Husson College Plays Host to Presidential Candidates

U.S. Senator Dick Lugar Speaks to Husson Audience

On October 4, 1995 U.S. Senator Dick Lugar came to Husson College to be part of a question and answer period called "Ask Dick Lugar". Representing Husson College, Susan Collins, Executive Director of the Center for Family Business, and former Republican Gubernatorial Candidate (1994), introduced the Senator. Karen Clough, Student Government President, was on hand to present him with a sweatshirt as a souvenir of his visit to the college.

The Senators portion of the session began with a brief introduction of his personal life, as well as a brief overview of his political career. The Senator spoke on balancing the budget, taxes and the economy, abortion, and the national security & foreign affairs. Senator Lugar, a Lay Speaker at Saint Luke's United Methodist Church, opposes abortion and federal funding of abortion. He is only in favor of abortion in the cases of rape, incest, or when the life of the mother is threatened. On the matter of education, Senator Lugar opposses President Clinton's "Goals 2000" education bill. Rather, he supports education policy to be dictated by local school boards. He is also in support of limited aid to progams like Head Start, Chapter One, vocational education and student scholarships.

When discussing affirmative action, Senator Lugar opposes progams where there are quotas. On a personal note Lugar supports private efforts to advance minority education. Over a decade ago, Lugar established the Fund for Hoosier Excellence. This fund is designed to help minority students who have achieved academic success attend schools of higher learning.

The Senator took questions from the small but enthusiastic audience. One of the questions was how he felt about General Colin Powell entering the Presidential race. Sen. Lugar said that having the General in the race would be a positive thing, and he looks forward to finding out more about where Gen. Powell stands on specific issues. From Husson, Sen. Lugar traveled to Portland to make an appearance there.

1996 Republican Candidate Arlen Specter Comes to Husson

Arlen Specter demonstrating how his flat tax rate plan works

U.S. Senator Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania was on hand Monday, October 2, 1995, in the Husson College Campus Center. Specter, who first declared his candidacy on March 30, 1995, addressed a small audience and answered some of their concerns about government and the upcoming election. For all of those people in the audience that were not familiar with his political beliefs, the Senator described himself as a fiscal/economic conservative and social libertarian.

Senator Specter also discussed in some length a few of his political stances, including abortion, the dealth penalty, and gun control. The Senator is pro-choice, he opposes gun control, and he is in favor of the dealth penalty.

Senator Specter declared himself the only candidate running who offers a neutral flat tax. In Senator Specter's Flat Tax, taxpayers will only be asked 10 questions. "This style of reduced tax form will save taxpayers over 5 billion hours of time," declared Senator Specter. The tax rate will be a flat 20%, with deductions according to size of the household, mortgage rates, charitable contributions, and payroll withholdings.

The senator concluded his remarks by addressing questions from the audience. A local student from Brewer High School asked Senator Specter about the drug war. Senator Specter feels there should be more education, so people are less tempted to try drugs in the first place. There should also be stiffer penalties for drug sellers. Other questions ranged from his Flat Tax Rate to recent committees he had just been sitting on in Washington, D.C.

Senator Specter was presented a Husson College sweatshirt as a momento by Student Government President, Karen Clough .The Senator commented that he was sure it would be a big hit in his Washington D.C. raquetball club.

Your Connection to the Stars...

by Jen Bladen

Aquarius(Jan.20-Feb.18): With the moon over your sign from Oct. 2 - Oct. 4 be sure to take care of your circulatory system. For those who are married, use your negative unpredictability to do something special for your spouse. For those who are on the look for a new love, don't try so hard. Let them come to you. Your love signs are Pisces, Taurus, and Capricorn.

Pisces(Feb.19-Mar.20): It may be difficult for you to keep your cool for the next few weeks. You may feel as if a friend has been taking advantage of your polite hospitality. If you feel it is time to confront them, be nice and try not to lose your cool. You have a lot of spiritual love with Sagittarius, Aquarius, and Capricorn. Love days: 5 & 6.

