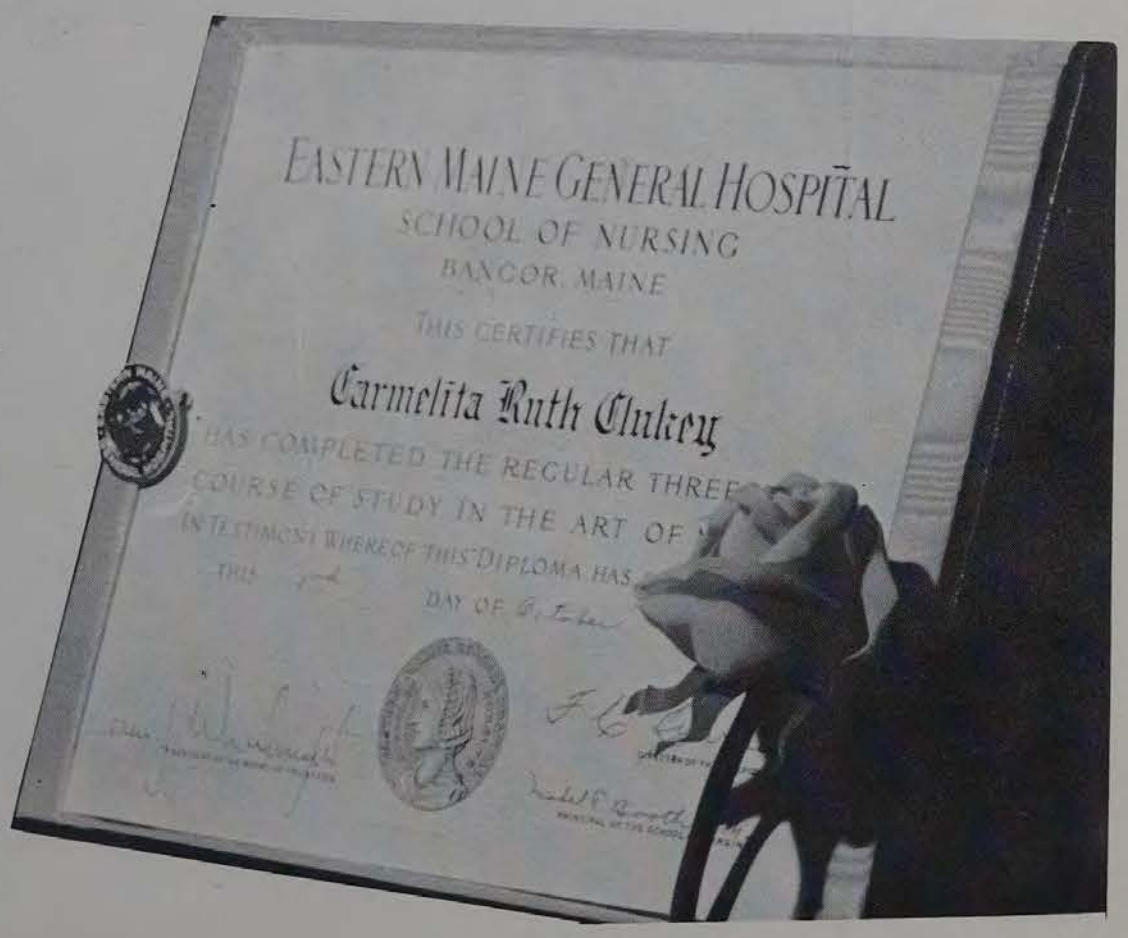

Just three short years ago we began working toward the goal we are about to attain—that of becoming a graduate nurse. There have been many heartaches, many moments of despair along the way, and times when the key to happiness seemed to be in those two words—"I quit". But just when things seemed darkest, a patient would smile and say, "You're going to make a wonderful nurse".

We have had many new experiences during this time. We've marvelled at the miracles of birth, and we've stood helplessly by and watched the last hours of a life slip away. We have learned many things. With the help of instructors, supervisors and doctors we have developed a sense of responsibility, of judgment, and of understanding of human emotions. With the help of our patients, we have developed a sense of humor, an ability to feel compassion, and an ability to give of ourselves to others.

As graduation nears, although our goal is the same, I'm sure that for most of us it's meaning has changed. May we not forget what we have learned. More important, may be continue to learn, and maintain high standards, so that we can say with pride—"I'm a graduate nurse!"

