HUSSON LEDGER

NOVEMBER, 1961 | HUSSON COLLEGE, BANGOR, MAINE | VOLUME 37, No. 1

WELCOME, CLASS OF 1965

President's Column

We face a new year together, new faces beginning the great adventure in large number, and the familiar faces back to pick up where they left off. My welcome is a cordial one, and I know that the freshmen feel at home already, warmed by the friendliness that seeps down from the upper classmen and faculty. Our school is a friendly one and it would concern me deeply if any found it cold and forbidding.

As you know the student body numbers 720 which establishes a record for opening day. This is a 20% increase over last year. Another freshman class as large as this one would create a student body of 900 next year which would make Husson the second largest college in the state. I am humble in the face of this phenomenon. It means that we have built well, that our standards of organization and administration, and the moral atmosphere in our halls and classrooms have all contributed to create this increasing demand for our training and our way of life.

A tip of my hat to the young men in Husson Village at the Penobscot. These valiants found their dormitory bare, dingy, uninviting, and desolate upon arrival. The furniture was not delivered on the contract date of September 1. Disappointed, but not daunted, they rolled up their sleeves and "Operation Dress Up" was born. They painted their rooms, joked about hard times, and when the furniture finally came the rooms were ready. They are attractive now, and homey, and this group of stalwarts has settled down to the serious business of getting a college degree. My compliments, gentlemen. I'm proud of your conduct and your attitude. The American youth still rises to the occasion when character and fortitude are being measured. It augurs well for our state and nation.

Your kindness and sympathy during the bereavement period created by the loss of our son we treasure deep in our hearts. Mrs. Husson joins me in voicing our greatfulness for your understanding. We are told that the pain will diminish with the passing of time. If so, that is our prayer.

At this time of year I ask that those of you have no outside employment please look about you for a membership in some student organization. There are fourteen group activities, and each student should affiliate himself with one of these. It looks good on the student record and impresses the employer. We have no desire to turn out educated "sticks". These

ENROLLMENT OVER 700

The fall term opening at Husson College witnessed the admission of close to 400 freshmen, with over 300 upperclassmen ready to begin classes on Monday. A busy week of orientation closed Sunday when the freshmen attended the President's Reception in the auditorium where they met President and Mrs. Husson, the new Board of Trustees, and the members of the faculty in the receiving line. Refreshments and the program were supervised by Madalyn Jordan, Social Director.

During the week the freshmen underwent a series of tests, and prepared their programs with their major instructors. Monday opened with an assembly in the gymnasium auditorium when instructions were provided by Miss Clara L. Swan, Dean of the Faculty. Another group meeting was addressed by the Rev. Charles Dartnell, Chaplain, who explained his office and function on the campus.

Wednesday night the Sophomore Class played host to the Freshmen at the annual "Beanie Hop" where the beanies were distributed and dancing was enjoyed to the music of Al Corey's orchestra of Waterville.

Thursday the group was addressed by the Dean of Women, Mrs. Louise B. Miller, and on Friday all departments met with their major instructors namely Professor William H. Donahue, Jr., Accounting Dept., Professor William J. Curran Jr., Business Administration Dept., Miss Mildred M. Bradford, Secretarial Dept., and Mrs. Louise B. Miller, Dept of Business Education. Friday afternoon the Chaplain presented the official address of welcome, and stressed the behavior patterns and attitudes that were considered desirable for campus living. It was a most inspirational address and the freshman class felt itself in harmony with the suggestions and recommendations provided for their adventure into college living.

Friday night the Student Council was host to the entire student body, and introduced sponsors and representatives of all the student organizations and activities who invited the new students to select the extra-curricular activities best suited to their needs and interests and to make plans for participating in at least one group activity. Square dancing followed with Martyn Vanwart as caller.

Open House for women was held Saturday at the home of Dean Miller, and Open House for men and a Smoker in the gymnasium sponsored by Dean of Men, Professor Millard B. Foss. The President and Mrs. Husson met the frehman class members at the President's Reception Sunday night in the auditorium. In activities promote social growth and poise and there is fun to be had in them all. All work and no play is not the Husson way. Give the Glee Club a new look. I am fond of this group, and wish we could have a hundred voices. The leadership and direction provided by Musical Director Cupp is exciting and masterful. Think about it.

I wish each of you a happy and fruitful year, one in which Husson will reach your hearts as well as your minds. Remember that at home your parents are watching and hoping that you will meet the challenges that face you here. Don't disappoint them. Don't hurt them. Now that you are college men and women your obligations to your home and family are mature and demand sacrifices and effort to balance against those made for you since you were born.

Those of us on the faculty and in administration pledge you our best efforts. We expect no less than your best in return. May good health and success attend you.

Cordially,
Chief

the receiving line were President C. H. Husson, Sr., Dorothy B. Husson, Clara L. Swan, Priscilla A. Clark, Mildred M. Bradford, Louise B. Miller, Millard E. Foss, William J. Curran, Jr., William H. Donahue, Jr., C. Hayward Husson, Jr., Madalyn A. Jordan, Janet L. Kinney, Mary A. Arnold, Florence I. Bradley, Chester M. Dana, Jr., Rev. E. Charles Dartnell, Howard M. Foley, Nancy A. Hogan, William E. Kane, Edmund Lebrun, M. Blanche MacDougall, George E. McCabe, Delmont N. Merrill, Janice M. Moody, William R. Parker, John Perakis, Avis J. Reines, David Robinson, Ruby V. Swett, John M. Tyler, Richard E. Vizard, Thelma M. Watson, James L. Wright, Lucia Y. Yu, Blaine L. Davis. Ushers were Delores Renaud, Leo Loiselle, Emily Richards, Peter Predaris, Joyce Ryder, Bernice Ross, Janice Sawyer, Mary-Jane Bruce, Peggy Brewer, Rebecca Blood, Simone Levesque, Michael Mossler, William Emery, Robert Dore, Barbara Stevens from the upper classes. Refreshments and music rounded out the evening which preceded the first day of classes.

President Husson announced that this was the largest class to begin a school year in the history of the College. "It is a good thing for society," he said, "that an increasing percentage of our high school graduates seek advanced training. Our country needs trained hands and talents as never before to meet the challenges of the uncertain future. We plan to contribute an increasing number of well-trained young men and women to meet the challenges of tomorrow, and we are pleased that our enrollment will provide us with that opportunity.

