Language No Obstacle

by HENRIETTA COULOMBE

One often wonders how the rest of the world lives — people away from one's own little section of this great world. Without having to travel around the world, this answer may be found. A person may ask "Where" and "How." Amazingly enough, it may be found right here on the Husson College campus. Cooperation, understanding, friendliness, and pursuit of a common goal, namely, education for the bettering of one's self, has proven to be evident. Most students experience this no matter where they are from.

While talking with Helen Sakillaris from Vassara, Sparta, Laconia, Greece, the writer found this to be true. Like several Americans, Helen grew up on a farm with her sister, Pota, and her two brothers, George and Anargiros. Naturally, Helen desired an education which many of us strive for; and she decided to pursue it in the United States.

Helen became a member of the "Husson Family" in September, 1962. Her ambition is to return to Greece to teach English in the secondary schools upon graduation. As many of you may recall from your knowledge of world history, what we consider to be high schools are known in Greece as Gymnasiums. These are considered colleges by Greeks. When furthering their studies, they usually go on to universities.

Since only large gymnasiums offer business education, Helen decided to make English her objective in teaching as she anticipates returning to one of the small gymnasiums in her community. Helen will be able, however, to teach business education courses if she desires to do so. In order to fulfill this goal, Helen came to us with great courage. Although she could read and write as well as understand English to a certain degree, she was unable to speak it. With high hopes, courage, and willingness to give it everything she had, she worked at her studies diligently. Mr. John Perakis, a former instructor of Husson College, was able to speak the Greek language and acted as Helen's interpreter during her first few months with us.

Finding herself without an interpreter and the only one who spoke Greek on the campus, she carried on. Helen, however, was able to relax as she went home-away-from-home, for she lives with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perdikis, 94 Third Street, Bangor. They are her aunt and uncle who have lived here in Bangor for the past 12 years. Helen attended English classes throughout the day during her first year. This year she fully participates in her classes which fall in the regular business education program.

After being with us for a year-and-a-half, Helen can proudly say that she can carry on a conversation with anyone of us without too much hesitation. Forever trying and forever willing, Helen has done well and continues to work towards her goal.

During the summer she helps in her uncle's establishment, Louis's Variety Store. She also manages to work part time during the school year. Not being under any educational program such as offered to foreign exchange students, Helen independently works for her education with the assistance of her folks and Mr. Perdikis. Helen finds that working in the store enables her to be constantly in contact with people and practicing to speak English. It has been said that if a person lives among the people whose native language one tries to learn, he will learn much more readily and easily than with merely "cramming" books for years. (Probably this will give the education students here who are studying Spanish the incentive to go to Spain, Mexico, or even Cuba!) Helen has undertaken both the books and the living with the people whose native language is the main objective of her profession.

Congratulations on your fine work and courage, Helen, and may your work bring you happiness and success.

HOMECOMING

For the past several weeks, representatives from each campus organization and a committee of local alumni has been formulating plans for an Alumni Weekend on May 8 and 9. The work of these committees has been directed toward creating a program of events which will be of interest to all, and it is hoped that every alumnus will make an effort to arrive on Friday to participate in the two-day program.

The Husson Players will present their first three-act production of the year, "Arsenic and Old Lace," on Friday evening. After the play, "grads" will have a chance to renew acquaintances and friendships at a general open house in Dickerman Lounge, as well as those sponsored by Phi Rho Zeta and Kappa Delta Phi Fraternities.

Official registration will be held in Commerce Hall on Saturday morning. To assist the Registration Committee in its work and to avoid any delays at registration, each alumnus is urged to send in his completed registration form as promptly as possible.

This year marks Miss Swan's twenty-fifth anniversary as a member of the Husson College faculty. During these twenty-five years, "Swannie" has been teacher, counselor, and friend to hundreds of students. Knowing that each alumnus would like a chance to chat with her, an informal coffee hour will be held immediately following registration. Sorority members will serve as hostesses, and Miss Swan will be there ready to talk over "old times."

Through the years, many changes have taken place "on the hill" — additional classroom buildings, new equipment, dormitories, etc. Members of the Kiwanis Circle K Club will conduct a campus tour, which will include visits to each building and an opportunity to see displays depicting the many activities of campus organizations.

