Ph: Lounge Dedicated

by Herb Hewitt

Last weekend Friday, December 5th Phi Theta Phi Fraternity had reason to celebrate in high fashion. The reason being, the dedication of their lounge, the initiation of their pledges, and the 50th anniversary of their Fraternity. Starting the festivities with a serious note was the dedication of their lounge to the late Dr. Dennis C. Helgeson. Dr. Helgeson was a teacher at Husson College in the science department.

Tony Sellars, President of the Lambda Mu Chapter at Husson, started the proceedings with a few words. A plaque was presented in honor of Dr. Helgeson. Mrs. Helgeson then cut the three ribbons. The ribbons were yellow, black and red, symbolizing the colors of the Fraternity. Later, the plaque was hung in the lounge. The plaque reads "We dedicate this lounge in the memory of our Brother Dr. Dennis C. Helgeson Fall 1975."

Several people from the administration and friends of Phi attended the ceremony. They were Dr. Karris, Dr. Lindgren, both honorary Brothers, Robert Knowlton, an alumni Brother, Dan Eisenhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Webster. Next on the agenda was the initiation of their pledges. This was held at Bell Dormitory in a closed section.

Last but not least, was a dinner celebration at the Red Lion in Bangor. At this time they announced their choice for pledge of the year, who was Larry Small (p.s. Congratulations also to Hollywood). After dinner they proceeded back to Husson for a party and some relaxation.

Another Successful Business Breakfast

by Scott Towle

Halsey Smith, chairman of the Commission on Maine's Future, spoke at the November 19th Business Breakfast here at Husson. He is director of the Center for Research and Advanced Study at the University of Maine at Portland-Gorham.

Mr. Smith feels that it is very important that the people of Maine know about the Commission and that there is a chance for public input about how we, the citizens of Maine, feel Maine should progress toward the twenty-first century.

He explained how the Commission was created, how its membership is comprised, its task, what its been doing, and what it hopes to do.

The Commission came into being through a statute passed by the 106th legislature, Smith described this statute as "awe-inspiring." The Commission's principle task is to prepare a long-term growth and development policy for the state of Maine and indentify the means by which that policy can be most effectively implemented. The Statute became effective on January 1, 1975, and is called for the Commission to furnish a preliminary report to the governor, legislature, and people of Maine on November 30, 1975. By June 1977 a final report would also be submitted. Under the statute, the Commission is comprised of fourty members. This membership consists of at least one person from each county and two persons from each of the planning districts; six members from the Senate and six members from the House; and the head of the State Planning Office.

Smith described the Commission's task as "mind boggling because of its scope and the time involved. He also said that there is going to be a "strong effort" to gain public input and together with the Commission develop an "exciting" and "pragmatic" development policy. He feels that one asset that Maine has toward this goal is that it is not "locked in" the way other states are because it isn't already committed to overorganization and industrialization, but has many options. He also pointed out that Maine is "not an island" and that it will always be subject to outside focus that will affect life and development in the state. Therefore, they must come up with a policy that will allow for constant re-evaluation and the public can't look at their recommendation as permanent and inflexible.

For the past eight months, the Commission itself has been working on educating the Commission about Maine as many members found that they really didn't know as much about each county as they thought. They felt that first of all, they should understand the people of Maine to the best of their ability (ages, per capita income, etc.) and also know how they earn their living, what their life styles are, and how they feel about their situation, lives, and future. Secondly, they felt they should learn about Maine's natural resources. Smith stressed forestry as a great natural resource and also fisheries and agricultures. All of these have provided the Commission with a good understanding of Maine.

The Commission is faced with problems. One problem is the size of the state. Maine is so large that it is difficult to accomodate accurate current data. Computers have helped in this area, but they must continue to find data sources for information to complete the current picture of Maine. They have, however, become "extremely conscious" of the fact that a lot of Maine's development has not come by way of legislation, but by virtue of non-elected bureaucratic decisions." By 1976, the Commission plans to seek public input in a variety of ways.

"Like It Is"

Merry Christmas!

Hello again everyone, with the holiday season vastly approaching we would like to leave you with these thoughts.

Tonight's the party! In case you've forgotten what a party is let us refresh your memory.

Contents of a Senate Party:
(A) "Gala" entertainment
(B) The Beer that made Milwaukee famous
(C) A Husson student (if any can be found after Friday afternoon.
(D) One "advisor" (dictator)
(E) And all the other swell things that make Husson such a fun place.

Christmas is in the air and our Senate is going to give us a party —MERRY CHRISTMAS! On the serious side we don't have to tell you that a party is long overdue. This is quite evident when you look at the four thousand some odd dollars that will be left over after this semester. We hope the students of Husson will reap the benefits of these extra funds. And senators, as representatives of the student body, inquire and express the views and wishes of the people you represent.

As a New Year's resolution we would like to offer the following suggestions: (1) Establish better communications between students, faculty and administrators, (2) an active senate, (3) and for those who think they've been active at school there is no limit to what you can do, (4) for those who have been stagnant get off your derriere and make 1976 a year to look upon with pride and accomplishment, (5) and as for us we promise to publish the rights and wrongs and continue to tell it "like it is."

It's Up To You

Many things have happened to this campus since the Turkey Vacation. The main pressure and focus of attention, right now, is being placed on the Greek Council, in conjunction with the Academic Board and some other Administration Officials. As I remember in a meeting of the Academic Committee on Oct. 23, 1975 the decision was made that those students that were now pledging: those either conditionally accepted or on Probation were to be dropped from their prospective classes. This was done by all Greek organizations. One administrator indicated that if the grades were at satisfactory level by the end of this semester then those students should be allowed a chance to pledge in the coming semester. There were as many as 5 dismissed.

On Sunday Dec. 7 a proposal was to be made to the Greek Council to hold and to institute second semester pledging. So now the vote goes to the Greek Council to decide. I have heard that regardless, we are going to, for those who were here last Semester can remember that there was second semester pledging. To that Greek organization, all the power to you. In personal interviews around this campus the following information was gathered.

No way, it is bad enough pledging went this long.

It would be good, In favor.