"Our first week was busy, but orderly and interesting. Everybody seems happy and eager to settle down to the serious business of getting an education.

"We had an unhappy experience with our Men's Dormitory at the Penobscot. The furniture failed to arrive, and the young men lived the first week out of their suitcases. The University of Maine furnished beds, and we acknowledge this kindness with a grateful heart. Undaunted by their meagre surroundings they began Project Dress Up, and armed with paint, brushes, and rollers the rooms have taken on a new look, and were all dressed up for the arrival of the attractive furniture and fixtures. I commend this type of spirit which pioneered through a difficulty and turned an unhappy situation into a game of fun. I'm going to like these young men. They will make history for us with such a wholesome attitude.

"An increasing number of out of state students are appearing each year and this year is no exception. Transfer students also appear in large numbers. We are ready for the year ahead, our 63rd, and proud to witness the confidence placed in our institution, its program and personnel, by an expanding population outside as well as inside our walls."

KANGAROO COURT

The Sophomore Class held Kangaroo Court Wednesday, October 18, 1961, with Jon Paisley as presiding judge. The prosecuting attorney was Charles Renski and for the defense was Vin McLaughlin. The jury consisting of sixteen members of the Sophomore Class were Gail Mulverhill, Walter Shanley, Bev Morway, Frank Apple, Karen Feeley, Jim Whitehead, Janice Sawyer, Bruce Soderholm, Bernice Ross, Bob Dore, Norma Murphy, Keith Bolster, Pam McKelvey, John Cochrane, Connie Beverly, and Dave Boynton. Bruce Soderholm was Foreman of the Jury. The Court Ushers were Phyllis Perault, Vicki Hurd, Valerie Fowler, Nancy Mason, Philip Verrill, Jim Carlisle, Donald Tremble, Jim Hanson, and Lawrence Fernald.

The first case called up by the bailiffs, William Pushard and Liz Smith, proved to be a dog! Of the fourteen other cases there proved to be only one acquital. All others were found to be guilty as charged and received the maximum punishments applicable to their crimes.

FRESHMEN PAINT DORM

A portion of the Penobscot Hotel will be used as a dormitory housing 100 Husson College male students, it was announced by Chesley H. Husson, college president, in a joint statement with Reginald F. Cratty, proprietor of the hotel.

The accommodations were made available for the academic year beginning in September.

The three floors of the east wing were refurnished with modern furniture. The domitory section of the hotel will be enclosed to assure privacy for the students and to prevent traffic congestion with the patrons of the hotel. The hotel will retain the front rooms and continue its regular business as a hotel under the management of Cratty.

The private dining room will be used by the students who will elect officers and help direct their activities and disciplines. Mrs. Cratty will undertake supervision of the group and serve as liaison officer between the two institutions and maintain contact with the parents.

Statements made by President Husson disclosed that the college is facing a serious housing shortage created by a large increase in enrollments.

"The critical shortage is housing for women. We believe that we are fortunate beyond measure to offer the facilities at the historically famous Penobscot Hotel to 100 men, and to retain Mr. and Mrs. Cratty in supervisory capacities. Nearness to the college is an attractive feature, and the new furniture and fixtures will add to the pleasure and comfort of the new residents. A further value obtains in that many private homes which normally cater to men students will now become available to the women. This is, of course, contingent upon the wishes of the housemothers involved, but we feel that most of them will cooperate with the college and adjust to the change of clientele."

CHIEF HONORED

Chesley H. Husson, Sr., President of Husson College was notified recently that he has been elected District Director for New England in the regular election held recently to send a representative to the Board of Directors for the National Association and Council of Business Schools. He was elected for a term of three years by the independent colleges of business in the New England area.

President Husson has devoted much time on the national scene where research and studies are made to upgrade the standards of practice governing the operation of the better private schools of business. He served five years on the Accrediting Commission and retired because of ill health two years ago. His vigor has returned and he expressed a strong desire to return to the national scene now that he felt fit and ready once again. His devotion to the improvement of education for business is well known and respected by the leaders in this area of education the country over. He is a member of the Business Education Research Associates, another national organization which involves itself with the continuous improvement and growth of educational services and programs for men and women seeking careers in business and government.

The NACBS was founded in 1912 and its directory contains the names of the nation's schools that have met in detail the minimum standards established in the Council's criteria for their operation. Of the 1400 independent colleges of business in the nation, 450 have qualified for membership and are known to be the outstanding schools of business training in the country.

Mr. Husson received a congratulatory letter from Mr. Jack H. Jones, President of NACBS in which he was instructed that the Board would sit the first week in November at the national convention in Colorado Springs, and in which he looked forward with genuine pleasure to serving with Mr. Husson on the Board during the next three years.

Mr. Husson succeeds Mr. Donald Post of Hartford, Connecticut, whose three-year term expires this year.

CHEERLEADING

Thursday, October 19, opened the 1961-1962 Husson cheerleading season. The enthusiastic group consisted of three past Husson cheerleaders: Phyllis Chase, Milo; Bernice Ross, Bangor; and Janice Sawyer, Brewer. New faces were: Audrey Bevan, Bucksport; Rebecca Blood, Belfast; Frances Donaher, Worcester, Mass.; Nancy Gravelle, Bucksport; Brenda Glynn, New Brunswick; Ellen Hinton, Pittsfield; Edwina Lovell, Guilford; Kathy Marsden, Turner; Beverly Morway, Fairfield; Norma Murphy, Robinston; Faith Mishou, Unity; Carol Rohrbach, Bangor; Linda Smith, Charleston, N. H.; Alice Tracy, Mt. Desert; and Lea Welsh, Bangor.

A very successful year is promised with new and familiar faces as well as old and new cheers. Still another attraction will be new cheerleader uniforms.

No group can be successful by itself. The support of all is needed for a successful season. Back up the cheerleaders and the Indians by attending all the games.

Miss Hogan

Bridgton

Miss Nancy Hogan of Bridgton, a new member of the Husson faculty, has taken over the coaching of the cheerleaders. Miss Hogan is a graduate of Bridgton High School. She holds her B. S. degree from St. Joseph's College and her Master's degree from Columbia. Miss Hogan is an instructor of the Secretarial Science Department.

Miss Hogan has much interest in her Cheerleaders. There is a large squad working out. It is rumored that there will be a new look this year! These girls will appear at all girls' and boys' games at the Brewer Auditorium.