In response to many requests, the theme for the weekend is "Activate The Alumni Association"; and for the first time in the history of the College, a general alumni meeting will be held at noon, Saturday, May 9. A committee of local alumni has planned this first meeting in conjunction with the weekend theme. It will be an important "first," and all alumni are urged to attend and participate in this event.

Activities for the afternoon are many and varied—a one-club golf tournament for both expert(?) and novice, a showing of spring and summer attire in a fashion show sponsored by The Business Club (followed by refreshments served by Epsilon Delta Alumnae Sorority), and the Husson vs. Ricker baseball game at Bass Park.

After a busy afternoon, alumni will find a chance to relax at the social hour-mixer to be held at the new Bangor Auditorium.

A banquet (roast prime rib of beef), at which appropriate activities recognizing Miss Swan's twenty-fifth year will be held, follows the social hour. Nat Diamond and his orchestra will provide music for dancing after the banquet.

"Chief" joins with all the students, staff, and the committees in extending a warm and cordial invitation to all alumni to participate in this weekend and to visit your Alma Mater.

Send your reservaton in as early as possible!

Don't Miss Homecoming

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Greetings from Florida! We are counting the days to our return to Maine—to home—to family—to friends. We embark April 16; and, at the rate of 400 miles per day, it will take five days. We are at Bonita Beach, deep in Florida on the Gulf Coast.

The Gulf of Mexico is pretty, majestic, fearful during storms, and provides gorgeous sunsets each night. The sun seems to sink into the water coloring it gold and red, with shades of purple. I can't attempt to describe it. We shell a short part of each day and play golf when the weather permits. February has been windy and rainy. Our game is strictly amateurish, and we need lots of practice. But it's good fun and exercise.

The Husson Ledger, February issue, brought us up to date on the college activities. It is good to be busy. I compliment all of you who are "living" your college life rather than just passing through. Group activities pay big dividends not only while in school but long after school days are over. They are designed to promote social efficiency upon which the world places a high premium.

The picture of Ramesh Genge and Shantu Saytabhashak on the first page of the Ledger pleased me. They are far from the homeland, and you have taken them into your hearts. This is America at its best. Husson College is truly the "friendly school on the hill." These young men will remember for all times their happy stay with you as part of the student body that was never too busy to extend a friendly hand and warm welcome to all.

The mailman is popular here. Everybody waits his "toot" from the mail car for news from home. Miss Clark and Miss Swan send newsy letters regularly, and we read them over and over to get that homey feeling typical of Maine people. They report your good behavior, your busy activities, and all the news that we like to hear. They are dedicated to the college and to your growth and advancement. Give them your best!

A spring weekend has been planned for the Alumni. The dates are May 8 and 9. I hope that many of them will make an effort to return to greet their classmates, the instructors, and to spend a moment with me. I'd like to hear the news—what has happened since leaving the classroom. The invitation to attend is extended to all former students who completed at least one semester of work. Be sure to come for part if not all of the activities and see the improvements that have taken place during the last few years. You will be pleased and proud.

I compliment the basketball team upon its fine record. The desire to win has helped them establish a fine win-loss record, especially in the Conference. The cheerleaders must stand and take a bow, too. They add lots of color, zest, and an attractiveness to the games. Well done, all of you. I'm very proud of you.

The fourth quarter will soon be upon us, and another school year will soon be history. In the time remaining, give your best to your instructors. Dig in and make each day count, then you will have earned the vacation that follows the ending of your classes. Be ready for the finals and that means study. The college dropout and the college failure is a national tragedy. Don't be part of it. We will do our part if you will do yours.

Mrs. Husson and I wish you all a safe and happy landing in June and pleasant sailing 'til then. Put your best foot forward and good fortune will attend you.

See you in April.

Cordially,
"Chief"

R E A EXPRESS LETTER

Dear Mr. Wright:

I want to thank you for all the courtesies extended me when I visited your college. The group of seniors I interviewed was an outstanding one, and I was impressed particularly by their willingness to work hard in order to get ahead and their agreement to accept the challenge of starting a managerial career with R E A was very pleasing . . .

Yours very truly,

March 18, 1964

Dear Members:

At long last, everyone has voted; the ballots have been counted and tabulated and here is the news you have waited to hear. The Sweetheart of Pi Rho Zeta for 1964 is: LINDA LEE SMITH of EPSILON TAU EPSILON Chapter and HUSSON COLLEGE of Bangor, Maine.

