Bill Schwechheimer and Sally Spofford win as Captain and Tennille

Chief For A Day

"Thanks" from Chief Week Committee

Dear Administration, Faculty and Student Body:

Chief Week has come to a close, and I would like to take this opportunity to thank every one of you for helping me to make Chief Week 1980 a huge success.

The administration and faculty did a great job serving coffee and ice cream to the students at our candlelight dinner. The highlight of the weekend for the faculty was their skit presented to a record crowd on Sunday night. Dr. Sullivan was instrumental in the production and writing of this skit. We were fortunate to have such famous political celebrities as Henry Messenger, Ted Remedy, Jane Smoke, Rosy Marter, John Homely and Ronnie Meagan.

A few members of the administration and faculty turned out Tuesday to be auctioned off to the students. A special thank you goes out for your willingness to have a pie thrown in your face.

All of the candidates, Bill & Sally, Stu & Gail, Jeff & Karen, did an outstanding job of running their campaigns. If it had been my decision, it would have been a three-way tie for first place. They all deserved to win.

The people behind the scenes did a very efficient job this year. I am referring to my committee. I couldn't have done it without them. They were on top of each situation that occurred and helped me to remedy the problems.

Dr. May and Mrs. Webster were always behind the committee and advised us wisely. Thank you for all of your efforts and time.

Last, but certainly not least, I want to thank the student body of Husson College. You were the ones who actually made Chief Week such a success. You were the ones who got involved; you helped the candidates, attended the events, and joined together for five days of fun.

Sincerely,
Cindy Willey, Chairman
1980 Chief Week Committee

Penobscot Consortium: My Turn

This letter is in regard to Jack Grady's letter concerning the Job Corps Consortium. His observations may be true for about 10% of our community, but certainly not the majority.

I too would like to take a trip down Memory Lane to a time when I was in about third grade. Back then we made fun of students who didn't dress or act the same as we did, because we thought we were so mature and perfect. Luckily, we grew up! Who were we to make judgements as to how a person should live his life?

The Consortium is for all individuals between 17 and 21. We are not perfect, but we are unique. It is not faire to generalize about all students either Job Corps or Husson students.

Robert Reed wrote a letter which we highly appreciated. It said a lot of things that we would like to have said ourselves. We thank him for his fairness. Robert Reed set an example for us to follow as students and people. His example was one of honesty and fairness, rather than Grady's example of criticism and lack of feelings for others, and yet Mr. Grady calls himself a mature, college student?

Sincerely,
Tammy Lambert
Job Corps Student

Commando Raid Defended

DEAR EDITOR,

The President of the United States, with the help and direction of military leaders and selected State Department officials had planned and strategically calculated a commando raid. This raid was to hopefully have led to the release and freedom of the 53 Americans held hostage in Iran; but the plan was disrupted by the unfortunate tragedy that led to the death of 8 servicemen on Iranian soil.

The incident was caused by a helicopter that was making a landing on an old abandoned airstrip with C-137 transport planes parked along the airstrip. The helicopter came down with no warning lights and hit the fuel tank of the C-137 which made an explosion that gave the mission away.

The President then decided to abort the mission and order all military personnel out of Iran with the consent of Col. C. Beckworth U.S.M.C. field commander. Many people have stated that the action was correct in returning back to ally base in Egypt while others, like House Democratic leader Jim Wright, have accused the President of the failure of the mission. They feel there were not enough aircraft for a safe mission. However, many others feel as I do that Congressman Wright is looking for a scapegoat. He called for a congressional investigation of the aborted mission to rescue 53 Americans in Teheran. Wright also called for full explanation and total understanding of the mission from the President to the House.

In my conclusion, I feel that this tragedy has left many Americans feeling that action was and should again be taken in an attempt to free the hostages.

Summer School Schedules Announced

For most students, May brings with it the end of the school year. But for some students, school will begin again in a few weeks. These students will be taking summer classes.