Pension paid to veterans who hold the Congressional Medal of Honor has been increased from $10 to $100 per month by a new law enacted by the 87th Congress.

The Veterans' Administration administers payment of this pension.

The new law lowers the age requirement for eligibility from 65 to 50 years, and eliminates the requirement of having an honorable discharge, the VA pointed out.

While all who are currently receiving the $10 pension will automatically have their payments increased to $100, veterans who receive the Medal of Honor in the future, and those who presently have the medal for heroism in combat service but are not receiving the pension because they are under 65 years of age, will have to apply for the pension in order to receive it, the VA added.

No veterans' pension based solely on age is authorized for veterans of World War I, World War II, or the Korean conflict, the Veterans' Administration said today.

Pensions may be granted veterans of World War I, World War II, or the Korean conflict who are permanently and totally disabled from nonservice-connected causes. VA considers a veteran totally disabled when he cannot pursue a substantially gainful occupation because of his disabilities. Such veterans must have been discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after at least 90 days' active service. However, service of 90 days is not required if the veteran was discharged for disability incurred in line of duty.

Nonservice-connected disability pension is payable to single World War I, World War II, or a Korea veteran, with an annual income not exceeding $1800, at a monthly rate ranging from $40.00 to $85.00, depending on the amount of other income. Similarly disabled veterans who have dependents can draw from $45.00 to $100 per month, and have a maximum income limitation of $3000. To each of these amounts, $70.00 will be added if the veteran requires constant aid and attendance.

Detailed information regarding the pension law may be obtained from any VA Office in the State of Maine.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Student Council awarded scholarships to Ruth Sperrey, Department of Business Education; Maynard Pettee, Department of Business Administration; Frederick Astle, Department of Accounting; Janice Ramsdell and Sue Percival, Department of Secretarial Science.

Scholarships awarded by ETE Sorority went to Emily Richard, Florence Nile, and Pamela McKelvey. Donna Graham and June Lessard each received scholarships from Delta Sigma Delta.

PERSONALITY

60 EASY WAYS TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY

By Esther Eberstadt Brooke

Through my employment office each year pass thousands of men and women who are looking for jobs. It is my interesting duty to rate them in advance for employers.

Since their success in holding a job depends nearly 90 per cent upon personal traits, I have had to learn to appraise their plus factors quickly. In the few seconds that a young man or young woman is framed in my doorway, in the way they cross the room, in the way they sit down at my desk, I can usually reach a fairly accurate conclusion as to his or her personality.

Many of the qualities which make up a good personality are easy to learn and to follow. Some of the most important are mentioned in the practical rules in the coming issues.

To be sure, following these rules will not turn you overnight into a June Allyson or a Tyrone Power. They cannot create the "divine spark" which lights up a dynamic personality. But, if you observe them carefully, they will help you to make the most of your strong points and to improve your weak ones.

Your personality is the length of the shadow you will cast in your career. Your care in watching the details of your appearance, your attitude and your manners will be richly rewarded by the self-confidence which you will enjoy in everyday life.

Watch in the coming issues for Mrs. Brooke's 60 rules.

Don'ts For Secretaries

DON'T TELL BUSINESS SECRETS to relatives, friends, or customers. The word "secretary" is derived from the Latin noun "secretum," a secret. Much confidential information passes through her hands.

DON'T LET YOUR ATTENTION WANDER, or yawn while waiting for dictation. Be mentally alert.

DON'T LIMIT YOUR VOCABULARY to a few overworked words such as "swell," "cute," "grand," etc. Learn to use good English in your regular conversation.

DON'T OVERDRESS . . . clothes, jewelry, or make-up. Good taste and conservatism inspire the greatest admiration.

DON'T CHEW GUM during office hours. It destroys your dignity.

DON'T BE LATE. There are too many punctual stenographers who would like to have your job.

DON'T PERMIT PERSONAL TELEPHONE CALLS or personal visitors to interrupt your work in the office.

DON'T GOSSIP with other employees during office hours.

DON'T WATCH THE CLOCK, nor cease to work a few minutes before closing time. Your employer expects value received for the salary he pays you.

In Memoriam

UNFINISHED

I saw unripened fruit drop to the ground
Its purpose unfulfilled.
I wondered why?
I saw a fledgling fall from its nest
When almost ready
To conquer sky.
I saw a life large with hope
And promises
Of things to be
Go down in sudden death
With all the promises still
Unclaimed reality.
Such futile things as these
I find it hard
To understand
I can but trust and find my strength
In the hollow
Of God's hand.

SECRETARIES

QUALITIES OF A GOOD SECRETARY

TRUSTWORTHINESS . . . ability to keep confidential information.

INITIATIVE to act on own responsibility when necessary, and to do things without being told.

ACCURACY AND SPEED in taking and transcribing dictation; and SKILL in producing attractive work.

KNOWLEDGE OF ENGLISH, PUNCTUATION, AND SPELLING. This is the quality which business men most often find lacking.

COURTESY AND TACT in dealing with others, both customers and other office workers. These qualities are especially important in interviewing customers and answering the telephone.

A BROAD FOUNDATION which will enable the secretary to become increasingly valuable as time goes by. This explains why a general education, as well as mechanical training, is valuable.

A CHEERFUL DISPOSITION which creates a pleasant office atmosphere. A ready smile, a spirit of harmony—no snobbishness.

PROMPTNESS in arriving at work; willingness to work overtime if necessary.

GOOD TASTE IN DRESS; presenting an appearance which is a credit to the office. Simplicity and neatness—no frills.

A GOOD MEMORY—ability to act as an "information bureau" when facts are needed; to relieve the employer of details so that he can concentrate on major plans and decisions. Ability to recognize the names and faces of customers.

ORDERLINESS in office routine; ability to find letters and papers quickly when they are wanted.

G. A. O.

The United States General Accounting Office is the agency of the Congress charged with the responsibility of reviewing the activities and auditing the financial affairs of agencies of the Federal Government. The Congress requires that the Office furnish formal reports based on independent examinations of the operations of each Federal agency. These numerous reports have provided much valuable information to the Congress, the agencies, and the public on the conduct of the financial operations of the many defense and civilian departments and agencies.

The promotion of adequate and strong financial management in the Federal Government has been an objective of the General Accounting Office for years. The review and appraisal of the performance of agency operations becomes a vital part of the work required to be done, and the General Accounting Office is now devoting a major portion of its time to that activity. The duties and responsibilities of the General Accounting Office requires that each of its professional staff members have a thorough grasp not only of technical accounting and financial matters, but also a broad comprehension of management principles, agency objectives and performance standards.

