Good Luck, 1963 Graduates

President's Column

As the school year comes to an end many thoughts cross my mind. First, I recall the happy events, the fruitful ones, the achievements, the obstacles and roadblocks that were overcome. I thrill to achievement. I always have. I have nothing but praise for those who "arrive", those who reach the goals that they set for themselves. I wish them well. My own achievements bring me personal satisfaction, and prompt me to seek new ones, little though they be.

On the other side of the coin is another picture—The surrenders—The losses — The failures. I weep for those who threw in the sponge when the fighting became tough, for those who took the easy way out—those who quit. "A winner never quits, and a quitter never wins." This waste of talent, of youth, is sad to witness. It is a great loss to our state and nation, and, of course, to the individual himself. The future will find him paying a greater cost, one that he cannot possibly conceive now. I wish I weren't so near the sidelines watching these dropouts from careers that anticipate challenge, dedication, happiness, a full life, and attractive rewards. It is the unskilled who flood the labor markets, and who spend or waste more time than any other group looking for jobs.

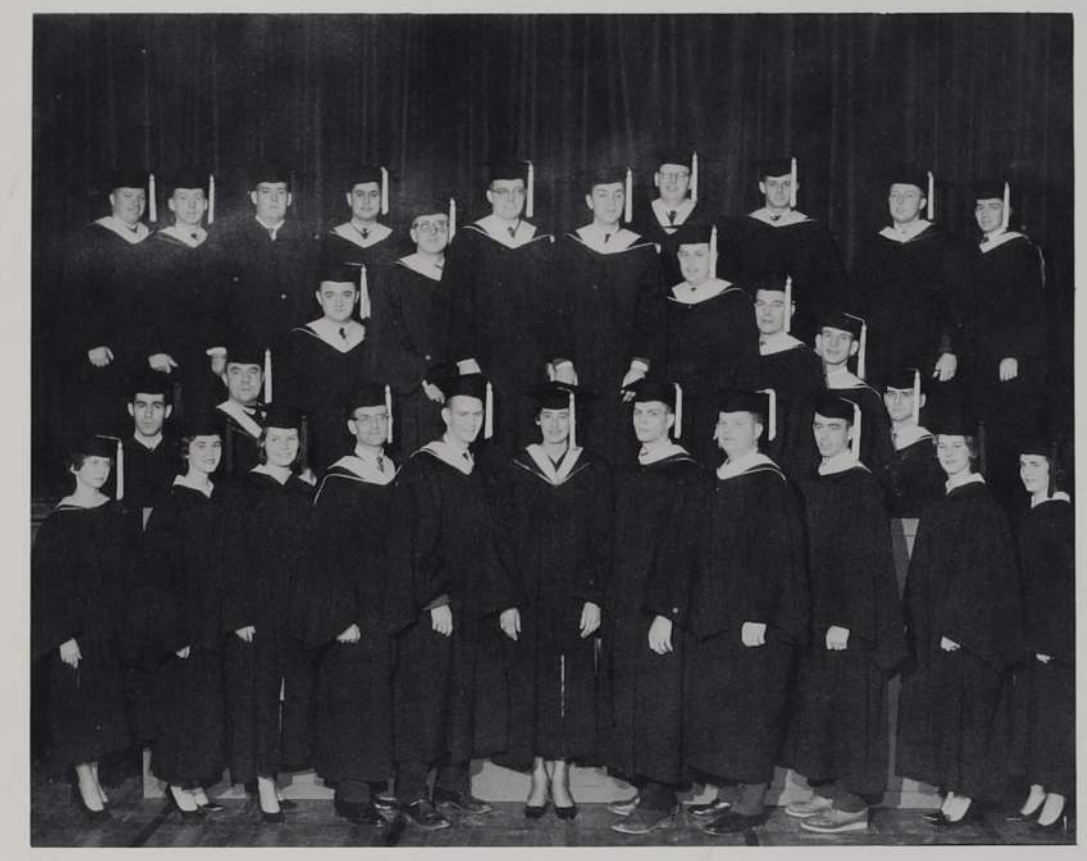

The moral involved here is that the spoils belong to the victor, and that there is no easy road to education, or to success. There is no glamor in study because study is work, and time must be sacrificed from things more attractive or entertaining to this task that builds growth and character.

As most of you know the tuition rate was raised to $720.00, and the Activity Fee abolished. The net increase of $105.00 amounts to 64 cents per day, and with the swelling costs stemming from the library, the salary schedule, admissions and placement procedures, maintenance costs, even postage and other fringe attacks on the purse, this was the absolute minimum to meet the problem. I sincerely hope that no student will become a casualty by this act which we postponed to the last moment, consistent with sound management.

It was with real pleasure that I witnessed the rebirth of the Husson Players and the Band. Judo, soccer, golf and cross country appeared on campus for the first time. The sports program, envisioned by Mr. Merrill, is growing rapidly and with considerable success under his supervision and direction. Our teams know how to win, and how to lose. I'm proud of their achievements this year.

I keep praying that the Glee Club will grow to 50, then 100 members. Please lend a kind ear to this request. I'd like to have quartets, quintets, octettes, and small trained groups to sing for us. The name Hussonettes appeals to me. The Band can use more talent. Think of these things. Don't just pass through college, live it!

A group of fraternity men have announced their interest in the acquisition of a fraternity house. Our chapter of Pi Rho Zeta is busy investigating costs, sites, management, and the other problems, incidental to such an operation. They are approaching the project in a very business-like manner and I have given them my blessing. It would be another "first" in our campus history.

A tip of the hat to the Circle K Club. Welcome aboard.

I must not fail to remember those whose names appeared on the Dean's List. One of the pleasures of a college president is to witness the notices being sent to the parents and high schools announcing this achievement. This is one of the greatest "gifts" that you can provide its parents. How proud they are to learn the good news. How much better it is to make them happy than to have them worry about progress in school. If you have the talent and drive, please invest them in scholastic attainments without stint. That's why we are here, all of us. Let's work together and climb college hill, hand in hand.