Aries(Mar. 21-Apr.19): Because one of your positive words is courage you will be able to confront that problem with your boss, co-worker, friend or even a parent. Remind them that your opinion matters as much as theirs. With your negative word being rudeness, try not to over do it. You are most likely to be compatible with Libra, Cancer and Capricorns this month. Love days: 8, 14, 16, & 29.

Taurus:(Apr.20-May20): One of the more positive key words of your sign is loyalty. You are very loyal to your family and frends. This is why most of your relationships last for long periods of time. For those that are involved, now is the time to show your loyalty. Be patient with your lover, they might be facing a difficult decision. Your compatible signs are Virgo, Leo and Capricorn. Love days: 4, 11, 18 & 25.

Gemini(May21-June20):You are soon to be hooked up with a blind date. If your date is a Pisces, Leo or Aquarius, don't let your negative side come through. Your negative key words are unreliable and independent. But with your positive word being versatility you have the ability to go with the flow of things. Good luck. Love days: 15, 16 & 24.

Cancer(June21-July22): With a Halloween party coming, looking for your Romeo to go with your Juliet costume could get you flustered. Your compatible signs are Aries, Leo and Gemini. But this doesn't mean that if you have your heart set on a Pisces or a Sagittarius, you won't get along with them. Love days: 8, 9, 12

Leo(July23-Aug.22): Your finances are soon to be straightend out. Your most positive word is Love. You tend to fall in love almost everytime you find a lover. Falling in love is great and having a big heart is wonderful, but you need to be more cautious. Your compatible signs are Scorpio, Aquarius, and Taurus. Love days: 4, 8, 12.

Virgo(Aug.23-Sept.22): Your zodiac symbol is a virgin. This means that you are a pure honest person and demand the respect that you often get from others. In a relationship if your lover hurts you, you may not forgive so easily. Remember that no one on this Earth is perfect. If your lover does something you don't like, then tell them. They have the right to know. Your compatible signs are Gemini, Taurus and Aries. Love days: 6, 7, 9, & 22.

Libra(Sept.23-Oct.22): One of your strongest characteristics is harmony. You like to keep peace between friends and family. Your main goal in life is to find your "true love". You tend to believe in old ways. You ladies like to have your man open doors, and you men like to have your ladies cook for you. Your compatible signs are Scorpio, Cancer and Sagittarius. Love days: 3, 10, 27 & 31.

Scorpio(Oct.23-Nov.21): You are a survivor. If you have had a recent break up, not to worry. You will go on with your life. If it was meant to be, it would have lasted. The school year has only just begun and you are assured to find a new mate. Your compatible signs are Virgo, Libra, and Taurus. Love days: 11, 12, 13, 14 & 17.

Sagittarius(Nov.22-Dec21): You are usually very spunky and full of pep. In group work you are almost always the person who smooths things over, basically because you are very optimistic. When you play the field your date usually has a great time. Your negative word is lawlessness. You are most likely to be compatible with: Virgo, Libra, and Taurus. Love days: 28, 29, 30 & 31.

Capricorn(Dec.22-Jan.19):
For those Capricorns who have ended a relationship recently, it's time to move on. Your most negative word is gloom. Once you have lost a loved one, by death or by a break up, you have a hard time dealing with that loss. If someone asks you out on a date, like a Halloween party, say yes. If you feel uncomfortable then, suggest to some of your friends to go with you so that you will know some people there. Your compatible signs are Leo, Gemini & Aries.

Letters to Lynn

Dear Lynn,

I have a problem. I've been dating this guy for about four months now, and we get along great. The problem is, I don't know how to tell him that I am in love with my ex-boyfriend. Don't get me wrong I like this new guy a lot but I still love my ex. How do I tell him that I still have feelings for my ex-boyfriend? I don't want to lose my new boyfriend, but I'm afraid if I wait any longer to tell him then I will lose him. Please help me.

