HUSSON COLLEGE

FOOTBALL 2003

Husson is a career-oriented, private, coeducational college located on 200 acres of fields and forest lands in Bangor. With sites in Caribou and South Portland, Husson offers Masters, Bachelor's and Associate's degrees in Business, Health, Education, and Science and Humanities. More than 14,000 alumni working in every field across the globe will tell you that a Husson College degree will start you on your way to a successful career.

Campus life at Husson is brimming with activity. NCAA/ NAIA affiliated athletic teams participate in basketball, baseball, football, softball, field hockey, golf, soccer and volleyball. Service clubs help students learn more about their areas of study and Greek organizations teach student leadership skills. The Student Activities Office sponsors a wide range of activities from dances to mountain climbing. There's a drama club, outing club, campus radio station, intramural sports such as basketball, football, and volleyball, yearbook, student newspaper, professional groups in each major, an International Club and even a Tae Bo style exercise club. The campus center houses an art gallery, chapel, formal and informal meeting and social areas, café, performance area and lounge. A massive Maine granite fireplace often sets the stage for impromptu gatherings.

Where better to pursue preparation for your career than a value-centered private college. Husson College understands your needs; small classes, individual attention, outstanding student services, and the chance to know your professors on a first-name basis. Husson is a place where friendships and values are built to last a lifetime.

We're game for anything.
