HUSSON LEDGER

MAY, 1962 | HUSSON COLLEGE, BANGOR, MAINE | VOLUME 37, NO. 3

President's Column

The Florida exile is over, and Mrs. Husson and I were glad to return to our family, our friends and our work. There is no place like home, and many of you have learned it already. I see it at vacation time when you can't wait for classes to end and the suitcases are packed for the trip back home. It's a great feeling to arrive and to be welcomed by those whom we love.

Miss Clark and Miss Swan kept us posted on your "doin's" from time to time, and these reports were pleasant to hear. News from home brightened the days, and since the reports were good, I voice my compliments and thanks to all of you by means of this column. The store was kept well and thanks for a smooth, efficient operation are due the staff as well as the student body.

This was a difficult year for the Hussons. The loss of a son is not easy to bear. My mother succumbed to pneumonia in March. The Lord gathers home his own, no man knows the time. We were warmed by the sympathy and concern of our many, many friends who reached us during troubled days. We look ahead, not back, knowing that some day, somewhere, we will be gathered in an unbroken circle where mansions have been prepared for us.

As the year ends, I commend the Seniors to their opportunities in a new environment. The challenge of employment is a severe one in these troublous times. Our nation wants peak performance from all of us. Our free way must be stronger than the Soviet way. Your effort, freely expanded in the job choice made by you, must be equal to or better than your Russian counterpart in his restricted society. So do your best, there is no better rule.

A word to the undergraduates would encourage them to pursue their courses with renewed and fervent energy. Don't rest until you have climbed "college hill". The rewards will be great and measured in part by what you invest in effort and time. Long study hours won't destroy anyone. Be patient, there is no hurry, and the world will be a better place in which to live for both of us. I'm for you and with you all the way.

Mrs. Husson joins me in sending you our warm, good wishes for your tomorrows.

Cordially,
"Chief"

BASEBALL

Baseball has started at Husson for the season. Pitching could be the key to a very successful season for the Husson College nine this spring, according to Coach Del Merrill. Pitching has been a big problem at Husson in the past but Mr. Merrill has several fine prospects that brighten the outlook for the season.

Jack Scott, Blaine Holmes, Dave Crichton and Cal Heffinton are hard-throwing right-handers while Ron Guttman and Ken Gordon give the staff a pair of southpaws.

Jim Berryman and Herb Hodgkins give the Indians two excellent receivers.

Mr. Merrill looks for a strong infield with Wayne Astbury at first, Jerry Kane at second, Scott at short stop and Bob Duprey at third. Utility infielder Jim Whitehead should see a lot of action, says Mr. Merrill, who plans to play Blaine Holmes at third and Duprey at short when Scott hurls.

The roster includes: Lettermen Jack Scott, Jerry Kane, and Blaine Holmes of Ellsworth; Frank Apple, Long Island, New York; Dick Wheeler, Easton; Jim Whitehead, Millinocket; and Mike Meagher, Bangor; New comers, Herbert Hodgkins, Hancock; Wayne Astbury, Blue Hill; Bob Duprey, Presque Isle; Bill Pelletier, Augusta; John Sprague, Easton; Dave Crichton, Augusta; Cal Heffington, Orono; Ron Guttman, Long Island, New York; Ken Gordon, Sullivan; Jim Berryman, Augusta; and Steve Knox, Brownville Junction. Manager and scorer is Martyn Van Wart, Newburgh.

The schedule is:

Apr. 28—Ricker (rescheduled to May 14)
May 2—Farmington State Teachers 5—Husson 9
May 5—Aroostook State Teachers 4—Husson 11
May 7—At Farmington State Teachers 9—Husson 11

Biography of Gloria and Irving Shaunessey

Gloria and Irving are new at Husson College this year. They are transfer students from Auburn Maine School of Commerce, and are both senior business education students.

Irving was brought up in Auburn, and graduated from Edward Little High School in 1958. While in high school, he was active in band, track, and Civil Air Patrol. He worked part-time and summers at Cook's Shell Station. After graduation, he entered Auburn Maine School of Commerce as a teacher training student.

Gloria comes from Brunswick, and is a 1958 graduate of Brunswick High School. In high school she participated in band, orchestra, and dramatics. She attended Gorham State Teachers College for a year and transferred to Auburn Maine School of Commerce in the fall of 1959. It was here that she and Irving met. A year later they began making plans to come to Husson to work for their degrees, and in March 1961 they announced their engagement. They were married at the Pleasant Street Methodist Church in Brunswick on August 19th. After a wedding trip through New England, they moved into an apartment on Kenduskeag Avenue. The two weeks before school opened were spent getting settled, and Irving started working at the Bangor Motor Garage.

