"CHIEF WEEK 70"

On Friday, April 17, the yearly spectacular will open its doors for a week filled with fun and games. The opening ceremonies will take place in front of Peabody Hall at 3:00 p.m. Miss Priscilla Clark, Vice-President of Administrative Affairs, will be on hand to open the ceremonies. Posters will be hung at 3:30 p.m. around campus.

The payoff is near! The time when each camp will be given the test. We will soon see whether or not the hard work put into each campaign will payoff for them.

From close observations, I am happy to see the progress that "Chief Week" has made thus far. It's true that the air is tense and the spirit of competition is keen, therefore, all efforts must be given to the problem of poster vandalism. If any fraternity brother of a camp is caught destroying a poster, the candidate from that fraternity will be disqualified immediately. If fraternities are supposed to be close and united, then this is the opportune time to prove it! In the case than an outright supporter is found destroying posters, similar action will be taken by the committee. The committee feels these actions are justifiable due to the fact that many hours of hard work have been devoted to the making of these posters. Since all the candidates are members of a fraternity on campus, we feel that there shouldn't be any poster vandalism this year.

We hope to see every student take an active part in this year's "Chief Week." It's the time of the year when we can all get together and do "our thing" in a peaceful and enjoyable manner; so let's all get together and have a blast.

On behalf of the Chief-for-a-Day Committee, I would like to wish each candidate and his secretary the best of luck in their campaign. Win, lose, or draw, you will all have the chance to speak out. That's a victory in itself.

Paul LePage

The Repressionists

by Human Being

They came after the Indians, but I said nothing because I was not an Indian.
They came after the Czechs, but I said nothing because I was not a Czech.
They came after the Blacks, but I said nothing because I was not a Black.
They came after the young Chicago demonstrators, but I said nothing because I was not in Chicago.
They came after the pacifists, but I said nothing because I was not a pacifist.
Then they came after me, but I said nothing because I was all alone.

With the event of Chief Week almost upon us, I would like to make a plea to the entire student body. Every year there seems to be a certain amount of dirty play by a small minority concerning things like destruction of posters and defacing of other material made by the hard working camps of each candidate. For once let's have a totally clean campaign. If we are to receive priviledges set aside for young adults, we must start acting like young adults, I realize that these mishaps are done by only a few people and often they aren't even involved in the campaigning. If the majority of the student body scorns on these vandals then eventually these actions will cease.

At this time I would like to congratulate all the candidates of this year's race for their work and display of good sportsmanship so far in the campaign.

One of the student's main complaints here at Husson is that life on the campus is dull and lifeless. Well this is the event of the school year and to get the most out of it you must get involved.

This is Biggy signing off for another week here at the armpit of the universe.

P.S. Omar and Bun have got a picture everybody should see.

BATMAN IS HERE!

An Open Letter To Chesley Husson, Sr.

Looking back on the history of Husson College, we can see accomplishments of you, Chesley Husson, Sr. In 1926, you were the principal of the Bangor Maine School of Commerce which held only 43 students. However, in 1933 you bought a building which turned out to be the beginning of your dream of Husson College. You did not stop here. As the enrollment grew larger, you found a need for bigger and better facilities.

Despite the effects of the depression, in 1939 you went on to build the Park Street building which held 300 students. Surprisingly enough, after the war the enrollment grew to 500. From a suggestion of your salesman class, the commerce school was to be called Husson College starting January 1, 1947 resulting from the majority vote of the student body. From this date to 1963, three more buildings were added to Park Street Campus.

In 1956, the first 50 acres which our buildings are now set on were purchased and your major dream of having a college campus was beginning to develop. In 1968, the gates of the new campus were officially opened. And finally your life's ambitions, Mr. Husson, lay before you.

To you, Mr. Chesley Husson, Sr., who has dedicated your life for us, the students of Husson College we do respectfully present to you and to the students of Husson College our ideas on a new Husson.

This years Batman campaign is what you the students want.