Linda has been very active, both scholastically and athletically in her work at Husson College and Pi Rho Zeta. She is interested in dramatics, journalism and cheerleading. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Smith of Charleston, New Hampshire, her home town.

Miss Smith will be flown to Washington, D. C. on Wednesday, April 29th, to be welcomed at our Nation's Capitol. From there she will begin a tour of the city and have dinner in Washington. She will go to Winchester and stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Millard, sponsors of Kappa Tau Chapter. Their home is located on the border of the Civil War headquarters of General Stonewall Jackson. Later that evening, the Queen will be crowned.

Thursday will be a busy day for Linda. It will begin with breakfast with the sisters of Kappa Tau Chapter. Then she will go on tour of the Shenandoah National Park in the world-famous Blue Ridge Mountains, travel along historic Skline Drive and stop at the Caverns of Lurray. Luncheon that day will be at the historic Mimslyn Hotel. She will visit many pre-Revolutionary War buildings and battle sites. A private dinner for Linda will preceed her viewing of the famous Firemen's Parade, featuring a unique display of ancient and modern fire-fighting equipment.

And then comes Friday—the biggest day of all! Our Sweetheart will breakfast at Mason Hall on Monroe College campus with President Howard G. Wilbur, who is responsible for making her trip possible. She will visit George Washington's Headquarters during the morning and attend a private luncheon in her honor. And then the big moment: During the afternoon, Linda WILL BECOME the personification of Pi Rho Zeta, as she rides atop the red and white rose-bedecked Monroe College Float in the Apple Blossom Festival Parade. It is expected to last 3½ hours and will feature more than 60 elaborate and colorful floats, 75 bands, scores of drum and bugle corps, majorettes and an entire division of antique autos. A quarter of a million people are expected to turn out to wave to our Sweetheart. Lucy Johnson, the President's daughter, will be the Honorary Grand Marshall. Undoubtedly, President Johnson, himself, will also be there! And this is only the afternoon! Friday evening, Linda will attend the Pi Rho Zeta's Sweetheart Banquet and Ball at the Town House.

Saturday morning, she will be the guest of honor at the Sweetheart's Breakfast, return to Dulles International Airport and fly home with memories never to be forgotten.

How does that sound for a whirlwind dream trip? What can we say after this, except we will all be as green with envy as the new leaves on the pink and white flower covered apple orchards of the Shenandoah Valley at Apple Blossom Time.

Fraternally yours,
Herbert J. Kurtzheim
Executive Secretary-Treasurer

PLACEMENT OFFICE

We have had many fine comments on the last Ledger article written by Professor Lebrun. Shortly after its publication, the ideas suggested by Professor Lebrun were reinforced via a letter from John Lynch, Bus. Ad., 1963:

"Ford's Graduate Training Program is everything I expected—plus. I spend my first 5½ months in Procurement assuming full responsibility for the proper acquisition of purchase parts for the interior trim and maintaining sound business policies with suppliers. This involved personal discretion in reference to luncheon dates, after-working hours spent with company representatives at parties, sporting activities, and accepting gifts. This is a very important aspect because Ford is a good customer to many suppliers and their influence is ever present.

"Presently, I am in Shop Scheduling and Coordination. This area is extremely interesting because personal contact is required with every department in order to carry the duties of this integral unit. Our office is administratively responsible for building and shipping 85 percent of Ford's domestic trim requirements which exceeds one hundred million dollars annually.

"Our training program has some formality although training is derived from personal initiative. All trainees are required to submit semi-monthly reports of their work exposure which becomes a part of their personal record and . . . is important. . . . our plant management plays host every two months at a combined cocktail dinner business meeting at which time we discuss our problems, exchange ideas on operating policies, hear from the plant manager as he reports on progress, divisional standing, and future plans that may involve us, and gets to know our managers in a relaxed atmosphere."

John is studying for his masters at the University of Detroit. He continues: "I realize that I have rambled on in detail, but only to convey information you might use as professor and placement director. The only caution that I make to graduate students is that they should view future employment as a proving ground for a couple of years and approach the job honestly, intelligently, realistically and not give any image of being a sophisticated 'quiz kid.' The old timers without specialized instruction tend to abhor the younger trained generation. The situation only calls for a fair, equitable, and reasonable approach."