Definitely. But the only tie up is in the council vote due to the three girls clubs and a bloc vote.

No idea just yet.

It will be a test of the Constitution.

So what is left to say. Ask those who pledged this semester.

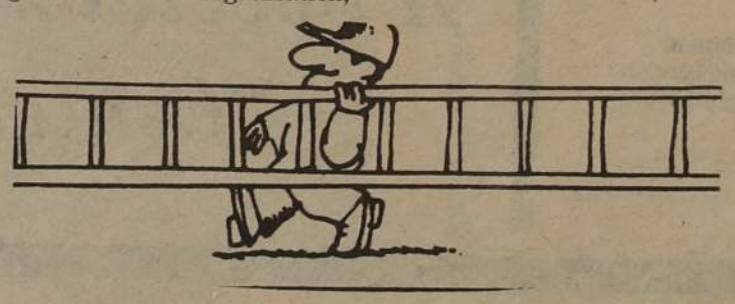

I would like to see it. It is a good time and it does accomplish something.

You get a jacket, a lounge to use, life long friends and you somewhat join the Mafia.

I would like to see those who did not have a chance due to those reasons stated. They should.

In closing I would like to say with the Husson Community a little less than ⅓ Greek who cares. And I quote a Greek, "Who needs Greek Council. It is just another meeting that you have to go to twice a month."

Parents Weekend

Respond!

On Wednesday, December 3, 1975, Parents' Weekend Committee held a meeting. Tentative dates and ideas are being organized.

Parents' Weekend is an affair when parents view the school and its atmosphere. It will be centered around the parents' desires as well as the students'.

Without response, from students and parents, this weekend will defeat its purpose. It is imparative that we receive suggestions for an effective Parents' Weekend. Students are urged to promote ideas and assistance from their parents when they return home for semester break. These ideas and names of interested parents may be submitted to the Committee.

These suggestions will be arranged by the Committee for an enjoyable weekend.

Chairman
Parents' Weekend
Committee

The Nose Knows

Well, we are rolling into the final week of school and the semester is just about shot. Gone are the party days ahead only the finals. Finals are here. The midnite oil is available in the bookstore at discount rates.

If you don't know by now, we do have a radio station on campus. An underground source tells me that well over 100 albums mainly soul and jazz have been ripped off from the station. To those students, I appeal to you to return them before it is too late. Not to mention any names, we have a inside tract to who you are. We will be paying you a visit soon.

Elsewhere on campus. Ete threw a rather interesting paper party last Sat. night. I hope the Boof made it threw ok. And congratulations. Wedding bells in January. . . .Louis gave a command performance for us at Whsn. She sang Second Hand Poughkeepsie Rose, with change for a nickle on the wharf. But Louise has consented to do it again at the Christmas party Friday night. Congratulations to the Husson Braves for winning the Bunyan tournament. Hey, Murph, was that a shot or a pass. Dana St. Louis who was that I spied you with this passed weekend. Also who was that who wore #20. A rumor has it that Orleans and Aztec Two Step will be on campus in February. Also another rumor. . . .Hollywood for Chief. . . . Jeff V. . . .also.

To the Freshmen Class. You looked very responsive at your first couple of meetings and then the interest just dropped. What happened. See your officers. You can still make the party a success. Which brings to mind the many parties that were held this weekend. TKE held their second Watulha party. Reports say that they are definitely getting better. Beer and Tequilla just don't mix. . .Herb H. on 5th level will tell you so. Also L.F. if you want to be a cardinal drinker you will have to take lessons. Who was that masked man who put the Strawberry jelly in Dowey's bed. Also did I see Pitt Rhoades crawling the floors.

Remember Shadow, you turn the cue off when you talk over the air. As all Bangor knows, who is the Dummy. The Presidential Guides were invited to President Peters pad this past weekend for Sunday dinner. Thank you very much for the meal and the hospitality. It is true. . . .All the books have been half read. Mrs. Sullivan is for hire as a part time maid over the holiday season. Required. . . .Dishwashing and glass polishing, floors mopped and decorations hung. See Mr. Sullivan for details.

Many students attended Disco nite, the sound is always good in the Gathering. A word from Ebony says that the sisters are planning a surprise attack on the brothers. Beware or the yellow monster will prevail. This weekends movie is "A Man Called Horse." Hope you all attend. Times to be posted.

Due to all the room changes that have occurred; Allan Miller who is your new roommate. Thank you JoAnne P. for those lessons. They were greatly appreciated. I hope that the Christmas Ball is a great success. In the past MEX bros have really showed everyone a good time.

Well, until next week. . . . Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Next week, the year in review.

P.S. The girls on Viner 1 are really getting into the Christmas Spirit. The windows really look nice, but the doors. . . .Oh the doors. Bonnie did you recently take an unexpected shower. Who shot off the fire extinguisher, was it a. Linda b. Karen C. Bonnie or d. All of the above. Sounds like a test.

Involvement!

Last Saturday I was one of the many fortunate people to witness a rare occurrance at Husson. It is known simply as involvement.

Busy Bee days are designed to help clean up, fix up, paint, various things on campus, and when you get a large turnout such as we did Saturday, you get things done.

Congratulations are in order to Chris and Diane for the work and effort put into this Busy Bee day. Also a tip of the hat to all those who put their time and efforts into making Husson a little cleaner and better looking.

Our First N. E. C. Convention!

Just what does N.E.C. stand for is a question asked by many people N.E.C. stands for National Entertainment Conference, but it means more than just that. This conference used to pertain to entertainment only, but has grown so much that it now deals with education of student activities as well.

Being advisor to our school's Entertainment Committee, Paul Franklin went. Charlie Clayton, the Committee's chairman and I, a member of the Committee, also attended. We left by 5:00 a.m. on November 9. Eager to reach Dunfey's Hotel in Hyannis, Cape Cod in Massachusetts, we reached there just in time for lunch! After getting acquainted with a few people during lunch, we split up to attend various workshops.