Gloria and Irving are enjoying their year at Husson. Although their busy schedule doesn't allow much spare time, they feel that it is a valuable experience and a year they will never forget.

Summer Session 1962

Three workshops are planned for the summer session. For the week of June 25, Mr. Howard L. Newhouse, Professional Service Specialist, Gregg Publishing Division of McGraw-Hill Book Company, will present a workshop in the skill areas of Shorthand and Typewriting. Mr. Newhouse will present up-to-date teaching methods and devices which will benefit both experienced and inexperienced business teachers. Mr. Newhouse is an outstanding teacher and specialist in this field of education. He has conducted workshops in the leading colleges of the United States.

Mr. Andrew C. Swan, Jr., Guidance Director of the Bar Harbor-Northeast Harbor School District, will conduct a workshop in Guidance in the Secondary School. The guidance program and its effect on the business teacher and business student will be stressed. The small school program will be considered. Mr. Swan is past president of the Maine State Guidance Association and comes highly recommended for this workshop. This workshop is the week of July 2, 1962.

For the week of July 9, Mrs. Elsie M. Keene, Director, Department of Business Education, Exeter High School, Exeter, New Hampshire, will present a workshop in Office Practice designed for Secondary School instructors. Business Machines, Filing, Telephone Techniques, and various units of business areas will be stressed. This course is designed for schools who have maximum and minimum equipment. This will improve a difficult area of teaching. Mrs. Keene conducts office practice classes daily and has much to offer in this area.

Regular classes will be held from July 9 through August 10. These classes and instructors are as follows: United States History, Part II, Mr. Richard Howell; Principles of Insurance, Mr. William Parker; Duplicating Processes, Miss Thelma Watson; Office Machine Calculation, Miss Janet Kinney; and Law of Negotiable Instruments, Mr. Millard Foss.

On March 8, 1962, the Young Republicans Club, along with many other representatives from the Bangor area, attended the $50 a plate Rockefeller Dinner at the Portland Exposition Building in Portland, Maine. Following the wonderful meal, Governor Rockefeller of New York was introduced by Governor Reed of Maine. Governor Rockefeller talked a great deal about how he was trying to cope with the problems of New York and also about his campaigning for the forth-coming election.

At the next meeting of the Club, we hope to make plans for a few more trips to meet other related clubs in the Maine area before the close of school.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The most important step that is being made at the present time is the transition of the Husson College Student Council to the Husson College Student Senate. Letters have been sent to all colleges in the 50 states who have a Student Senate requesting help; and, so far, quite a lot of information has been received—more is anticipated.

We would also like to welcome our new treasurer, Louis Abbottoni who is replacing Philip Inforati.

Mu Sigma Chi

The school year is rapidly drawing to a close with everyone putting the last touches to a hard but rewarding school year. The same is true with Mu Sigma Chi. This year the frat is offering as a reward to its many hard working members a trip to Quebec. We are sure the boys will enjoy the trip.

Looking back on the last semester at some of the happenings and events of the frat, we find that we have made much progress. Among these are going International, putting on a minstrel show, holding a spagetti feed for the graduating seniors and the outsiders who helped make our minstrel show a success. Also, we have a new reigning sweetheart of whom we are very proud.

Our progress has been centered around joining Pi Rho Zeta Fraternity. We are proud to be associated with this great professional organization.

This year, due to the increasing College enrollment, our minstrel show was held at the Bangor City Hall. The outcome exceeded all expectations. It played before a capacity house of more than 1,000 enthusiastic and pleased people. The fraternity thanks each and every one of you for supporting us and hope you enjoyed the show.

One of the highlights of the show was the coronation of a new sweetheart. Out of four very excellent choices, our resigning sweetheart, Miss Bernice Ross, placed the sweetheart crown on Miss Nathalie Burnett.

On Saturday, May 12, a banquet was held for the graduating seniors. The minstrel cast was also invited which made for a very enjoyable evening.

Looking at the future, Mu Sigma Chi has its board of directors exploring the possibility of a Fraternity House. At this time, there are still a few problems to overcome, but we believe that next year Mu Sigma Chi will be flying its banner in front of the first Fraternity House at Husson College.

INTRAMURALS and VARSITY SPORTS

VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS

Jacquelyn Emerson, Priscilla Boucher, Alice Tracy, Mavis Churchill, Carole Worden, Lois Cross, Rebecca Blood, and Anne Smith.

Men's Volleyball

Intramural Volleyball came to a rushing end, with the good weather, a week after we returned back to school from our spring vacation. The final games of the season found the top four teams competing in a single elmination tournament. The top four teams were: "the Grosses", "The Indians", "The Oasis", and "The Bergs".