Since this is a column of letters, I should like to include two others. One letter is from Joyce Ryder, Bus. Ad., 1963, management trainee at Filene's of Boston. The other bestows many compliments on our seniors, and I should like to share them with you.

Hi!

"Received your "hello" from Miss Wedel. Glad you got another chance to have Filene's interview at Husson.

The job has turned out very well so far. In fact, I've been on a pink cloud for so long I'm half expecting to suddenly find a big hole in the cloud. My first week consisted of orientation with tours of the main store and the Southshore branch store, lectures, coffees, classes, etc. Then we were all assigned to departments for a month of selling experience. I started in bras and girdles (an undercover job). It may sound funny, but it is the highest profit department in Filene's.

My next assignment was as supervisor in one of the several children's departments. The title sounds great, but the biggest part of my job consisted of rescuing lost balloons from the ceiling and general all-round small problem solving.

"This only lasted a week, and I was put into the junior coat and suit department as clerical. This job has a less imposing title but is actually a better job. It's a small department, with only the buyer, his assistant, and myself. However, there has been plenty of opportunity for me to take on as much responsibility as I could handle and to learn as much as I could absorb. The assistant was sick off and on for several weeks, so I was unofficially thrown into her job. It was a great opportunity to "try my wings." Also, (during the rush Christmas Season) the buyer was out sick too—so Joyce was "buyer for the day."

"I've been with coats for about five months. Last week I had my first interview for an assistant buyer's job, and Miss Wedel told me today that the job is mine as soon as I've trained another girl to take my place. It's another small department (bathrobes) and this time for a very exotic looking woman buyer. I hate to leave the coats because I've learned to love the department, but it will be good for me to have worked under several buyers and learned their good and bad points so that I will eventually be able to profit from seeing their mistakes or strong points.

"I got a nice chatty letter from Peggy Brewer at Christmas. I gathered from the letter that she loves her job. I also heard from Fred Astle. He's in Fairbanks, Alaska, but didn't mention how he came to be there and not in Utah. Bob Gilbey loves his job in Bar Harbor. I often go to Jere Donahue's place in Arlington, Massachusetts. They have a nice apartment which is almost as good as having their own home. They took me to Maine one weekend; and on the way back, we stopped at the Petite's. Maynard and his wife have a lovely home of their own which they are fixing up.

"Oh yes, if any of the girls ask your advice on a good place to stay during their first few months in Boston, recommend the Berkeley Residence Club. It's the best place around for a girl to get orientated to a new job, etc., without the nuisance of finding and setting up an apartment. It's lovely, modern, clean, and has excellent food. FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

Delta Sigma Delta Sorority

Delta Sigma Delta has been unceasingly busy since the beginning of this last semester hunting for an "easy" way in which to earn money for their Conclave Fund. In a joint effort with Epsilon Tau Epsilon, a successful Hootenanny-Variety Show was held March 25 in the Husson Gym. The committee from DSD for planning the show consisted of Kathy Mitchell, Ernestine King (who does a marvelous fainting act), and Janet Cobb. Although not an official committee member, Mary Richards was her usual Johnny-on-the-spot to help things run smoothly. The acts in the show were varied.

Delta Sigma Delta elected a vice-president and a new member-at-large. Gail Luce is our new vice-president, and Betty MacDonald will be our new roving member-at-large. Lorna Durost will serve as Student Senate representative for the remainder of the school year.

As another money-making idea, Delta will soon be having a bottle drive, handled by chairman Lorna Durost and assisted by Gail Luce, Mary Thompson and Crystal Harris.

Another fund-raising event to supplement the Conclave fund will be the selling of candy for Mother's Day. Let's all remember our mother and take home a box of candy.

A challenge is ringing out to Epsilon Tau Epsilon. We of Delta Sigma Delta challenge you to a basketball game. What is your answer girls?

Epsilon Delta Alumnae News

On February 27, 1964, Epsilon Delta Alumnae Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta International elected a new slate of officers, which was presented by retiring President, Nancy McKenney. The Chapter had a covered dish supper in the Husson Gym with much fine food. Swan had to bring dessert so she brought ice cream! She's no cook! After supper, Sorority members set up card tables in Dickerman Lounge. Bridge and Password were enjoyed.