This summer there will be two sessions of school. The first session will run from May 26 until July 2. (Memorial Day happens to fall on May 26 and classes will be held!) Session I runs for six weeks. Classes will be one and a half hours long, 8:00 - 9:30, 9:35 - 11:05, and 11:10 - 12:40. The maximum amount of credits a student can take is six. The reason for this is because the courses that are being offered are very compact and there is a lot of material covered. However, the course outline and material covered is the same as that of the regular school year. If you do hear of a student taking nine credits, it is only because that student needed them to graduate and permission was granted before he could take them. Each credit hour taken will cost $97. There are approximately 125 students enrolled in session I.

Session II of summer classes will begin on July 7 and run until August 14. Class time is the same as session I. The number of students enrolled is 100. Deadline for registration ends the first day of classes.

Some reasons why students choose to take summer classes are that they need the credits to graduate, some might want to graduate early, and other students figure if they are staying around Husson this summer, why not take a few classes for something to do.

A note of recognition should be sent out to Mr. Karl McGaw for all his time and effort he put into making summer classes a big success.

A list of both day classes as well as CEED schedules are as follows:

Dr. Zink Retires

Husson College liberal studies professor Mary Zink is by her own description a person who likes to try new things. Upon completion of the current academic year, Dr. Zink will embark on something completely different from the life style that she has led over the past 40 years - namely retirement.

In a career that has taken her from the Girl Scouts of America to the University of Maine and finally to Husson, Mary Zink has been concerned with young people first and foremost.

"I have always felt that I should help those that I come in contact with to become more involved," says Zink. "This involvement will then mold and shape the perspectives and understandings that they have of the world."

In 1960, Zink joined the staff of the University of Maine, serving part-time as Dean of Women and part-time developing a testing and counseling service.

"i had a choice to make concerning my future directions," remembers Zink. I could have worked full-time in either position."

The choice was not a difficult one and she remained at Maine for eleven years, first as Dean of Women and then as Dean of Freshmen. In these positions she emphasized the need for women to become involved in areas such as student government that until then had been seen as primarily male areas.

"At Maine, I became convinced that while women need to be involved in co-ed activities, they also should remain in groups by themselves."

In 1971 Zink accepted a position with Husson dealing with a proposed program for executive women. She maintains that she only planned to stay at Husson "about a year."

Even though the executive women's program did not come into existence, Zink stayed busy. She served as Head of the Liberal Studies Division for a brief time and in 1974 then - president Frank Peters asked her to become involved with the College's new graduate program. During her tenure as head of the program it was approved by the Maine Board of Education. Most recently, Zink conducted an educational needs assessment of business teachers in conjunction with the grad uate program.

According to Dr. Jay L. Fennell, vice president and academic dean, the study will make a "significant impact on the future of graduate studies in business education."

"I am lucky because I can remember something good about every job that I have had," says Zink. "I have always needed contact with people and to have a feeling of contribution. Even though I have had jobs that were completely different from each other, I have enjoyed them because I have been able to retain these two things."

Zink considers her work with the graduate program to be the biggest accomplishment of her career.

"There is no feeling quite like the one you get when you know that you had a role in getting something like the graduate program off the ground," she admitted.

"This probably sounds much like what is said about anyone before they retire but is most certainly the case with Mary," says Fennell.

"I can think of no person here who is more well-liked by the students and by her colleagues than Mary. I don't think the true effect of her retirement can be realized until she is gone."

While many people retire to the "easy life" Mary Zink certainly isn't. Later this summer she will be on her way to China for a 2½ weeks with the Society for Students of Socialist Education. Also on her agenda for retirement are courses in carpentry, woodworking and, of course, some writing.

"I certainly am not going to quit now. I am just going to be setting my own time schedule."

Webster/Goodwin Named Teachers of the Year Again...

Mrs. Sally Webster

Mrs. Sally Webster feels it is a great honor to have received the Teacher of the Year Award for the sixth time. "I am pleased that the students think that much of me," was her sentiment when asked about the recently awarded honor. Mrs. Webster's endeavors are numerous, and the students of Husson are grateful for the time and energy she exerts for the betterment of the college community.

Mrs. Webster received her B.A. and Masters Degree from the University of Maine at Orono. She began her career doing draft work for the Corp of Engineers. She left that position in order to raise her family which consists of three children. In the fall of 1969, Mrs. Webster came to Husson College as an instructor of mathematics.