You might be wondering just what a workshop is and what we did at them. There were many different workshops to attend. Some workshops revealed the following interest areas: Publicity, less-experienced programmers, two-year schools, human leadership and management, college union operations, and issue confrontation. At these workshops, we learned new techniques and skill, personal growth and how to interact with each other by listening to ideas and problems they found in their schools. Participation among every one was greatly enforced.

Workshops, however, were only a part of the convention. There were exhibits to see as well. These exhibits taught and showed us a lot. At each exhibit there was a representative or the person himself to discuss prices, availability or anything else you might want to know about them. Some exhibits represented bands, comedians, magicians, different film companies, and much more. We were given the opportunity to talk in a business-type manner as well as learn how to k-nive them for albums, cassettes, and t-shirts.

Block booking was another valuable asset which was explained to many people including myself. It simply deals with booking an agent or the form of entertainment you're interested in having at your school at a date similar to one school that's not too far from you. In this manner, you and the other school, or schools manage to save money because you bring the entertainment up to your area saving some traveling expenses for the entertainment. It's truly an effective way of saving money for your school!

Our learning experience didn't stop here . . . During our nights, there were still more forms of entertainment. One night we attended a cocktail dinner, another night we went to a banquet and still another night we attended a Jamaican pool party. After dinner each night we saw some sort of show. One night we saw a group performing a pantomine act. They were fantastic! We listened to a lot of bands perform and show off their talent. Of course, there were many parties going on throughout the convention. During these parties, we were given the opportunity to talk with the actual performers.

Our convention ended on November 12 with a brunch and Evell Gibbons as our guest speaker. He spoke about natural foods and man's relationship with nature.

After discussing the entire weekend with Paul and Charlie, this convention proved to be a rewarding learning experience for all of us. We hope to bring in some of the entertainment we saw for Husson College and broaden our variety of entertainment here hoping to please everyone!

Press Luncheon Held

by Scott Towle

On Monday, December 1, a press luncheon was held here at Husson to introduce the Women's and Men's basketball programs to members of the media. Mr. Delmont Merrill, Vice President of Non-Academic affairs, opened the luncheon by saying that he considered it very important to keep the channels of communications open between athletic programs and the media, and that he, as Commissioner of Maine High School Basketball, would do his best to keep them open.

Pam Hennesey presented her program for the up coming "Lady Braves" Basketball season. Pam has six veterans returning from last year. Among the returned players is Verna Eldridgo, playing in the forward spot. Verna was also voted last year's most valuable player. Also returning is Sue Skinner, in the forward position; Linda Deveau, center spot; and Virginia Trainor, playing in the guard position. Among new players are Mary White and Jo-Ellen Lancaster. Pam feels she does have material and can come up with a good team this year. She also feels that the competition has gotten "stronger". She mentioned that the division they are in is not based on size but on ability, and the Lady Braves are among top teams.

Bruce McGregor spoke about the "braves" outlook for the 75-76 season. The Braves lost three valuable players last year. Among these were Jim Traynham who was discussed as a "super player" and also set a new Husson record for the most points in one season (254). Also lost were the Ron Burnham and John O'Brien. As for returning players, there is Ray Clark who set a new field-goal percentage record last year (60%); Ishmell McKitchen, who averaged about eighteen points per game last year; Tom Philbrick, described as a "tremendous inspirational leader"; and Kevin Saunders who shot forty-seven percent last year. Also returning are Tim Murphy and John Owens. MacGregor feels that these six people will be highly counted upon this year. Among new players are Walt Edwards (6'8"), Jim McMahon, and Dan St. Louis.

MacGregor will not have as many players this semester as last year and he feels this could present a problem. There are, however, three inelligible players who will be playing next semester, Joe Mesi, a 6'6" freshman center is one of these players. Also there is John Borodko, a 6'6" sophomore center, and Terry Weeks, a 6'1" sophomore guard.

One thing that MacGregor considers quite interesting is that Ray Clark and Walt Edwards who are co-captains, did not play high school basketball. Both of them started as juniors in college. Overall, Coach MacGregor is very optimistic about the 75-76 season.

Case Workshop

If you are a supervisor, what do you do when there is a morale problem in your shop, or when supplies or parts are late, or when the union steward makes demands, or when production is slow, or when top management doesn't listen to you, or when. . .?

How do you solve these problems and make sound decisions? We don't know what abilities we have until we need to apply them. There is nothing like practice.

Professor Sonthoff has volunteered to conduct a workshop in problem-solving and decision-making. "Case' descriptions of actual management problems will be used. There will be no lectures, only discussion on how to solve these problems.

Sonthoff suggests 5 or 6 two-hour sessions, with participants limited to 15 seniors. Enrollment will be on a first-come-first served basis. No "observers" will be permitted. There will be no credit, but Sonthoff hopes enough seniors will be interested in sharpening their "thinking tools" to want to participate. To make the workshop work, he asks that students, once they enroll, agree to attend all sessions, barring emergencies.

Workshops will be scheduled so that they will not interfere with class schedules. Interested seniors should come to the Career Planning Office to sign up for these workshops. The workshop will begin in January therefore, it is important for interested students to sign up now before the semester break.

Smith pointed out that the worst thing to expect is for the Commission to tell "how things are going to be in the year 2000", but instead they're going to identify a means by which they can do anticipatory planning" instead of "crisis reaction" planning and describe methods by which this can be done. He feels that the Commission is making one very important "step forward" and that is by making "people realize that you must plan for the future." They have "got to get an eye on the ball and know the key issues to be addressed, and the mechanisms by which they can be addressed."

The Co-op

Dr. Sonthoff, Director of Cooperative Education Program, was in attendance to discuss the program with the board. Husson has received a federal grant to set up this program under the federal guidelines, which means that the system is to be set up where interested students would leave campus to work for a semester, returning to Husson the following semester. The salary would be at the regular pay of that particular company including all benefits that any other employee would receive.

Many questions arise in typing to set up this project. Such as, "How does a student qualify?" "How does the faculty establish an evaluation of the student?" These and many other questions arise as to how to implement this into our college program; which requires a considerable amount of organizing and cooperation between students, faculty, and the administration.

Dr. Sonthoff has been invited to the 21st session of the Student Senate.