To the graduates, happy sailing. I feel confident that you will wear the name of Husson with dignity and purpose, and with pride. To the undergraduates, I wish a happy summer and a rededication to the goal on which you have set your sights, the college degree. It will breathe life into your future and serve it well. You see, it is a symbol of competence, and is recognized as such by those who would employ your talents.

I close with thanks to the faculty and staff who "kept the store" while I enjoyed Florida therapy. My debt is deep to this dedicated group and I am pleased to say so openly for all to hear.

Thanks to you students, too. As Jackie Gleason put it, "you are a good group!"

Cordially,
"Chief"

NEW COURSE

DATA PROCESSING COURSE

Husson College, Bangor, Maine, has introduced a new course in Data Processing in their business administration curriculum. This course will provide training and experience in programming and solving business problems. Such a course is an attempt at Husson College to change their program of training to keep in step with the rapid advancement in handling office work, research, and development in the rapidly moving business world.

Dr. Charles H. Merchant, who is offering the course in Data Processing, took his students to the UNIVAC installation at the Maine Central Railroad in Portland, Maine, this week. The students making the trip were the following:

Louis Abbotoni, Waldoboro, Maine
Fred Astle, Island Falls, Maine
Fred Colby, Bangor, Maine
Joyce Ryder, Bangor, Maine
Leopold Loiselle, Lewiston, Maine

The students taking this course have visited IBM installations at Eastern Corporation in Brewer, the Bangor-Aroostook Railroad in Bangor, and the University of Maine Computing Center in Orono, Maine.

Students are getting fundamental training in programs and principles in the operation of electronic tabulators and computers and practical experience in operating the IBM installation at Husson College.

This course is meeting a definite need in training young men and women to meet the rapid changes in office work in the modern business.

PEACE OF MIND

People who have peace of mind
Are often very dull, I find
And those who think most pos'tively
I'd thank to think away from me.
In fact, I'm not so very sure
I even like the "mind mature."
In spite of many a frank misgiving,
My un-peaceful life is well worth living.

Carlisle Hall — Twelve New Classrooms

CARLISLE HALL

One of Bangor's most beautiful and historic old homes located at the corner of Broadway and Somerset Street has been purchased by Husson College.

The new building has been named Carlisle Hall in memory of the late George T. Carlisle who was a vice-president and member of the Board of Directors of the College from 1933 until his death.

Carlisle Hall was built in 1850, and both the exterior and interior construction reflect the excellency and beauty of that era.

The work of renovating the house to make it both modern and functional without destroying its beauty is now in progress. The renovations include installation of a sprinkler system throughout the building and new plumbing and electrical fixtures, as well as relocation of some walls and partitions to provide eleven classrooms. The new building will be ready for occupancy with the opening of the Fall Term in September, 1963.

The acquisition of Carlisle Hall will provide ample classroom space on campus so that no classes will meet in The First Baptist Church nor in Husson Hall. It will also make possible expansion of the library which will occupy the entire first floor of Dickerman Hall next September.

Increasing enrollments and expanding curricula have brought about an immediate demand for additional classroom facilities. President Husson and the administrative staff of the College are continuing to work on the new campus project, and it is expected that Carlisle Hall will provide adequate classrooms until the new campus becomes a reality.

SUCCESSFUL

HUSSON COLLEGE ACCREDITATION EXTENDED—LOCAL SCHOOL HONORED BY MATERIAL COMMISSION

May 28, 1963

Mr. Chesley H. Husson, Sr., President of Husson College, was notified today that its accreditation had been extended another five years, the maximum time permitted by the present operating criteria.

The Inspection Committee completed its four day investigation of plant, equipment, personnel, policies and procedures in November and submitted its report to the May meeting in Washington, D. C., of the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools. This is the sole agency recognized by the U. S. Office of Education that determines the schools which qualify for accreditation.

"We are tremendously pleased and proud of this achievement," said President Husson. "It was a most favorable report commending the progress we have made since the prior investigation. Recommendations were made for future consideration and adoption and we will guide by these suggestions. We have endeavored at all times to maintain an honorable institution, ethically sound, governed by the best business principles, and alert to the ever changing needs of commerce, industry, and education. Accreditation means that we have made headway with these objectives, and we are honored to have an outside judgment bespeak our progress.

It is very gratifying to know that in spite of serious growing pains, with student body numbering close to 900 persons, and a faculty of 40 members, there has been no weakening of the study programs, no lessening of services, and no departures from the way of life as we have known it at Husson from the beginning.

The fact of accreditation was a team effort, and continues to be so. I am personally indebted to the staff, faculty, and student body whose joint effort has preserved the quality of our service to business education."

APPOINTMENT

The appointment of Dr. James R. Taylor as the new Executive Commissioner for the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools was announced by ACBS Chairman, Harold B. Post, President, Post Junior College, Waterbury, Connecticut.

Dr. Taylor, formerly Director of the Graduate School of Business Administration, Wayne

State University, Detroit, Michigan, and a member of the Accrediting Commission for the past five years will be the chief administrative officer of the Commission with offices in both Detroit, Michigan, and Washington, D. C. He succeeds Dr. H. D. Hopkins who recently retired after more than a decade of service in the field of accreditation.

A Past International President of the National Office Management Association, Dr. Taylor has also served as a State Department Consultant to the Republic of Chile and is a World War II Air Force veteran with service in the Pacific theater having held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He holds membership in Delta Pi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Kappa Lambda, and Phi Delta Kappa.

An author of many articles on education including a recent book entitled, "The Training of Clerical Workers," the veteran educator and administrator, with experience at both the university and secondary school level, received his Ph.D. and his A.M. Degrees from the University of Michigan and his A.B. Degree from the University of Kansas.

The Accrediting Commission for Business Schools, created and sponsored by the United Business Schools Association, Washington, D. C., was designated by the U. S. Office of Education in 1956 as a "nationally recognized accrediting body" pursuant to P. L. 550 and subsequent legislation. The Accrediting Commission over the years has established and promulgated the accrediting criteria by which more than 200 independent business schools and colleges have been accorded the recognition of being designated as accredited institutions.