DON'T QUIT

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must, but don't quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up though the pace seems slow—
You may succeed with another blow.

Success is failure turned inside out—
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit.

Class History

How well we remember that very special day, Monday, September 14,1959 . Yes, that was the day fifty-two of us entered nursing school—eager, excited, yet somewhat apprehensive about this new and different experience.

We were greeted at the Annex from 2-4 o'clock by members of the junior class. We looked at these girls with awe and respect and hoped that we, too, might earn the right to proudly wear these uniforms and caps. We were honored at a tea and assigned to our rooms and roommates. In the evening we met and registered for classes. We tried to place faces and maves in our minds as we introduced ourselves. That first day was a very eventful experience and by the time 10:30 came (lights out curfew) we were ready to retire. Before the week was over, we were well oriented—to the profession which was to be ours.

As our class became organized and we became acquainted with each other, we held our first class meeting, electing the following as officers: President, Hazel Rassmussen; Vice-President, Marilyn Stinchfield; Secretary, Janet Jepson; Treasurer, Francine Bartlett. Our advisor was Mrs. McGrath. We chose Barbara Henderson and Sylvia Snare to be our representatives on the Student Council. We all remember attending our first September Government meeting, where we felt a sense of belonging to the student body.

We attended classes at the University of Maine, where we studied natural sciences. Here at E.M.G.H., we were taught the fundamentals of nursing. In the fifth floor class room, we learned the principles of basic nursing procedures. How we enjoyed practicing procedures on each other, especially when we administered our first injections.

December, 1959, found our class busy preparing for the Christmas season. As freshmen, we presented a Christmas skit, participated in the traditional carol-singing throughout the hospital, and attended the annual Christmas tea at the Quincy House. We were given a two-week vacation over the holiday, which we eagerly welcomed.

On that never-to-be forgotten day of February 26, 1960, we felt highly rewarded when forty-one of us were presented our caps and Florence Nightengale lamps at the capping ceremony. Wanda Bradford, the highest ranking student in our class, gave a speech titled "What My Cap Means to Me."

In the spring of the year, conventions stirred our interest. We elected Sandra Andrews to attend the National Convention in Florida. S. Andrews, G. Wade, S. Lurvey, and B. McLaughlin attended the M.S.S.N.A. meeting at Waterville.

We were provided with several opportunities for recreation. We enjoyed a twelve-week program at the "Y", which included basketball, badminton, and swimming. An area was provided for us to ice skate and to play tennis. We were also fortunate enough to have cook-outs behind the annex.

Our freshmen year, some of our money-making projects were coffee and doughnut sales, dances, car washes and food sales.

September, 1960, found us to be the proud possessors of one stripe on our caps.

When we welcomed the incoming freshmen at their tea, we re-lived the memories of our first day.

Once again we elected class officers. Our president was Francine Bartlett; Vice-President, Marilyn Starchfield; Secretary, Janet Jepson; Treasurer, Mary Webster. Our advisor was Mrs. McGrath. Student Council representatives were B. Henderson, S. Snare and M. Webster.

Our second year found our class being separated at different intervals when we began going on affiliation. On October 31, 1960 at 5 a.m., Ann Casey, Mary Jane Crouse, Joan Cunningham, Justine Glidden, and Marcia Goode departed for Boston, Massachusettes, they were the first in our class to go on affiliation. In Boston, we spent three months at Children's Hospital Medical Center, where we gained valuable knowledge and experience in the field of pediatrics. We spent an additional three months at Boston Lying-In, where we broadened our nursing education by studying obstetrics.

In December Gloria Wade, Esther Woodard, Mary Webster and Nora Lee Webb, were the first to venture forth to Augusta State Hospital for our Psychiatric experience. We all spent some time at E.M.G.H. during our junior year, either before or between affiliations. Here, our responsibilities to our patients and ourselves increased as we became more experienced and proficient in our profession.

Patricia Noddin and Francine Bartlett were chosen by the student body to represent our school as candidates in the Student Nurse of the Year Contest.

Marjorie Cassidy attended the National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio. Francine Bartlett, Elsie Peterson, Marjorie Cassidy, Wanda Bradford, Mary Webster and Sylvia Snare went to the M.S.S.N.A. meeting in Waterville.

In July 1961, Miss Irene Shannon became our new Director of the School of Nursing, after the resignation of Miss Mabel Booth.