-Confused with love

Dear Confused with love,

I hear what you are saying. Being in love can be the most confusing time in your life, but it also can be the happiest. The first thing I think you should do is take some time and decide if your ex-boyfriend is the right man for you. It is possible to love two people at the same time, but doing that isn't fair to the people who love you. You should tell your new guy that you still care for your ex-boyfriend, but you love your current boyfriend. If you are afraid of losing him, tell him. Tell him that you don't want to lose him and that it's hard for you to say, what you have to tell him. Take your time and don't rush what you mean to say. It might come out wrong.

-Lynn

Dear Lynn,

I have had a friend, let's call her Jill. Jill and I have been friends for 15 years now. Back about 10 years ago she moved away, but we kept in contact. Just recently she moved back to the area. She is married now and has one child. My problem is that Jill has changed. She's not fun anymore. Jill and I did everything together, now when she's around it's not just Jill. It's Jill and her child or Jill and her husband. We never get to spend time alone. Jill is always inviting me over to her house. She invites me so much I feel like she is using me to help her take care of her kid. She is always asking me to babysit, but she doesn't pay me. I don't feel comfortable asking her to pay me because they can't afford it, and I don't want to stop visiting because she is such a close friend. What should I do?

-Lost friendship

Dear Lost friendship,

You need to confront Jill. You should tell her that it concerns you that she doesn't spend much time alone with you. You should also suggest to her that she should find a babysitter. Tell her that helping out once in a while is fine but when once in a while turns into all the time it's not fair to you. If she cherishes this friendship as much as you do then she will realize what she is doing is wrong. Remember that people change over the course of time and maybe you both have changed so much that your personalities clash. Keeping the communication lines open is important in a relationship. You both need to be reminded of this.

Campus Ministries and Faith Forum

Husson College has made a commitment to addressing the spiritual needs of students, faculty and staff by appointing to its staff a College Chaplain. Rev. Robert T. (Rev. Bob) Carlson began his second year on staff this September. He is available in the Campus Ministries Office (Room 132, Peabody) on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. In an emergency he may be reached 24 hours a day through his pager (989-4030/unit1900).

During Homecoming Weekend the first service was held in the Husson College Chapel. The Chapel is an integral part of the new Campus Center and is open for all to use for reflection and meditation throughout the day. The Chapel is ecumenical in its decor. We as a community are thankful to Ralph and Anita Leonard for providing the funds for the Chapel construction in memory of their son "Rick" who was a student at Husson; to Doug and Ana Brown for the gift of the stained glass windows; to Shirley Richard for the gift of the furnishings (pews, pulpit and chair) in memory of her husband Alexander, and to the Trustees for their gift of the organ in memory of Walter Hunt. Rev. Bob hopes the the Chapel will be used for a variety of ecumentical services as well as for quiet meditation.

Faith Forum is an opportunity for students, faculty and staff of the Husson Community to engage in meaningful dialogue around the issues of spirituality as it relates to the academic journey and the workplace. The topics are varied and the format is relaxed. On Tuesday, October 17, during Alcohol Awareness Week, Faith Forum will discuss "Spirits and Spirituality". On Tuesday, November 7, during Rape Awareness Week, there will be a special discussion designed to discuss issues of rape and sexual assault. Faith Forum will be held on Tuesdays from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m in room 322 Peabody Hall. This seems to be the best time for most participants. Bring a bag lunch and beverages will be provided.

When asked about Campus Ministries, Rev. Bob likes to express the importance of simply being available. He has been known to wander the corridors of the dorms in the evening and spend time in the Campus Center and the DDC for conversation. Rev. Bob thinks it is vital for the College Chaplain to be visible and accessible to the students. If they see him enjoying the same things that they do, they may feel more comfortable to approach him to discuss an issue in their own life.

Rev. Bob is the pastor at the East Orrington Congregational Church, where he has been for the past 16 years. He invites any student who is interested, to attend church services there at 10 a.m. on Sunday mornings. If you're interested in other churches in the area, check the sampling in the back of your student handbook.