Mrs. Webster's service to Husson extends far beyond her role as a classroom instructor. She is an advisor to the Student Government, Student Government Executive Board, Finance Committee, Chief Week Committee, and Kappa Lambda Sorority. She is also a member of the Library Committee.

In the winter Mrs. Webster enjoys skiing at Sugarloaf where she and her husband own a cottage. In the summer she enjoys swimming.

Mrs. Webster feels that Husson is a friendly place, and she enjoys the moral support that she receives from the student. MRS. WEBSTER -- we, the students appreciate the moral support that you give us!

Mr. Robert Goodwin

"Very proud," was Mr. Robert Goodwin's comment when asked how it felt to be named teacher of the year for the seventh time out of the eight occations that the honor has been awarded at Husson College. The special recognition Mr. Goodwin has received is well deserved, not only because of his work as a teacher, but also because of his role as a friend to many Husson students.

Mr. Goodwin received his B.S. in Business Administration from Husson College and his MEd from the University of Maine at Orono. He began teaching at Husson College in 1968, and he now instructs only Data Processing classes. He is currently supervisor of the Computer Center and a member of the Commencement Committee. Being advisor of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity reveals Mr. Goodwin's special concern for the students of this campus.

Mr. Goodwin is very much a family man. His wife Jane is known to most Husson students as an admirable instructor in the Office Administration Department. They make their home in Brewer with their three children Julie 16 , Michael 14 , and Matthew 11 .

Mr. Goodwin's special interests include swimming and yardwork. He is also an avid spectator of all sports. He feels that he has obtained most of his goals in life and has no special wishes for the future.

Mr. Goodwin likes the "smallness" of the Husson campus, but as most of us are aware Mr. Goodwin plays a big role in our small community. Without his friendship and dedication to Husson there would be a big "link" missing in the Husson "chain." Our special thanks and congratulations go to Mr. Goodwin for a job well done throughout his years at Husson.

Tuition Change Starts Next Fall

Beginning in September of next year, there will be no more set tuition for students. "The reason for this," says President Merrill, "is to make it fair and equitable for all students." This was passed by the Board of Trustees last Friday, April 25.

Students will now pay $112 per credit hour. So, a student who takes 15 credits a semester or 30 credits a year will pay a tuition cost of $3,350. However, a student taking 12 credits a semester or 24 credits a year will only pay $2,688. And a student taking 18 credits a semester or 36 credits for the year will pay a tuition cost of $4,032. This way students will get what they pay for.

There is a catch to the tuition plan and it is a little confusing. A student who takes 30 credit hours will pay $112 per credit hour, which equals $3,360. The school, however, is only charging $3,350. Therefore, a $10 credit will be made to the students account who is enrolled for 30 hours for the 1980-81 college year. Last year it didn't matter how many credits a student took, they all paid the same tuition.

Included in the tuition change are the graduate courses and the CEED courses. Summer classes are only $97 per credit hour because tuition is always a year behind during the summer. Next year summer classes will be $112 per credit hour.

So, with this change many students should be pleased except for those taking more than 15 credit hours. It's good to know that Husson's administration is starting to look out for the well being and the monetary needs of the student.

Chief Week 1980: A Week to Remember

Thursday – Saturday

By Brian Wood

Chief Week 1980 was kicked off Thursday, April 24 at 11:00 a.m. by speeches in the Peabody courtyard by the candidates for Chief-for-a-day. The candidates included "Pebbles & Bam-Bam", The "Captain & Tennille" and "Bonnie & Clyde". A common theme among all three hopefuls was that of a unified campus and desires for an exciting and enjoyable Chief Week.

The Chief Week Committee, headed by Cindy Willey, had nothing special planned for Thursday evening but the students managed to keep themselves occupied. This was made apparent by the numerous get togethers throughout both dorms.

Friday afternoon gave rise to the traditional parade of candidates commencing in downtown Bangor and proceeding to the Husson Campus. Cindy Willey commented that it was the largest in recent history due primarily to the trucks, jeeps and even motorcycles decked out with paper, balloons, streamers and signs supporting the three entries were loaded with screaming individuals. All were overflowing with the Chief Week spirit, not to mention spirits of a more liquid nature.