Career Notes

We just talked with Mr. Gammon of International Paper and he said he will let us know in a month or so if the company will be interviewing on campus. He added that International Paper has been very pleased with the Husson graduates and they are looking to hiring more in the future.

****

Scott Paper will let us know shortly if they will be interviewing on campus. They will most probably be interviewing for accountants.

Remember that sign-up sheets go up about two weeks prior to the interviewing date. To make sure your name is on the sign-up sheets, check early with the Career Planning Office.

The feedback from the interviewers has been very good to date. However, one company indicated they were rather startled that some students asked for their resumes back at the end of the interview. Once you give your resume to an interviewer it should be his to keep. Another company indicated they wished our students would "market" themselves more. Think about your strong points and be able to talk about them.

Are you not planning on taking on-campus interviews? Do you already have a job lined up? No matter what your plans, please remember to return your blue registration card and dossier to the Career Planning Office. This will ensure future assistance from the Career Planning Office.

****

Full and part time jobs are listed in the Career Planning Office Job Book. Check in and see.

It is up to you to carry your resume into the on-campus job interview. The Career Planning Office supplies only the dossier to the interviewer in advance of your interview.

Here are some companies interested in reviewing resumes of Husson seniors. When you mail your resume to them, be sure to include a cover letter explaining why you're interested in the company.

"The Spectator"

From The Presidents Pad:

President Peters "looks into it"

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

For the information of all concerned, I have sent the following letter to Mr. Chris Jackson, President of the student government.

TO: Mr. Chris Jackson, President, Student Senate

FROM: Mr. Franklin A. Peters, President, Husson College

DATE: November 21, 1975

Further to my memorandum of November 7, I am now reporting on the present status of the 12 items of student concern as reported in the Senate.

1. Study areas. Possibility of extending the library hours or finding a room where students can study after 10:00 in the evening.

There have been many suggestions regarding extending library hours, etc. The major constraint, although not an insurmountable one, is the cost including lights, heat and supervision. However, wherever and whenever possible the educational process must receive our top priority. Therefore, for a trial period to ascertain the degree of student use, we shall extend the hours of the library on Mondays and Thursday, from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m., and on Sundays, from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. We shall also keep the study room, F142, open to 11 p.m. This means that the new library hours effective after Thanksgiving will be:

Mon. & Thurs	8 a.m.-11 p.m.
Fridays	8 a.m.- 4 p.m.
Sundays	3 p.m.-10 p.m.

These hours will be again subject to change depending on use. For your information, our library hours compare favorably with the library hours in other similar private schools in Maine. If you are interested to see for yourself, Miss Thompson has in her office the library schedules of all the private colleges and the University system in Maine.

2. Books in the Library. Check on the books that are not catalogued and put on the shelves. There seem to be cases of them in the back room of the library.

Until we start to receive new books we do not need a cataloguer. There are very few books that are waiting for Library of Congress printed cards. The others can be done by clerical workers since the information is there and just needs to be typed and organized. The information that there are cartons of uncatalogued books is not true. All books are on the shelves and in various stages of processing. Approximately 75 books have been finished and put in the stacks in the last two weeks. Several new editions of reference books have been put out also. So cataloguing is not at a standstill. When more new books start coming in, a cataloguer should be hired. It would need to be on a part-time, hourly basis the same as our previous one was hired.

3. Financial Disclosure. The students asked for financial disclosure (published). President Peters said he would take it up with the Board to see if simple statements could be published in the Spectator.

I quote from my letter of November 7 to Mr. Dyke, Chairman of the Board. ". . .I really feel that it would be a very positive act for us to agree to publish some sort of statement regarding our past financial operations and current budget. I see a salutary effect rather than a harmful one in voluntarily furnishing faculty and student body with a summary of operating results and budgets."

I am presently awaiting word from the Board.

4. President Peters also said he would speak to the Board about having a student Representative on the Board of Trustees.

I am also waiting word from the Board regarding item 4 and will revert as soon as it is received.

5. Look into work study supervision.

There are 374 students on workstudy and most of them are well supervised and perform in the best interests of the College. A few, however, who hold maintenance jobs and are to a large extent on their own, are checked periodically but do not have continual supervision. Some responsibility has to be assumed by the workstudy student for acceptable performance of his duties. In the past, poor work performance simply meant a "slap on the wrist" or a transfer to another area. This is no longer true. Workstudy labor will be fired when all other disciplinary measures fail. The new approach is realistic and sound, and should give the supervisor the upper hand in dealing with those who refuse to do their share of work.

6.Check on the dirt mounds being moved.

The large pile by Hart has been sold for fill to Bridge Construction Company. They will begin removing it in the Spring. At that time the new road bed will be started so that the trucks removing the dirt can pack it down by traveling over it. This should cut down appreciably on the cost of the new road when it is built at a later date.

7. Check into why basic maintenance work doesn't get done. Such as the double doors on fifth level Hart or why the fire extinguishers aren't kept full.

We try to keep the fire extinguishers full. It seems, however, that some students like to undo the work done by our maintenance departments by emptying them on each other. It has become a serious problem because it does affect the safety of all students living on campus.

There are some legitimate reasons why certain basic maintenance work is not done immediately.

a. The size of our force 5 men(3 outside, 2 in)
b. A list of priorities (first things first)
c. Finances
d. Vandalism

A great deal of time is being spent repairing damage caused by vandalism. This takes valuable time away from routine maintenance. After all, maintenance on a college campus has to be a cooperative effort on the part of students and maintenance personnel.

Maintenance at Husson is definitely one of our major problems. Finances, hourly wage levels, supervision, and size of the work force are a few of our major concerns. If one measures the progress made in this area in the past two years, however, it would be evident that a genuine effort is being made to remedy past performances and to eliminate some of the justifiable criticism by students.