In the first elimination game, "The Indians" defeated "The Oasis" 2-0, and "The Grosses" defeated "The Bergs" 2-0.

In the final game for the Volleyball Championship, "The Grosses" defeated "The Indians" 2-1 in what turned out to be a thrilling game. In the first set the "Indians" beat the "Grosses", then the "Grosses" won the second set by only two points. The final set of the game found the "Grosses" coming back after a 7-0 lead had been established by the "Indians", to win the game. One more point would have won the set and the game for the "Indians".

Intramural Soccer is trying to get going, but with so many things going on, and the bad weather, it is getting off to a very slow start.

This Intramural Soccer is to try to teach the rules and skills, to get the "feel" of this sport, and to promote interest in Soccer. Next fall we are hoping to field a good Varsity Soccer team. This is a coming sport in Maine. Come out and give it a try.

Intramural Basketball

Winners of the Intramural Basketball League were the "Indians", who defeated the Kappa Delta team for the championship 82-81. These same two teams during regular play, had competed with Kappa Delta winning 59-58.

Four teams ended the regular round of play with 6 wins and 2 losses, and these four teams had a single elimination playoff to decide the winner. The four teams were: Kappa Delta, The Rebels, The Bombers, and the Indians. In the playoffs, Kappa Delta defeated the Bombers and the Indians defeated the Rebels, 113-77. The game between the Bombers and Kappa Delta turned out to be a real thriller with Kappa Delta finally winning the game in a three minute overtime 81-80. The Bombers ended the game with only three men remaining on the court, the rest had fouled out of the game.

Thanks are again given to all the people that helped with the Intramural Basketball games.

The Intramural Volleyball league play began March 19, with the Gross's playing the "Volley-good men", and the Dorm Bombers playing the "Oasis". The winners of the games played were the Gross's 2-0, and the Dorm Bombers 2-1. The games consist of sets of 3 games each, which are played to fifteen points. A team has to win a game by at least 2 points.

There are seven teams entered in the League and they are:

1. The Gross's
2. The Volley-good Men
3. The Indians
4. Oasis
5. The Rough Riders
6. The Ralph Bergs
7. The Dorm Bombers

If the first Volleyball games held are an indication of the type of play to expect for the remainder of the season, it looks like there are a lot of good games ahead.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Husson Indians finished a long, hard season at Sackville, New Brunswick, competing in the International Invitational Tournament.

Mount Allison, the host college, upset Husson in the first round in a very poorly played contest. However, the Indians bounced back to defeat the University of New Brunswick quite badly in the second round. The final game was against Washington State for fourth place in the 8-team tournament. Husson led at half time, but cold shooting during the second half cost them the game by five points.

John Doyle, a sophomore guard for the Indians, was selected to the all-tourney team for his fine play in the tournament.

The Indians ended the season with a record of 10 wins and 10 losses.

Wayne Smith, Alvin Trask, and James McKay will be graduated in June. The loss to the team will be great. Each played on the Varsity squad during his four years at Husson and contributed much to the successes and championships won by the Indians.

Pi Rho Zeta Sorority Chapters Active

Sororities Ski at East Madison, N. H.

E. T. E.

Epsilon Tau Epsilon Sorority held its formal and informal initiations in January. At this time, many new members joined the sorority.

On February 24, ETE members and faculty members engaged in a basketball game in the Husson gym. The faculty dressed appropriately for the occasion, and if basketball rules were followed, no one could really tell.

On March 23, ETE and DED members left on a joint ski weekend to the Purity Springs Resort in East Madison, New Hampshire. With the beautiful Maine weather we have been having, many were tempted to bring along bathing suits instead of skiis. This weekend gave all the girls and the advisors a good chance to get better acquainted with each other.

Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter members making the trip are freshmen: Nelda Scott, Brewer; Dianne Cotter, Orrington; sophomores: Rebecca Blood, Morrill; Anne Smith, Hampden; Carole Worden, Freeport; juniors: Simone Levesque, Frenchville; Elaine Goodwin, Madison; Betty Earley, Waterville; Helen Colby, Spruce Head; Dolores Renaud, Lewiston; Mavis Churchill, Washburn; and Ruth Sperrey, Perham. Dr. Marion Rogers, Director of Physical Education for women at the University of Maine, was the guest speaker. Miss Lois Cross, second vice president, asked the blessing. Miss Dolores Renaud, president, welcomed the sorority members, their parents and guests. Mr. Francis Goodwin, Madison, father of vice president, Elaine Goodwin, responded for the fathers, and Mrs. Albert Theiling, Lewiston, responded for the mothers. Dolores Renaud, ETE president, makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Theiling. Mrs. Theiling is Miss Renaud's aunt.