Elected to serve Epsilon Delta Alumnae for a year are President, Mrs. Thelma Sennett Vining of Bangor, Class of 1957; Vice President, Mrs. June Hollis Smith, Veazie, Class of 1952; Secretary, Mrs. Madeline Johnson Brown, Bangor, Class of 1952; and Treasurer, Mrs. Virginia Wright, Bangor, a Faculty wife.

ALUMNI OFFICERS: Mrs. Virginia Wright, Treasurer; Mrs. Madeline Brown, Secretary; Mrs. June Smith, Vice President; Miss Clara Swan, Advisor; and Mrs. Thelma Vining, President.

Mrs. Thelma Vining is a housewife and mother. Her son is just a year old. Thelma entered Husson in the fall of 1953 as a Business Education student. She was awarded a B. S. degree in Business Education on June 14, 1957. During her college career, Thelma was a member of the Student Education Association and the Women's Athletic Association. She won her letter in Varsity Basketball during Miss Swan's coaching career. Thelma served as Vice President of Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta in 1955-56 and became Chapter President her senior year. Thelma was a Dean's List student all eight semesters. She was married to Cliff Vining in her senior year. Upon graduation, Thelma joined the staff of John Bapst High School. She taught five years. Thelma's husband, Clifford, is employed by Cole's Express in Bangor. They live at 165 Allen Street.

Mrs. June Hollis Smith was graduated from Husson in June 13, 1952. Junie or "June-Bug" received an Executive Secretarial diploma. June is now a housewife and the mother of four fine children, three boys and one girl. While in college, June played on the Varsity Basketball team. She was very active in Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta. She was awarded the Advanced Typewriting Gold Medal at Commencement. Upon graduation from Husson, June worked for the United States Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Office. She was employed by Senator Margaret Chase Smith in Washington, D. C. June is married to Benjamin Smith. He is employed at Dow Air Force Base under Civil Service. Ben and June make their home in Veazie. June is certainly one reason why Epsilon Delta Alumnae Chapter has laughed and laughed at its gatherings.

Sending in monthly reports to the International Office will be Mrs. Madeline Johnson Brown. "Johnnie" as she is known to her schoolmates was awarded an Executive Secretarial diploma on June 13, 1952. She entered the education program but decided teaching wasn't for her. She then became one of Husson's highly skilled secretaries. "Johnnie" played Varsity Basketball and was very active in Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta. She was a Dean's List student. Madeline married a Husson student, Thomas Brown, of Bangor. They have three children. Tom is employed by Roscoe Flagg and Sons in Bangor. He is one of the popular Basketball officials in Eastern Maine. "Johnnie" was employed by the Bangor Public Library. She left to raise her family. They keep her pretty busy at home. She and June are pals from Sorority days.

A stranger to the Husson College ranks in 1956, Mrs. Virginia Wright, Faculty wife, has made her influence felt in the work and support she has given to Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta since she was presented honorary membership. "Ginny," as she is known to us all, married Placement Director, Jim Wright, upon graduation from high school. The Wrights came to Bangor from Massachusetts. "Ginny" will keep track of Epsilon Delta's finances, take your money, and spend sparingly! She is the mother of three sons. She minds no meetings. She brings delicious food to the suppers. She has been a steady member of the calling committee for the Alumnae Chapter. Epsilon Delta Alumnae Chapter is proud to have Ginny in its ranks. She will be a loyal treasurer. She is tops with the members.

Epsilon Tau Epsilon Sorority

Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta International was enlarged considerably on the weekend of February 28 when 16 new members and three honorary members were added to the Chapter's register. Informal initiation took place on Friday evening with all the pranks and funny costumes included. On Sunday evening, Mrs. Lois Cross Barber, President, conducted the formal initiation rites in the Husson Gym by candlelight. New members include Geneva Bass, Winterport; Noreen Crowe, Bailey Island; Angela Brasslett, Bradford; Angela Dandaneau, Brewer; Mary Jane Dunphy, Lincoln Center; Mary Carol Fernald, Bangor; Tanya Harkins, Southwest Harbor; Rosemary Hawkes, Bangor; Sandra Higgins, Ellsworth; Pamela Kenney, Brewer; Suzanne Lafreniere, Lewiston; Anne Lewis, Bangor; Patricia Long, Naples, Florida; Nancy McKenney, Bangor; Elizabeth Pullen, Monson; and Patricia Stratton, Hancock. Honorary members are Mrs. Jean Bridge, Brewer; Mrs. Arla Cohen, Amherst, Massachusetts; and Mrs. Nellie Robinson, Bangor.