Liberalization on campus is one of the biggest issues that confronts the whole campus community. For the last two years Husson College has been growing at an academic rate faster than any other institution of its kind in the country. But with this academic growth, Husson has lacked in equally increasing rate in social views. It is time that this deficit in Husson life is put back in the black. There is no longer any need for a puritanical outlook toward alcoholic beverages. There is no longer any need for any further dictatorship of what our attire should be. There is no longer any need for a few patriachs to judge the obscenity or even, for that matter, the purity of our morals.

Things are changing, this is true, but we believe with a little added emphasis things may change just a little quicker. The sooner a president takes office, the sooner such action will occur. At the moment there is a lack of central authority to make decisions when the need arises. With the installation of a president, decisions, ideas, and communications will flow at a speedier rate and thus will eliminate many of the problems and complaints that have stemed from the absenteeism of this office.

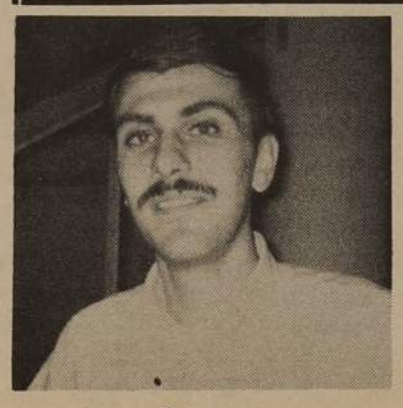

There is yet another reason why we at Husson College have stayed in the cellar of social liberalization. It is a sad reason, but a true one - it is ourselves. Our apathetic attitude towards the school has been one of shameful discarring. In the past, it seems to have been a policy of the student body to neglect the school activities - both athletics and other extra curricular. The attendance of this year's basketball games is hopefully a precedent of a new student policy; one which we'll see a complete involvement of the majority of students, faculty, administration, and the new idea called "Husson College."

It is with this precedent of involvement that will lead to better understanding within the college community and bring about that added shove which will be needed to bring about social liberalization.

With the addition of student involvement and a president, hopefully as equal in foresight and ability as Chesley Husson, Sr., it is very possible to bring about this new idea of "Husson College." We can see an ever increasing enrollment bringing about more dormitories, student union, a library, and other buildings on campus. This future will bring changes ranging from a top-choice curriculum to bigger and better social and athletic events. It is admittedly a lot to imagine and to hope for, but it is these hopes and dreams which will bring the Husson College of old to the new idea of Husson. It is these hopes and dreams which we the students of Husson College must strive to see. It is these which we, Bob Tomasino and Janet Marr, stand for in our theme. BATMAN!

Respectfully yours,

Bob Tomasino & Janet Marr

"HAVE A SHOT OF MY 'RHUMATIZ MEDICINE AND CELEBRATE JED'S WINNIN' CHIEF-FER-A-DAY!"

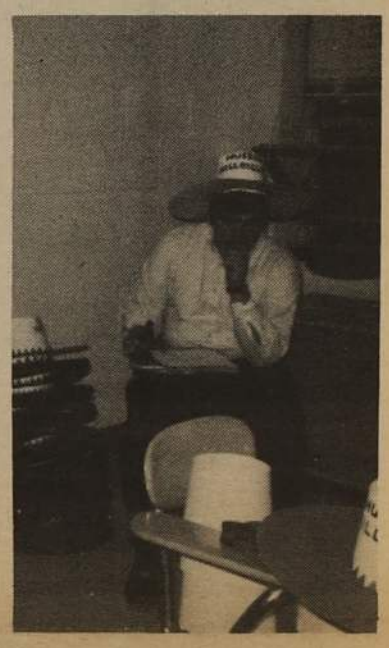

JIM & MURPH

Welcome to the camp of the "Husson Hillbillies" where you will find the workers lead by James Flahive and his lovely runningmate, Maureen Murphy. Many people behind the scenes are striving, along with the candidates, to present a good, wholesome, and fair campaign for the benefit of all the Husson College community. But more important than this is the fact that these young men and women, who will soon have a larger part to play in our country's future, are getting involved with the future of Husson College right now. Come visit the respective campaign headquarters and work for the chief candidate who best supports your own ideas on what should or should not be done here at Husson College. Apathy is Chief Week's worst enemy. Why not strive to make this week an unforgetable part of your college life.