Epsilon Tau Epsilon members attending the banquet were Dolores Renaud, her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Theiling, Lewiston, Mrs. Medora Townsend, Lewiston, Mrs. Bertha Breault, Auburn, Mrs. Lawrence Spaulding, Auburn, and Miss Avis Reines, Endwell, N. Epsilon Tau Epsilon and Delta Sigma Delta Chapters of Pi Rho Zeta International were honored by the visitation of the International Executive-Secretary on Tuesday, January 16.

Mr. Herbert J. Kurtzheim of Milwaukee, Wisconsin arrived in Bangor by plane on the previous Monday.

Tuesday night the sorority chapters held a reunion banquet at Pilots Grill. Epsilon Tau Epsilon celebrated its fifteenth year as a national organization. Past presidents and honorary members were invited.

An invitation was extended to the Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity. Later in the evening Mr. Kurtzheim presented Mu Sigma Chi with a national charter in Pi Rho Zeta Fraternity.

Seated at the head table was the Delta Sigma Delta president, Nancy Conners, Orrington; Epsilon Tau Epsilon president, Dolores Renaud, Lewiston; Mistress of Ceremonies, Mavis Churchill, Washburn; Mr. Hervert J. Kurtzheim, national executive-secretary; Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity president, Leo Loiselle, Lewiston; and sponsor William Kane, Bangor; Delta Sigma Delta sponsor, Miss Madalyn Jordan, Hampden; Epsilon Tau Epsilon sponsor, Miss Mildred Bradford, Bangor; international vice president, Miss Clara Swan, Bangor; and Miss Leah Kearney, who presented the prayer. Alumnae representative was Miss Priscilla Clark of Fairfield.

On April 25 a magic show was performed in the Husson College gym by Mr. Paul Fleming. A good time was had by all who attended the show. Mr. Fleming's tricks amazed the entire audience.

The Husson College annual May Ball was held on May 11 at the Hampden Academy gym. Bids were sold by all Epsilon Tau Epsilon members. The theme for the Ball was "Sayonara". This Commencement Ball is in the honor of all seniors. The May Ball was the last social affair for Husson students for this year.

May 23 was the night that Delta Sigma Delta played host to the members of Epsilon Tau Epsilon by preparing a feed for ETE at the Camp of Ann Rowell in North Castine.

On May 16 Epsilon Tau Epsilon members met at King's Daughters Home for the annual revealing of secret pals. This was also a "Come As You Are Party."

To round out the ETE social year, a camp outing was held on May 25 and 26. This will be the last get-together for ETE members until the fall. A wonderful time was had by all who attended.

Delta Sigma Delta

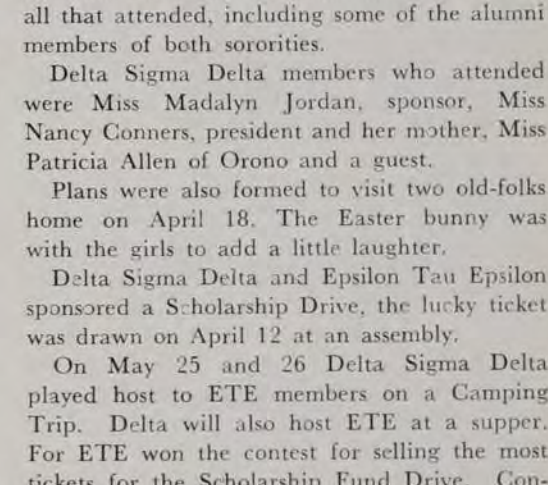

This year Delta Sigma Delta's membership grew from 14 to 44 after their initiation in January.

An Open House was held in October for all the one-and-two-year secretarial students interested in the sorority. During the pre-Christmas season, a party was held for the pledgees. They were entertained by Leah Kearney who played Santa Claus and passed out some interesting gifts.

Informal initiation proved to be an exciting experience for everyone concerned, even though the pledgees were relieved when it was over. Just as the girls enjoyed the fun of the informal initiation, they also were impressed by the beauty and ceremony of the formal initiation.

After initiation all members earnestly settled down to work. At Easter, visits were made to the Elderly Ladies' Home. The girls entertained by singing hymns and taking small gifts.

The ski weekend in New Hampshire, the sorority's joint trip with ETE, provided three days of real enjoyment and companionship for both sororities.