EPSILON TAU EPSILON BEFORE AND AFTER

Linda Smith Pi Rho Zeta International Sweetheart

WINNING ESSAY

Having been nominatd by Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta, the possibility of becoming the Sweetheart has engulfed me with the fighting spirit of impending competition. It is quite apparent that the final selection of Sweetheart depends to a great extent on poise, personality, and service to the chapter. It is only fitting that others should judge the degree to which I possess these qualities.

However, at this time I feel it is justified that I disclose my reasons for wanting to become Sweetheart. Actually, my reasons are all centered around the word "honor." It was an honor to be nominated, and I want to fulfill this position to my best ability. To become Sweetheart would mean more honor as well as more responsibility. Yet, to bring fame and prestige to my sorority is my main purpose and aim, either in the position of candidate or Sweetheart. Really, to become Sweetheart would give me more opportunity to promote my sorority to higher levels of recognition.

Each candidate is, in her own right, a young woman of feminine charm. As we take on gradually the vast pressures and responsibilities facing us after college, we echo strengths of all young women everywhere—their ability to someday be working partners with their husbands, to raise fine families, to pursue numerous outside interests and yet to maintain the gentle, loving dignity that is their essential calling.

Sororities command respect for women's talents and abilities. It is my hope that young women everywhere will continue to merit this special pride and admiration. The world can take inspiration from the feminine spirit at its best—indomitable, human, compassionate, and fair.

Mu Sigma Chi Alumni Appeals To Former Members

The Alumni chapter of Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity of Phi Rho Zeta International sends out an appeal to all former members of the Fraternity to join the Alumni Chapter.

The Alumni Chapter was formed last year and currently numbers in the vicinity of 15 members.

The Alumni Chapter plans to maintain a headquarters room at the upcoming Homecoming and urge all former frat members to drop in and kick around old times. Tours of the new fraternity house will be offered.

Now that Husson has gone nonprofit, an active Alumni Fraternity chapter could prove invaluable to the college and also to the personal satisfaction of the chapter members.

Drop around at the Homecoming; you'd be surprised at how reasonable the dues are, and you'd be surprised who you might run into.

The supporting cast includes Hal Lench as Teddy Brewster; Diane Veazey as Elaine Harper; James O'Conner as Jonathan Brewster; Charles Kelley as Dr. Einstein; Seth Gilman as Officer O'Hara; Ralph Beckwith as Lieutenant Rooney; Jack Rowe as Officer Brophy; Barak Gurney as Officer Klein; and Eugene Melville as Mr. Witherspoon. Also in the cast will be Ed Baker as Rev. Dr. Harper and James Black as Mr. Gibbs.

In addition to the large cast, a sizable staff is necessary in order to assure the success of the show. Jack Rowe has been named Production-Manager while John Kerschules will act as stage manager. Any student who wishes to assist in the production should contact either of these people.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was first presented by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse in New York in 1941. The story is so well-known that the mere mention of the title is enough to guarantee an excellent attendance. The plot is about two sweet old ladies and their penchant for relieving people of the burdens of this world. The situations which result and the unusual characters who appear in this popular melodrama, will provide an evening of mirth that will be long remembered.

Mr. Albert Weymouth, director of speech and drama at Husson, is responsible for the entire production.

Husson Hall Dorm Council

The Husson Hall Dormitory Council has started work on the formation of an inter-dormitory softball league. Chairman, Don, "Soup" Demmons reports that plans are going very well. Four teams are already entered and keen interest was shown by other residents of the dorm.

Another successful reason of "victory dances" came to an end during the latter part of February. The council wishes to thank the students for their cooperation and attendance during the year. A special thanks goes out to Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson for being chaperons at all of these functions.

Winners of the second annual cribbage tournament were Chet Poole and Dennis McClellan. Runners-up were Peter Richards and Bill Robichaud. Trophies were awarded to both winners and runners-up.

