VISION

Husson is a university of choice for premier professional programs where students succeed, experiential learning is championed and global engagement is emphasized.

MISSION

Husson University seeks to inspire and prepare students for professional careers in current and emerging fields through professional programs informed by the sciences and humanities.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Husson University community achieves this career preparation by supporting and emphasizing

- Outstanding teaching.
- A commitment to student empowerment and support for student success.
- Scholarly contributions to one's discipline or field of expertise.
- An undergraduate and graduate curricula that are challenging, relevant, and promotes critical thinking, self-confidence and strong communication skills.
- Principles of ethical behavior and social responsibility.
- Lifelong learning in preparation for the challenges of a constantly changing world.
- A diverse cultural and global perspective achieved through student development and experiential learning opportunities that reinforce our commitment to a strong academic community.
- Careful management and stewardship of University resources.

HISTORY

Founded in 1898 as Shaw Business College and School of Penmanship, Husson has evolved through the years and now includes the College of Business, College of Health and Pharmacy, and a College of Science and Humanities.

Boasting over 1,350 students, the College of Business remains the heart of Husson University. Degrees include accounting, audio engineering, business administration, computer information systems, criminal justice, extended reality, financial planning, forensic science, graphic/visual design, integrated technology, hospitality and tourism management, legal studies, marketing communications, sports journalism, sport management, software development and video/film production; with graduate degrees in business administration and criminal justice administration.

Founded in 1892, the Bangor General Hospital School of Nursing became a part of Husson in 1983. Today, the College of Health and Pharmacy – and its strong base of alumni and traditions – has expanded to offer bachelors and masters degrees in nursing, and masters and doctoral programs in occupational therapy, physical therapy and pharmacy.

Within the College of Science and Humanities, behavioral science courses have evolved into academic degrees in animal assisted therapy, animal behavior, biology, English, exercise science, health sciences, healthcare administration and public health, pre-medicine and psychology. The College also provides the general education coursework for the University. Husson has built its School of Education presence with undergraduate degrees in elementary and secondary education, and graduate degrees in clinical mental health counseling, human relations, and school counseling.

DEGREE-GRANTING AUTHORITY

Husson University is incorporated as a nonprofit, independent institution of higher education by the State of Maine. The Maine Legislature first enacted degree-granting authority for Husson in specific Bachelor of Science programs in 1953 followed by other specific degrees and the unrestricted authority to award the Associate of Science (1992), Bachelor of Science (1992), Master of Science (1993), and Honorary Doctorate (1969) degrees. In 2004, the Maine State Board of Education granted Husson the authority to award the Doctor of Physical Therapy. In 2007, the Maine State Board of Education granted Husson the authority to award the Doctor of Pharmacy.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTIONS

Based on a 4.0 grading scale, Husson University recognizes the following associate and baccalaureate academic distinctions at graduation:

| | |
|-----------------|-------------|
| Cum Laude | 3.40 - 3.59 |
| Magna Cum Laude | 3.60 - 3.79 |
| Summa Cum Laude | 3.80 - 4.00 |

A Valedictorian is the baccalaureate graduate with the highest grade point average. The Salutatorian is the baccalaureate graduate with the second highest grade point average. The eligibility requirements for Valedictorian or Salutatorian include completing 90 credit hours at Husson University, enrolling as a full-time student, completing the degree in five years and other eligibility clarifications as set forth in the University Catalog.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The tradition of academic regalia dates to the formation of the first European universities in the ninth century. At that time, scholarship was conducted at religious centers, and the dress of the scholar was also that of a religious cleric. Long gowns and hoods had the functional purpose of providing warmth in unheated libraries and cells. The use of the raiment continued unofficially until Oxford and Cambridge Universities permanently adopted the clerical vestments as ceremonial academic costume. This tradition spread to American colleges and universities in the late nineteenth century, when a code was set that defined the cut and style of American gowns and prescribed colors to represent the various divisions of learning. For example, golden-yellow, symbolizing the wealth of knowledge gained from scientific research, was assigned to the sciences. In accordance with tradition, Husson regalia includes a long black gown and a mortarboard with a golden-yellow tassel. Husson Masters and Doctoral graduates wear hoods referring to their division of learning: drab representing business, peacock blue for criminal justice, gold for clinical mental health counseling and human relations, apricot for nursing and nursing education, ink for occupational therapy, olive for pharmacy, teal for physical therapy, and light blue representing school counseling. A golden-yellow cord draped across the shoulders of associate and baccalaureate-level students represents their academic honors.

HONORARY DEGREE

One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth Commencement

Honorary degrees have been granted by colleges and universities since colonial times. These degrees are not awarded for academic achievements, but rather are awarded to honor or recognize the achievements of outstanding citizens.

Honorary degrees highlight the accomplishments of individuals in the arts, public life, education, scholarship, business, health, and the sciences. The first honorary degree was awarded at Oxford University in the 1470s. Since 1969, Husson University has recognized prominent citizens for their contributions to the community, State of Maine, nation, and world.

By virtue of the authority vested in its members, the Board of Trustees is pleased to confer the following honorary degree upon the occasion of Husson University's One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth Commencement.

TRAVIS MILLS

Retired United States Army Staff Sergeant Travis Mills of the 82nd Airborne is a motivational speaker, actor, author and an advocate for veterans and amputees. He is also one of only five quadruple amputees from the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. Despite losing portions of both arms and legs from an IED while on active duty in Afghanistan, Travis continues to overcome life's challenges, breaking physical barriers and defying odds. In September 2013, Travis and his wife Kelsey founded the Travis Mills Foundation, a nonprofit organization formed to benefit and assist post-9/11 veterans who have been injured in active duty or as a result of their service to our nation. Critical to the foundation's mission is for the veteran's family to be included, not just the vet. Through the foundation, the veteran and their family receive an all-inclusive, all-expenses paid, barrier-free vacation to Maine where they spend time with Travis and his family, participating in adaptive activities, bonding with other veteran families and enjoying much-needed rest and relaxation in Maine's great outdoors.