The Captain and Tennille's float depicted the famous recording artists in concert complete with piano, drums and guitars. While Pebbles & Bamm-Bamm were frolicking on their float bedecked with jungle greenery, Bonnie and Clyde were attempting a quick get-a-way in numerous vehicles of escape with the Bangor P.D. in fast pursuit. This year's parade even had a surprise entry somewhat resembling a huge, pink cake.

Friday evening witnesses the return of Great Estate to the Husson Campus. A very talented band, Great Estate had the students clamoring for more as Chief Week fevers continued to rise. The band was so popular that many students were seen doing something quite unprecedented; rushing to the dining commons!

Mother nature failed to smile on us again this year as rainclouds hovered over the campus forcing the scheduled outdoor concert to be relocated in Newman Gym. Except for a few unfortunate parties who got sprayed by a faulty urinal in the men's room, the Chief Week spirit remained undampened by the inclement weather. Az-Iz, a four piece band of country rockers got the afternoon rolling with their laid back brand of picking and grinning. Following Az-Iz the concert shifted into high gear as Mirage took the stage with some high energy rock and roll.

While Husson students were rocking and reeling down at the gym Saturday afternoon, Husson alumni were registering for the 1980 Husson College Homecoming. At the Alumni Banquet held at the DDC the Alumni Association presented its annual awards to distinguished and honorary alumni.

President Merrill from the class of '54, was presented the Outstanding Alumnus award by Larry Richard for "leadership in the classroom, the playing fields and courts and now the Presidency of Husson College."

Gail Gross, a 1956 graduate who has served as executive secretary for all four presidents, was also honored by the Association. Cited for their years of dedication and service to the college, Helen Griffin and Carl Blaisdell received the honorary Alumni and Alumnus awards respectively.

Following the banquet, Colored Rain proved that disco has no age barriers as Husson alumni mingled with students on a packed capacity dance floor.

Sunday – Thursday

By Debbie Hogan

Sunday Morning of Chief Week began with the traditional Kappa Delta Phi Road Rally. The annual event is a favorite of the Chief Week activities and attracted many anxious applicants. The pre-chosen course is designed to test both the problem solving ability of the entrant as well as their driving ability. Avoiding clued or exceeding designated speed limits reduces the chance of the applicant in nearing the predetermined time. The winner of this year's road rally went to Brenda Garrity (no more women driver jokes!)

Later Sunday afternoon the three rival candidates Captain and Tennille, Bonnie and Clyde and Pebbles and Bamm-bamm continued their battle on the basketball court. Captain and Tennille and friends emerged the final victors in a one-point victory over Bonnie and Clyde.

To top off the busy day of activities, the Husson Community relaxed and enjoyed an evening of skits performed by the three candidates and a special faculty presentation. "Doc" Sullivan and Thomas Largay headed the all-star faculty cast with scenes from "Joe's Bar" of Jackie Gleason's 1960's series "The Honeymooners". Dr. Sullivan was outstanding as Jackie Gleason and is believed to be the mastermind behind the entire faculty skit which was without a doubt the highlight of the evening.

The three performances by the contenders were both amusing and entertaining with Bonnie and Clyde and company the overall winner.

D-Day for the candidates arrived in a tension-filled Monday while voting took place. Monday evening Ray Boston, a favorite at Husson, entertained an anticipating audience just before the announcement of the New Chief was made. Chairperson, Cindy Willey, presented each member of the Chief Week Committee with a plaque and the Teachers Of The Year awards were presented to Sally Webster and Bob Goodwin. Trophies were also presented for the following:

Best Skit: 1st place Bonnie & Clyde, 2nd place Captain & Tennille, 3rd place Pebbles & Bamm-Bamm.

Best Float: 1st place Captain & Tennille, 2nd place Bonnie & Clyde, 3rd place Pebbles & Bamm-Bamm.

Basketball: 1st place Captain & Tennille, 2nd place Bonnie & Clyde, 3rd place Pebbles & Bamm-Bamm.

Best Sheet: 1st place Pebbles & Bamm-Bamm, 2nd place Captain & Tennille, 3rd place Bonnie & Clyde.

The long-awaited moment arrived when Captain & Tennille were announced Chief and Assistant for a day 1980. Second place went to Bonnie & Clyde and third place to Pebbles & Bamm-Bamm.