ACBS publishes an annual Directory of Accredited Institutions which, upon request, is available to school administrators, teachers, and guidance counselors.

In accepting his new post, Dr. Taylor stated:

"I consider it to be a challenging task to become identified with ACBS and the cause of accreditation for independent business schools.

"Today the white-collar worker constitutes the majority of the country's labor force. Fortunately, the independent American business school is particularly equipped and sufficiently flexible for the task of responding to the increasing and complex demands of industry and government for graduates with specialized and technical training in business subjects.

"The educational system of this country was founded in private schools. The same spirit of courageousness is manifested by the determination of the independent business school to continually up-grade both in quality of instruction and curriculum content coupled with an effective and meaningful accreditation program."

HUSSON NON-PROFIT STATUS TO HELP EXPANSION PLANS

After 20 years as a proprietary institution, Husson College here will become a non-profit educational facility this year.

The changed status, made possible by legislative action, will become effective 90 days following adjournament of the 101st Legislature.

Expansion of the school—described by President Chesley H. Husson as "the only nationally accredited four-year specialized college of business"—is behind the move.

"It will better serve the student, in that availability of foundation and government funds is borne by this act", says Husson.

Growth of the college has been hampered by the location of its central buildings on crowded Park Street Hill. Even with the acquisition of a private home and former hospital, the present quarters are "inadequate" to serve a steadily increasing enrollment, now numbering 900, says Husson.

Planned is a new $7.5 million campus of steel and glass construction on a site yet to be decided. The college has purchased 50 acres of land on outer Broadway near the site of the new Bangor High School.

Availability of private capital for construction of classrooms is the only item that figures to delay a start on the campus, Husson indicates. He is exploring three potential financing sources which would foster the expansion on the outer Broadway site.

Once the private capital is found, federal matching funds for dormitory construction will be sought. Husson notes that the government is "favorably inclined toward application of this type of loan." He makes it plain he wants to keep the college in Bangor.

We will continue to explore all such sources as may come to our attention in order to keep our roots in the area in which we have operated since 1898, he says.

At the same time he acknowledges that a number of other Maine communities "have evidenced an interest in providing a new home for the college." Among them he lists Camden, Bar Harbor, Charleston, Dover-Foxcroft, Newport, Skowhegan and Farmington.

However, Husson notes that the related importance of part-time employment opportunities for student is an added argument for remaining in Bangor.

Presence of the school means close to $2 million annually to the economy of the city, Husson estimates.

The fact that the college must pay property taxes and elating federal taxes also was a factor in the decision to change the status of the institution, he notes.

The college owns four buildings. The former Pendleton House, recently purchased, will provide 12 classrooms. Another recent acquisition, formerly the Stinson hospital, will house 60 freshman women.

Not long ago the college leased the former Penobscot hotel building and completely refurnished it as living and dining quarters for men. Renamed Husson Hall, the facility has a new $20,000 kitchen.

The college has no facilities for its sports and other nonacademic programs. A movie theater has been used for assemblies, the Bangor YMCA for physical education classes. Brewer Auditorium for basketball, and other locations in the Bangor-Brewer area for various activities.

Husson acquired sole interest in the college in 1933. Originally known as Shaw Business College, it had been absorbed in 1926 by the Maine School of Commerce Chain. In 1940 the name was changed to Husson College by vote of the student body.

Since 1953 the college has been empowered by the legislature to grant bachelor of science degrees in accounting, business administration, secretarial science and business education.

New Status For Secretaries A. B. S. Degree

President Chesley Husson, Sr. announced today the granting of an Associate Degree in the Department of Secretarial Science. This degree will be awarded to the men and women who complete a two-year program of study in one of the following areas: Executive, Medical, Legal or Liberal Arts.

The programs have been approved by the National Accreditation for Business Schools. The programs have been set up to include forty per cent of study in the field of general education, combined with the skills necessary to the performance of the duties and office routine of the top secretary.

The Shorthand program of study has been improved to meet higher speeds. Added to the special terminology will be that of the Legal Secretary. Special attention will be given to the area of Insurance.

The earning of this degree by the young lady desiring to become a top secretary will become a desirable tool to open additional doors of opportunity here in the United States and in other countries.

The current freshmen secretarial students returning to graduate in June, 1964 will be the first group of two-year degree graduates.

The degree to be awarded will be an Associate in Business Science, or A. B. S. degree.

The State Department of Education has been approached for approval of the above program. It is expected to be approved shortly.

With The Faculty

RESIGNATIONS

Mrs. Lucia Yu, instructor of Accounting, has resigned, effective June 30. Mrs. Yu will join the Department of Business Administration of the University of Maine. She will continue to teach her pet subject, Accounting. Dr. Yu, Mrs. Yu's husband, is on the faculty. Husson is the loser; Maine the winner in this race. However, Mrs. Yu has promised to return if she's a bit unhappy up there. She will be sorely missed by students and faculty. She will leave an empty spot on campus. Mrs. Yu, the Ledger Staff, Administration and students wish you many happy hours on the Maine Campus.

Mrs. Susan Darling, English instructor, tendered her resignation. Mrs. Darling will teach part time and spend some fruitful hours as an author. She has had some writings published in the past. Mrs. Darling has been at Husson only one year. We have all enjoyed her quiet personality. We wish you much success in your venture as an author. Some day we will say, "We knew Mrs. Darling when ..... ."

DOCTORAL STUDY

John M. Tyler, Assistant Professor, Accounting Department, has been accepted for graduate study at the University of Connecticut. Mr. Tyler has been granted a year's leave of absence in order to complete the classroom requirements for his Ph.D. in the field of Administration. Mr. Tyler was one of twelve accepted for study. He took the examinations required and was asked to report as soon as possible. Speaks well for our Husson graduate and teacher. Mr. Tyler will move his family to Storrs for the year. Everyone on campus wish you the best in your endeavor. Have a good year and hurry back. Your contribution and friendliness will be sorely missed. This is just "au revoir", not goodbye.