While the backgrounds and types of persons working for the Office have changes each year, the over-all number of employees of the General Accounting Office has decreased in the past decade.

The professional accounting staff of the Office now numbers about 2,000. Almost all of these professional individuals were graduated from collegiate schools or departments of business administration with an accounting major. In order to maintain an adequate professional staff to handle the continually increasing demands on the General Accounting Office, it is necessary to recruit annually about 300 graduates of accounting major programs. Thus, the General Accounting Office is one of the largest single employers of graduates of schools and departments of business.

The officials of the General Accounting Office share the view that collegiate education for business and accounting should remain static in curricula or approach. However, in view of the need each year of the General Accounting Office for additional persons of professional quality and potential, the opinion is that this should consist of an absolute minimum of 18 semester hours of accounting instruction, but that as much as 24 semester hours, including the basic course, may be highly desirable as a minimum requirement for a major in the subject. In addition to the accounting, education in the area of business administration should be required of all graduates so that the accounting, business administration courses, and the basic course in economic principles will constitute approximately 50 per cent of the total academic program.

The education described above, combined with a balanced education in the arts and sciences, should provide a graduate of a four-year program in business with the educational background necessary to serve as a professional staff member of the General Accounting Office. This is an excellent opportunity with an attractive income potential for an accounting major.

Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity held its first meeting, on September 20, at which time the new advisor Mr. Kane was introduced.

At graduation last June, Mu Sigma Chi gave a watch which was to be presented to a student of high scholastic standing. It was announced that Robert Ronan was the recipient of the watch.

On October 17, a social was given in honor of the prospective new members. Paul Dolson, Paul McMinimum, Dick Harnum, and Leo Loiselle were in charge of refreshments.

At the present time the initiation of prospective new members is being planned. The anticipated dates for the initiation are October 30-November 4, inclusive.

This is certainly going to be a big year for Lambda Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi. Within a month it will receive its own corporate chapter from the state of Maine. This will enable Lambda to operate as a legal entity within the state. The new corporation will also enable Lambda to purchase and own a fraternity house.

The brothers that were initiated this fall were: Philip Roy, Henry Mudgett, Brian Page, Vince McLaughlin, Wayne Heawett, James Carlisle, Bob Dorr, Dick Mallar, Louis George, and Larry Collins.

The new officers of Kappa for 1961-62 are: Philip Inforati, President; John Field, Vice President; Tom England, Secretary; Dick Southard, Treasurer; Scotty LePlant, Chaplin; and Karl McGaw, Historian.

As Husson College grows so grows Kappa Delta Phi. When the college builds out on Broadway, Kappa hopes to be building right along with them. Plans are now being formulated by the board of Kappa for when this day arrives.

Lambda Chapter wishes the college all the best in their "great" endeavor.

DRAMA CLUB

Terry Weymouth

President

The Husson College Drama Club, in February, will present the play ONDINE by Jean Giraudoux. The play will be presented in John Bapst auditorium, and it will be presented two nights.

The play concerns itself with a sea nymph who falls in love with a knight of the royal court. The two fall deeply in love with one another and are eventually married. Later, the nymph, Ondine, realizes that her conception of love is in direct conflict with that of the knight. It is the solution of this dilemma that makes up the plot of the play.

The play will be cast entirely from the Husson student body and will utilize the talents of twenty-nine people. In addition, as many and more people will be engaged in backstage activities.

Music, choral and instrumental, will accompany the action on the stage. Scenery and lighting will add to the beauty of the production.

The play is described as a tragedy, but the tender love story involved in the plot has led many to classify it as a romance. The story is bound to please everyone, and every taste.

The play was produced on Broadway in 1954 and had Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer in the lead roles. It was a smashing success that season.

Later in the school year, the Drama Club will present a one act play night for the high school students in the Bangor area. This is being done in the hope that some students will become interested in theatre and in Husson Collge. It will also provide the Drama Club students with an opportunity to further develop their talents. More will be said of this as the year progresses.

GLEE CLUB

WANTED—MEMBERS

The Glee Club has started its activities for the new year under the direction of Mr. Cupp. The new members are Dianne Cotter, Joanne Labrie, Dale Lee, Donna Coombs, Brenda Mahaney, Diana Beane, Alice Johnston, Loretta Stanwood, Norma Murphy, Joan Douglass, Harriett Jennings and Nelson Belisle.

Come and join the Glee Club and have a singing good time.

Attention Students

The Student Education Association will be publishing the Husson annual yearbook, "The Chieftain", but the staff will be comprised of non SEA members. We will be needing editors, artists, typists and "picture takers" for all informal shots. A yearbook meeting will be called in the near future—won't you come and join us?? Let's have this year's "Chieftain" one that will be remembered.

NEWMAN CLUB

"I say a university taken in its bare idea, has this object and mission . . . its function is intellectual culture. It educates the intellect to reason well in all matters, to reach out towards truth, and to grasp it . . . Admit a God and you introduce among the subjects of your knowledge a fact encompassing, closing in upon, absorbing every fact conceivable."

John Henry Newman

When a Catholic student enrolls at a secular college he becomes personally responsible for seeking or providing the means of his own spiritual development. The School is responsible for providing the means of his secular education. Since the purpose of a college education is to give the student the knowledge and skills that will enable him to maintain himself in this world and the conduct of his life here will determine the individual's salvation or damnation in the next world, it therefore follows that close integration of spiritual and secular knowledge is the prime factor in a Christian education.

Most college students have reached the point where their minds are groping for an explanation of being. Without constant practice of Religion and an increase in spiritual knowledge, students cannot see the errors in the many worldly philosophies they encounter. Their minds become confused. The threat of the loss of faith becomes great.

JOHN DONOVAN
President
NC—Class of 1964

The NEWMAN CLUB is primarily a source of guidance for the Catholic student. The Newman Club holds that its program is threefold: religious, intellectual, social. The needs of the student are likewise threefold—religious, intellectual, social. For Catholic students on the secular campus, the Newman Club can well be the instrument for enlarging his knowledge and increasing his faith.

A newly organized division of the Newman Club met at John Bapst High School Tuesday evening under the supervision of Father O'Donnell. This group is made up of Husson College students and will meet the third Tuesday of each month at Husson College at 8:00 p.m.