Delta Sigma Delta Chapter members making the trip are seniors: Edwina Lovell, Guilford; Nancy Conners, Orrington; Donna Graham, Bangor; Gail Mulvihill, Falmouth Forside; Nathalie Burnett, Brewer; Rachel Kyle, Orono; Ann Rowell, Bangor; Linda Wood, Washburn; Jean Vaillancourt, Fort Kent; and Nancy Goven, Presque Isle, and freshmen: Sandra Frost, Bangor, Sharon Beede, Bangor; Ruthanne Seekins, Stockton Springs; Joyce Hamilton, Bangor; Ruth Durgin, Jonesboro; Meredith Thomas, Dover-Foxcroft; Katherine Bird, Rockland; Lea Welch, Bangor; Anne Roberts, Bangor. Delta Sigma Delts Sorority sponsor, Miss Madalyn Jordan, and Miss Nancy Hogan, honorary member accompanied the group.

A banquet was held on January 16 by both Sororities. The special guest was Mr. Kurtzheim, the executive-secretary of Pi Rho Zeta International. A good time was had by all that attended, including some of the alumni members of both sororities.

Delta Sigma Delta members who attended were Miss Madalyn Jordan, sponsor, Miss Nancy Conners, president and her mother, Miss Patricia Allen of Orono and a guest.

Plans were also formed to visit two old-folks home on April 18. The Easter bunny was with the girls to add a little laughter.

Delta Sigma Delta and Epsilon Tau Epsilon sponsored a Scholarship Drive, the lucky ticket was drawn on April 12 at an assembly.

On May 25 and 26 Delta Sigma Delta played host to ETE members on a Camping Trip. Delta will also host ETE at a supper. For ETE won the contest for selling the most tickets for the Scholarship Fund Drive. Congratulations ETE members!

The above concludes the activities for Delta Sigma Delta Sorority for this year. All Delta Sigma Delta members wish to thank Miss Jordan for her many hours of devoted work on the sorority's behalf.

FRESHMEN WIN

President Husson presents War Club to Chief Ken Collins and Peg Brewer presents roses to Secretary Diane Cotter.

The annual Chief-for-a-Day Campaign sponsored by the Student Council is now over and another "Chief" and his secretary will be added to the Chief-for-a-Day plaque for 1961-1962.

Posters were placed in the Main Building, Dickerman Hall, and Hart Hall the last week in March to arouse an interest among the students and to start the students thinking as to whom they would like for candidates. Then Nomination Day—April 13th—arrived. Jim McKay was the first nominee with Patt Buck as his running mate. Andy Caswell with MEX Sweetheart, Nat Burnett, Dick Crandall with Alice Tracy, and Ken Collins with Diana Cotter followed.

The candidates and their supporters spent the entire weekend planning their respective skits, preparing speeches, composing songs, making posters and placing them inside as well as outside the three buildings.

April 16 and 17 were devoted to skits and April 18 to speeches and voting.

That same evening, the "Coronation" Dance was held in the Husson Gym with Sammy Saliba and his Southernares providing the music. The big moment arrived—10 o'clock to be exact—and everyone was anxious to find out who the winner was. "Chief" Husson slowly opened the envelope which contained the winner's name; and, after a few pauses, announced that the "Chief" for 1961-1962 was Ken Collins and his secretary, Diana Cotter.

Thursday, April 19, "Chief" Ken Collins ruled the college. As in the past, classes were dismissed as soon as "Chief" Ken made his trips to all classes. From 11:30 to 12:30 a "Twisting Party" was held in the Gym to the music of Dave Booker and the Belnotes. Being a beautiful and warm day, the students left the halls of Husson College and went their own merry ways.

This concludes the 1961-1962 episode of Chief-for-a-Day.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club held its February meeting on the 20th at Husson College. Two committees were appointed by the president, John Donavan. A committee was established to prepare the material for the yearbook. Liz Smith is the head of this committee and is being helped by June Lessard, Sheila Ouillette, and Henreitta Coulombe. A committee was also appointed to make plans for a corporate communion. The members of this committee are: Jeannine Vaillancourt, Gail Mulvihill, Pam McKelvey, and Phil Roy. Our speaker at this meeting was Father Rice from St. Joseph's parish. After his very interesting lecture, refreshments were served by Dave Fernald, Lawrence Fernald, Bob Dore, and Jim Hansen.

The first meeting in March was held on March 11th at John Bapst High School. Father Rice spoke to us at this meeting also. Following his talk, refreshments were served by the women of St. John's parish. The next meeting was March 26 and our speaker was Father Jacque from St. Mary's parish. Pictures were taken for the yearbook and plans made for our corporate communion.

Everyone is welcome to attend our meetings, which are held every third Tuesday of each month.