Richard Cohen, Director of the English Department, has been accepted at the University of Massachusetts for his doctoral degree in English. Mr. Cohen will take his leave of absence in February, 1964. He has completed much of his advanced study and will resume his teaching at Husson after one semester's absence. We know you will do well, Mr. Cohen. Bring us back your smiling ways and superior knowledge. We are glad it is only for a half year.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Rice are the proud parents of a new daughter, Beverly Ann, born February 26. This is the Rice's second child. They have one son.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cohen are happy with a new daughter, Candace Tamor, small as a button. Of course, with two little parents, she could be only so big. The Cohens have a son, Milan, who is pretty sad these days.

Elizabeth Parker

MIGHTY FISHERMEN

C. H. Husson (Chief), wife Dorothy, Mrs. E. O. Williams (Ann), and Mr. Ned Costello, hit the "Grand Slam" when they chartered "The Pable-IV," with Capt. Greiser, at Marathon. Between them, they caught 28 fish, with nine different types of fish, but it was "Chief" Husson, who came into port with flying colors, having landed a 47½ lb. Amber Jack, and this catch proved to be the second largest caught so far this season. Capt. Greiser was also awarded a special plaque for his boat being the lucky one.

The fishing expedition was climaxed with publicity pictures, and the party have pictures to prove their success. Congratulations to all, but we are happy to welcome them all to Bonita Beach.

ROVING REPORTER

SERGE HENRY

This well-known student at Husson was born during the war where his father was mobilized in Madgascar, presently "Republic Malgache". After the war Serge returned with his parents to his home on Mauritius Island. Mauritius Island, a British colony with French culture, is located 1500 miles off the southeast coast of Africa. Serge, of French descent, lived on the island all his life and while in high school attended "College Saint Esprit."

Serge came to the United States on February 1, 1959 to go to school at the University of Maine. The reason for Serge choosing Maine was that his uncle was working on his doctorate degree at the university. Before attending the U. of M. Serge had never been to the United States. While at Maine he studied chemical engineering and then changed his course to biochemistry. In the first months at school Serge lived with his uncle but then moved to a men's dormitory where he stayed one semester. After that, however, Serge joined Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity and lived at that house until his arrival at Husson.

Serge transferred to Husson in February 1962 and is presently living at Husson Hall. Here he is enrolled as a student in the Accounting Department and is working towards his B. S. degree, which he hopes to receive in February of 1965.

During the first summer that he was in the United States Serge worked in Bangor. However, for the past three summers he worked at the Newagen Inn at Boothbay Harbor, Maine. This coming summer he plans to go back to the Inn where he will work as a bellhop.

This past December vacation Serge went to London and then on to Paris where he met his mother to spend the Christmas holidays with her. He plans to go home to Mauritius Island as soon as possible after his graduation.

This past fall Serge did a fine job as a player on Husson's newly organized soccer team. We are all looking forward to seeing Serge again next season on the soccer field.

Pi Rho Zeta Chapters Present Minstrel And Variety Shows

MEX CHORUS

COMEDY

BOOMERANG

MEX

Under the expert leadership of our President Leo Loiselle, and with the guidance of our capable faculty advisor, Mr. Husson, Jr., Mu Sigma Chi has attained a very successful year.

Now that Mu Sigma Chi is affiliated with Pi Rho Zeta International, all the members have been activly participating in the preparation for the National Conclave to be held in Bangor next August. On March 21, the annual minstrel show was held. Once again it was a big success. This year the show was also held in the Bangor City Hall to accommodate the many spectators. The show is comprised of fraternity brothers and outside talent. At this time, we would like to thank all those who helped to make our show the success it was. Miss Linda Smith was chosen our queen, the sweetheart of Mu Sigma Chi.

Once again Mr. Husson, Jr. returned as our faculty advisor much to the approval of all members for he did a truly outstanding job.

This spring we embarked upon our annual trip to Quebec. This trip serves as a reward to all members who have helped with the projects we sponsored this year. A banquet was held May 26 for all members who graduate in June.

A note of interest—we are working toward our own fraternity house and hope to have it in the very near future.

DSD

Delta Sigma Delta Sorority has been very busy during the past two months. A swimming party was held at the YMCA Pool and everyone enjoyed the mid-winter plunge. Pizza anyone? After literally stuffing ourselves with pizza, we all hustled off in various cars to visit the Bangor Homes for the Aged. Gifts of candy, fruit, and cigarettes were distributed and favorite songs were sung.

We're all outdoing ourselves trying to get a better bowling score than our advisor, Miss Jordan. It seems that our bowling ball wobbles down the alley and ends up in the gutter, while her shots are straight, sure, and she makes a strike every time.

DSD is proud to announce that Carmen Lovell has been elected Vice President for the remainder of the year. She was also the recipient of the DSD Scholarship Award. She is an outstanding student and a credit to our sorority.

The annual spring picnic was held on May 22 at Sandra Frost's camp in St. Albans. In spite of the rather damp weather, spirits were high, and we had fun eating too many hot-dogs, and drinking too much pop. Gifts were exchanged by the Big Sisters and Little Sisters. Thanks, Sandra for a wonderful time!

Delta Sigma Delta wants to take this opportunity to compliment the officers on the outstanding job they have done this year. We are going to miss them next year, but wish them well in every venture.

ETE

Another year has come to an end, but Epsilon Tau Epsilon is still planning ahead.

Epsilon Tau Epsilon, Delta Sigma Delta, and Mu Sigma Chi, all chapters of Pi Rho Zeta International, will hostess and host the International Conclave in Bangor. Various members of ETE have been working alongside DSD and MEX members, and excellent results have come about. Souvenirs from Maine Industries have been pouring in from all over the State. A great deal of work is yet to be done, but the entire spirit of the "workers" is outstanding. August is the month; fun and excitement are in order.

Farewells will be said to the following sisters: Florence Bourgon, Peggy Brewer, Christine Demko, Elaine Goodwin, Simone Levesque, Emily Richard, Joyce Ryder, Barbara Stevens, Nancy Sanborn, Dale Lee and Joyce Edgerly. These girls will be graduating in June, and may join the new alumni Sorority, Epsilon Delta, if they wish.