A special election was held to fill vacancies on the Council at the beginning of the second semester. Elected to the Council were Bill Reed and Ed Martin.

The Dorm Council wishes to thank Jack Roe, student senate member, for assisting them with revising the constitution. One of the revisions was that officers would be elected at the end of the school year, rather than at the beginning.

A gift was presented to Mr. Anton Kusebauch, manager of the Specialized Food Service at the dorm. Mr. Kusebauch, who managed the food service during the first semester, was transferred to Salem, West Virginia. Mr. John Evans and Mr. David Grimes have replaced him as manager and assistant manager respectively.

Mu Sigma Chi

In the spring, a young man's fancy turns to love. Mu Sigma Chi's fancy has turned to the many new prospects (male) at Husson College for future membership in Mu Sigma Chi.

A mad rush day was held March 19 at the Mu Sigma Chi house, 98 Cumberland Street, to introduce the male students of the college to fraternity life.

There was a dinner prepared for all those attending. After dinner there was a social gathering in the recreation room. It was evident that everyone enjoyed himself.

During "Homecoming" in May, Mu Sigma Chi will be busy doing its part to make this event a successful one.

Don't be square, men! Let's get with college life by becoming a part of Mu Sigma Chi!

VARIETY - HOOTENANNY

by CARMEN LOVELL

Delta Sigma Delta and Epsilon Tau Epsilon Sororities joined forces again to turn the wheels for a huge sorority show. The show this year was a variety show and hootenanny. It took a lot of time and work, but it resulted in fun and an all-around success.

The show was held on Wednesday, March 25, in the Husson Gym at 7:30 with "Dell" Renaud acting as "Emcee."

Many acts were included in the evening's program: faculty, sorority members, students, and invited guest performers.

We "marched to Pretoria" with the faculty, had some "mountain dew" with the Bell Hall Hillbillies, and "held hands" with the "Beatles."

David and Neil Mallet, show-stealers wherever they go, were as great as ever. David and Neil, from Dover-Foxcroft, were in the October sorority show. They were, and always will be, a favorite among the sororities. The boys sang selections including: "This Land is Your Land," "Saginaw, Michigan," "Jamaica Farewell," and others.

We were visited by the famous celebrities of "Peter, Paul, and Mary" and the "Beatles." The girls who did these skits put a lot of time into preparing them and had fun doing it.

Dick Raymond and Jimmy McMaughy sang selections in the show and then joined the rest of their group to play for a dance after the show. Dick and his group put on a fine display of music for the dance.

Girls from KD joined us, too, for a selection. Miss Kay Goulette showed wonderful talent when she sang two selections: "Til There Was You" and "I Believe." Janet Drinkwater twirled her baton to a snappy tune of "Hot Pastrami;" and Miss Jeanne Fitz displayed her tapping talents. A young group from the Thomas School of Dance gave a splendid performance to add to the highlights.

Another highlight of the show was when our "Emcee," Miss Renaud led the audience in singing a rousing tune called "Alouette," although "la did get mixed up with "la tete."

The many people concerned with the show were all going helter-skelter up until the last minute, but you couldn't have a good show without a last minute rush.

Won't you join ETE and DSD for their sorority show next year? Who knows, maybe we can get male faculty members on the stage next year! Join us and see!

Excellent job, "Dell" as "Emcee." Many thanks also go to Henri Coulombe, chairman of the entire show; without her, we would have been lost. Special thanks also to Mary Richards as she watched over us all. To Miss Swan, Miss Jordan, Mrs. Hartford, and to all the others who helped make our show a success, thank you from us—DSD AND ETE.

See you next year at the sorority show for 1965!

We had a big surprise going-away party in the middle of March for Mr. Anton Kusebauch, manager of Specialized Food Services. The Student Senate, Husson Hall Dormitory Council, Mr. and Mrs. Whittemore, Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Farnsworth were present.

The Circle K Club of Husson College has been organized for just over a year; but in that year, has participated in many community and college service projects. Among those noteworthy were the Heart Fund Drive, Cerebral Palsy Campaign, Campus Clean-up, and the establishment of a Student Guide program to help prospective students become orientated to the Husson Campus.