The new Chief reigned all day Thursday with his first decision of cancelling all classes in effect. Survivors of the previous night returned to Newman Gym for the faculty pie action. This favoritie event offers students the opportunity to show their appreciation to their favorite teachers by throwing a pie in their face. Later students participated in the blueberry pie eating contest followed by the egg toss contest.

The entire week was both well organized and entertaining and Cindy Willey as usual, did an outstanding job in her chairperson role as well as her outstanding committee.

Hello from the Sisters of Kappa Lambda.

Well the end of the year is here and finals will be coming up. Study hard so we'll see you again next year! A lot of faces will be missed but the spirit will never die! Kappa had their annual outing this past weekend and a good time was enjoyed by all, even those who got a little wet! A lot of burnt faces and lots and lots of good food for everyone. Too bad Stu didn't do his tamed trick bicycle act. For the sports scene, Kappa took the intersororital basketball championship over Delta by 2 points. It was a tough game but Kappa shined through. Kappa triumphed again by overcoming the "Over the Hill Gang" and the OD's in softball and ETE in floor hockey. Way to go Kappa!

The Sisters extend their congratulations to the new Executive Board which consists of Brenda Garrity, President; Elizabeth Russell, Vice President; Sue Gerdin, Treasurer; Joan Higgins, Recording Secretary. Congratulations also go to the new officers of Kappa Delta Phi. A Kappa congratulations goes to Bill and Sally for a job well done, the long hours and determina -tion really paid off. Congratulations to the new Chief for a Day. Announcement, Announcement, Sister Elaine LaBrie we are happy to say is now engaged to Sgt. Ken Albert of the USMC many happy wishes and lots of Kappa love go to the both of them. We wish the seniors the best of luck in that great big world. The Sisters went over to Mrs. Webster's house for some good food and conversation recently and would like to thank her for the invite.

Two of our sisters, Kathy Pelletier and Terri LaCombe will be traveling by way of sailboat from Florida all the way back to Maine. Have a real good time you guys — Hi - Calipso we sing to your spirit! We hope that everyone has a good and profitable summer, and hope you'll be prepared for the floor warming party next fall when our wing is completed.

Don't forget the Greek Games! We hope this year's games will be as good as last years. Good luck to all those who participate. Until next time. . .May the road rise up to meet you, May the wind be always at your back, May the sun shine warm upon your face, And the rains fall soft upon your friends, and until we meet again, May God hold you in the palm of his hand.

MAY THE SPIRIT NEVER DIE!

Hello again from level one Hart. We hope everyone is enjoying the Spring time, but surely all of us are getting psyched for that golden season, summer. It'll be here before you know it.

At this time we are pleased to say that our spring outing with our sisters was a great success. Thanks go to brothers Don Violette and Scott Gerstner for organizing the festivities. Also special thanks go to brothers Chip Webb for the "spuds" and Daryle Flagg and Manny DaSilva for the clams. We felt it is appropriate right now to announce our new officers for the coming year. They are as follows: President - Dan Alley, Vice President - Jim Panzino, Secretary - Bob Lewis, Treasurer - Don Violette, Sargent-at-Arms Chip Webb, Historian - Jim Carrow, Chaplain - Cullen Williams, House Trustee - Charlie Falkner. Fire up men! All for one and one for all.

In sports, we will be out to seek the intrafraternal championship against MEX sometime this week. In softball Kappa II is 2-0 with victories of 4-3 over Tep and a 5-0 shitout over the Wiffers. Kappa III is 0-2 with losses of 6-1 and 11-1, while Kappa I is 1-0 by way of a 19-4 romp over the 4 F's.

We guess this is the last issue so we want to wish everyone a good summer and for those of you who will be back in September, fire up! It's been a good year for us here at Kappa Wing. Now at this time we'd like to congratulate our senior brothers who are leaving us this year and will be greatly missed. They are: Mark Chagnon, Dennis Dalton, Mike Duffy, Bert Farias, Dane Fulcher, Tim Ingerson, Willy Ledoux, Ed Michaud, Kermit Neal, Bill Schechheimer and John Wyanski. Hope everyone enjoyed Chief Week 80 as much as we did. It was great to see alumni brothers Herb, L.F., Pit, Butch, Steve, Glenn and Tom. Anheuser Busch thanks you for keeping them in business for another year.