The annual Family Banquet was held at Husson Hall. Relatives and friends of the girls attended from all over Maine. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Cotter and Dianne, Leah Kearney, Carole Hamilton, Carole Worden, Kathy Marsden, and Janice Sawyer. The buffet lunch was delicious and as usual a good time was had by all.

Mother's Day marked a new project for the year. Miss Swan and the girls sold boxes of beautifully decorated chocolates to the faculty and student body. The project proved to be a huge success—thanks to the student body for your support.

The May Ball was held on the 31st of May. The gym at Hampden was beautifully decorated, indicating that many long and valuable hours had gone into the planning. Many hearts were heavy as some of the students realized that this would be their last formal dance as a student at Husson College. A good time was had by all—from the oldest to the youngest. This was truly a "treat" in putting the final touches on four years, two years, or one year at Husson College.

To Miss Swan and Miss Bradford, the girls of ETE offer their thanks. Your undying enthusiasm, patience, and understanding have once again helped to make our year a success. The Seniors take this opportunity for a special thank you. The sorority years, regardless of number, will be remembered for a lifetime.

Also, ETE would like to thank the honorary members who have provided transportation and assistance on various projects. We wish you the best for the coming year.

To Delta Sigma Delta, our Sister Sorority, we would like to thank you for the opportunity of working together on many endeavors. The trip, the show, and occasional get-to-gethers were loads of fun. To Miss Jordan, Delta Sigma Delta Advisor, Thanks.

Members of ETE and DSD enjoyed another weekend of fun in the snow at Purity Springs resort in East Madison, New Hampshire. The weekend began with a bus ride to New Hampshire. We arrived just in time to sit down to a wonderful meal served family style in the main dining hall. We discovered we were not the only enthusists for the weekend for groups from Boston and the Massachusetts College of Art were among those staying at the resort. The evening was passed pleasantly with a trip to the skating rink for some and card playing and ping pong for others.

We arose early Saturday morning to hit the ski slopes (some of us hit pretty hard). In the afternoon a few brave souls ventured from the beginning slopes to King Pine Mountain and the chairlift. Supper Saturday night revealed everyone to be intact with no causualties to speak of. That night a square dance was held in the main lodge and a twist dance at the King Mountain lodge. A good time was had by all. Our twisting bus driver was the hit of the evening. After dinner Sunday we waved good-bye to the inviting slopes and headed for Bangor with fond thoughts and anticipation of another year at Purity Springs.

MEN AT WORK

NATIONAL CONCLAVE IN AUGUST

Epsilon Tau Epsilon, Delta Sigma Delta and Mu Sigma Chi Chapters will host the International Conclave at Husson Hall on August 13 through 16. The dinner dance on Thursday night will be held at the Oronoka. Other events are scheduled for the Husson Dining Hall.

Conclave registration fee is $20. This includes all activities except two breakfasts. Sorority and Fraternity members will be housed at Husson Hall. The Conclave Committees are planning a big three days of activities which include Lakewood Theatre, a shore dinner at the Lobster House in Trenton, a tour of the Coast, a boat trip around Bar Harbor at night. Your participation in this International event will make you aware of the problems of others. You will find new ideas, meet new friends, and get to know your international officers.

Governor General Maurice Gorsky and Mrs. Gorsky will attend. President Gayle Dvorok and Executive Secretary-Treasurer Herbert J. Kurtzheim of Milwaukee will be in Bangor all week. You'll feel closer to the international office once you meet and know these people.

One of the nicest affairs will be the breakfast on Friday, honoring Governor General Gorsky.

The scheduled meetings and workshops are open for new ideas and opinions. It is up to you to take part in these.

The College is hoping that the Mu Sigma Chi Alumni will be ready to receive its charter at the Conclave. Interested male alumni may contact Camille Cyr at Husson College or Ed McInnis, 180 Maple St., Bangor.

Epsilon Tau Epsilon will actually initiate new members in a formal ceremony during the Conclave.

Won't you join us?

Kappa is proud to report as another school year comes to a close, we feel it has been a successful year. Some of our winter activities included a twist dance in the gym and selling refreshments at all the home basketball games. We also collected tickets at the door for all the basketball games.

Mr. Lebrun of the college faculty became our new advisor this year. He proved a great asset to our organization and all the brothers wish to extend their thanks to him and express the hope that his years with us will be many.

The Kappa Delta Phi national convention was held in Boston at the Hotel Madison on the weeked of April 16. Seventeen brothers made the trip with almost all expenses paid for by the fraternity treasury. Alpha Chapter, Bridgewater State College, Bridgewater, Massachusetts was the host fraternity.

Kappa brothers held a raffle during the Chief-for-a-Day campaign with a Westinghouse Portable Stereo as the prize.

Two smokers for men interested in joining Lambda Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi next year have been held and approximately thirty men expressed interest in becoming a brother.

A Fraternity outing was held at Bar Harbor on Saturday, May 25. Toward evening the outing transferred from Bar Harbor to Tidal Falls in Hancock were a lobster feed was enjoyed by all. Brothers, pledgees, and dates attended this affair.

PLACEMENT OFFICE AT WORK

The Placement Office has had another busy school year with follow-up studies, career days, interviewing dates, and filling part-time jobs.

The Senior Class of 1963 has been offered the chance to present their accumulative college training in a new form: The Resume. This resume is compiled by the students and includes personal data, advisor's appraisal sheet, reference sheets from past employers and department heads, and finally the academic standing of the student. This service proved very worthwhile to the students as well as to the employers. Various interviewers expressed favorable comments regarding the convenience and compactness of checking the students' credentials.

Over thirty-five companies were represented on the 1962-63 Recruiting Schedule. These companies vary from governmental agencies hiring degree students to Maine Industries hiring Secretarial students. The various firms come from all over the United States looking for qualified personnel for managerial, accounting, and secretarial positions. Several members of the Senior Class have accepted positions with these firms. Next year we hope to hit the fifty mark, enabling Seniors more and more opportunities.