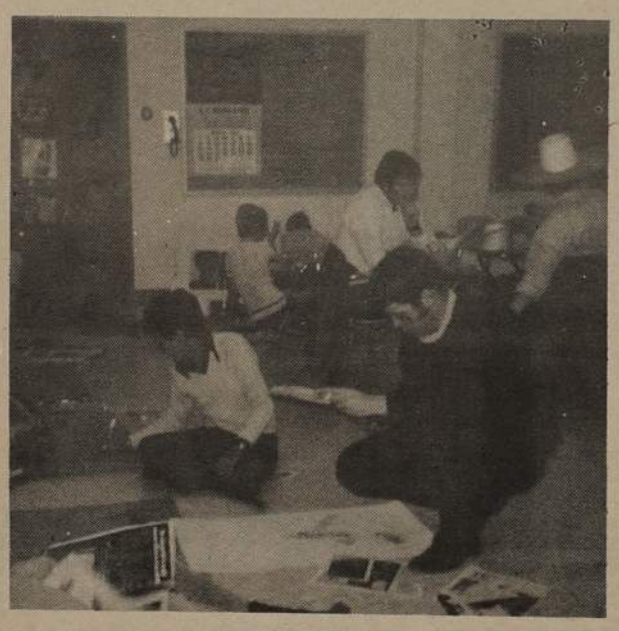

In the past the Husson community has seen such colorful characters such as Robin Hood, Hogan's Heroes, and Bonnie and Clyde, (to mention a few), run for the coveted position of "Chief." All of these characters have had much in common. They each have had ideas for the betterment of our college; all have had parties, games, skits, parades, and speeches. After all the costumes are hung up, and all the parties are over, the student body, acting as individuals must vote. They elect the man whom they feel will best represent them to our administration and institute change on the students' behalf more effectively. Fellow students, we, the Husson Hillbillies, want you to understand that after all the fun and games are over, there is a very serious side to Husson College's Chief Week. By getting involved in the week itself, the student can educate himself or herself to the issues of the campaign and the probable solutions suggested by each candidate. When balloting time is at hand, that student is better able to make a sound decision on who will receive his vote. Involvement takes time but leads to a better Husson College.

The Husson Hillbillies have thoughts on "Chief Week" and would like to take this opportunity to express them. To us this week means such things as: uniting of the student body for one purpose, a chance for the student body to air their grievances to a member of his own sector of the Husson family, and the importance of each student voting for the responsible candidate of his choice. These are a few of the real meanings of "Chief Week" but still on an even higher level is the honor which will be bestowed on one of your fellow students - that of being "Chief" - the highest position this college has to offer. It is an accomplishment which only long hours and hard work by many can bring; thus, the runningmates of this camp would like to thank all of those who have put in long hours and hard work to help us. It has not gone unnoticed or without a heart-felt thanks. To our opponents we would like to wish the best of luck on their respective campaigns. To the readers of the Spectator we say thank you for taking time and showing enough interest to read this article. Now get involved.

THE GALLOPING GOURMETS

The Galloping Gourmets, along with the other three camps, have been putting the finishing touches on their Chief-for-a-Day campaign. With the actual campaign starting on Friday, everyone has been perfecting speeches, skits, and costumes. Although there is an endless amount of fun involved in "Chief", the hard work that has been put in by all, cannot be pushed aside. Pete and Jean would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has helped us in our bid for "Chief" and for all the hours of hard work, support, and laughter you have added to our campaign.

Anticipation and suspense are quickly building, now. Soon "Chief" will be upon us, and what we have looked forward to for so long will suddenly be behind us. We have made new friends, learned new things, and added much to our lives by working for and supporting a candidate. We have added bits and pieces to our lives that can never be taken away. Together, we are working for a better college, and as long as we have unity, Husson College will keep on growing.