Too bad the weather wasn't better for Chief Week, but that didn't stop us from joining our brothers from TZ in the massive balloon fight. We can hardly wait until next year!

Congratulations, we think, to brother Herb for finally building up his nerve. You shouldn't have been so quiet about it. We almost didn't find out. Everybody makes mistakes though, right? At least you stayed away from Illinois Avenue this year.

Hello from the Brothers of Mu Sigma Chi. We hope everybody enjoyed Chief Week as much as the Brothers and Sisters did. It will provide some vivid memories for years to come. Congratulations to the Chief Week and Social Committee for their arduous efforts.

We would also like to congratulate Sally and Billy for their winning, congratulations. We would also like to congratulate the participants in the "Animal House Week." Animal House was a spirit, not a candidate, created just for the fun of it. Toga nite topped the week off nicely with Greg Croutea coming up with the most electric get-up. Party-Hardy!

Our softball teams continue to add up the wins and laughs with MEX 1 and the Drunk Squad scoring respectively. The Heavy-weights are priming for the tug-of-war for this years Greek games. We look forward to this year's Greek Weekend for a chance to coexist with our fraternal friends.

This past weekend was spent down in Skowhegan at our annual Homecoming. Chef Lercy and his wife served up an abundance of great tasting meals with an equal abundance of refreshments. The MEX flortilla took to the waterways again on a smaller scale and Haystack still managed to prove his anglering ability by boating an "enormous catch." "Lock Ness Hare" also was sited capsizing another unsuspecting canoeist. A good time was had by all and we know we don't have to thank Hap again. Here's to our 16 graduating seniors. Thanks for the memories and we'll never forget you all. Good luck and keep the faith guys.

Greetings from the Sisters of Epsilon Tau Epsilon:

Well, Chief Week's over and we fell that the whole campus came together and worked hard to have an excellent time. We would like to congratulate Sally Spofford and Bill Schwehheimer, alias Captain and Tenille, for their win. They did a good job. We would like to thank the Chief Week Committee for their excellent job. Special thanks go out to Sister Terri Small and Brothers 'Hap' Lennepar and Bill Kelly who were all members of the Chief Week Committee. Sunday night for the Toga Party given by the brothers was a big success. Toga, Toga, Toga!!! The Greek Fair went over well considering the rainy weather. Many sisters had a good time in the jail. Thanks! Beatlemagic was enjoyed by the whole campus, we would like to thank the Social Committee for arranging the evening.

On Sunday, we dedicated our renovated lounge to two old sisters who were killed in a car accident, Ginny Trailer and Pam O'Clair. Many alumni were up and it was really good to see them. It was a sad time, but we made the best of it. Our new addition is a linoleum floor. It really adds to it. Come up and visit, everybody's welcome.

Saturday night the Cultural Committee sponsored the Folk dance in the gym. The costumes were great and the dancing superb. Thanks!

Sunday, MEX had their homecoming, many sisters attended and we would like to thank the brothers for the

Accounting News

Changes and Developments: Interview with Charles Veeder, Acting Head of the Accounting Department.

by Saiful Huda

A lot of developments and changes have taken place in the Accounting Department in the last year that are of vital significance not only to the Accounting majors but also to the other programs of study. The Accounting Department has changed in perspective, organization and size. It no longer is located in two stifling rooms on the first floor in Peabody, but is now on the second floor with five accessible rooms. If that does not reflect a positive development, the man in the chair, Charles Veeder unequivocally does. Excerpts of a recent interview:

q. What are the changes and developments that have taken place in the Department?

A. There have been significant changes. Number one, we have improved the quality of instruction. I feel that the instructional staff that we have here is better than we have ever had at Husson in the Accounting Department.

Obviously we have had a distinct change in the curriculum itself. We have gone to two tracks, namely the Managerial and the Public. Both of these are moulded into a nine semester course in Data Processing, as well as the A.B.S. program.