Kappa Delta Phi to hold Movie Nights in their Lounge

The Brothers of Kappa Delta Phi would like to thank all those who attended our annual Information Night. It was a great success.

We would also like to express our thanks to all those individuals who sent cards and words of encouragement to Brother Dean Bowden. Dean has been released from the hospital and is doing very well.

Recently the Brothers, through a generous donation from our Alumni Association, were able to purchase a 25 inch T.V. and a VCR. Movie nights will be starting up very shortly, and everyone is welcome to attend.

For anyone that may be interested in Kappa Delta Phi, but couldn't find the time to attend our Information Night, the following is a brief history.

Kappa Delta Phi is a national fraternity that was established at Bridgewater State College on April 14, 1900. Since that time Kappa has grown accross New England and New York. We currently have 5 active chapters in Maine.

We have also been busy on expansion, adding three new chapters. We now have chapters at St. Anslem College, in Manchester, N.H., one at Bryant State College in Rhode Island, and also at Suny New Palz College in New York.

On the local level, Kappa Delta Phi is always willing to help out in community activities. Currently, we are collecting pledges for the MEX sponsored relay, as well as working with the American Cancer Society on an upcoming event.

Mu Sigma Chi holds Benefit Relay

The Brothers of Mu Sigma Chi would like to thank everyone that attended our Rush. Since the last edition of the paper we have ran our weekly football squares and the winners have been Cindy Davis of 6th level Carlisle and Coleman from 7th level Hart. We would love to see a great turn out for our 24-hour relay which starts Saturday at noon and ends Sunday at noon. We are still taking donations for the Children's Dream Factory of Maine. If you would like to help the unfortunate children you can leave a donation with any Brother. We hope to see you up on the floor to visit and if you need any help we'll see that you get the help you need.

We had our Rush/Information night Wednesday, October 11 at 8 p.m. in the Faculty/ Staff Dining Room. We had a great turnout and we thank everyone for attending.

Tau Kappa Epsilon reaches Brotherhood of over 200, 000

A lot has happened since the last Spectator, so let's catch up. TKE has been extremely busy. September 22-24 was Homecoming weekend. We had alumni from all over Maine and New Hampshire come back to see how Omicron-Mu is doing. The following weekend the brothers spent picking apples at Rowe's Apple Orchard in Newport, ME. We were up at 7 a.m. both days to pick apples, which made for a long weekend. Most of the brothers went home for Columbus Day weekend, but those who didn't worked on this weeks Rush/Information Night.

Upcoming events for the brothers include going away for retreat at Andy Kneser's camp, which has always been a good time. Also, the weekend of October 20 we will be holding Paint Ball Wars in Etna, ME. One of the major events TKE does during the year is the TKE Tourney. We hold a basketball tournament for the members of Big Brothers/Big Sisters. It's a great day for the kids because it gets them off the streets and out of the house. The Tourney will be held sometime late this semester.

Tau Kappa Epsilon International Fraternity has been the largest collegiate fraternity since the 1980's. We have initiated over 200,000 men into the bond. We have not stopped growing, extending our chapters to Canada and even to Hawaii. There are over 300 active chapters throughout North America. We are always active in whatever the college "puts on" for activities. We always participate in Intramural Volleyball and we are the defending Intramural Football Champions. TKE would like to take this opportunity to invite anyone interested in finding out more about our fraternity up to 9th level Hart.

Last, our deepest sympathy goes out to Darcy McGinty over the death of her mother, this past week. Darcy, we'll be there for you if you need anything!

The Brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon

Attention all Greek Organizations. Articles for the next Spectator are due no later than Tuesday, October 24, 1995. The next issue will be coming out on October 31, 1995.

Letters to the Editor

To All Who May Be Interested:

I have heard that Husson College is in the process of developing a Liberal Arts program. If this is true, then I would be happy to change my major to languages. In this era of global economics, knowing an Asian or Middle Eastern language would be practical and greatly appreciated by the people of these areas.