Kappa Delta Phi

John Field has been elected the new president replacing Phil Inforati, who enlisted in the service. Tom England, the former secretary, has been replaced by Wayne Hewett, and Edward Leplante is acting as co-treasurer while Dick Southard is student teaching at Brewer High School.

The fraternity recently had a T.V. raffle, which turned out to be very successful. The winner of the T.V. was Joe Paul's mother-in-law.

There is now being planned a trip to the National Convention in New Haven, Connecticut the last of April, which will last three days.

Another activity which was recently held by KAPPA was a "smoker." A lot of fun was had and approximately twenty-five students attended it.

This concludes the activities for Kappa Delta Phi for this year. We'll see you fellows in the fall!

VACATION

COMING UP!

Career Emphasis Day — Insurance

A "Career Emphasis Day" was held at Husson College, under the direction of James Wright, Placement Director. The purpose of the program was to develop greater student insight into the occupational opportunities of the life insurance business.

Insurance Company representatives first met with Mr. Wright and Mr. William J. Curran, Head-Department of Business Administration, in the college library for a Coffee Hour. Those participating in the program were Ronald Bishop, National Life Insurance of Vermont; Richard Boyd, Connecticut Mutual Life of Portland; James Driscoll, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company; Earl Fuller, Prudential Insurance Company; Arthur Fowler, Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company; Howard Goodwin, National Life Insurance of Vermont; James Penney, Hassen Real Estate; Wesley Rand, Boston Mutual Insurance; Maxwell Rapaport, Equitable Life Insurance Company; Timothy O'Connor, Aetna Life Insurance Company; Bernard Tilton, Tilton Insurance Agency; and Andy White, New York Life Insurance Company.

At 9:30 the students assembled in the auditorium. The guests were introduced and all enjoyed a "keynote" by Mr. Richard Boyd, Portland, Maine; General Agent for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. Mr. Boyd gave the students some sound career advice. He stressed the need for individualism, creativeness, and initiative in the world of work. "The insurance agent gets a chance to use all these traits," he said, "for this is a career where a young man is on his own, making his own schedule and setting his own pace."

At 10:30 the students, in groups of 20 to 25 men and women, were led in discussions by the representatives listed above. The day's events were concluded with a luncheon in the College Library for the company representatives, Mr. Wright, Mr. Curran, President Husson, Dean of Men—Millard Foss, and faculty members; Edmund Lebrun, George McCabe, William Parker, David Robinson, John Tyler, Richard Vizard, Chester Dana, and John Perakis, and William Kane.

A survey of student opinion indicated great interest in this program, and it is planned to hold similar Career Days in the future—with other business occupations being emphasized.

Some of the students suggested that it would be wiser for them to attend only when careers in which they are interested are being emphasized. The writer feels that this would defeat the basic purpose of this type program, which is to acquaint all students with all phases of business. For example, plans are now in the process for having another "Career Emphasis Day" in the Fall. The career to be emphasized at that time will be Public Accounting. Business Administration and Accounting students will be required to attend; because regardless of the type of business that one enters, he eventually needs to deal with a Public Accountant. So there is value in exposing oneself to all of these career opportunities, even though he is not particularly interested in that career as a vocation.

OPERATION MAGNET

Registration was at 9 a.m. in the lobby of the library at the U. of M., followed by welcoming addresses in the library. Speakers included Mr. Charles Ferguson, President of the General Student Senate; Dr. Lloyd H. Elliott, President of the U. of M.; Mr. Lloyd K. Allen, Comm., Maine Department of Economic Development; Dr. James A. Storer, Director, Center for Economic Research, Bowdoin College; and Mr. William R. Chandler, Director of OPERATION MAGNET.

With a clear picture of our general purposes we proceeded to various conference workshops. Paul Fleming and I chose the Educational Workshop. During the morning session we discussed the reasons why teachers leave the state. Some of the stronger reasons were: inadequate salaries, incomplete libraries, inadequate teaching facilities, cultural reasons, lack of opportunities for graduate study, fringe benefits and academic freedom. Two other reasons determined to be unchangeable were marriage to someone of another state, and a desire to see the world.

After this we attended a luncheon at Estabrooke Hall Cafeteria, then returned to our workshops seeking counterproposals to the arguments presented in the morning discussion. General conclusions reached after extensive discussion included:

(1) Salary—Federal aid with control only to the state level.

(2) Facilities—provide up-to-date texts, labs, and libraries. Also provide a place for graduate study and incentive for it.

(3) Community attitude—educate the public of the need for good education; perhaps by working through the labor unions.

(4) Fringe benefits—improve pensions.

(5) Provide opportunities for Ph.D. in the state in education.

(6) Coordination between the schools, pool resources in area Programs.

