HISTORY

Founded in 1898 as Shaw Business College and School of Penmanship, Husson now has a School of Pharmacy and the New England School of Communications as well as a College of Health and Education, a College of Science and Humanities, and a College of Business.

Boasting over 1,300 students, the College of Business remains the heart of Husson University. Degrees include accounting, business administration, business and liberal studies, business and professional studies, computer information systems, criminal justice, forensic science, hospitality management, legal studies, paralegal studies, software development, and sport management, with graduate degrees in business administration and criminal justice administration.

Also, founded in Bangor in 1892 as the Bangor General Hospital School of Nursing, the College of Health and Education - and its strong base of alumni and traditions - became part of Husson in 1983 as the School of Health. Since then, the College has expanded to offer a bachelor of nursing, graduate nursing, and masters and doctoral programs in occupational and physical therapy, respectively. Husson has built its School of Education presence with undergraduate degrees in elementary, secondary and physical education, alternative certification in teacher education, and graduate degrees in clinical mental health counseling, education, human relations, and school counseling.

Founded in 2007, the School of Pharmacy educates students in pharmacy practice and pedagogy. The graduates will receive their Doctor of Pharmacy degrees, enabling them to sit for the national boards and become licensed pharmacists in Maine and throughout the country. In 2017, the School of Pharmacy expanded to include the M.S. in pharmacology.

Within the College of Science and Humanities, behavioral science courses have evolved into academic degrees in biochemistry, biology, chemistry, data analytics, English, exercise science, health science, healthcare studies, liberal studies, and psychology. The College also provides academic support to all other majors and degrees at Husson University, and serves as the liberal arts foundation of the University.

In 2014, the New England School of Communications became a self-standing school within Husson University offering degrees in communications technology, entertainment production, and mass communications.

DEGREE-GRANTING AUTHORITY

Husson University is incorporated as a nonprofit, independent institution of higher education by the State of Maine. The Maine Legislature first enacted degree-granting authority for Husson in specific Bachelor of Science programs in 1953 followed by other specific degrees and the unrestricted authority to award the Associate of Science (1992), Bachelor of Science (1992), Master of Science (1993), and Honorary Doctorate (1969) degrees. In 2004, the Maine State Board of Education granted Husson the authority to award the Doctor of Physical Therapy. In 2007, the Maine State Board of Education granted Husson the authority to award the Doctor of Pharmacy.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTIONS

Based on a 4.0 grading scale, Husson University recognizes the following associate and baccalaureate academic distinctions at graduation:

Cum Laude	3.40 - 3.59
Magna Cum Laude	3.60 - 3.79
Summa Cum Laude	3.80 - 4.00

The Valedictorian is the baccalaureate graduate with the highest grade-point average. The Salutatorian is the baccalaureate graduate with the second highest grade-point average. The eligibility requirements for Valedictorian or Salutatorian include completing 90 credit hours at Husson University, enrolling as a full-time student, completing the degree in five years and other eligibility clarifications as set forth in the University Catalog.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The tradition of academic regalia dates to the formation of the first European universities in the ninth century. At that time, scholarship was conducted at religious centers, and the dress of the scholar was also that of a religious cleric. Long gowns and hoods had the functional purpose of providing warmth in unheated libraries and cells. The use of the raiment continued unofficially until Oxford and Cambridge Universities permanently adopted the clerical vestments as ceremonial academic costume. This tradition spread to American colleges and universities in the late nineteenth century, when a code was set that defined the cut and style of American gowns and prescribed colors to represent the various divisions of learning. For example, golden-yellow, symbolizing the wealth of knowledge gained from scientific research, was assigned to the sciences. In accordance with tradition, Husson regalia includes a long black gown and a mortarboard with a golden-yellow tassel. Husson Master's and Doctoral graduates wear hoods referring to their division of learning: drab representing business, peacock blue for criminal justice, gold for clinical mental health counseling and human relations, apricot for nursing and nursing education, ink for occupational therapy, olive for pharmacy, teal for physical therapy, and light blue representing school counseling. A golden-yellow cord draped across the shoulders of associate and baccalaureate-level students represents their academic honors.

HONORARY DEGREES

One Hundred and Nineteenth Commencement

Honorary degrees have been granted by colleges and universities since colonial times. These degrees are not awarded for academic achievements but rather they are awarded to honor or recognize the achievements of outstanding citizens.

Honorary degrees highlight the accomplishments of individuals in the arts, public life, education, scholarship, business, health and the sciences. The first honorary degrees date back to 1662, when Harvard College granted its first honorary degree fifty years after its founding. Since 1969, Husson has recognized prominent citizens for their contributions to the community, the State of Maine, the nation, and the world.

By virtue of the authority vested in its members, the Board of Trustees is pleased to confer the following honorary degrees upon the occasion of Husson University's One Hundred and Nineteenth Commencement.

PETER G. VIGUE

Peter G. Vigue helped make the Cianbro Companies one of the nation's largest, most diverse, successful, open shop, 100-percent-employee-owned construction companies. Starting with an entry-level position in 1970, Peter has served the company as a field engineer, project engineer, area superintendent, project manager, purchasing director, and senior vice president of operations. In 1991, he was appointed president of the company. He became CEO of the Cianbro Companies in 2000, and chairman in 2008. In 2018, Peter stepped aside as Cianbro's chief executive officer to make room for the next generation of leaders. Today, he continues to serve as chairman of the board, while also devoting time to the Cianbro Development Corporation.

SUSAN J. HUNTER, Ph.D.

Dr. Susan J. Hunter was the first female president of the University of Maine since its founding in 1865. She was named the 20th president of the University of Maine on July 7, 2014. On July 1, 2017, she also assumed responsibilities for the oversight of the University of Maine at Machias. She began her full-time career at the University of Maine in 1991 as a faculty member in the Department of Biological Sciences. Her research as a cell biologist focused on structural and functional aspects of bone cell biology. For six years, she served as a co-principal investigator of an award-winning, $3 million National Science Foundation grant that placed graduate teaching fellows in K-12 schools as science demonstrators. She has been a staunch advocate for the importance of higher education in Maine. Achievements at the University of Maine under Dr. Hunter's leadership include advances in enrollment, fundraising, advocacy and partnerships.