As America expands into the global marketplace, it would be practical for many if us to learn these languages because it would make misunderstandings much less likely to occur.

Learning other languages will also open the door to learning about the cultures of the countries that these people are from. They would also appreciate our attempt to learn their language, even if we do struggle with the pronunciation.

I find it frustrating that the only way I can learn the languages that I am interested in is through the back door of the education system. I have spoken to some of my friends about this and they agree with me. These people are from other countries, and they are confused as to why they have to learn English while we are not encouraged to learn Arabic, Japanese, Thai, Korean, or any number of languages that we as Americans are capable of learning if we only had the access to this type of program in more of our schools.

I do have experience with the "back door" approach to learning a new language with a handful of books, one top quality Japanese-English dictionary and a few friends that are busy with trying to learn English through the International Center for Language Studies (ICLS) or just trying to keep up with the Husson classes. I think that it would be much easier to learn the languages that I mentioned if there were classes available in this area. This would help Maine to keep up with or even surpass much of the rest of the country in the era of global economics.

Thank you,
Chris Birmingham

Currently the staff of The Spectator is researching answers to the potential development of a liberal arts program. Our findings will be printed in a later issue.

Women's Volleyball Finishes 2nd at Recent Thomas College Tournament

The Women's Volleyball Team participated in their first tournament of the year at Thomas College on Saturday, September 31. There were three other teams there including Thomas, Unity, and the University of Maine at Machias. In the first match the women played Unity College. They ended up beating Unity 15-4. In the second game the women came out on top again but with a closer score of 15-13. The second match of the day was between Husson and UMM. The women worked hard but the height and strength of the UMM team was too much. They lost in two games with scores of 15-1 and 15-3. The third match of the day was against Thomas College. The first game was close but the Braves won 15-10 and in the second game the women worked even harder and won 15-7. This was a really big win for the team because it meant they got to play UMM for a chance at first place. During the first match of the finals against UMM, the women worked hard but could not get the rhythm going. They ended up losing 15-2. During the second match the Braves tried to emphasize on and working as a team. Still the UMM team was too much for Husson. UMM won 15-1.

Even though the team lost they still placed second in the tournament which is a big step for the volleyball team. When asked about what she thought of the game, volleyball player Pam Moody replied, "We not only surprised other people but I think we even surprised ourselves."

The women look forward to an upcoming game against Thomas College on Wednesday October 18 at home.

Husson Men's Soccer on a Roll

by Steph Freeman

If you've been to a Men's Soccer game lately you probably would have had trouble finding a place to watch the game. Many fans have stated that there is a large number of fan support for almost every game home or away. This can probably be attributed to the mens hot streak they are on with a record of 7 wins and only 2 losses.

Senior Tri-Captian GuyGuy Mpeye attributes the teams success to their ability to function well as one unit. The whole team works well together and everyone contributes to its success. A good example of this was during a recent game against Notre Dame College of Manchester, N.H. There were 5 different people that scored goals to help the team win 5-0.

Junior speaking Tri-Captian, Adam Heaslewood also spoke of what he considered to be contributing to the teams success. Simply stated Heaslewood said, "A blend of youth and experience." With all the hardworking freshmen and the talented veterans, the future for the men's soccer team looks very bright.

On Wednesday, October 11, the Men's Soccer Team beat Unity College at home with a score of 4-0. Senior Guy Guy Mpeye had two goals along with teammate Joe Melanson. Adam Heaslewood had all four assists. When asked what makes the Men's Soccer team so successful, Junior Jason Hill replied, "Team unity and working together." This game was the seventh shutout for the 6'5" freshmen Goalie Ben Masterson. Even though he works hard to defend the goal he states that he owes all of the shutouts to his defense. With only three games remaining in regular season, Ben is close to breaking the record of ten shutouts.