8. Check into the improving of the physical plant.

Considerable work has been done to improve the campus from the standpoint of physical repairs, maintenance, and improvements. Although certain projects have not progressed as rapidly as anticipated, considerable headway has been made, namely:

a. Six dormitory halls carpeted
b. Recreation room com pleted and opened for student use
c. Student computer room completed
d. Main computer room completed
e. Bell Tower project includ ing path to gym nearly done—needs one more coat of asphalt and some grading
f. Living center for the physically handicapped completed
g. Dickerman Dining Commons roof and wood siding completely waterproofed
h. New locks installed in Hart Dormitory; locks for other dormitories have been shipped
i. Security doors for wings of dormitories have arrived and installation will begin soon
j. Dormitory and Gym walkways resurfaced
k. One hundred-fifty dorm rooms painted; also 44 dorm room ceilings painted
l. Carlisle and Peabody roof repairs completed
m. Wigwam kitchen remodeled for more efficient service

s. A second janitor assigned to Hart
t. A night janitor for Peabody, because of CED program, has been assigned

Although some projects have not been completed it is because of the delay in arrival of materials, rather than inefficiency of our Maintenance Department personnel. I believe that the Department is functioning well in light of the size of the crew.

The Administrative Vice President, with the aid of the Lifestyles Committee (students), is doing an in-depth study of three student areas, namely:

1. The Post Office
2. The Bookstore
3. Current campus lifestyles

Also, a management team comprised of students majoring in Business Management has been assembled to study the area under the Director of Physical Plant. The project will be under the guidance of two professors from the Department of Business Administration. (Dr. Grant and Professor Lebrun)

It is felt that an in-depth study of this area can enhance its efficiency greatly when the findings are evaluated and then implemented.

9. Check into the blacktopping of private individual's property.

Two of our employees hired the Husson crew to pave their driveways. This was done after hours. All labor, hot top, and gas supplied for the Husson vehicle was paid for by the employees. Both individuals have cancelled checks for all payments mentioned above. We are convinced that nothing illegal or irregular was done in the incident mentioned.

10. Find out what happened to the locks on Carlisle and Bell.

The locks for Carlisle and Bell were ordered in June with a promise of six-weeks delivery. Mr. More has made many calls to the Company responsible for the original order with the promise of prompt delivery. The problem seems to be with the jobber who was assigned the task. Every effort possible has been made to speed up the delivery. Most of the locks are now here and are being put in this week. It is hoped that Carlisle will be completed before Thanksgiving and Bell shortly thereafter.

in the Accounting Department.

A review of the Accounting faculty since 1969 reveals the following reasons for turnover:

a. Deaths (3)
b. Advanced education
c. Private industry
d. Inadequately academically prepared for teaching (Many former Husson accounting teachers held only a bachelor's degree.)
e. On leave of absence from another college

"Turnover" generally implies that a faculty member is dissatisfied and leaves to join the faculty of another college.

With the exception of Dr. Hinkleman who was on sabbatical from another college and thereby under an obligation to return, we are not aware of any former Husson teachers joining another college faculty on a full-time teaching basis.

The alternative financial opportunities available to the accounting profession precludes educational institutions from being competitive. Competent accountants with the necessary academic credentials, C.P.A., M.B.A., or doctorate, are in rare supply and in great demand nationally and more especially in Maine.

12. Check into the possibility of a faculty evaluation by the students. As teachers, not as advisees.

Plans for student evaluation of faculty as teachers are well underway. Dr. Bryant Bean is Chairman of the Faculty Evaluation Committee, and his last report was dated November 13, 1975. Completed agenda by Members of the Committee are as follows:

a. One Workshop held by A.A.N.E. for Atlantic Sea Coast colleges and universities on the topic of student evaluation of college courses (November 1975).
b. One workshop of the New England Association of Business Teacher Educators on this topic (November 1975)
c. One workshop on this topic sponsored by the University of Maine held in Bangor (October 1975)
d. Ten meetings to date of the Husson Evaluation Committee attended by Ed Cafarella and John Young as consultant critics from UMO concerning ing the first draft of the Husson form (November 1975).

Unfinished agenda of the Committee are as follows:

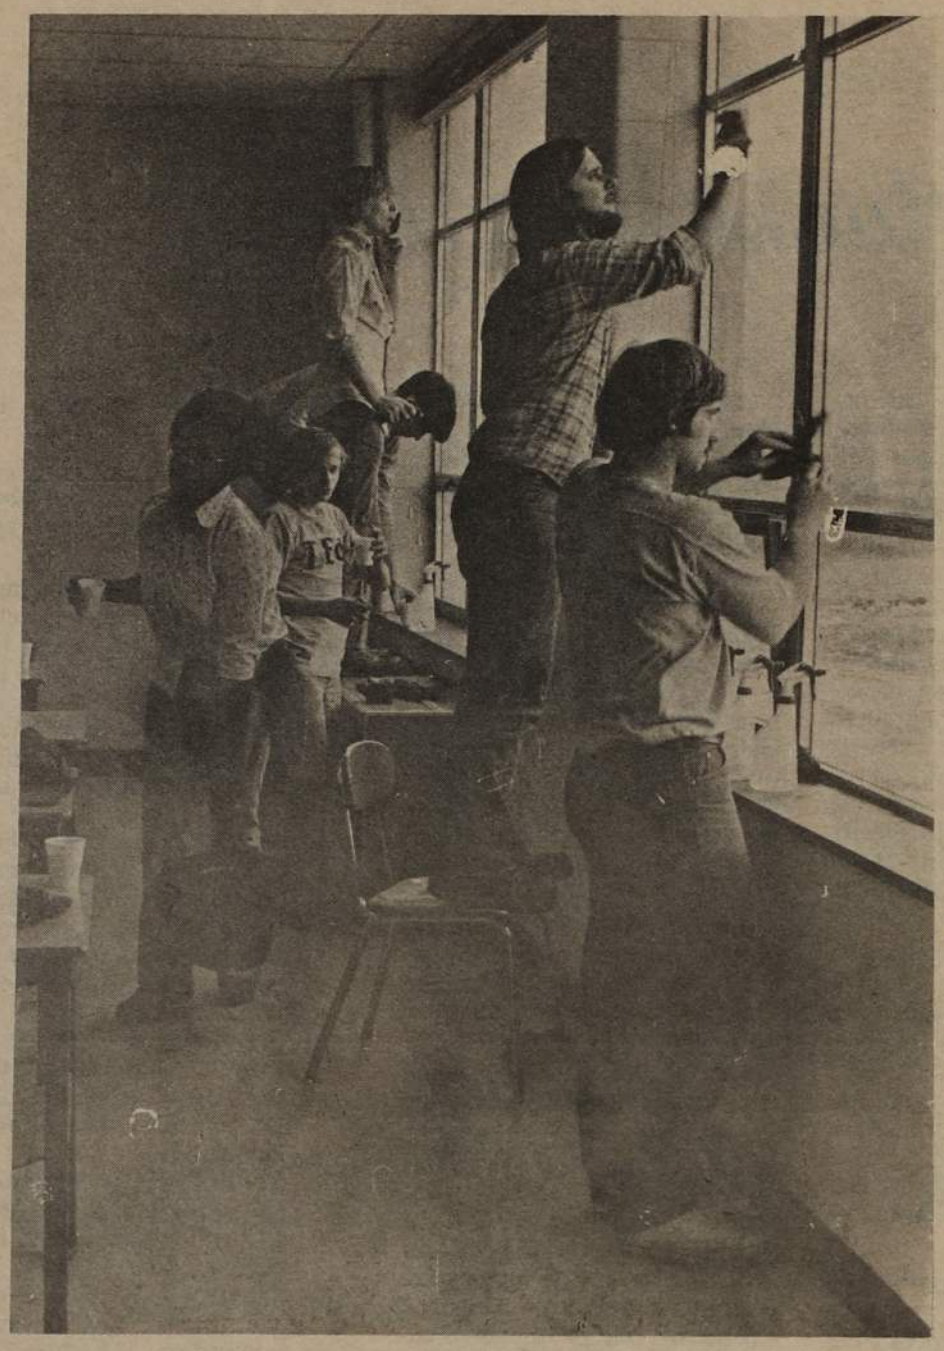

a. To present the refined document to the faculty for discussion, evaluation and acceptance by the faculty for discussion, evaluation and acceptance by the faculty prior to the close of this fall semester.
b. To elicit critiques from the student body at Husson which this evaluation form can be made more effective in assisting the faculty to improve its teaching competency.

Both Dr. Sullivan and I will follow up on the completion and implementation.

I am sending a copy of this report to the Editor of the Spectator with the request that they publish it in full as soon as possible in the Spectator. I also leave it to your decision regarding further circulation to the student body of this reply. I would also emphasize that I do not consider this reply to be the end, but a continuation of our efforts to improve the services offered at Husson College. I, and other members of the administration, are fully prepared, once given advanced notice, to address the Student Senate and members of the student body regarding the affairs of the College.

In closing let me thank you for your great interest in our College's welare.

Busy Bee Day 1975

GREEK NEWS

ΚΛ

With Christmas, finals, banquets, and nearly everything else going on, things have been very busy on 8th level.

We would like to welcome to the fold our 21 new sisters. They are: Debbie Darcy, Joanne Ladd, Jill Porter, Lynn Grinell, Judy Cox, Nicki Molloy, Sue McLennan, Debbie Shea, Vicki Boyd, Diane Wentworth, Bev McDougold, Beth Cienchette, Pam Simpsom, Bev Oulette, Karen Cienchette, Janet Berard, Sharon Fuller, Cathy Counts, Michelle Gendron April Hannington, and Debbie Louvat. We know we can count on you to keep Kappa Lambda what it is today.

Saturday, December 6, was Kappa Lambda's birthday, and it was celebrated in fine style. The pledge banquet on Wednesday night gave us another chance to get together. Saturday proved to be a very successful Busy Bee Day with the Husson family getting together both for work and for fun.

Our congratulations to the Husson Braves for winning the Paul Bunyan Tournament this weekend.

In closing we would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas, and good luck in their finals. For those who will be graduating, all the best in their future plans. Congratulations to M.J. Shimp in winning the "Big Prize". Til next week, remember, "It is much easier to be critical than to be correct."

ΚΔΦ

Well, all of the brothers lived through the big turkey day feed and the vacation and are back and anxious for the next vacation to start. However, before that time the brothers must settle down from there vigorous schedules and attempt to pass their finals.

We would like to extend congratulations to Kappa Lambda on their anniversary last Saturday. Many of the sisters came over to our wing after their celebration. They all left better prepared for battle than when they arrived.

The Brothers would like to congratulate the Husson Braves basketball team on their victory in the Paul Bunyan tournament by defeating Dalhousie University by the score of 110 to 76. It was a good game and we wish the Braves the best of luck throughout the regular season and we hope to see the Braves in Kansas City again this year.

We would like to congratulate our new brothers and welcome them into our brotherhood.

This is about all from the Kappa wing this week. We would like to wish everyone good luck on their finals.

P.S. Sid-What is your projected finish date of the new picture window in your room?

P.S.S. Richie — Bangor is looking for a good volunteer fireman!

P.S.S.S. Face — What is your new address and also what is your phone number in case we ever want to find you?

P.S.S.S.S. Duckman — Since when do mallards smoke?

TKE

Congratulations Braves on your great game against UMPI. Another good show at the Paul Bunyan Tourney this year. We had another Watula and beer party this weekend. Thanks to the girls in the Order for your help in running the party. Alumnus Dan "Screwey" L'Heureux, Don "Norton" Thompson and Harry Fraser and wife Linda were up for the festivities. This year Busy Bee Day turned out to be a huge success. It's great to see some enthusiasm from the students and caring about your school. Thanks to the Administration for the cocktail hour and entertainment. The Order fo Diana held their initiation Banquet last Tuesday at Millers. Congratulations once again to all our new little sisters. Thursday the brothers and the Order traveled to Orono to the TKE House for a party. A good time was had by all. Pledging is over for this semester — Congratulations to all the new Greeks on campus. Last Tuesday 12 new Fraters were duly installed into the Bond of Omicron — Mu Chapter of TKE. These men are: Scott Turesky, Scott Sphorer, Glen Fyfe, Paul Kenney, Tom Philbrick, Tony Decondo, Mark Brewer, Lenard Duffy, Paul Freeman, Bob Allen, Alan Miller and Dan Dolloff.