Officers were elected as follows: President, John Donovan of Lewiston, Maine. Donovan is a sophomore in the Department of Business Administration. He is active in the Student Council and served as basketball manager last year. Elected to the office of vice president was Philip Roy of Fort Kent, Maine. Roy is a sophomore in the Department of Business Administration with an education minor. The secretary-treasurer is Elaine Goodwin of Madison. Miss Goodwin is a junior in the Department of Business Education. She is active in Epsilon Tau Epsilon Chapter of Pi Rho Zeta, the Student Council, and the Student Education Association. John Cochrane of Bangor, a sophomore in the Department of Business Administration, was elected to the office of business and publicity agent. Cochrane is a graduate of John Bapst High School.

The Newman Club of Husson College hopes to encourage more students to join.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Coach
SEVERANCE

Husson has a new girls' coach and a new cheerleading coach.

Miss Ellen Severance of Bangor will start her coaching career this winter at Husson College. Miss Severance is employed by Star Beef of Bangor. The Kobritz brothers have given Miss Severance the afternoon hours three days a week in order to help promote interest in Sports for girls at Husson.

Miss Severance is a graduate of Corinna Union Academy where she played a guard position for four years. (Rumor has it that she fouled out of each home game because Miss Swan blew a mean whistle!) Miss Severance attended Husson for two years. She was Captain of Miss Swan's team the last year she coached. This was an undefeated season. Miss Severance's interest in girls' basketball has not waned and the College is fortunate to be able to have her coach the girls.

The Administration and Ledger staff wish Miss Severance and her 1961-1962 team much success. There are fifteen girls at present who are competing for first team positions.

Varsity Basketball

Thirty-five candidates for the first week of practice. From this group 15 will be chosen to represent Husson this season in basketball.

The Indians, winners of 98 of the last 110 games played, have a consecutive victory string of 19 and will be out to add to this total. However, the opposition, much stronger this year, will go all out to halt the Indians bid to extend their victory march.

Returning lettermen for the year 1961-62 are: James McKay, Bar Harbor; Wayne Smith, Milo; Jerry Kane, Ellsworth; Alvin Trask, Bradford; John Doyle, Lewiston; Paul Boardway, Bangor; Robert Gross, Milo; and Reynold Smith, Southwest Harbor.

Newcomers who have survived the first cut are: Tom Barrows, Farmington; Tom Bouchard, Millinocket; Bernard Noel, Waterville; Phillip Gulliver, Fort Fairfield; Fred Sigrest, Newport; Robert Duprey, Presque Isle; Donald Applebee, Guilford; Carl Brown, Millinocket; and Joe Cyr, Old Town.

Mr. Merrill received an invitation from the Marine Corps School to attend the Eighth Annual Marine Corps Schools Christmas Collegiate Invitational Basketball Tournament from December 13-15 at Quantico, Virginia. The Husson Indians were one of the eight teams east of the Mississippi River to receive the invitation.

The invitation had to be declined because of previously scheduled games during the week of the tourney.

The Indians will be fighting for their sixth consecutive league title. Defense of the title will begin on November 28 as the Braves travel to Washington State Teachers College.

An improved schedule of 22 games including two major tournaments has been arranged for the coming season.

Husson for the first time in its history will operate under the N. C. A. A. rules in all athletic contests.

The 1961-1962 schedule is as follows:

These boys have done a wonderful job the past few years representing Husson College and the student body. Let's all go to the Brewer Auditorium for the home games and show the boys how much we appreciate their hard work.

Intramurals—Men

The Intramural Touch Football League began its season, October 12, with four teams competing. The league is about half way through its schedule now.

Each team is composed of at least eight players, which is the number needed to play a game. Most of the teams have their share of substitutes, and the substitutes have all seen a lot of action.

The current leader of the touch football league is Team 1, which is captained by Frank Apple. Their record is 2-0.

One of the most colorful teams competing is Team 5, the newest addition to the league. It is captained by Dan Hennessy. The members of this team all have shirts of the same color, Kelly green.

The touch football games are held at Broadway Park, after 3:30 in the afternoon.

Recognition is given to Bill Shirley, Harlon Green, Bill Blaisdell, and Bob Gross for their help in setting up the rules for the Intramural Football League. Other students have shown interest in the program and have made valuable suggestions.

Intramurals—Women

The Intramural Program for women has been very successful so far this year. We have had an exceptionally large turn-out in both the Swimming and the Bowling Programs.

On Monday nights, 38 Husson girls attend Swimming classes and dips at the Y. M. C. A. Pool. The girls have been divided into 3 groups; the beginners, the intermediates, and the speed swimmers. Three instructors are on duty to teach the girls correct breathing and correct stroking. The speed swimmers are expected to compete with other college swim teams in the latter part of the winter season.

The girls taking part in the Swimming Program are: Peggy Brewer, Mary Jane Bruce, Virginia Churchill, Lynn Clark, Lena Collins, Carol Hamilton, Ellen Hinton, Vickie Hurd, Annette Levesque, Sim Levesque, Neila MacIntire, Pam McKelvey, Marlene Parent, Nancy Randall, Sally Sandstrom, Nelda Scott, Linda Smith, Bonnie Blanchard, Sandra Bryan, Audrey Beven, Brenda Bradbury, Mary Cough, Nancy Elliott, Joyce Hamilton, Leah Kearney, Brenda Lancaster, Jane Lanpher, Edwina Lovell, Linda McNeil, Darlene Merrill, Antoinette Morin, Sheila Ouillette, Audrey Simpson, Sandra Sirois, Carole Sproul, Meredith Thomas, Alice Tracey, and Beverly Crommwell.

The Women Bowlers meet every Tuesday afternoon at the Bowl-A-Mor Lanes to bowl their required 3 strings per meeting. This year 22 girls have been participating. Upon the completion of 33 strings, the Bowl-A-Mor Lanes will award each girl a small trophy. The school will be presented a large trophy at the end of the bowling season.

Those girls who are taking part in the Bowling Program are: Lena Collins, Rose Marie Cote, Frances Donaher, Joyce Edgerly, Josephine Foram, Valerie Fowler, Nancy Gravelle, Vicki Hurd, Kathryn Marsden, Margaret Meserve, Louise Ouellette, Phyllis Perreault, Joyce Ryder, Carolyn Smith, Dale Lee, Donna Coombs, Martha Farwell, Sharon French, Brenda Sampson, Jeannine Vaillancourt, Eleanor Woodcock, and Claudia Gowdy.