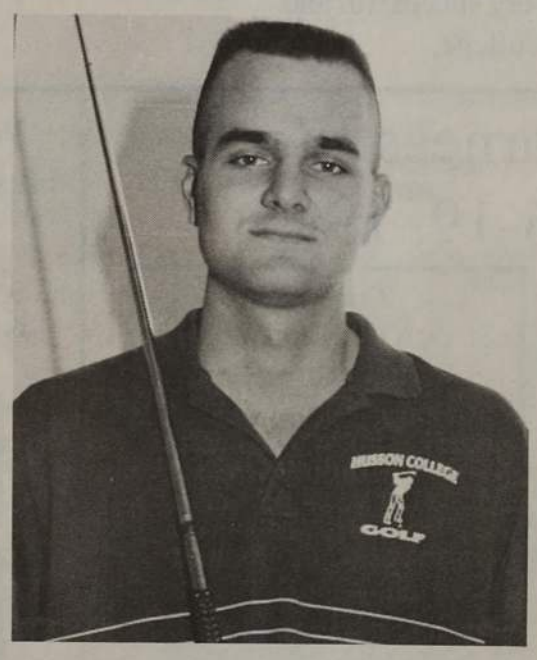

Upcoming men's soccer games include games against the University of New England on October 14 and one against the University of Southern Maine on October 16. These two games are both home games as well as being conference matches. Try to show up for atleast one or both of the games.

Sean Goggin wins Maine Athletic Conference Medalist Trophy at Natanis Golf Course

Husson College Senior Golfer Sean Goggin won the Maine Athletic Conference Medalist Trophy at Natanis Golf Course on October 4, 1995. Despite a heavy rain over the first nine holes, Sean posted an outstanding 75 over the 18-hole championship match. This was a very big achievement for the senior because one of his goals at the beginning of the season was to win the M.A.C. tourney. Sean will now represent the Maine Athletic Conference in the first step of the NAIA National Tournament, when he plays in the Regional Championship in New York next May. When asked if he was excited to go to the Regional Championship, Sean replied, "Yes, I'm very excited but I'll be more excited when I go to New York next May."

In the tourney at Natanis Golf Course, Sean trailed through 16 holes but surged to the lead on the 17th hole and pared out the 18th hole to win the championship by one stroke. He has been club champion at Cobbosee Country Club for two of the past three years and has been a key member of the Husson Golf team the past three years.

Sean also spoke of his improvement from last year to this year but he truly believes his new and more improved golf clubs were the big reason for his improvement. Husson Golf Coach Bruce MacGregor said, "Husson College is proud of Sean not only for his accomplishments on the course at Natanis on Wednesday, but that he exemplifies the best in the term Scholar/Athlete."

Women's Soccer looking for Post Season Play

The Husson Women's Soccer team has already improved their record from last year's of 2-12 to 3-4-1 with only half of the season completed. According to goalie, Sherri Sanna, the best game the Braves have played this season was against the University of Maine at Presque Isle where even though Husson lost 1-0 they showed a lot of improvement and better control than when they played last year.

The Soccer team continues to be strong with 11 returning players and the addition of two freshmen. The women are led by co-captains Rochelle Gillis and Carey Sheehan.

With the untimely departure of Coach Kellie Leeman shortly after the start of the season, the Braves are now coached by Jen Ferina. Her style of coaching emphasizes strong ball handling skills and more intense body conditioning. This approach has resulted in a more skillful and more competitive Women's Soccer team.

Upcoming games for the Braves include a game on October 14 against the University of New England at home and a game on October 16 versus the University of Maine Farmington.

Husson Opinions

Mike Roy

"Smoking. It is a really disgusting habit that makes your breath and clothes smell really bad."