The Class of 1963 has already begun moving ahead. If you should be traveling in the State of Maine, why not stop into some of these high schools and see the Business Education Majors who have accepted teaching positions: Gary Lawton, Bucksport High School; Nancy Holmes, Edward Little High School in Auburn, Maine; Peggy Brewer, Berwick High School; Paul Bradeen, Erskine Academy in South China; Simone Levesque, Fort Kent Community High School; Barbara Stevens, Rockport High School, Linwood Decker and Nancy Sanborn, York High School; Mrs. Marilyn Torrey, Blue Hill Academy. Other Seniors will be teaching at: Harry Moore, Milford High School, Milford Connecticut; Lyle Richardson, Johnson High School, Johnson, Vermont.

Business Administration and Accounting majors in the Class of 1963 who have accepted positions are: David Adelman, Emple Knitting Mills; Terry Bailey, A. H. Bailey Lumber Company; William Bowler, Association Investment Company, Worcester, Mass.; Charles Burns, Burroughs Corporation; George Christakos, U.S. Air Force Officer Candidate School; William Edgerly, REA Express Agency; Ronald Giroux, Continental Insurance Company, Lloyd Hassen, U. S. Air Force Officer Candidate School; Kenneth Libby, Continental Insurance Company; Woodrow Meservey, Star Beef Company; Maynard Pettee, Union Mutual Life Insurance Company; Joyce Ryder, Edward A. Filene's and Sons; Richard Winship, Charles R. DuBay Company, Inc.; Frederic Astle, Civil Aeronautics Board; Raymond Dumont, Continental Insurance Company; Richard Hawksley, Civil Aeronautics Board; Gary McEntee, U. S. Air Force Officers Candidate School; Raymond Page, Arthur Young and Company; Gary Perry, General Accounting Office; Clifford Rand, General Accounting Office; and Robert Welch, Charles F. Rittenhouse, CPA's.

Part-time work is still in demand. Many students have signed up for summer jobs and are very optomistic about getting one. Opportunities are limited in the Bangor area, as most of the jobs are filled by full-time employees. It is our hope that more opportunities will become available for all students desiring part-time work.

The second semester Career Emphasis Day was held on April 12, 1963. Bankers from the Bangor area acted as leaders to fourteen individual groups of students. The advantages and opportunities in banking were discussed by these group leaders. Mr. Irl Withee, Deputy Bank Commissioner for the State of Maine, acted as Keynote speaker at the general assembly held in the gym. Next year we are planning career day to emphasize Civil Service opportunities and another emphasizing marketing occupations.

P.S. Just a note about the author of the above Placement article—Miss Peggy Brewer. The writing of this article is an example of the type of assistant she has become. Efficient, friendly, and willing to do more than just the daily routine, Peggy has been quite instrumental in the success of our Placement service. All of us wish Peggy great success in Berwick, and as for me, may I add . . . Thanks, for a job well done!

OFFICE WORKER

What is the role of the office worker in our economy?

He is a "facilitator": he records, coordinates, and reports the facts and activities that support production and distribution. In other words, his job is to place at management's elbow all the information it needs for making decisions.

How many office workers are there?

About 10 million or 15.2 percent of the total number employed. They account for 30.8 percent of all employed women, 7.1 percent of the men; and they make up the second largest employment group in the Nation.

Is office employment growing?

Yes! Between 1900 and 1950 it increased 725 percent; between 1950 and 1960, 32 percent. By 1975, estimates say, 13.7 million people will be working in offices.

The reasons for the persistently high demand for skilled office workers are basic: The office worker is needed in every community, large or small, and in every type of activity; the population is growing; and more information about more items is being collected from more places.

Why does office work attract so many people?

Offices have need for a great variety of skills, temperaments, and tastes. Some jobs are routine and simple; some are extremely complex and require the highest abilities. There are opportunities here for mature women without previous job experience, for elderly people who want only part-time work, for handicapped people. Moreover, the environment is generally pleasant, and the personal associations are satisfying and stimulating.

Thornton Lee Harvey Class of 1962 has been appointed to the Naval Officer Candidate School at Newport, Rhode Island. He will report for training on March 11, 1963.

At the Officer Candidate School, Mr. Harvey will study Naval Orientation and History, Gunnery, Navigation Seamanship, Engineering, and Operations during the four months training period. Upon successful completion of the course of study, he will be commissioned ENSIGN, U. S. Naval Reserve.

Think It Over

This appeared in the Ricker Review and something similar might well appear in the Ledger one day.

This is an outright pitch for money. We've thought it over, and have concluded that we should all get together and raise money for a Student Union, or Center, if you prefer.

Now, one of the fraternities is raising money through the raffle of a vacuum cleaner, and we understand that the Vet's Club is raising a little money through another raffle. Still another fraternity brought in several truck loads of gravel to fill in holes in the entrance to Ricker. Good.

And can this effort be continued towards raising money for a Student Union? The Administration has given its support of an all-campus drive, and we can be certain the money will be used for nothing other than a Student Union.

There are two alternatives: one, that Ricker build a new building to house the Union; two that an old building be bought and converted into a Union. At present, the latter seems the most promising—and most practical. It will be temporary and much less inexpensive. Later, when the college has more money to play with, maybe a new structure can be built.

Nevertheless, the type of building or where it is to be is for the planners to decide. We do know for certain that if we get the money, Ricker will have a Student Union.

The Union would have a bookstore, lunch counter and dining room, lounges, exhibition rooms, meeting halls, and recreation rooms. Any organization raising a substantial amount, we imagine, could have a room in its honor.

So how do we get the money? Each organization holds one drive or another for the benefit of the Student Union. There are dances to be held, movies to be shown, raffles, sales. Perhaps a group could talk a service station operator into letting that group use the station's facilities for a car wash. There are hundreds of ways. If the organizations feels that this is detracting from projects of their own profit, then they should at least donate a part of their returns.

With enough effort from the student body, Ricker can have an excellent Student Union within one, two or three years. As for those of us who will have left before the Union is completed, we can at least say we had a part of the development of Ricker College.