The Intramural Program will consist of more than the Bowling and Swimming Programs. On December 7 at 7 o'clock, all girls interested in sports are asked to meet in the Husson Gym with Miss Kinney. This meeting will be an organizational meeting. At that time, the students will select the sports which they are most interested in.

The Intramural Program will run from 7 to 8:30 on the second and fourth Thursdays of every month. There will be no cost to the students taking part in this program. So, take advantage of this opportunity, and come to the Husson Gym, December 7 at 7 o'clock.

ROVING REPORTER

Meet two Husson College freshmen who are really making up the "Husson Family". They are Rosa Lee and Robert Loder. Rosa Lee is a two-year Executive Secretarial student and Bob is in the four-year Business Administration degree program.

Rosa Lee comes from Bangor and has lived here all her life. She is a 1961 graduate of Hampden Academy. Bob originally comes from New York but several years ago his parents moved to Hollywood, Florida. He graduated from South Broward High in Hollywood, joined the Air Force and has been stationed at Dow since January 1960.

Bob and Rosa Lee were married in August of this year and had been planning to come to Husson even before their marriage plans became final. One of the reasons being that they had heard a great deal of praise about the college from former graduates and felt that it must be a pretty nice place. The Air Force is giving Bob the time to study and is helping with some of the expenses. Bob feels that in this highly skilled world of today an individual doesn't stand a chance if he doesn't have a college background.

Both Bob and Rosa Lee enjoy their college life at Husson and feel that it is indeed, "the friendly school upon the hill."

ALUMNI

George Morse, Jr., Class of '56, has informed Mr. Husson that he passed the CPA examination taken last May. A formal interview is being arranged for the issuance of a certificate.

George and his wife, Joan, have found Price Waterhouse & Co. to their liking and have decided to remain with them. He is in hopes of being one of the senior tax specialists selected for a managers' contract within the next year or two.

Their two oldest girls are in school now.

Miss Dorothea Wyman, Personnel Assistant at the Harvard Medical School, has written that Patricia Hunter is working for Dr. Otto Aufranc at Massachusetts General Hospital. Miss Wyman writes "We are pleased to have Patricia with us and thank you for your help in placing her. As you know, we are always looking for science majors and recent liberal arts majors with secretarial skills and would appreciate hearing from anyone whom you can refer to us."

FORMER HUSSON STUDENT HAS TOP BOOKKEEPING CLASS

Mr. John Fahey, Class of 1955, has sent the following item about his bookkeeping class at Notre Dame High School, Harper Woods, Michigan.

Mr. Fahey's bookkeeping students recently entered an international bookkeeping contest which has been sponsored annually by the Business Teachers Magazine for the past twenty-four years. This year, Notre Dame captured second place.

These are the winners: Jerome Verschaenc, Richard Fiori, Paul Banner, Lawrence Kozicrski, John Giordano, Kenneth Klmiek, Jerry Valliere, Joseph Kopelczak, and Gregory Impullitti.

The test, consisting of a large bookkeeping problem, was sent to over one thousand schools in the United States and Canada. Each school had a team consisting of at least ten pupils. All thirty-one Bookkeeping juniors and seniors at Notre Dame entered.

The exams were judged on neatness and accuracy in the solution of the problem.

Last year Notre Dame received honorable mention; this year Notre Dame will receive a plaque for placing second. The above boys will receive a gold medal for earning the highest score on N. D.'s team as well as engraved certificates for their efforts in helping the Irish to win second place.

NEW POSITIONS OF FORMER HUSSON STUDENTS

Raymond L. Thibodeau, principal of the Hopkinton Elementary School since 1956, has accepted a position as coordinator of distributive Education for the city of Bangor under the auspices of the Department of Education of the state of Maine.

Mr. Thibodeau, in accepting this position, returns to his native state. A graduate of the University of Maine, he holds a three-year certificate from Husson College, a B. S. degree in Education from the University of Maine, and an advanced degree as master of education from the University of Maine.

Prior to coming to Hopkinton in 1954, he taught at Morse High School in Brooks, Me.

Provision for his position with the Maine Department of Education were made by the legislature in the Beale Act of 1954.

In accepting his new role, he will be carrying on the work begun by the superintendent of schools of the city of Bangor, Lawrence A. Peakes.

William Burrill, business education teacher at North Haven High School, heads the North Haven Education Association for the coming year. The teachers' group is open to faculty members in each of the local schools and boasts practically 100 per cent enrollment with 206 teachers signed up.

As its goal the NHEA has the furtherance of professional growth of the teachers and the maintenance of high standards set in the town and in the state. The group is a branch of the Connecticut Education Association.

Five meetings are held each year and the association is split into committees which work independently and report back at these meetings.

Burrill, who has taught in North Haven for four years, is a native of Maine. He lives in Yalesville with his wife and small daughter, Carol Ann.

Miles S. Elsemore has been appointed by general chairman Bruno E. Bagnaschi as publicity and promotion chairman of the cost reduction workshop to be presented by the Torrington Area Industrial Management Club Oct. 18. Phil Carroll, well-known professional engineer, will conduct the program at the Elks' Club.

In addition to the above duties, Elsemore, a graduate of Husson College and a Navy veteran, is presently serving as secretary of the club. He is a member of the executive committee and serves as key man for the Torrington Division of the Anaconda American Brass Co., where he is employed as an industrial engineer.

The publicity and promotion committee was also announced: Andrew Meleky, Jr., Technicraft; Ray Cuatto and John Robbins, Torrington Co.

National Life of Vermont takes pleasure in announcing that Ronald E. Bishop of the Bangor Agency has distinguished himself by achieving membership in the President's Club for the year 1961 . . . an honor denoting special recognition of superior performance and outstanding achievement as a career life underwriter.

Mrs. Louise B. Miller
Dean of Women
Husson College
Bangor, Maine

Dear Mrs. Miller:

I must apologize for taking so long to write; but I feel that I am just getting an idea of what my job is like. So far it has consisted of about one third secretarial work and the rest is assisting the Doctor, mixing fillings, developing X Rays, sterilizing instruments, and etc. My secretarial work consists of monthly statements, about 75; three or four letters a month, writing checks (the check stubs are our only records until we transfer the information at the end of each month); filing, which there is a lot of; and the mail. The most difficult part of it is that I am constantly answering the phone, taking films out of the developer, answering the Doctor's buzz, putting instruments in the sterilizer, talking with salesmen, and etc., and I have to remember where I left off in my work and what I was doing. I do, however, like it very much.