PETER PAN

ROMEO PARENT and JOYCE CARROLL

WELCOME TO THE HOUSE OF PETER PAN

In the weeks to come, we hope to make Peter Pan a little better known around the Husson Campus. You may know Romeo Parent now, but soon, he will be temporarily transformed into that figure. With Joyce Carroll as Wendy, we intend to bring Walt Disney's characters to life and assimilate them into the daily challenge of being and staying at Husson.

Romeo is a native of Grand Isle, Maine, and is active at Husson as president of Mu Sigma Chi fraternity. Although working as average of 45 hours a week during his stay at Husson, Romeo is a dean's list student. A beloved (?) proctor in Bell Hall, he has incorporated the sound body, sound mind routine, by leading his intramural basketball team to a division championship, losing only the Semi-Finals, to become 2nd runner-up for the School Championship.

Jovce. on the other hand, was better known as a softball player at her Presque Isle High School. She has attended Husson College for 2 years, majoring in secretarial science, while working as secretary to the Dean of Women. An avid sports fan, Joyce's life-long hang up has been to pitch in the first baseball of the year at Fenway Park.

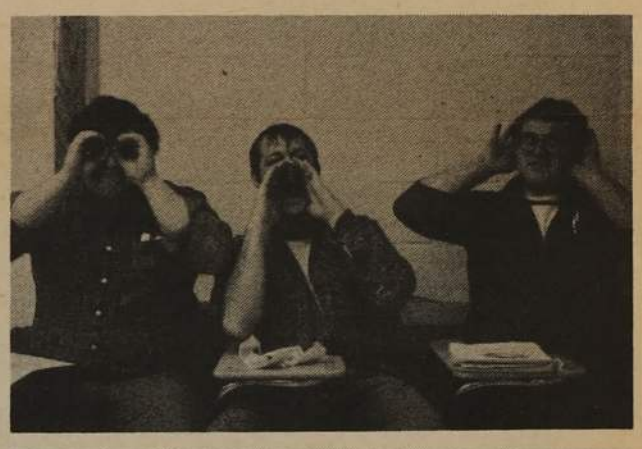

In a few days, we will go into greater detail on our campaign platform, but for now, we would like to touch on the major topics.

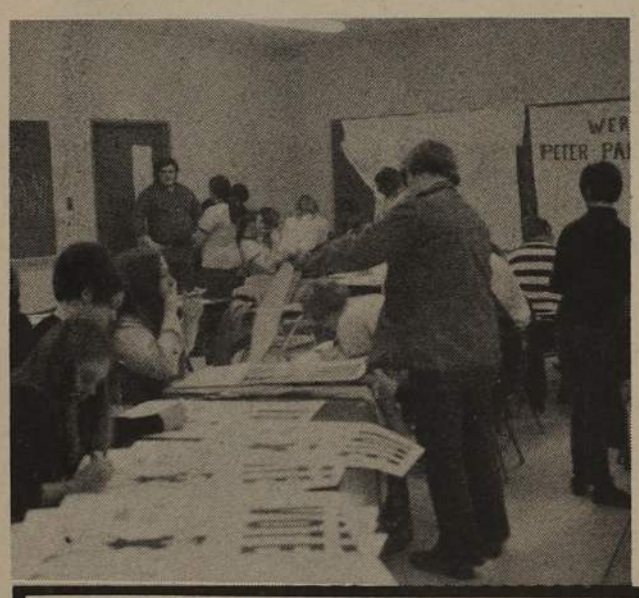

1. Transfer students' credit evaluation and orientation program
2. Improved system of advising students (especially freshmen)
3. Paved commuter parking lot and walkway
4. Revised women's curfew
5. Parietal hours and drinking on campus
6. Campus beautification

Please consider this an open invitation to all students to attend any and all of our functions in the forthcoming campaign. We guarantee a lot of fun and / or work.

