President Clark's Message to the Graduating Class of 2011

Dear Class of 2011,

Whether you have been here for a semester or longer, I hope that you will find in the pages of the Husson Yearbook a reflection of campus life and activities during the past year. At Husson, the variety of clubs and other activities offered on campus is directly related to student interest and involvement. I trust that you will enjoy the pages that remind you of your life at Husson – whether residential or commuter, or whether you are a traditional or nontraditional student.

There are moments when it may seem that studies will never end, but be assured that your time on campus will pass quicker than you realize. Thus, I encourage you to make the most of it by being involved. If your interests aren't represented by the current student organizations – talk with the Dean of Students about starting your own club. Becoming engaged in your campus community is an important part of your educational experience. The opportunity to develop leadership skills and exhibit teamwork are important elements in creating an experiential learning community.

As your days at Husson pass, the pages of your Husson Yearbook will be important reminders of special bonds that you have formed during your time here at Husson University. As you leaf through the pages, share your memories and experiences with others. Tell your friends and family stories of your days on campus and the time will quickly become the "Good Old Days!"

Enjoy these pages as you go out into the world.