September 1, Dr. Brushart is going to have an associate working with us which means I will have twice as much work to do. I wish I had more time to catch on to working for one person before I am faced with working for two, but the new doctor seems to be a very patient man; so perhaps it won't be so difficult.

I have found Miss Bradford's advice, concerning the strain doctors work under, to come in very handy. Even though I try, sometimes it's very hard to understand or keep still when Dr. Brushart loses his temper because I don't know where some instrument is he wants. He has over a thousand of them, and it's going to take a while to learn the names and location of all of them. I think he feels slightly guilty after he has done it, though, because he usually either asks me out to his home for supper or says something to boost my morale.

Dr. Brushart's wife is a very wonderful person, also. When I arrived in D. C. she met me at the bus depot and got me settled at the YWCA. We had dinner together and went to the office where the Doctor was waiting to get me acquainted with procedures. I spent the evening with them and the next morning Mrs. Brushart helped me shop for uniforms and shoes. All the time we spent in Miss Watson's class discussing office wear seems to be wasted for me, but uniforms are so much easier to take care of and cheaper. The nurse's shoes that I have to wear, though, UGH!!

Since arriving in D. C. I have taken a six-week Improvement Course. It consisted of Posture, Proper Exercising, and Diet; Why We Wear, What We Wear, When We Wear It, and the Psychology of Color; Skin Care and Make-Up; and Hair Styling. It was very interesting and, with a little practice, helpful.

I think Sue Tufts is planning to come to D. C. the last of this month. She's been trying to get me to move into an apartment; but after looking around, I want to stay at the YWCA. It is a far cry from the YWCA in Bangor and I think it is the best place for a girl to live while in D. C. There are no restrictions here; but if you start making a fool of yourself, you're asked to leave. Besides, Mrs. Brushart is Chairman of the Adult Education Committee and she wouldn't be very happy if I moved out this soon.

I like the weather here much better, but there are times when I'd like to swap a few degree with Maine.

Sincerely,
Rhoda Morehead

MR. PARKER RECEIVES CERTIFICATE

Mr. William Parker of the Business Administration Department recently received a certificate of completion of the Quality Control Managers Seminar of the Raytheon Company, Waltham, Massachusetts.

The seminar was 70 hours in length and was spaced over two three-day conferences covered at Osgood Hill, the Conference Center of Boston University. The seminar covered the areas of planning, organizing, and controlling a Quality Control function within a concern. Also included were the areas of product acceptance, reliability, statistical analysis and the problems of measuring and budgeting the Quality Control function.

The conference leaders were Mr. C. Gadzinski, Senior Consultant, Quality Control Management, Raytheon Company and Mr. K. Roberts, Manager, Management Development, Raytheon Company.

When Husson College opened its doors to the new building on the hill in September 1940, there were five faculty members. President Husson taught Math, Law, Economics, Sales, etc. Mr. Wilbur Stanton taught U. S. History and the Education courses. Miss Anne Haavisto, now Mrs. Allan Bowron, taught the English courses. Miss Mildred Bradford instructed all classes in Typewriting, Filing, Junior Business Training, and Penmanship. Miss Clara L. Swan taught Accounting and Shorthand. There were approximately 100 students.

Today you will read about staff additions to bring the total faculty to 33. You know the college offerings are different. More students stay four years and the class of 1962 will graduate well over 150 members in February and June.

Our faculty is human. It is tops. The administration is pleased to be able to have well qualified teachers in its classrooms. May each of you benefit from your direct association with each of your instructors.

Many faculty members take time to help you—Mr. Tyler is the adviser to the Class of 1962; Mr. Wright, the adviser to the Class of 1963; and Mr. Merrill is adviser to the Class of 1964.

Mr. Kane is the new adviser to the Dramatic Club and Mu Sigma Chi Fraternity. Mr. Perakis is working with the Student Education Association and Chieftain Staff. Miss Hogan is the new Cheerleading coach. Other faculty members working at extra-curricular activities include Miss Bradford, Miss Jordan and Miss Swan who are Pi Rho Zeta advisers. Mr. Wright advises the Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity; Mr. Tyler, Student Council adviser; Mr. Foley, Young Republicans Club adviser; Mr. Dana, Director of Men's Intramural program, and Miss Kinney, Director of Women's Intramural program.

Coach Del Merrill will lead the Husson Indians and another outstanding season of basketball and Miss Ellen Severance, a Husson graduate and ballplayer, will coach the girls' team.

Dean Miller has been ever so busy with the placement of girls in working homes, in the dorms and in boarding places. Mrs. Miller has just completed instructing a course at Dow in Psychology. These days Mrs. Miller is busy contacting schools for placement of practice teachers. Son, Edward, has recently had a top-line promotion and will re-locate in New York City. He is Procedual Analyst in the Office of Comptroller, Cement Division of U. S. Steel.

Miss Watson is driving a super new Pontiac wagon. Miss Swan swapped parking places out back because outgoing traffic couldn't get around the corner. Miss Watson's sister, Ruth, retired Army Nurse Major is home for good. She has recently purchased a new home in Hampden. Miss Watson's sister, Winifred, is convalescing at home after surgery.

Miss Swan has relaxed a bit after getting seats for 720 students in all the classrooms so that they may get their monies' worth of instruction. She has recently been appointed Vice President of Pi Rho Zeta. Miss Swan reports that Chief caught all the Salmon that were caught at Green Lake this summer. She was busy learning bridge this summer.

Coach Del Merrill worked at top speed just before school opened with his blueberries. Dad's plant froze millions of pounds and that's a heap of berries. Coach Merrill is getting his new boys ready for basketball. Jack Scott, a second Bob Cousy, will assist Coach Merrill because Jack has completed his fourth year of college competition. Jack attended the University of Connecticut before coming to Husson.

Miss Janet Kinney has her swim and bowling programs for women going full force! She has six girls who are advanced, advanced swimmers. The girls who are not bowling and swimming have a hiking schedule. She has finally convinced Blackie that school is not for him. Miss Kinney's new cottage is completed. She and her mother have spread a lot of varnish this summer.