Remember to pick up your raffle tickets for the television being drawn soon. See any brother for information. We all wish Frater Charlie Paternostro a speedy recovery. Charlie is in the Maine Medical Center in Portland after an accident coming back to school from vacation.

Watch out! Another party is in the making. This week Frater Charlie Clayton has been escorting the TKE Troll.

Ebony:
Taking The First Step In The Right Direction

By Dan Robitaille

Stressing the lack of communication between whites and blacks on campus, The Ebony Association has been formed to help improve relations between each other.

The idea to form the organization came about through the efforts of Jim Simpson and Howie Thompson. Both wanted to do something to help get the black people involved in school. Simpson and Thompson approached Jim Fluellen with the idea in hopes of generating some type of action. Fluellen accepted the challenge and got the ball rolling, organizing and establishing Ebony.

Fluellen, who was interviewed by the Spectator earlier this week, was later voted President.

Fluellen stated the motivating factor in Ebony was to let everybody know they want to do something. Fluellen said "A lot of people look at the blacks as just a minority we want to show that we're interested and want to be involved with Husson."

He also pointed out that even though the goals are to help better communication this also gives us a chance to get ourselves together.

Under the advisorship of Mr. Drury, Ebony now boasts twenty-five members both black and white.

Since their organization Ebony has stepped up into full-scale operations and has several events lined up for the upcoming semester. Some of the events include a modern dance show, model show featuring professional models and probably the biggest event to be held will be the production of a play. This play, though still in the planning stages, will focus on the hardships and problems of the blacks.

Basically what Fluellen stressed and hopes to get across was the want to get involved and better relations, so all students can be together. Meetings are held each Thursday and everyone is more than welcome to attend.

The Fast

By Scott Towle

About two hundred and twenty-three people, consisting of students, faculty, and staff, participated in the fast on November 20. This may not be such a large number, but considering the number of students living here on Campus, it is really almost half and this in itself is quite significant. More important than the monetary value of the fast is the fact of becoming more aware of what it is like to be hungry and doing this because of being convinced that we were helping someone else.

Father Nedeau considers the fast "fairly successful" especially publicity wise. He hopes it to be more successful in the future when he can organize some discussion during the meal. This would mean having special tables set up to discuss poverty, hunger, and so forth. He feels this will make us more aware of the over all picture of the world. These "table seminars" would be spread over an entire week of "awareness" with one day specifically leading to a day of fast. He also mentioned the possibility of having guest speakers, such as economists and farmers, to give us more information on what is happening in some of their countries. He feels a whole week of "concern for world hunger" with a day of fasting would make the fast a lot better. He also suggests having a "fast meal" consisting of food that people eat in their countries. Along with this same line is the idea of having a banquet where those who participated would be assigned to one of three tables: Affluent, Poor and Poverty. This would enable a student to actually experience the "inequality," especially where the other poeple are just like him, but maybe eating an entirely different meal.

Welcome back to Husson. We hope everyone rested up and chowed down during the break.

We'd like to extend a late congratulations to the new MEX brothers and all the new Greeks. Also congratulations to the basketball team on their win over UMPI. Hope you have an excellent season.

Friday night we had a little party in our lounge. After the gambling and breaking of paddles was over, everyone calmed down enough to finish off the keg.

Susie-Q have you had anymore fights with those automatic door?

Weddy-will you go get me a coke. I heard it tastes terrific with beer!

Heddie — you've been awful rowdy lately. Better be careful or you'll lose your 4.0!

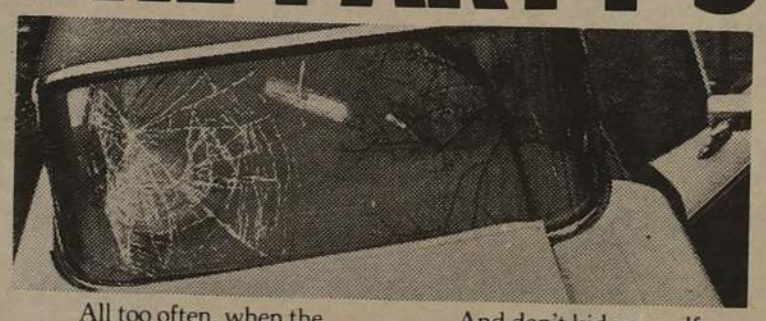

Poor Spratt she's finally learned how to play spades, now no one ever wants to play.

Well that's about it.

THE PARTY'S OVER.

All too often, when the party ends, the trouble begins.

People who shouldn't be doing anything more active than going to sleep are driving a car. Speeding and weaving their way to death.

Before any of your friends drive home from your party, make sure they aren't drunk.

Don't be fooled because they drank only beer or wine. Beer and wine can be just as intoxicating as mixed drinks.

And don't kid yourself because they may have had some black coffee. Black coffee can't sober them up well enough to drive.

If someone gets too drunk to drive, drive him yourself. Or call a cab. Or offer to let him sleep over.

Maybe your friend won't be feeling so good on the morning after, but you're going to feel terrific.

Tep wishes to inform the college community that its philosophy is that open pledging is the most desireable method of pledging, and as such, promotes fraternalism. We will adhere to this philosophy.

OYX colony defines open pledging in the following terms:

1. That during the course of a year as many candidate programs can be held as is deemed necessary within the constraints of the academic schedule.

2. Open pledging avoids any interference with the different pledging programs and policies of the individual greek organizations on campus.

The Fall 1975 class of candidates achieved the status of brotherhood as of four weeks ago. Lee Surridge was voted outstanding candidate of the fall programs. Congratulations are extended to the new brothers on their efforts.

Coming up on Sunday, December 14th we will have our Gentlemen's Banquet at the Pilot's Grill, at which time we will be installing new officers. This past weekend we played surprise host to one of our Alumni brothers and his wife (Barry & Kathy Snyder). It was an additionally enjoyable part of the weekend.