There will be no drum-banging, emotion-hitting drives. Each student is asked to think it over sensibly and then reach a decision as to whether he wants to participate in this drive. It will depend on how much each feels he wants a place to spend his leisure between-class time and how much he thinks Ricker should enjoy the same facilities that other colleges do.

CHIEF AND SECRETARY

CAROLE WORDEN AND EDWARD HADLEY

Once again the students of Husson College have experienced the excitement of campaigning for the honored position of "Chief" of Husson College for one full day. Each year at this time the student body seems to come alive with a new-found sense of energy and school spirit, and this year proved no exception.

Things got off to a slow start but soon the pace quickened as talk "spread around" as to just who would be the candidates for Chief and Secretary. It was agreed that each class should have equal representation. When all was "hashed over" they came up with the following excellent candidates, Ralph "Whizzer" White and Pat Burr, Ken Libby and Jean Pelletier, "Big" Ed Hadley and Carole Worden, and Delmar "Chappie" Clark and Linda Smith. These people are considered Husson's finest and we all knew the campaigns would be great and the voting close.

It didn't take our candidates long to get themselves organized and on the BAND WAGONS! Supporters were put to work making campaign buttons, posters and performing some of the best "Lobbying tactics" Husson has ever seen. Within two days every "nook and corner" of the gym was sporting colorful posters with unique slogans. Every available wall in every building displayed artistic creations and attention getters of the individual candidates. Both inside and outside the "Confines" of Husson, one knew Chief-for-a-Day Week had arrived!

It was good to see that such a keen interest was shown by the whole student body in this year's campaign. One could feel the sense of competition and excitement as committees gathered and planned their strategy toward a hopeful victory. One could almost smell "the smoke" as minds developed ideas for the forthcoming skits.

After many meetings and rehearsals the big day arrived for presenting the skits. Two days were donated to giving the skits. The first two skits were Chappie's and Ken's. Chappie had the student body on the reservation and Ken had them swinging to the "twist". The next day "Big" Ed Hadley and "Whizzer" made the scene. Ed gave us a variety show that moved fast and "Whizzer" came swinging through the air on his way to the WHITE HOUSE! It was evident that much planning, time, and rehearsing went into these skits for the results were tremendous. Each skit was well received by the student body and faculty.

We heard a few serious words from the candidates on Thursday and then the polls were opened in the gym for voting.

Now all that was left was the announcement of the new "Chief-for-a-Day" which would be announced at the "Coronation" Dance held Thursday night in the Husson Gym, with Nat Diamond providing the music. The big moment arrived—10 o'clock to be exact—and everyone was on "pins and needles" waiting for "Chief" Husson to announce the winner. "Chief" slowly opened the envelope which contained the winner's name; and, after a long pause, announced that the "Chief" for 1963 was "Big" Ed Hadley and his secretary, Carole Worden. With this announcement the crowd broke forth with a standing ovation. After the excitement had subsided, Mr. John Tyler presented Ed and Carole with plaques, on behalf of the Student Council, comemorating their victory. Following this presentation, pictures were taken and congratulations extended to all the participating candidates and the winners. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing and helping Ed and Carole celebrate their victories.

Friday morning Ed kept his promise to provide coffee for all early morning classes and classes were dismissed at noon. For those who wished to continue celebrating the "Sting-Rays" provided music in the gym until 3:00.

This brought to a close the activities of "Chief-for-a-Day" for the year 1963. We are sure that all Husson College students are looking forward to next year's campaigns with great enthusiasm.

HUSSON OFFERS PEEK AT "DJ" SHORTHAND

On the 75th anniversary of Gregg Shorthand, Husson opened its doors to the teachers of Shorthand from the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and the Provinces of neighboring Canada. Two hundred teachers and students of Shorthand attended the one-day workshop. This was a "first" and most successful.

At registration coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Saba of the College Cafeteria. Then down to the business at hand, after receiving old friendships and making new ones.

The Secretarial Science Department, under the leadership of Miss Mildred Bradford, presented an outstanding educator and lecturer in the person of Howard Newhouse. Teachers were taught, led to believe in and thoroughly charmed by Mr. Newhouse. A comparison of the old and new—the changes—and possible outcomes were explained and illustrated. Slides were shown of Gregg Shorthand from its inception.

Over one hundred twenty-five Gregg enthusiasts filled the Dormitory Dining Hall to join Mr. Newhouse, Mr. Sutkowski and Mr. Cassler at lunch.

After lunch a large percentage returned to the College Auditorium for a question-and-answer period. During the afternoon, the Gregg Publishing Division of McGraw-Hill drew off for at least $200 worth of prizes.

The affair was considered a huge success. In addition to Miss Bradford, Miss Hogan, Miss Watson and Miss Swan were hostesses. Mr. Sutkowski and Mr. Cassler of McGraw-Hill were the hosts.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Husson College Student Council has applied for membership in the National Student Senate. We expect to hear from them at any time and to be a full-fledged member by next September.

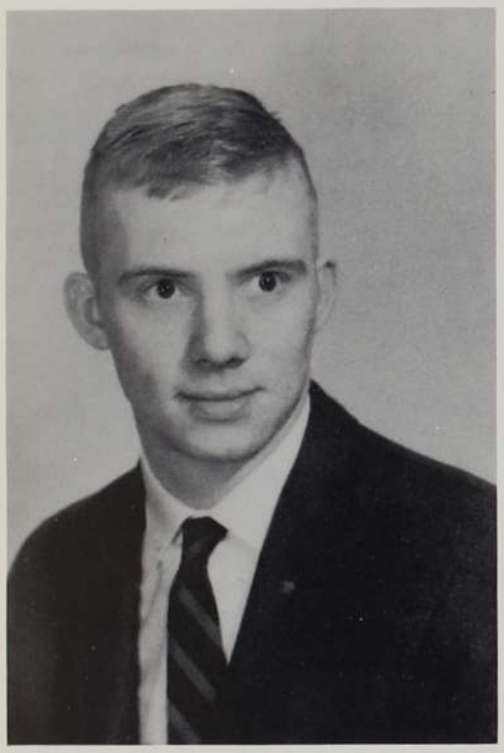

The Chief-for-a-Day activities were conducted the week of April 22. The candidates were Ken Libby and Jean Pelletier, Ed Hadley and Carole Worden, Whizzer White and Pat Burr; and Chappie Clark and Linda Smith. Skits were presented by Chappie and Ken the 23rd, and by Ed and Whizzer the 24th. On the 25th the serious addresses were given by all four candidates. That evening a dance was held with music supplied by Nat Diamond. At 10 o'clock the winner was announced, and Ed Hadley was presented with the Chief's War Club while Carole Worden was presented with a dozen red roses. The following day Ed and Carole presided at an assembly and presented the student council scholarships, one to each department.