Miss Jordan has already started making arrangements for high school Seniors to visit classes, etc. The Hallowell group was first. Mrs. John Fuller accompanied the girls. She is a Husson graduate and teaches Business Education at Hallowell. Miss Jordan has purchased a cottage lot at Beech Hill. The bug has hit her and another summer will find her doing some building or pitching a tent.

Miss Clark is extra busy 'til Income Tax Time. She also has many varied and complicated reports to prepare for the reorganization of Husson College as a non-profit organization. All of Miss Clark's spare time (there's not much of it) is spent at her cottage at Parks Pond. Her latest project—a new dock and a paint job.

Miss Bradford is getting ready to pick up her bowling where she left off last year. She had high score for the Husson faculty women with a 199. She'll break 200 yet. She reports that her summer at Green Lake was too short. I think there are over 800 people here who feel the same way. For the first time since she came to Husson to teach, Miss Bradford does not have a 7:30!

Mr. Husson, Jr. is busy heading up a completely new English Department. I believe he wielded a mean paint brush this summer and painted his house in Hampden. He was very much involved in Little League Baseball this summer as son, Stevie, played on the Hampden team and that team reached the Eastern Maine play-offs. Mr. Husson and his English teachers attended a conference in Boston the weekend of October 27 and 28.

Mr. John Perakis is real busy these days as he is teaching French at Dow Air Base evenings. He also has purchased a new home on Fruit Street and moved his family from Orono. He has taken over the S. E. A. and will direct the club in the production of the 1962 Chieftain.

Miss Avis Reines, Miss Janet Kinney and Miss Thelma Watson all celebrated birthdays in October. Cake and coffee were served in the Faculty Room.

Mr. David Robinson made a logical mistake in thinking that Del Renaud was faculty as she was helping Miss Watson and crew correcting tests during Frosh week. Del made a mistake, too. She thought Mr. Robinson was a new student. He's cute!

Mr. Blaine Davis is the faculty member you see least at Husson. He teaches one class in U. S. History and is here only three days a week. If you read the News sports page, you'll find Mr. Davis writes on a number of events.

Mr. Charles Dartnell takes time out of his busy days on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday to teach two classes in Psychology. He already joins the faculty in coffee before he reports for his many and varied duties. Mr. Dartnell was a pillar of strength to the Hussons in their time of sorrow.

Misses Hogan, Arnold and Reines make a mighty classy trio. Miss Hogan blushes a brilliant hue and is teased easily. Miss Arnold speaks with an accent with which Mainers are unfamiliar. Miss Reines has a terrific sense of humor. During Mr. Husson, Jr.'s absence, Miss Reines practically carried two teaching loads. She has an extra session in Lit on Sunday evenings. The class asked for it! Miss Arnold will travel clear to Missouri for Christmas.

Two former Husson faces are added to our office staff and a part-time teaching load. Miss M. Blanche MacDougall is a retired teacher, who refused to be retired. She is a native of Bangor. She is introducing the subject of "Business" to Freshmen girls who were college prep students in high school. Miss MacDougall served on the Husson faculty in summers previous to this year. Welcome back, Miss MacDougall.

Miss Janice Moody is full-time office and part-time teacher. She is direct assistant to Miss Clark and will eventually assume some of her duties. She teaches typewriting. Ask Miss Moody if her alarm works these days.

A new face in the Secretarial Science Department is that of Miss Bradley. She hails from Newburyport, Mass. She has an apartment in Orrington. She prefers the wide open spaces. Miss Bradley is a cat lover and a camera fan. She has been driving about taking pictures of the Maine foliage.

LITTLE CHATTER

"Great White Father" Bill Donahue attended the National Convention for Accountants in Chicago. Mrs. Donahue accompanied him. Ellen and Brian are as active as ever and had a wonderful time steering Swan's boat on the faculty picnic.

Mrs. Yu and Claire are looking forward to the Christmas party because Santa will bring Claire's Life Savers. Dr. and Mrs. Yu were in New York part of the summer. Mrs. Yu has a large number of the Freshmen boys as she teaches four sections of Ac 10.

Bill Curran is busy building in his home. He is keeping Cathy happy and answering her many questions. His car is recovering from another accident, being hit for the third time by someone else! Mr. Curran is Educational Officer at Dow Base and is out to Dow in the afternoons.

Chet Dana is busy getting swimmers swimming and bowlers bowling. He conducts formal Physical Education classes for all the Freshmen men. You see him going to the Annex to conduct his Biology classes.

Mr. Wright is exceptionally busy trying to track down the 1961 graduates. If you read this, and you've kept your whereabouts a secret, why don't you drop him a line? Mr. Wright's three sons are big boys now. His oldest is handsome!

John Tyler is discouraged over baseball. "Yankees" is a dirty word as far as he is concerned. Mr. Tyler has been taking some of the Chief's speaking engagements. He gets his regular amount of teasing in each day in the Faculty Room. His son, Donn, is President of his 7th grade class at Fifth Street Junior High School.

Mr. Parker is busy running his Beagles, painting inside and outside at his house in Glenburn. He planted a garden especially to feed deer so they'd be certain to be near h[illegible] home on Opening Day! Mr. Parker has completed an intensive management course. You'll read about it elsewhere.

Dr. McCabe is still working the Rex-o-graph machine to death. He can and does print copies faster than any faculty member. We think he'd beat an automatic. Dr. McCabe spent his summer in Connecticut but was glad to return to Maine. He has purchased some letters for the blank keyboard for the typewriter in the B. A. office. He types by sight and the past two months have been a bit rough on him.

Howard Foley is very busy with his duties of Assistant County Attorney. We manage to get him here for the first two hours daily. This summer Mr. Foley built a swiming pool in his backyard. It is large enough for the whole family.

Dean "Bud" Foss has taken care of the placement of all his men (or boys). Penobscot Hotel Dorm is under his jurisdiction. He managed to get in his share of fishing. The Foss family has moved to Hampden to live. Daughter, Penny, is in the seventh grade at St. Mary's School in Bangor.

Mr. Lebrun and son, Joey, built a sailboat this summer and launched it in Green Lake. Understand Mr. Lebrun got caught in a 3-way race and a speedster 'most ran him down! Mrs. Lebrun has won a diamond necklace for her outstanding sales record for the past year. Son, Joey, is president of the Senior Class at Hampden Academy, also President of the Student Council. Kathy has done quite a great deal of sewing which surprised and pleased Father Lebrun.