We would like to thank all of the people who participated in the Busy Bee program last Saturday. Husson college looks just great, and we were pleasantly surprised by all the artistic talent.

At this time, the Brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi would like to wish everyone the best of luck in their final exams, a safe trip home, and a Happy Holiday Season. Until next year, good luck and peace always.

Freshmen News

On December 4th the Freshman Class held their second meeting. The class meeting was held in the Wig-Wam at 6:30 p.m. At this meeting there was a great deal of discussion for the upcoming Christmas Party to be held on December 12, at the Dickerman Dining Commons. The Entertainment Committee of Husson agreed that the Freshmen would organize and work this party. The only decision which we were not allowed to make was the choosing of the entertainment for this affair. To my knowledge, the committee chose to have this band called Good Thunder. They are from the Boston area.

This opportunity for the other three classes is also open for you. All you have to do is approach the Entertainment Committee with your idea. The worse they could do is reject your idea. Freshmen Where Is Your Spirit? Only 18 students attended this class meeting. I hope the next meeting will have a better turnout! I thank those students who attended this past meeting.

Meeting was concluded at 7:10 p.m.

Father Nedeau's goal is "to create a real awareness of what's happening in the world so that by becoming more aware, students will be in a better situation later on to help aleviate the problem of hunger." The money from the fast will not be used to buy food for people of the world, but instead it will be used to assist these people in the development of their land by giving them the know-how.

PART OF THE DELIGHTFUL HALF TIME SHOW THURSDAY.

Braves Dump UMPI In Season Opener

On Thursday the Husson Braves opened their 1975-76 season by defeating the Owls of Presque Isle by the score of 89-53.

The Braves were led by Senior Ish McKitchen who lead all scores with 23 points. Ray "chico" Clark chipped in with 18 while Tom Philbrick and Kevin Saunders came up with 10 each.

However, the big story of the game was Walt Edwards, the 6'8" transfer from Providence. Walt came up with 114 points and 19 rebounds. But the thing that was so impressive was the way Walt was always there to make sure no one from Presque Isle was able to go in for an easy lay-up.

When the game started it was easy to see that the Braves were a little nervous. they were missing easy shots, dropping passes and just playing sloppy. But after 51 minutes those jitters disappeared and the Braves dominated the ball game.

With Tim Murphy passing the ball beautifully the Braves were able to go in for many uncontested lay-ups, to make for a rather easy ball game.

Asked later if he was pleased with the way the Braves played, Coach MacGregor said he was pleased with the win but added that the Braves can and have to do a better job against the tougher teams they will meet in the future.

This is the first of a 25 game schedule so the Braves have a long way to go to defend their numerous titles that were grabbed last year, but this is a step in the right direction. Congratulations and good luck the rest of the way.

Womens Intramural Wrap-up

This year's fall women's intramural schedule has been one of the most extensive, most successful schedules in the past few years. Thanks to Coach Pam Hennessey, Director of Women's Intramurals, who has succeeded in doing what she intended the program to do, "get the girls out of the dorm and involved". With over 200 participants in informal and formal activities, it is more than apparent that the girls did get involved. The activities ranged from team efforts such as volleyball to single challenges in table tennis. The informal activities included archery and basketball. On the formal side were volleyball, table tennis doubles and singles, paddle ball singles and badminton doubles.

Each event ran its separate single elimination tournament which promoted a spirit of competition and good sportsmanship. The final results in each event went as follows:

EVENT	WINNER	RUNNER-UP
Volleyball	Independents I	Delta Sorority
Table Tennis(singles)	Nancy Miller	Nancy Martin
Paddle Ball (singles)	Michelle Wood	Mary Whited
Table Tennis(doubles)	Rollande Cyr Peggy Pelletier	Liz Kimmel Gail Dumond

Badminton still remains to be decided. The final round should prove to be an interesting match-up. The challenging pairs are Sue Skinner and Linda Deveau against Verna Eldridge and Ginny Trainor.

This year has also led to the addition of trophies. Like the boys, the girls have been receiving trophies for winners and runners-up in the single and team events. Unfortunately only the winners will receive awards in the doubles tournament.

With such a positive show this semester only more can be expected. Remember its your involvement that makes these programs run!

Braves Capture Paul Bunyon Hoop Title For Second Straight Year

Chico Clark And Ish McKitchen Named Tourney MVP's

Last weekend Husson College sponsored the Eleventh Annual Paul Bunyon Institutional Basketball Tournament. Teams that competed were Roger Williams College of Rhode Island, Dahousie University of Nova Scotia and Johnson State College, Vermont and Husson College.

In the first round Husson defeated Roger Williams Collge who was the favored team coming into the frame. The score was close throughout the first half with the lead changing hands many times. The half ended with Roger Williams leading 46-43. Husson did not shoot well at all and they were missing many free throws. People wondered how they managed to keep up with Roger Williams. In the second half, the Braves decided to come out and play their type of basketball. The score remained close but with good shooting by Ish McKitchen and Ray "Chico" Clark and the steady rebounding by Walt Edwards, the Braves were able to win 78-65. Scoring for the Braves were Ish McKitchen 26, Chico Clark 20, Walt Edwards 16, and 21 rebounds, Kevin Saunders 10, Tim Murphy 5 and Tom Philbrick 1.

In the first game between Dalhousie and Johnson State, Dalhousie was the winner thus placing them in the final against Husson.

In the Championship Game Husson knew that Dalhousie was very tall but was also a little weak in the guard spots. Husson doubled their run and played press defense and they did just that as they won 110-72. At the beginning it looked as if it would be a close game but toward the middle of the first half, Husson started to 'bust' as they got standard performance from the entire team. When the all tourney team was picked the coaches had a rough time because Husson just dominated. The all tourney team consisted of: Ron Thomas, Johnson State College, Kevin Kelly and Terry Johnson, Dalhousie University and Walt Edwards from Husson. For the first time in the tournament's history there was a tie for most valuable player. The coaches decided to have co-MVP's, they are Ray Clark and Ish McKitchen both of whom deserve it for playing as well as they did. This was the second straight year that Husson won the Tournament.