When September 1961, rolled around we had earned the right to call ourselves seniors and were presented with another stripe.

Class officers our senior year were: President, Francine Bartlett; Vice-President, Sharon Lurvey; Secretary, Janet Jepson; Treasurer, Mary Webster; Advisor, Miss Roach. Student Council members were B. Henderson and Sylvia Snare.

The Poland Spring Convention in the fall was a big event, as Wanda Bradford was elected President of the Maine State Student Nurses's Association. Our candidates for Student Nurse of the Year were present at this convention, competing for the title with candidates from other schools of nursing in Maine. Other members of our class attending this convention were Sylvia Snare, Ann Casey, Janet Sloan, Janet Jepson, Sandra Johnson, Barbara Henderson, Florence Grooms and Judy Griffin.

We now felt that we were very important members of the Student Government. Our officers in this organization were Francine Bartlett, President; Sylvia Snare, Second Vice-President; Mary Jane Crouse, Acting Treasurer.

In the middle of our senior year, having completed our affiliations, our class was exuberantly reunited. We talked long and eagerly of experiences encountered during our separation and of plans and hopes for the future.

Classes resumed, and we became busily involved in making plans for graduation, having our pictures taken, ordering our uniforms, and working on our yearbook. Once again we worked on projects to raise funds. We had food sales, car washes, and a U. S. savings bond raffle. The senior class sponsored Hospital Career Day, where we presented displays and conducted tours.

Francine Bartlett, Judy Griffin and Sandra Johnson attended the spring meeting of the M.S.S.N.A. in Portland. Ann Casey was sent to the National Convention in Detroit.

As graduation is approaching and our aspirations are becoming more realistic, we look back upon our three years with feelings of satisfaction, pride and wonder. All of us have made pledges to ourselves and society that we will truly be professional nurses. We wish to express our appreciation to our instructors, the nurses and doctors, our housemothers, and most of all our parents.

Class Prophecy

On September 13, 1972, just ten years after graduation, we held a big reunion. Everyone assembled in the living room of the Nurse's Annex. This seemed fitting, since it was where the whole thing began. Francine Bartlett, our Senior Class President, was stationed at the desk, and as each one came in she obtained the following information.

GLORIA WADE: Gloria is now Delivery Supervisor at B.L.I., and is famous all over Boston for the beatnik parties she has during her off duty time.

DEANNA RIDEOUT: Dede is a Clinical Instructor at Children's Hospital. She wants others to enjoy pediatrics as much as she did.

FRANCINE BARTLETT: Francine has really gone up in the world. She has been appointed as a member of the first medical team to go to the moon.

JANET SLOAN: Janet and Roger are living in Washington State now, and she is O.R. Supervisor in a large general hospital. They have produced another "Mud and Crisco."

NORA LEE O'CONNOR: Nora Lee is working part time on Upper North Marquart at A.S.H. The rest of the time she takes care of her brood of red-headed boys.

ANN ROSEBUSH: Ann is enjoying comfortable married life in New Jersey. She is working as supervisor on a large women's medical ward. She always did enjoy working with female patient's.

FLORENCE GROOMS: Florence is supervisor on Ward R, working double shifts. Flossie's family comes to visit her on duty as that's the only time they can see her.

SANDRA JOHNSON: Sandy has made a career out of Army nursing and is now training and recruiting other students all over the world.

SYLVIA SNARE: Sylvia has given up her career of nursing and is now a professional twist instructor at the Peppermint Lounge.

ELSIE PETERSON: Elsie is now head nurse on 3-11 shift on B2 and has invented herself an automatic bedpan dumper.

MARYJANE CROUSE: MaryJane has now become a head nurse at the Animal Hospital on Longwood Avenue in Boston. She specializes in turtle care.

JANET JEPSON: Janet has given up nursing and is now working as a housekeeper in Worcester, Mass.

HAZEL BAKER: Hazel and Andy spent all their money on a small jet airplane. Now he can come home for dinner every night.

ANN CASEY: Casey has a small business on the side. She is renting herself out as a bridesmaid..

JEAN PORTER: Jean has been working relief on B2 since she came back from California. She found life too dull out there.

JUDIE GRIFFIN: Judie is running a convalescent home for geriatic women. As a student she got plenty of experience in that line.

BRENDA ROOPE: Brenda always liked obstetrics. In fact, she has started a nursery down in Gray, and to date has six patients, all named Roope.