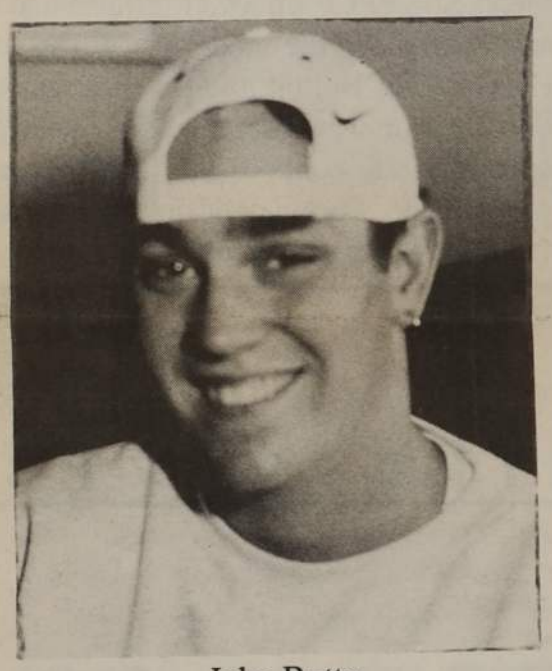

Pam Moody

"Guys who wear big old hoopy earrings and walk around with their hands down their pants, body piercing and tatoos (big ugly ones)!"

Jimmy Michaud

"Girls that put make-up on with a Wagner power sprayer. Women that dress like they should be on a street corner (but leave the mini-skirts)."

John Butts

"Girls that dress themselves up too much. I like the natural look. (Also, girls that take you on talk shows)."

POLL QUESTION:

What do you consider to be your biggest turn-off?

by Brandy Allen

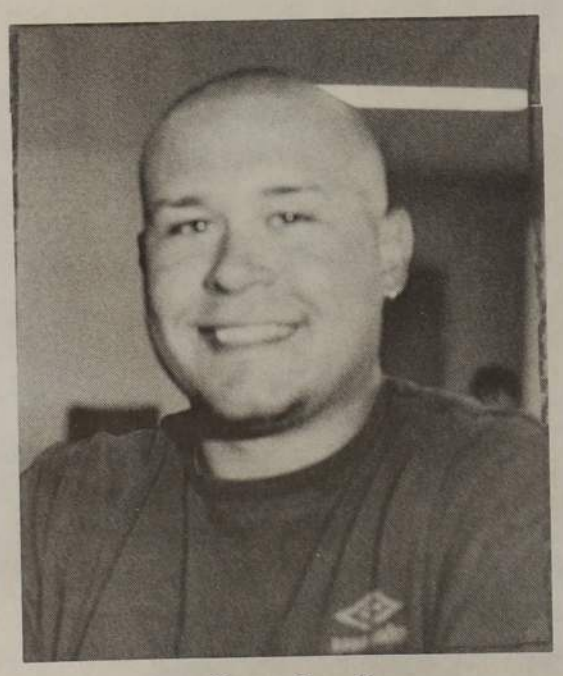

Ronnie Rosati

"Men who don't take care of thier appearance (like scruffy beards and tattered clothing). I don't like how men see and assume that women are merely objects. Men who sleep around."

Berlynda Gaudette

"Guys who wear 'tighty-whities'. Real men wear boxers."

Dave Small

"My biggest turn-off would be finding out the gender of Pat (from Saturday Night Live)."

Mary Nusslein

"Guys who can't be themselves. They are too concerned with what other people think."

Heaslewood and Burton Husson's Connection to English Soccer

There is a royal duo of hard hitting, action on the men's soccer team this year. The pair, Adam Heaslewood and Kevin Burton, both residents of England. They combined bring Husson the strongest midfield in the Maine Athletic Conference. Heaslewood and Burton not only bring their strong soccer playing talents to the team they also bring a different level of intensity which can only be found in English soccer.

While speaking with the pair, they shared with me some of the differences between soccer in the states and in England. A major difference seemed to be refereeing. They also feel that people have more pride for soccer in Europe than they do in the U.S.

Heaslewood shared how he decided to go to Husson College.

While working in a summer camp in Waterville, Maine, Heaslwood was seen by Men's Soccer Coach Mitch Ellisen and soon arrangements were made for him to attend Husson. For Burton it was a different situation. Burton was recommended by his guidance office to come to the United States to play soccer. Fortunately for Husson, we offered the classes he wanted.