April 22 Environmental Teach-In

Since last summer it has been apparent that campuses and communities are increasingly determined to do something about environmental problems. There have been sumposia, new courses and new organizations at colleges and high schools across the country and demonstrations and legal actions in many communities. In September, Senator Gaylord Nelson proposed a national day of environmental action and the following month he and Congress man Paul McCloskey suggested April 22.

Since then, April 22 has developed a momentum of its own, as groups around the country have begun developing plans. Coordination has been taken over by a student run national office in Washington, D.C. Environmental Teach-In, Inc. has been granted tax-exempt status. It is entirely dependent on Foundations and individual contributions for financial support.

April 22 is a day of nationwide action. Through activities including teach-ins on campuses, in high schools, and in local communities, people will have a chance to examine the facts about the environmental crises. They can find out what, if anything, is being done, and what must be done. Now.

VARSITY SPORTS

by Danny Carubia

It's play ball again, as the Varsity nine opens their 1970 season with an away game against Curry College on Friday. This is the first of seven away games that Husson plays before returning home for their opener on April 29 against New Hampshire.

Last year, the Braves had their best season winding up with a 16-3 slate, which was good enough to win the Northeast College Conference Championship for the sixth time since 1960.

The Braves were selected for the N.A.I.A. playoff both for the second straight year and for the third time in four years. Honors also went to Coach Del Merril when he was selected the New England coach of the year for the second year in a row.

They say that pitching in 80 or 90 percent of the game, and this years mound staff seems to be the Braves strong point. With Keith Brown, Ron Soucie, and Tom McBean returning from last year, Husson has three pitchers who can throw hard and is capable of going nine everytime out. McBean posted a 3-0 record while also playing the outfield and batting .290. Ron Soucie wound up with a 5-1 record and after a winter operation on his arm should be as strong as ever. Keith Brown led the staff last year with a 6-1 record and also helps himself with the bat.

Behind the plate, Jim D'Agostino returns for his last year. Jim batted .280 last year, and after three successful seasons as the Braves backstop is looking to improve on the .280 average.

Other returning lettermen are John Sinclair who batted a mere .488. John played center field and his quick speed is helpful in tracking down some long balls. Although it is hard to improve on a .488 average, Sinclair again will be a key man in the Braves lineup. Another key man is Jim Arnau, who was second in batting with a .371 average. The hard hitting first socker also came in second in R.B.I's and did some pitching. Jerry Kenny played second for last years champs and finished up with a .353 mark. Kenny is a fine defensive ball player, and his hitting last year was a big boast to the Braves attack. Rounding out the returning lettermen is Bobby Bishop, who played third last year. Although hitting only .200, Bob, can hit with power and is looking for a big year at the bat.

Add to this some fine newcomers and a more solid defensive team, you can see why Coach Merrill says that this years varsity is improved by 25 perent. With a little help from the weather (outdoor practice is badly needed), this years team could go on to a banner year.

The varsity has been working hard during the week in the gym. By the time you read this it is hoped that we would have played some games against some local high schools

PEACE

We can have it,
IF we want it,

Sounds easy to say, doesn't it? But its true! We must all realize one camouflaged fact - that there are warmongers or militarists in Russia as well as in America, in South Vietnam as well as in Czechoslovakia. These warmongers have an important say in the formation of their governments policies, which ultimately effect you and me. They are deaf to the peoples wishes and regard us as mere objects to be used as they see fit. They are bent on bringing war and distrust upon the world inhabitants for without war they would be unemployed. Their philosophy consists of dropping bombs and repressing peoples freedoms to get their goals accomplished. They do not know of any other means of persuasion other than that which is morbid. Therefore we who desire a state of tranquility and common understanding among all peoples in the world must dispose of all militarists. We must rid the world of its contagious rotten apple - the military. We must take on the dangerous task of bringing to an end all wars and imperialism. Yes, dangerous because the chance is great that the military will not let us deprive them of their ugly job. They will attempt to silence us and if necessary kill us so that man will not be allowed to live as he wishes - in peace.