PATTY NODDIN: Patty is the director of the school of nursing, which she organized, at the Millinocket Hospital.

DIANE SEWALL: Diane is still sending part of her paycheck to her mother to pay for all those long-distance phone calls.

EMILY NEWELL: Emmy is now the mother of five boys. To top it all off, they were all born at once—Quintuplets!

MARY WEBSTER: Mary is Staffing Supervisor at E.M.G.H. For entertainment evenings she's a regular customer at Joe's.

JOAN CUNNINGHAM: Joanie is working at Togus and keeping all the men laughing. Kenny has finally arrived in the states and they are happily married after all those years of waiting.

SHARON LURVEY: Sharon is working at the Hollywood Hospital in California. She is still single, but has an eye on all those movie stars. Watch out, guys!

BARBARA HENDERSON: Hennie is practicing her profession on a cruiser to Hawaii. One of her patients is a young, handsome man who isn't very sick, but we all know Barb and her love for male patients.

WANDA BRADFORD: Braddy has given up her nursing career to become a housemother so that she can watch the students doing all her old tricks.

ERLENE RUSSELL: Erlene's sewing machine is busier than ever now that she has three children to clothe. She's still got her hand in nursing, too, working part-time in a large hospital near the Navy Base where Mark is stationed.

Around the Hospital

Career Day

IF YOU ARE MY FRIENDS

This is just a rhyme to tell you
In my hesitating way
That I hope you'll share the gladness
Of my Graduation Day.

I'm a nurse, my training's ended
The goal I sought is here
At times it was hard, but I always felt
Your kindness was ever near.

A poet has said, "There is nothing
As rich as a friendship that's true"
Yours was a friendship I cherished
Yours was a value I knew.

And thus as my heart is so happy
And I finish this short bit of verse
I am grateful, and thank you for all you have done
That's "my thought" as a Graduate Nurse.

Last Will and Testament

We the Senior Class of 1962, being of unsound mind and physically unfit on this day do hereby leave, will, get rid of and donate the following:

FRANCINE BARTLETT leaves her Parliamentary Position to next year's Class President.

WANDA BRADFORD and MARY WEBSTER bequeath their easy going manner to any student who thinks she will never see graduation day.

ANN CASEY leaves her unused overnight to anyone wishing to visit her in Boston.

MARY JANE CROUSE bequeathes her bandage scissors to any junior who can do as well as M.J. does at creating Paris type-coiffeurs.

JOAN CUNNINGHAM leaves her clinical assignment on B2 to Shelia Crossman.

JANET SLOAN bequeathes her marriage license to Ellie Leavitt.

JUDY GRIFFIN leaves her gift of gab to Gail Boyle.

FLORENCE GROOMS leaves her immaculate room to Guylene Bonness.

BARBARA HENDERSON leaves her Manic-Depressive state to Dawne Hayman.

JAN JEPSON leaves her quiet pleasing way to Roberta Bell.

SANDRA JOHNSON wills her trips to Miss Shannon's office to any junior who can keep up the pace.

SHARON LURVEY leaves her mischievous ways to all "schiz-y" students.

BRENDA ROOPE leaves the road to Bar Harbor in poor shape.

DEANNA RIDEOUT wills her giggle to Sharon Fitzgerald.

ERLENE RUSSELL leaves her trips to the health office to the unlucky ailing students.

EMILY NEWELL leaves her motherly ways to Phyllis Jordan.

PATRICIA NODDIN wills her frat pin to Barbara Stoddard.

ELSIE PETERSON leaves her professional attitude in hopes that all underclassmen will use it with discretion.

DAWN PLUMMER leaves her little "Jungle Bunny" to anyone who wants him.

JEAN PORTER wills her round trip tickets to N.Y.C. and all points South to any junior who enjoys college week-end life.

HAZEL BAKER leaves her way with words to any underclassmen who needs it.

ANN ROSEBUSH leaves her stationery, stamps, and mailbox to L. Brilliant.

SYLVIA SNARE wills her scrub gown in the O. R. to Sylvia Dobransky.

GLORIA WADE leaves her seat at Joes to Connie Jeffers.

NORA LEE O'CONNOR leaves her subtle wit to Marilyn Klosek.

DIANE SEWALL leaves her hair tinting equipment and beautician appointments to Ardis Springer.