(7) Provide teachers with a degree of academic freedom.

With a feeling of accomplishment we proceeded to an all-Maine dinner complete from Maine apple juice and chicken to Maine blueberry pie! Mr. Reginald Tweedale, General Manager of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, was the evening speaker with the educational topic of the multi-purpose use of St. John River area.

The events of the day were brought to a close with folk-singing by a group of talented students from the U. of M.

April 14 Paul Fleming an Accounting senior with an education minor and Lois Cross, an Education sophomore, attended the Operation Magnet Conference designed to discuss the various reasons why students leave Maine upon graduation and what can be done to encourage them to stay in the state.

ALUMNI

86 West Cedar Street
Boston 14, Massachusetts
January 25, 1962.

Dear Mrs. Miller:

Ever since moving to Boston I've been wondering how everyone at Husson is this year and have been planning to write for quite some time. I even began a letter to you in November; you can see that I'm still as prompt as ever. A few days later I received the Husson newspaper in the office and was so anxious to hear about everyone that I read it then. Thank you very much; it was wonderful to hear from the Alma Mater.

As for the job, I'm loving every minute of it. I'm employed by Harvard Medical School and Otto E. Aufranc, M. D., Chief of the Fracture Clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital and author of many medical books and journals. I was very fortunate as I was able to step right into the job as supervisor and first medical secretary of the Fracture Office. How this happened, I don't know. My job consists mostly of: composing and sending out letters to doctors all around the world (many of them requesting articles that Dr. Aufranc has written), answering the telephone and mail (deciding which are important enough for Dr. Aufranc to see and which I can answer myself), taking dictation from four doctors each Tuesday and Friday morning, (this isn't difficult, as they usually dictate slowly and if they should speed up too much, I just ask them to slow down). Every other Wednesday I'm in charge of a Fracture Follow-Up Clinic and this is the only time when I have contact with patients. I call them to return for a free check-up one year after their discharge from the hospital. Each Wednesday morning for one hour I take dictation from about thirty doctors as they discuss special cases. As they talk, I jot down the important things that they say. After taking dictation on all of these days, I return to the Fracture Office, type up the notes, and file them. Monthly the doctors here, under the supervision of Dr. Aufranc, write an article on an interesting fracture case called the "Fracture of the Month". I type this over many times as each doctor adds his comments. Then I make a final copy (usually consists of about 25 pages) and send if off to the publisher in Illinois. Oh, I don't wear uniforms and to me that is great as I hate uniforms. Whenever we finish our work, we can leave the office and there is never overtime or Saturday work. We are even paid for our noon hour. Whenever we want a day off, all we have to do is ask. I get four weeks of paid vacation yearly, and of course, many benefits working for Harvard. I couldn't ask for a better job or for nicer people to work for, and I truly believe that doctors are the best.

Sharon Bell is home from the hospital now and doing very well after her bad accident. Since she was brought to the M. G. H. with multiple fractures, the doctors that I work with took care of her. When I first heard of the accident, I made those doctors go right in to see just what actually was the matter and from then on they stayed with her case. They even let me in the x-ray room to see her two hours after the accident when no one else was allowed in because I work with these doctors each day and because they know how much I think of Sharon. Each morning when I came in they would tell me the latest of her condition. Every one of them said that she was the perfect patient and she certainly made many friends while here. We even gave her a going-away party in the office the day that she left for home. As well as she is doing, she still won't be able to return to Boston or work for quite a while.

I'm typing this on office time; and although Dr. Aufranc just returned from South America and left again yesterday for Chicago, he left enough work to keep me out of mischief. He goes to many conventions giving lectures and I'm hoping that he'll break down and take me with him. Oh, well, until then I'll remain here and type.

Please give my love to Mr. and Mrs. Husson and my fond regards to the rest of the "Husson family."

Most sincerely,
Patty Hunter

Jean Murphy Tops

An Incentive Award was given to Jean Murphy for meritorious service at Base Supply, Strategic Air Command. The award was presented to Miss Murphy by Col. James R. Wiley.

Miss Murphy has developed an extensive knowledge of existing procedures pertaining to supply correspondence and has been able to rapidly prepare TWX messages of a technical nature for the several sections of the Material Facilities Branch. She is an excellent typist and takes great pride in her work. Her finished typing products are always clean and neat with an absolute minimum of erasures, and proofreading on the part of the Material Facilities Officer has become virtually unnecessary. Her comprehensive background of English grammar and composition has been a great asset to this office. Miss Murphy has always been most cooperative with the supervisors of this branch in the preparation of their various correspondence.