We have assumed complete control of the Accounting being taught here. In the sense that prior to this year there used to be Secretarial Accounting which the Office Administration Department taught. We are teaching it in the same class with everybody else in the school. There is no more Secretarial Accounting or the B.S. in Business Administration concentration. Everybody is in the Accounting Department now in terms of teaching and degree purposes.

Q. How do these changes affect the Accounting major?

A. Well, of those people that were here, we didn't force anybody into a new program. In other words they could stay in the program they were in. That was true for the juniors and seniors for last year. Obviously we encouraged the underclassmen to go one track or the other. But nobody was forced into it. Nor if anybody switched to a new program; say they were a sophomore in May of 1979; they would not be forced to stay and take extra courses. In other words we've encouraged everybody to get out on time.

I think that these changes have strengthened the hand of the Accounting majors, because of the fact that now they can go two ways in the accounting Department, in either Management or Public, and the employers quite frankly like the idea of a B.S. in Accounting with a Management concentration. I have several people who are employed as controllers in private industry on our advisory board to the Accounting Department, and they are very enthusiastic about it.

Q. What do you see as the further changes, if any, in the Accounting Department? Any weaknesses?

A. Well, we ought to have a P.H.D. for a Department Chairman. I would also like to see everybody in the Department get their C.P.A. All the instructors, that is. They are all working very hard for just exactly that, which is one of the gratifying things about this particular group of instructors we have here. They are all very hard working, dedicated and knowledgeable.

Q. What is your personal role here?

A. I guess a lot of students think it is to make as many people as miserable as possible! However, I think that a lot of students understand differently. My personal role here is primarily as an instructor, but also as an administrator.

Q. How does Husson rank in the field of Accounting as a Business College?

A. In Maine we still have a good reputation. I think our students are getting better. The incoming students are better than they have been. Accounting is not for everyone. With our open admissions policy we get people who think they would like to become Accountants. Now everybody has within themselves the seeds of greatness in some area. It may not be in the field of Accounting. We have had in Accounting, in the past, people who might have been far better somewhere else. We are trying to help this by advising. I think we have had very good luck in the job market this year. I think that reflects on the quality of our graduates. I think that reflects back on the quality of our Faculty. I think we're coming. It's been a very rewarding experience being involved in some of this transition.

Q. What does an individual require to be a successful Accountant?

A. Dedication. Also a willingness to put up with work that is less mentally rewarding. A beginning Accountant going to work for a company is going to be doing a certain amount of low level work. It's just the same for any enterprise. It can be very boring in the beginning and we tend to lose a lot of Accountants that way. Accounting is difficult. It requires a good deal of intelligence. It requires people with a lot of physical stamina. It is certainly one of the most difficult majors in this college or at any college for that matter. The amount of information that you have to know is immense. You have to keep pushing. You can't quit!

Q. Do you have a divine message for those future Accountants at Husson?

A. Is your Homework done?! Enjoy all things in moderation. I hate to say this, but college is not as much fun as it used to be, because there is so much pressure on the students to succeed earlier. Employers put so much weight on grades. And there are often some fine individuals who get overlooked because they had a good time for the first year or two. I think that is very unfortunate. This is supposed to be one of the great times of your life, and yet there are people like me that are putting more and more pressure on you. We do it because we understand what the recruiters are looking for. Make hay while the sun shines, but I hope it rains about five days a week so that you can study while it's raining!

Whether it's a debit or a credit, the entry of Charles Veeder as the Acting Head of the Accounting Department is certainly a correct one. Dedicated, hard working and assertive, he has changed the whole Accounting Department for the better here at Husson.

SISTERS OF PHI

Well, the year is finally coming to a close, and it has been a great one for all of us.,

Friday, April 26, the Brothers had a party in the basement of Carlisle. The party featured a live band, and an excellent time was had by all.

The next night we helped the brothers celebrate their 10th anniversary. We did this by attending a banquet at the Oronoka and then heading to the lounge to drink a free keg which was donated by one of the brothers. It was fun meeting all the alumni and we are now looking forward to next year's celebration.

We sisters are all busy now trying to rap up the semester. We really enjoyed the Chief Week activities and would like to congratulate everyone who participated in Chief Week on a job well done.

Saturday, May 3, we all headed out for our last outing of the year. This was a great celebration and we would like to thank Boo-Boo for the use of his camp.