E.T.E. ON THE MOVE

After the vacation rest, the sisters of ETE came back to school with all kinds of good things to eat. We sold these goodies on Monday, April 6, in the Wigwam. We hope everyone enjoyed what they bought.

Because of the uniting of Delta Sigma Delta with ETE, our pledging next year will be in the fall semester. After a successful pledging this year, we know that next year's will be even better. We have confidence that Chris Roman (Pledge master) and Carol Labbe (assistant pledge master) will do a great job.

Monday, April 13, about 35% of the sisters donated their time to help the Greek Council solicit donations for the Dollars for Scholars campaign. We were glad to have the chance to raise money to help other students further their education.

Good luck to all the Chief candidates when they start their campaigns Friday. ETE urges everyone to get involved.

KAPPA KORNER

On the afternoon of April 22, 1970, the brothers of Kappa Delta Phi at Husson College will present to the College the flag pole for the campus which stands in front of Peabody Hall. This gift from the Brothers of Kappa is dedicated to the realization of a dream of those who worked so hard for many years so that the new campus could be constructed. The flag pole will be a reminder for all students that they have the opportunity to further their education at an institution of higher learning only because we live in a country that this flag pole represents. It will stand over our campus as a constant reminder of our freedoms and way of life.

The Brothers of Kappa Delta Phi worked many months to finance this gift, and it is gratifying to the brothers that this gift can be a permanent part of an ever growing college community. We could not have accomplished this task without the help of the students, and we are grateful for all contributions made for the flag pole.

Question (?) of the Week

by Shifty

Should government employees, such as postal workers, firefighters, law enforcement officers, garbage refuse, etc., strike or shouldn't they strike?

Karen Wadleign - If that's what they want to do, let them do it. I do what I want to do; everybody is equal.

James Miller - I feel they should strike because of the present inefficient collective bargaining policies between union and government officials.

Mike Seeds - They should have the right to strike but the government should pay enough so that strikes would be avoided.

John Henderson - They should strike because they're entitled to wage increases as anyone else.

Brenda Goff - They shouldn't strike because they inconvenience the public who they are responsible for. However, they should have a means to answer their demands by.

Biggy Dionne - Yes, in a democratic society, every worker should be allowed through proper means to better himself in an organized strike.

Bev Cataldo - They should strike because they should be able to provide a better standard of living for their families.

Mike McPhee - They should because they have no other means of obtaining higher wages.

Claude Heutz - They should not have the right to strike, because their jobs are too important for the survival of society, but as the cost of living rises, so should the wages.

Greg Cataldo - Public employees of any nature should not have the right to strike. They are infringing on the benefits of the general public while gaining their benefits. The public workers have, by far, more benefits than non-public employees in the areas of getting fired, and usually have standard raise wages before they enter their particular field. Knowing in advance what their wages will be, they should be able to adjust their living conditions to stay in the bounds of their wages.

Alan Brandoff - They should because they are family men and the government should not use them as puppets to carry out their civil service jobs at base pay.

Dick Stolkner - They should not strike if it interfers with the well-being or the safety of the public.

George Lecours - They should not strike because they should think of the people they're responsible to. Other means of negotation should be possible.

Romeo Parent - No, for the simple reason they're public servants, and when they strike they disrupt the normal way of life. They should find another means to get their demands.

John Parent - Yes, they have as much right as everybody else.

WRESTLING

By Tom Peryea

I received too much publicity on my trip to Superior, Wisconsin. Sincerely, I'm not as good as people think I am. During the year I received a couple of lucky breaks, and when I went to Superior I surely found out that I could not get my foot in the door. I found out I was just a beginner.

At this time I would like to say something about my fellow team members. They are the ones who should be praised. To the spectators who saw our first home match, Husson put up one superb fight, but went down to defeat because of inexperience. Husson gained that experience and they showed it when we met Aroostook State the second time. We scored the most points that was ever scored against them this year, which was 16. In our last match at Ricker, we ripped them apart by a score of 30 to 18. My last words are, and mark them, "when people think of Husson, they will think, 'wrestling.'"