Miss Murphy has done a most creditable job in her maintenance of the office and branch files. A recent inspection of the files by a base inspector revealed only one minor discrepancy and drew praise for the neatness and orderly arrangement. Several months ago the filing system for Base Supply underwent severe changes; however, Miss Murphy was able to quickly and efficiently rearrange the files with no disruption in operations. She has continually maintained a correct file index and has always been able to quickly furnish the Material Facilities Officer the requested filed correspondence. Her maintenance of the technical publications has always been done rapidly and efficiently and I have never found an improper posting.

Miss Murphy has always been prompt and extremely courteous in her answering of the telephone. She handles each call without indecision and pleasantly makes referrals if necessary. She is most effective in relaying accurate information and in reminding officials of required calls. She always displays the proper amount of tact and judgment in relaying personal messages. Her neat appearance and dress coupled with her friendly personality have made her a valuable receptionist and a great asset to this office. I have often heard compliments, but never complaints, as to the courteous manner in which Miss Murphy deals with calls and visitors.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Lillian Husson

Like so many other wonderful mothers, who spend most of their lifetime working and sacrificing to make a better life for their large families, Mrs. Lillian Husson, mother of nine and a symbol of all that is greatest in mothers everywhere, passed into eternity last week.

Her greatest joy and pleasure were derived from her four sons and five daughters, her 16 grandchildren, and her four great-grandchildren. Any good news about them was a source of real happiness for her.

A native of Hearts Content, Newfoundland, Mrs. Husson came to Lynn 60 years ago to marry George Husson. She was the daughter of a village blacksmith and reflected the fine traits of this stalwart man, whom she revered along with her own mother.

It was with understandable pride that, after encouraging her oldest son, Chesley, to seek a higher education, he went ahead to found and establish Husson College an accredited degree-granting college, in Bangor, Maine.

Another son, George, is a teacher-coach at Waltham High School. Two other sons, one a chief warrant officer in the Navy, make their homes with their families in California. Four other daughters live in Greater Lynn. A fifth daughter, Mabel, died two years ago in Yonkers, N. Y.

Not in such good health herself for the last year, this cheerful little 83-year-old lady accepted life's rigors goodnaturedly and would merely point out that "I'm ready to go when God calls me."

Call her He did Thursday afternoon, as she departed peacefully to her well-earned eternal reward. In material things she accumulated little, but in spiritual qualities and high principles she bequeathed untold wealth to her family and friends. Because of these and her dedicated life, she will be long remembered.

There is an old story about an angel, sent from Heaven to bring back the most beautiful thing on Earth . . . He first saw a delicate rose and decided he would take it to Heaven . . . Then he saw a baby's smile, and he knew, too, that he must take that back with him . . . He looked for a third thing and finally he saw the sacrifice a mother's love was making for her children . . . That, he was certain, must be taken with him . . . But when he was ready to leave, he found that the rose had withered away . . . He looked for the baby's smile, but found that gone, also, for the baby had grown to a child . . . The only thing remaining was a mother's love . . . And he took that to Heaven, guarding it carefully all the way . . .

MR. DARTNELL TO TEACH PSYCHOLOGY

Bishop James K. Matthews, resident bishop of the Boston area of the Methodist Church, has announced the pending appointment of the Rev. E. Charles Dartnell of Brewer as full-time chaplain at Husson College.

Mr. Dartnell, minister of the First Methodist Church of Brewer, tendered his resignation, following the Sunday morning service, effective June 3.

Mr. Dartnell has for the past 16 years been the minister of the First Methodist Church of Brewer and since last September has been teaching psychology part time at the college. He will continue teaching in the department of psychology, but as full-time chaplain of the school he will be available for counseling and spiritual guidance of the students.

Under the leadership of Chesley H. Husson, president of the college, the school has grown until it is expected that the enrollment next fall will reach the 800 mark. A program of expansion and possible relocation is contemplated. Under these circumstances a full-time chaplain is desirable and it is expected that eventually Mr. Dartnell will be giving all his time to counseling and religious leadership.

Mr. Dartnell is a graduate of Kents Hill School and is on the board of trustees of that institution. He was graduated from the University of Maine with an A.B. in sociology and an M.A. in psychology. He is a graduate of Bangor Theological Seminary with a B.D. degree. For a year he did special work and research at the Bangor State Hospital under Dr. Carl Hedin, then Superintendent, and Dr. Charles Dickinson, then head of the Department of Psychology, University of Maine. This study was in the field of abnormal psychology.

DR. MERCHANT

Dr. Merchant of Orono will become a full time professor at Husson in the fall. Dr. Merchant will teach in the fields of Economics and Marketing. Dr. Merchant is retiring after twenty-three years at the State University. Husson is fortunate in procuring his services.