The "Student Guide" program was organized with a dual purpose in mind. First, throughout the academic year, the men of the Circle K would conduct tours through the academic, administrative and dormitory units to visiting high school students and other interested candidates for admission. Secondly, the men would participate as guides during the September and February registration weeks. Major responsibilities during registration include assisting new students in filling out the necessary administrative forms and also insuring that certain groups meet at certain appointed times in order that the testing programs goes according to schedule.

On March 21 of this year, the men of Circle K went to the District Convention in Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. David Robinson, faculty advisor, and the following men attended the convention: President David Michaud, Vice President John Cyr, Joel Voisine, Tom Madson, Hal Lench, John Kershules, Edward Baker and Edward Burgess.

The men returned with many honors from the Convention. Most prominent was the Achievement Trophy that was awarded to the Husson Club for being judged the third best club among 17 in the New England District. Individual honors also were achieved by the Circle K men from Husson. Tom Madsen, Portland, was elected to the post of District Treasurer of New England; Hal Lench, Scranton, Pa., was elected Lieutenant Governor of the Northern Maine District of Circle K.

The Circle K Club has proven to be one of the most active clubs on the Husson College Campus and with the admittance of the following new members for the second semester: Dick Raymond, Jim McGaughey, Bill Woitkowski, Eugene Melville, Richard Meda, Marshall Sawtelle and Paul Alden—the club is hoping to continue to be one of service to the school as well as to the community of Bangor.

ETE Con't.

The girls of ETE sponsored a very successful Hootenanny-Variety Show with Delta Sigma Delta girls. The money realized will be used for Conclave expenses.

This Chapter is very proud of the fact that Miss Linda Smith is the 1964 Pi Rho Zeta International Sweetheart, and our congratulations are extended to Linda.

The seniors returned from practice teaching on April 13 and were welcomed back on Wednesday of that week. They certainly have been missed, and our congratulations go to them on their successful practice teaching experiences.

Many girls are working to complete their service hours for the national report. The United Cerebral Palsy of Northeastern Maine, organized Husson Alumni Committee, and the New England Business Educators are benefiting from these girls' services.

INTRAMURALS

The girls in the Intramural Volleyball Program entered their team in competition with five other teams in the Bangor Recreation Department League this year for the first time. The Husson girls finally ended their season with a record of 5 wins and 1 loss to capture the honors for the second-place team.

Those girls who participated in the program were: Bonnie Purinton, Bonnie Sewall, Linda Miller, Karen Marr, Judith Currier, Joanne Higgins, Sheila Fernald, and Jean Pellitier Hartford. These girls will be receiving letters at the end of the intramural season.

Basketball for girls started at Husson at the beginning of the second semester.

Every Monday night, the teams scrimmage at the Husson Gym, using all the new rules of girls' basketball. We will all have to admit that the addition of two roving players, and three dribbles makes the game much faster and really keeps our referee on his "toes." Artie Moore has been refereeing all the girls' games.

Those girls who are participating in this program are: Wanda Leavitt, Donna Laking, Lyndia Smith, Sue Simon, Anne Lewis, Elizabeth Pullan, Jackie Jacobson, Joanne McLaughlin, Nancy Lacasse, Sandra Bickford, Linda Sereyko, Carol Simpson, and Ginny Bass.

Their season ended March 30 and at that time basketball awards were made.

The Husson College Judo club consists of Paul Gregaitis, Steve Ames, William Pratt, Ron Baron, Charles Conti, Romesh Genge, Steve Flanagan, Harry Green, Danny Bryant, Bob Parks, Rick Fox, and Walt Leo.

Representing Husson at their first Judo match of the year were Steve Ames, Rick Fox, Ron Baron, Paul Gregaitis, Harry Green and Walt Leo. Steve Ames and Rick Fox each won second-place trophies in the heavy weight and 150 pound divisions respectively. The match was held at Dow AFB with teams invited from Pease AFB, Goosebay AFB, St. Joseph's YMCA, and Husson College.

In the coming months, Judo training films will be used to prepare several members for promotion to higher grades.

Frank Alexander, Shodan (first degree Black Belt), our instructor, has stated teaching basic self-defense methods of Karate and Aikido. These arts, besides having personal value, will be useful for future demonstrations.

Next year it is hoped to have about six contests with other colleges.