At the last meeting it was decided that the Student Council Annual Banquet would be held on May 23rd. Guests may be invited.

Due to the fact that Louis Abbotoni is graduating in June, we elected Phil Roy as treasurer for the coming year. He will help Louis the remainder of the year and will assume his duties in September.

Many thanks go to the members of the Council for all the hard work they have done this year.

Newman Club

DAVID FERNALD

On Tuesday night, the Newman Club held its last meeting of the year. Officers for the school year of 1963-64 were elected. They are as follows: Dave Fernald, President; Jim Hansen, Vice President; Daisylene Cyr, Secretary; Joe Voisine, Treasurer; and Pete Hansen, Director of Publicity.

This past year was looked on as a very profitable one under the old President, John Donovan. We attended many district and regional conventions which proved to be very helpful to our still very young club.

We would like to express our thanks especially to Father O'Donnell, who has given so much time to us. He has been very helpful and we hope he will stay with us during these growing years.

Plans have been established for next year with much to look forward to. Also many exciting things are in the planning stage. We are looking forward to a very prosperous year under our new officers.

"For a better America tomorrow, join the young republicans today". This slogan has carried and spurred on the Husson College group this past school year. Last month, United States Congressman Clifford G. McIntire, Second District Maine, came to Husson to address the group. It was a very informal meeting, with Mr. McIntire answering any and all questions. After the meeting a social hour was held in the Husson Hall dining room.

We at Husson have already started making plans for the oncoming conventions to be held in Bangor. The Husson group will play a most prominent part as they did two years ago.

When we return to school in the fall, there will be a desk blotter available to every student. This blotter contains all the sport schedules and various other important bits of information. This is made available to the students through the courtesy of the Y. R. C.

Politics has never been all work and no play. In the Y. R. C., you make lasting friends working side by side with others in political activities. If you enjoy meeting people, there is no better way than through politics. We at Husson, like most Young Republican Clubs have an active social program including parties, dances and convention activities.

In June the group has planned a trip to Augusta to see the State Legislature in action. Norman Minsky, who has spoken to the group earlier this year, will guide us around before the session.

"By joining the Young Republicans you show a determination early to take seriously the duties of a citizen in a free country, to perform them, and help others perform them. I think it is one of the priceless privileges of free government . . . "—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

DORM COUNCIL

The social calendar of Husson Hall featured a victory dance after the Farmington game. The victory dances were so well accepted that Husson Hall plans on featuring a dance after every home basketball game next year. After the basketball season the dorm sponsored a Hussonova Dance. Everyone had a good time either dancing to the music of the Crowns or sitting in the snack bar sipping coke.

The profit that was received from the dances enabled the Dorm Council to purchase a ping pong table for the dorm. Since then the table has been in operation 14 hours a day. It is hoped that as the residents improve their marksmanship a ping pong tournament will be held. Another thing that the dorm residents are looking forward to is the pool table that President Husson donated to the dorm. The pool table will be set and reconditioned this summer under the able direction of Ken (The Shark) Spooner.

The next activity that was held at Husson Hall was a Doubles Cribbage Tournament. More than 75 men participated in this champion of college sports. The lucky winners were Tom Madsen and Bob Bernier. Runners-up were Don (Soup) Demmons and Jim Rigley. All were awarded trophies for their fine accomplishments.

The Dorm Council had their election of officers for the school year 1962-63 and the results were as follows: President, John Boucher; Vice-President, Dick Hermon; Treasurer, Don Demmons; and Secretary, Bob (Lucky) Brown.

Other guests attending from Husson were: Miss Clara L. Swan, Vice President of Husson, and Mr. David Robinson, teacher and faculty advisor.

Men's Intramurals

Basketball, being the game it is, proved to be very popular with the participants in intramurals. Intramurals this year consisted of ten teams with each team having from eight to ten members.

The league itself proved to be successful and an indication of this is in the low record of forfeit games during the season. In twenty-five games of regular season play there were only two forfeits—both occurred on the same night.

The play during the entire season turned out to be keenly competitive and of the highest caliber. With this type of play, a close race developed between seven teams in the league. In order to decide the final champion of the league, it was decided to form two divisions, A and B, which consisted of five teams each.

The teams in each division played each other in a single elimination tournament with the winner of each division playing each other in a final championship game. The teams comprising the A division were:

New Yorkers
Kappa Delta Phi
Puppy Feet
Vets
Shotguns

In division B the teams were:

Devils
J. C. and the Apostles
Mu Sigma Chi
Blue Angels
Husson Hillbillies

Winner of the A division tournament was Kappa Delta Phi, a team that was ranked third in the division. This team won three straight games to take the division championship.

In the B division, the Devils ranked number two, won two games to take that championship. In the final game for the League championship Kappa Delta Phi defeated the Devils 65-46. Hats off to the Kappa champs. A received gold pins and B silver.

Thanks are given to the students that helped with the scoring and other tasks that needed to be done in order for intramurals to go smoothly. One individual in particular should be thanked—Marty Van Wart. It was he who did a big load of the scoring, and setting up the scoreboard instruments, along with other various duties. He also assisted Mr. Bertolotti and Mr. Robinson with the program while Mr. Dana was away on a trip.

Intramural volleyball made a brief appearance after the basketball season. It was mostly on an informal basis with games being played by the people present that particular time. Teams were organized but all participants could not always be present.

With the good weather which comes with the spring season, the interest in indoor sports declined along with this interest in volleyball. This ended another season of intramurals.