We would like to congratulate Jan on her graduation this spring. It was an adventure worth the experience. Right Jan!

The rest of us sisters all plan to return next year whether it is to visit or to attend classes, we'll all be together again.

Until next time, be happy.

The Sisters of Phi

Hello again from the Order of Diana. It has come to the end of the semester and everyone is waiting for the summer break. But for some, it is finally that moment of graduation and time to settle down in the business world. It is a large step you are taking, but we are sure you will all make it. And by the way, CONGRATULATIONS!

While we are on the subject of congratulating people, a special congratulation goes out to Andrea Elfring who got Order of Diana of the month for her dedication and hard work. Congratulations also go out to Sally Spofford and William Schwechheimer for winning Chief for a Day. A lot of hard work went into each campaign and we would like to thank them and the Chief Week Committee for making Chief Week such a good time.

This past week we had elections for the new officers of the Order of Diana. Our new President is Melissa Duval; Vice-President, Andrea Elfring; Secretary, Diane Guyer; Treasurer, Karen McDore; Historian, Debbie Patnaude; and Sargent-at-Arms, Carol Swett.

This weekend the Order of Diana and TKE have a busy weekend ahead, that we are all looking forward to. The banquet is Saturday and the Outing, Sunday. Also, good luck to the brothers in the Greek Games. We hope you do as well as last year.

Until next semester, have a nice summer.

Golf Team To Play in Nationals

The Husson College Gold Team, under the direction of newly appointed Coach Brian Enmon, continued their domination of the NAIA District 5 Championships by romping to a 22 stroke victory last Friday at the Cape Arundel Golf Club. Their fifth consecutive District 5 title enabled the high flying Husson Linksmen to participate in the 29th annual "Nationals" Golf Tournament in Saginaw Valley, Michigan, on the 26th, 27th, and 28th of May.

The Braves, who a week earlier had defended their Maine Intercollegiate title by a twelve stroke margin, were paced by sophomore Mike Noms strong two over par 71. Noms, medalist for the second consecutive year in the annual event, carded an even 35 on the front nine and concluded the round with a two over par 36 on the back side for his 71.

Freshman, Mark Hall, who ironically played with Noms on Brewer High School's 1976 State Championship team, recorded a 74 at the Kennebunkport based course, good enough for second slot.

The third and fourth Husson scores to add to the team total of 297 were junior John Bowler, Hampden, a 75; and freshman Decker Todd, Charleston, a 77. Husson's closest rival was New England College's "A" team with a 319 total; Thomas with 324, University of Maine at Farmington, 334, University of Southern Maine, 344, Franklin Pierce of Antrim, N.H., 345, Nasson College, 347 and New England "B", 351 followed to conclude the team scorings. St. Joseph's had only three representatives and Roger Williams College of Providence, RI failed to make the starting time due to an auto mishap enroute.

The Braves were equally impressive on April 26th when they captured their 2nd Maine Intercollegiate Championships at the same Cape Arundel Course. Husson bested runner-up UMO, Bowdoin, Colby, USM, Bates, UM, Thomas, St. Joseph's and Nasson in that order. Dan Goyette of UMO's 73 edged Husson's Homs for Medalist honors.

Husson's goal at the "National" in Michigan is to qualify for the cut, the first 16 of 32 teams after two rounds of play. This is a goal that the Braves have yet to achieve in six "National" appearances. If the scores at Cape Arundel are any indication of this team's potential, a birth in the finals at Saginaw Valley may possibly be achieved.

Other Husson representatives which characterized the tremendous depth of this year's squad sere: senior, Tom Thorne, Presque Isle; and junior Mike Wilson, East Corinth, 78's; Senior Mike Duffy, Caribou; Freshman Dave Kelsey, Conn., 79's. Husson was the only team to have more than one member (8) break 80.

Both Noms and Hall were named to the 1980 NAIA all-district team along with Bowler, Thomas' Dick Broune (75), and New England "A"'s Mark Ashten (76).

Note the Difference

A man mistook an insane asylum for Husson When his error was pointed out to him, he said to the guard. "Well, I don't suppose there's much difference."

"There's a big difference, Mister," said the guard. "Here you have to show improvement before you get out."
